

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Jan. 27, 1994

Vol. 14, No. 28

President to serve on new alliance

MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin has been asked to serve a two-year term on the steering committee of the newly-organized Central Appalachian Alliance.

The Alliance is a partnership of leading energy and land holding companies along with universities in Kentucky and Virginia.

Headquartered at the University of Kentucky, the Alliance and its members will work toward enhancing economic growth and developing natural resources as well as human capital in the coal mining regions of Appalachia.

The steering committee is charged with recommending to the Alliance's Board of Advisors specific projects and allocations of funds.

Now in his second year as MSU's chief administrator, Dr. Eaglin recently was named by Gov. Brereton Jones to a task force charged with developing a comprehensive plan for the state's Appalachian region and finding ways to obtain additional funding from the Appalachian Regional Commission.

The 35-member Kentucky Appalachian Task Force also will examine the possibility of an expanded Appalachian Development Program.

Additionally, the president has been named to a three-year seat on the board of directors for the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU).

Dr. Eaglin has served on numerous AASCU committees, including chair of the Committee on Academic Affairs. Currently he is participating in a special national project on student retention which AASCU is conducting with funding from the Student Loan Marketing Association.

WMKY sets winter lineup

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from MSU's campus, has completed its programming schedule for the winter quarter which runs January through March.

"We really made very few changes," said John Wolfe, interim program and production director. "Much of our news, information, entertainment and locally-produced programs will remain the same."

Replacing the "New York Chamber Series" and "WMKY Chamber Music" in the 6 a.m. Sunday time slot will be the Minnesota Public Radio produced "Bob and Bill." Hosted by Bob Christianson and Bill Morelock, the show endeavors to present classical music to which everyone can relate.

Moving into the 2 p.m. Sunday period currently occupied by "Brass America" will be "Wade in the Water: African American Sacred Music Traditions," a 26-part series that will run through the spring quarter as well.

"Wade in the Water" is designed to show how a rich, diverse, powerful, sacred song tradition sustains, echoes and nurtures the African American community. Each hour long segment will focus on leading composers and lyricists, as well as on major musical traditions ranging from spirituals and lined hymns to quartets and gospels. The show will be repeated on Saturdays at 6 p.m., replacing "Renfro Valley Folks."

On Fridays at 8 p.m., "Evening with the Pops" will replace the "Cincinnati Pops." Skitch Henderson, whose popularity dates back to Mitch Miller and his "Sing Along with Mitch" show, will conduct various orchestras as they perform classical pops music.

Keep medical costs down

In the Jan. 13, Update, you were advised of the University's decision to become self-insured, effective Jan. 1, 1994.

Our insurance program is still being administered by Blue Cross Blue Shield and there are no apparent differences in the administration of the plan. The major difference is that more of the risk and more of the opportunity to hold costs down now becomes the responsibility of the MSU faculty and staff.

In the last Update, it was mentioned that some specific ways and means of controlling medical costs would be offered. The following are seven important steps that each of us should take to keep our health insurance premiums affordable and under control:

1. Live a well balanced life. Eat wisely, get sufficient rest, exercise, stop smoking, cut back on alcohol, caffeine, fat, sugar, salt and cholesterol.

2. Consider utilizing a good Self-Help Medical Handbook of Symptoms and Treatments. It has been estimated that as many as 70 percent of visits to the doctor have been termed "unnecessary."

3. Formulate a wellness plan for yourself and your family. Set realistic goals for improved health, e.g., weight loss, regular exercise, lowering of cholesterol, blood pressure, etc.

It has been estimated that for each pound of weight loss we can expect a one point reduction in blood pressure.

4. In selecting a primary care physician, it is suggested you consider four qualities that will determine the level of trust you place in your doctor. These are: competency, concern, compatibility and convenience.

5. Ask about the advisability and cost of various medical services. The old saying "you have insurance, don't you?", is no longer valid as our insurance costs are directly related to our utilization of hospital and medical services.

6. Shop for the best price on prescriptions and when feasible, request generic brand drugs.

7. Be sure to double check itemized hospital bills for duplicated charges, or for services not provided but for which you were charged.

For the benefit of all MSU employees and family members, use your health insurance wisely and prudently. Remember, we are in this health care plan together so let's do all we can do to hold down our insurance costs.

KTRS rep.

A representative from the Kentucky Teachers' Retirement System will be on campus Tuesday, Feb. 22, in the Howell-McDowell Conference Room. This is an excellent opportunity for you to ask questions regarding retirement. The representative will have the capability to access your record in Frankfort via a laptop computer. If you would like to meet with the KTRS representative, call the Office of Human Resources at 3-2097 to schedule an appointment.

People in the News

The Baird Winds, MSU's resident faculty woodwind quintet, made a tour of eastern and northern Kentucky high schools and universities, Nov. 15-19. The members and their instruments include: Dr. Robert Pritchard, flute; Dr. John Viton, oboe; Michael Acord, clarinet; L. Curtis Hammond, horn, and Dr. Jennifer Schuler, bassoon. They conducted master's classes at 10 high schools and performed full-length evening recitals in the higher education facilities.

MSU mourns loss of three

The MSU community was touched by the recent deaths of three members of the campus family:

Dr. Robert Needham, 65, professor emeritus of education, who died Jan. 15.

Dr. William J. Mosley, 58, chair of the Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education, who died Jan. 20.

James Lewis DeHart, 56, retired carpenter supervisor, who died Jan. 19.

Dr. Needham was chairman of the Morehead Utility Plant Board and was a former Rowan County teacher, basketball coach and principal. Joining the MSU faculty in 1961, he retired in 1987.

A native of Jackson, he earned his bachelor's degree from Transylvania University, the master's degree from MSU and his doctorate from the University of Kentucky.

Survivors include his wife, Patricia Allen Needham; a daughter, JoAnn Elizabeth Needham of Wilmington, N.C.; two sons, Robert T. Needham of Morehead and William H. Needham of Waynesville, N.C., and a stepson, Terry Brian Mann of Morehead.

The family suggested memorial contributions be made to the Rowan County Ambulance Service.

Dr. Mosley joined MSU's administrative ranks in August 1992, after having been director of Western Illinois University's Center for the Preparation of Educators of Minority Children. A former chair of WIU's Department of Special Education, he also had taught at Indiana University, Louisiana State University and University of Texas.

A former public school teacher, he earned his doctorate from the University of Connecticut, the master's degree from the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh, and the bachelor's degree from Fisk University.

Survivors include two children, Eric and Faith Mosley; two brothers, Albert Mosley and Hazzim Rashid; several nephews and nieces along with other relatives.

DeHart, a Rowan County native, retired from MSU in December 1992 with 27 years of service to the institution. He was a member of the Christian Church and Morehead Masonic Lodge 654.

He is survived by his wife, Maxine Sloan DeHart; two sons, Bobby Ray DeHart and Kendil Shannon DeHart, both of Morehead; a daughter, Evalena Carpenter of Old Town, Fla.; six brothers; two sisters, and four grandchildren.

Evaluations

Evaluations for administrators will begin on February 7 with President Ronald Eaglin being the first administrator to be evaluated.

Evaluations for Vice Presidents will follow shortly after. Forms to evaluate President Eaglin may be picked up and filled out in the Office of Human Resources Feb. 7-10.

Questions should be directed to the Office of Human Resources at 3-2097.

Larry Besant, director of libraries, and librarians Greg Mitchell, Betty Wilson, Carol Nutter, Helen Williams, Teresa Welch, Bill Malone, and Elsie Pritchard, attended the Kentucky Library Association/Kentucky School Media Association Annual Conference in Lexington, Oct. 27-30. Besant also had an article published in the fall, 1993 issue of the journal "Special Libraries," which was devoted to the future of librarianship. (continued on back)

More people...

(continued from front)

Dr. Leslie Meade, associate professor of biology, and James Kiser, Kona graduate student, had an article entitled "A survey of small mammals in the Morehead Ranger District, Daniel Boone National Forest, Kentucky," published in the "Transactions of the Kentucky Academy of Science," Vol. 54, Numbers 3-4, September 1993, pp. 87-92.

Drs. David Peterson and G. Michael Miller, assistant professors of education at the Big Sandy ECC, will serve on Kentucky's Multicultural Education Task Force. This committee will guide the development of multicultural curriculum for the Commonwealth.

Dr. Robert Lindahl, professor of mathematics, has spoken at two meetings recently-Kentucky Academy of Science in Georgetown, Oct. 23, and Sixth Annual International Conference on Technology in Collegiate Mathematics in Parsippany, N.J.- on the topic "Utilizing Graphics Calculators in Discrete Mathematics."

Charles Patrick, assistant professor of industrial education, recently presented a paper entitled "Top-Down Problem Solving" at the annual American Vocational Association Conference in Nashville, Tenn.

Karen Hammons, assistant professor of education, and Dr. Phyllis Oakes, associate professor of education, reported the findings of their survey to discover readiness to implement the Critical Attributes of the new Primary Program at the annual fall conference of the Kentucky Association of Teacher Educators in Lexington, Nov. 15.

Aerobics class

Due to adverse weather conditions and delayed registration, the aerobics class, scheduled for 5-6 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday, will begin on Monday, Jan. 31, in the Mirror Room, Laughlin Health Building. The instructor will be Suzanne Hogge. There will be no changes in the 7 p.m. class which will be taught by Karen Barker. Questions and registration are available by calling the Office of Continuing Education at 3-2077.

U-Bookstore

The University Bookstore has announced the following hours for the first week of classes: Friday, Jan. 28, 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.; Monday through Thursday, Jan. 31-Feb. 3, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Friday, Feb. 4, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

You can help!

If you have an abundance of "Campus Only" envelopes, you can assist others by returning them to Printing Operations in Allie Young Hall. Both the large and small sizes are needed.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Groundskeeper, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate $5.67, to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

Network Analyst, Office of Technical Services; annual salary $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 17.

Assistant Professor of Art, Department of Art; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 28.

Assistant Professor of Sociology (Search Extended), Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminology (2 positions); to ensure consideration, apply by March 1.

Assistant Professor of Secondary Education, Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by March 4.

Instructor/Assistant Professor of English (Two Non-Tenure Track Positions), Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy; positions are contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by April 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

MSU is an affirmative action, disabled, equal opportunity employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

Go bowling

Looking for an evening activity during the winter months? Check out the MSU Bowling Lanes in Room 111, Laughlin Health Building. The hours are 4:30 to 10 p.m., daily. The cost is $1.25 per person per game and 75 cents shoe rental per person.

Beginning Jan. 31, new leagues will be forming for the spring semester: adult mixed league (four people per team), Mondays, 7 p.m. for 12 weeks. The cost is $5 per week per person (3 games plus prize fund).

Youth league (ages 13 and under) will begin Feb. 3. The cost is $2.50 per week per person (two games), each Thursday, 6 p.m. for 10 weeks.

Game tickets

On Saturday, Jan. 29, the MSU Eagles and Lady Eagles will take on the Colonels of Eastern Kentucky University at Richmond. Tipoff for the Lady Eagles game is 2 p.m. with the men's game scheduled to start at 4:15 p.m.

Tickets are $6 each and may be picked up at the Alumni Center. Telephone: 3-2080.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Jan. 27

Art Exhibit: Beth Blake/Jim Tisnado, gallery, C-Y Art Building, 8 a.m.-4 p.m., weekdays, through Feb. 11.

Guest Recital: University of Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music Jazz Combo, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Guest Recital: Marshall University Chamber Players, DRH, 8 p.m.

Comedienne Renee Hicks, BA, 9:15 p.m.

Saturday, Jan. 29

Sweet 16 Academic Showcase, campus, all day.

Sunday, Jan. 30

Senior Recital: Barbara Bishop, clarinet, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Wednesday, Feb. 2

Meet Morehead State Night, Ashland Plaza Hotel, 4:30 p.m.

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Marshall University, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, Feb. 12

Admissions Open House, campus, noon.

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, Academic-Athletic Center, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:45 p.m.

Monday, Feb. 14

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, Academic-Athletic Center, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:45 p.m.

Tuesday, Feb. 15

Summer Jobs Information Day, second floor, Adron Doran University Center, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Wednesday, Feb. 16

Meet Morehead State Night, Carriage House, Paintsville, 4:30 p.m.

CCL hours

The Camden-Carroll Library will be open on its regular schedule through the spring semester with only a few exceptions. Regular hours are: Sundays, 2-10 p.m.; Mondays through Thursdays, 8 a.m.-10 p.m.; Fridays, 8 a.m.-6 p.m., and Saturdays, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

The library will close at 4:30 p.m. on March 18, be closed March 19-26 for spring break, and be open until noon only on Saturday, May 21, which is graduation day.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

NONPROFIT ORG

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Feb. 3, 1994

Vol. 14, No. 29

New chair is named for department

Dr. J. Dudley Herron, a former professor of science education and administrator at Purdue University, has assumed the post of chair of MSU's Department of Physical Sciences.

Appointment of the Webster County native was announced by Dr. Gerald DeMoss, interim dean of MSU's College of Science and Technology.

"An innovative science educator and administrator, Dr. Herron has been recognized numerous times by his peers during a tenure of more than three decades at Purdue," Dr. DeMoss said. "We are pleased to gain his expertise here at MSU."

Dr. Herron earned his doctorate from Florida State University, the master's degree from the University of North Carolina and his bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky.

While at Purdue, Dr. Herron served as director for several summer science institutes, including a number of National Science Foundation (NSF) ones, and was a program coordinator for an elementary teacher education project sponsored by American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS). He also held a variety of administrative posts including director of the University's School Mathematics and Science Center and head of the Department of Curriculum and Instruction.

Dr. Herron also spent a year as training adviser for the Regional Education Center for Science and Mathematics in Penang, Malaysia.

He has received numerous awards and honors for teaching and scientific endeavors, including the Outstanding Science Educator Award in 1985 from the Association for the Education of Teachers of Science and Catalyst of the Year Award in 1982 from the Chemical Manufacturers Association.

Active in various scientific and scholarly organizations, he has held offices and/or committee chairs in the AAAS, the American Chemical Society, the National Association for Research in Science Teaching and the National Science Teachers Association. An AAAS Fellow, he is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Delta Kappa.

He has written or co-authored more than 40 papers for scientific journals, seven textbooks, and been a reviewer/analyst for several research publications. Dr. Herron also is frequently invited to speak at international, national and state meetings of scientific and education associations.

Deadline set

To compile the "Annual Report of Research and Creative Productions," the Research and Creative Productions Committee is asking all faculty and professional staff to complete a Submission Form by Feb. 15.

Submissions may include papers read, publications, art exhibits, performances/compositions and externally funded grants. Other works which may not fit in these categories, such as book reviews, contributing editors, judge, etc., also should be included.

Typed entries, which include works completed Jan. 1-Dec. 31, 1993, may be submitted to the Committee at 901 Ginger Hall.

Rescheduled

The Feb. 18 meeting of the MSU Board of Regents has been rescheduled for Monday, March 7. A detailed agenda with meeting times for committees and the full board will be distributed prior to that date.

Summer jobs

MSU's Office of Career Planning and Placement has rescheduled its "Summer Jobs Information Day" for Tuesday, Feb. 15, from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. in the Adron Doran University Center.

More than 200 employers—including private businesses, summer camps, the park system, hospitality industry and theme parks—have been contacted to send information, Dr. Hopper noted.

There is no attendance fee and registration is not required.

Evaluations

Evaluations for administrators will begin on February 7 with President Ronald Eaglin being the first administrator to be evaluated.

Evaluations for Vice Presidents will follow shortly after. Forms to evaluate President Eaglin may be picked up and filled out in the Office of Human Resources Feb. 7-10.

Questions should be directed to the Office of Human Resources at 3-2097.

Surplus sale

Camden-Carroll Library will continue its sale of surplus books and other library materials through the spring semester.

The sale, which will be held each Thursday while classes are in session, will run from noon until 4 p.m. on the ground floor of the library.

Prices on the items for sale vary from 25 cents to $2 with a majority of the items priced in the 25 to 50 cent range.

Reminder

As moves/renovations are scheduled in offices and other areas where technology equipment is utilized, keep in mind Information Technology is available to properly disconnect and reconnect telephones, computers, printers, etc. To ensure your needs are met in a timely manner, please schedule these requests through the Information Technology Support Center at 3-5000.

People in the News

Dr. Sylvester Kohut Jr., College of Education and Behavioral Sciences dean, has been appointed for a three year term to represent Kentucky on the Appalachia Educational Laboratory (AEL) Board of Directors. AEL, which serves as a regional educational laboratory for Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia, is a private nonprofit corporation with primary source funding from the Office of Educational Research and Improvement of the United States Department of Education.

Dr. Dean Owen, professor of education, and Dr. Richard Shepard, assistant professor of education, presented a paper "Performance Assessment and Educational Reform: Some Questions and Caveats," at the annual meeting of the Midsouth Educational Research Association in New Orleans, Nov. 11.

Dr. Richard B. Miles, associate professor of music and director of bands, has earned the Ph.D. degree in music education from Florida State University. His dissertation was entitled "Current Academic Problems Facing Public High School Bands in the United States: Survey, Analysis and Comparisons."

Dr. William Green, professor of government, presented a paper on "The Politics of Foreign Auto Recruitment in Canada: Comparative Perspectives on Labor, Environment, and Community in Quebec and Ontario" at the 1993 biannual meeting of the Association of Canadian

Benefits of not smoking

Research shows the moment a person quits smoking, the benefits begin to accumulate. Quitting will reduce the risk of heart disease, stroke, bronchitis, emphysema and several types of cancer. It's never too late to quit no matter how long a person has been smoking.

Quitting is not easy. You may not feel your best the first few days. Withdrawal symptoms may include nervousness, tobacco craving, greater appetite and more coughing than usual. During this tough time, try your best to focus on the good things happening inside you.

—Twenty minutes after the last puff, blood pressure will start lowering toward normal and circulation to hands and feet will improve;

—Eight hours later, the blood's oxygen level will have climbed back up to normal and the carbon dioxide level back down;

—One day later, the risk of having a heart attack will start declining;

—Three days after quitting, breathing will become easier. The body will be cleared of nicotine. The senses of taste and smell will have sharpened.

—One month later, the new non-smoker will feel more energetic;

—Ten years later, the risk of dying from lung cancer will be nearly as low as that of someone who has never smoked.

Ways to quit: Make a list of reasons why you want to quit; Talk to your doctor about prescribing a nicotine patch; Pick a target date to quit smoking for good; Ask co-workers, friends and family to quit with you; Keep your mouth busy with sugarless gum or healthy snacks; Steer clear of places that tempt you to smoke; Exercise to stay calm and avoid gaining weight; and Treat yourself to something special with the money you're not spending on cigarettes.

Wrong number

The MSU telephone directory has the wrong number listed for Dr. Ron Dobler. The correct number is 3-2201.

Studies in the United States in New Orleans. He co-authored the paper with Ernest J. Yanarella, professor of political science at the University of Kentucky.

Michelle B. Kunz, assistant professor of human sciences, and 12 students attended the Annual Fields of Fashion Career Day at Apparel Mart in Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 15.

Dr. Charles Holt, professor of history, and Dr. Kent Freeland, professor of education, were presenters at the annual conference of the National Council for the Social Studies, Nov. 19-22. The title of their session was "It's Not Just Curriculum Anymore: How to Use the Best and Newest Resources in Your Classroom Now."

George Caudill, Wayne Jessee, David Gilliam, Richard Gamble and Jeff Barker, heating and water plant operators in the Office of Physical Plant, attended a continuing education math workshop, conducted by the Kentucky Rural Water Association, Aug. 25-26. Also, Barker, Gamble and Gilliam attended the Water Treatment Operation Certification School, conducted by the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet, Aug. 7-10. Barker received his Class III Water Treatment Operator Certification.

Dr. John Kleber, interim dean of the College of Humanities, spoke at the Rotary International Club of Ashland and at the Rowan County Historical Society's annual awards program.

WMKY hosts BH specials

WMKY 90.3 F.M., public radio from Morehead State University's campus, will offer several special programs in celebration of Black History Month.

"During the month of February, we've identified a number of programs that are pertinent to the achievements of African-Americans," said John Wolfe, WMKY interim program and production director. "We also have two ongoing series that address this subject."

At 4 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 7, WMKY will air one of three half hour programs produced by WFPL in Louisville. The series, "Voices for Equality," profiles African-Americans who worked for equality in Kentucky. The first show will profile Lyman Johnson, educator and civil rights activist.

"Riverwalk: Live from the Landing," an ongoing series that airs at 8 p.m. on Saturdays, will offer "If Beale Street Could Talk: The Life and Times of W.C. Handy" on Feb. 11. A special insert in the regular series programming, it will pay tribute to the genius of this African-American composer and will feature many of his tunes performed by the Jim Cullum Jazz Band.

During February, "Wade in the Water: African-American Sacred Music Transitions," another continuing series, will focus on the musical aspects of the African-American culture. The series airs on Sundays at 4 p.m. and is repeated the following Saturdays at 7 p.m. Programs scheduled include: "The Power of Communal Song" on Feb. 6; "The Lined Hymn and Shaped-Note Tradition" on Feb. 13; "Post-Slavery African-American Education and the Fisk Jubilee" on Feb. 20, and "The Concert Spiritual Tradition" on Feb. 28 to close out the month.

On Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 6:30 p.m., WMKY will air "A Conversation with Ruby Dee and Ossie Davis." Produced by American Public Radio, it features the couple discussing theatre, literature, writing and raising children during the 1960s. It will be followed at 7 p.m. by the second in the "Voices for Equality" series which addresses the Lincoln Institute, a school formed to offer educational and vocational training to young African-Americans from 1912 to 1971.

Rounding out WMKY's observance of Black History Month will be the final "Voices of Equality" program, airing at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 25. This segment highlights former state Sen. Georgia Davis Powers' role in the civil rights movement and her work with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Hiring temps

The Office of Human Resources has a temporary on-call pool of applicants for secretarial, clerk typist, bookkeeper, dispatcher, cashier, general service and custodial positions.

If you need a temporary replacement in your department/office, contact Michelle Hardin at 3-2097. Qualified individuals will be identified from the pool to fill vacant positions in a temporary capacity. This is required for those positions where temporary pools have been established.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Groundskeeper, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate $5.67, to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

Network Analyst, Office of Technical Services; annual salary $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 17.

Assistant Professor of Art, Department of Art; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 28.

Assistant Professor of Secondary Education, Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by March 4.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Industrial Education and Technology, Department of Industrial Education and Technology; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

Instructor/Assistant Professor of English (Two Non-Tenure Track Positions), Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy; positions are contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by April 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

MSU is an affirmative action, disabled, equal opportunity employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

Stop smoking

In keeping with the University's commitment to wellness activities, MSU will offer a Smoking Cessation program for faculty and staff.

Entitled FreshStart, the program was professionally developed by the American Cancer Society. The University may allow staff members to attend the four one hour sessions during work time. The classes will run from 1 to 2 p.m. on consecutive Tuesdays: Feb. 15 and 22, and March 1 and 8. The program may be repeated at 4 p.m. if there is an interest. Judy Krug, substance abuse educator, will be the training facilitator.

A FreshStart kit will be provided at no charge to participants. A smoking cessation program normally costs $25 per session or $100 for the course, but there will be no charge for MSU faculty and staff to attend.

To register, contact Judy Krug at 3-2125 or Human Resources at 3-2097.

WC to meet

The MSU Woman's Club will hold its Valentine Potluck on Thursday, Feb. 10, at 6:30 p.m. in the Patti Bolin Room of the Lloyd Cassity Building.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Feb. 3

Guest Recital: Alan Hersh, piano, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, Feb. 7

Bloodmobile, Button Drill Room, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; also Feb. 8.

Wednesday, Feb. 9

Meet Morehead State Night, Holiday Inn, Hazard, 4:30 p.m.

Casino Night, Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, 8 p.m.

Friday, Feb. 11

Concert: "Prism" Student Ensembles, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Saturday, Feb. 12

Admissions Open House, campus, noon.

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, Academic-Athletic Center, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:45 p.m.

Concert: MSU Concert Band/MSU Symphony Band, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, Feb. 14

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, Academic-Athletic Center, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:45 p.m.

Tuesday, Feb. 15

Summer Jobs Information Day, second floor, Adron Doran University Center, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Wednesday, Feb. 16

Meet Morehead State Night, Carriage House, Paintsville, 4:30 p.m.

Thursday, Feb. 17

Senior recital: Craig Swatt, euphonium, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Music lessons

MSU's Academy of Music will offer a variety of music instruction during the spring semester.

Private lessons for adults and children in piano, percussion, voice, brass instruments, woodwind instruments and string instruments will be offered through MSU's Department of Music.

Applications will be accepted through the month of February. Students will meet once each week for a one-half hour session.

Registration and additional information on MSU's Academy of Music offerings are available by calling 3-2659.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Feb. 10, 1994

Vol. 14, No. 30

Nominations being sought for FD award

Morehead State University is seeking nominations for its 1994 Founders Day Award for University Service.

"We encourage our alumni and other friends to nominate deserving candidates who have given superior service to Morehead State through the years," said President Ronald G. Eaglin.

The award is to be presented during the annual observance on Friday, April 8, as MSU celebrates its 72nd birthday as a public institution of higher education. Morehead Normal School, MSU's predecessor institution, opened its doors in 1887 and the campus converted to a state normal school in 1922.

Nominations for the 1994 award should be submitted in writing to Founders Day Chairperson, Morehead State University, Palmer Development House, Morehead, KY 40351-1689.

Current, full-time employees of MSU are not eligible. Nominees must have demonstrated extensive service to the University as an employee and/or volunteer.

Nominations must be postmarked by Friday, March 11.

The Founders Day Award for University Service was established by MSU's Board of Regents in 1978. Recipients have included: W.E. Crutcher, 1978; Linus A. Fair, 1979; U.S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins, 1980; Dr. Warren C. Lappin, 1981; Dr. Ted L. Crosthwait, 1982; Monroe Wicker, 1983; Lloyd Cassity, 1984; Grace Crosthwaite, 1985; Boone Logan, 1986; Dr. Rondal D. Hart, 1987; George T. Young, 1988; John E. Collis, 1989; Dr. Wilhelm Exelbirt, 1990; Dr. R.H. Playforth, 1991; Dr. Mary Northcutt Powell, 1992, and former state Sen. Woody May, 1993.

Celebration offers variety

In recognition of February as African American History Month, MSU's Office of Minority Student Affairs is coordinating a variety of special activities that include poetry readings, a songfest and tips for getting a job.

Kicking off the monthlong celebration will be a Karaoke Night on Thursday, Feb. 10. Members of the audience will be invited to make a professional recording of their favorite song. Sponsored by the Black Student Coalition, the performances will begin at 9 p.m. in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center (ADUC).

To celebrate the holiday of love, Delta Sigma Theta sorority will sponsor "The Dating Game" on Monday, Feb. 14. The bachelors and bachelorettes will begin the questioning at 8 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room, ADUC. Admission is $1.

Students at MSU will have the opportunity to take to the stage on Tuesday, Feb. 15, when Alpha Kappa Alpha (AKA) sorority presents "Amateur Night at the Apollo." Entertainment begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC.

AKA will offer a forum on Thursday, Feb. 17, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Eagle Dining Room, ADUC. Entitled "Understanding Black Male/Female Relationships," the discussion will explore the reasons some relationships fail and offer suggestions for putting more respect and civility in everyday life.

MSU's Black Gospel Ensemble will sponsor a gospelfest on Sunday, Feb. 20, beginning at 1 p.m. in Button Auditorium. Guest choirs from Eastern Kentucky University, Western Kentucky

(continued on back)

Lower rates

Many Kentucky hotels and motels offer discounts to state and university employees traveling on official business. The list changes constantly and sometimes the particular reservation clerk may be unaware of or fail to mention the discount. All state parks offer a 25 percent discount if the charges are interaccounted back into the departmental unit (our university).

A sample of some of the rates for single occupancy currently available are: Hyatt Regency in Lexington, $45.82; Holiday Inn Airport Exit in Louisville, $47; Owensboro Executive Inn, $40, and Hampton Inn in Florence, $45.

You are not required to stay in discounted lodging but you should always ask for the "state discount rate" when making reservations.

If you are new to the MSU campus and do not have a copy of the training manual, you can pick up a copy in Howell-McDowell 202 any day during business hours.

UB instructors

MSU's Upward Bound program is seeking applications for creative, enthusiastic instructors interested in teaching during the programs' summer component, June 6-July 8.

Instructors are needed in math, language arts, science, art, career planning, foreign languages, writing and other areas of interests to adolescents. In addition to teaching approximately three hours daily Monday through Friday, instructors will be required to participate in two weekend and/or evening activities per week.

Qualified applicants should have at least a bachelor's degree. Teaching experience and/or prior experience working with adolescents is preferred.

Applications may be obtained from the Upward Bound office, 205 Allie Young Hall. The application deadline is March 11. Additional information may be obtained by calling 3-2611.

Forms mailed

Evaluation forms for administrators will be sent to each MSU employee through campus mail. This is a change from what was originally reported in Update. Forms on other individuals such as Deans, Department Chairs and other Directors will follow at a later time. Please use a No. 2 pencil, attach the mailing label-to an envelope and mail back or bring to the Office of Human Resources by March 2. Please do not fold or staple these forms nor should you identify yourself as the rater. Any forms received that have been stapled and/or folded cannot be scored and will be invalid. Questions should be directed to the Office of Human Resources at 3-2097.

People in the News

Dr. Frank Spaniol, head baseball coach, delivered a presentation on "Strength and Conditioning for Baseball" to the Kentucky High School Baseball Coaches Association at Central Hardin High School in Cecilia, Dec. 4. He also published an article titled "Developing Rotational Strength" in the 1993 fall issue of the Doyle Baseball Review Magazine.

Don Young, Sr., assistant professor of art, participated in the Kentucky Art Education Association fall conference held at Lake Barkley State Park, Nov. 19-21. In addition to serving on the higher education committee, he was elected chair of KAEA's Public Relations committee and chair for the Burley/Coal Region which includes 29 Eastern Kentucky counties.

Open house

Morehead State University will host an "Open House" for prospective students and their parents on Saturday, Feb. 12, on the campus.

The program is available to all students—high school and community college—who are interested in continuing their education, Richmond noted.

The activity begins with registration at noon in the third floor lobby of the Adron Doran University Center. Displays of the University's programs will be available for viewing.

Information sessions for parents, "How to Pay for College" and "Overview of Academic Opportunities," will run concurrently from 12:15 to 12:45 p.m., with the financial aid program to be repeated at 2:45 p.m.

University representatives will welcome the group at 1 p.m., followed by visits to the various academic departments at 1:30 p.m. Campus tours begin at 2:30 p.m., concluding the program.

Halftime show

The Bud Light Daredevils, the most unique slam dunk act in the country, will perform at MSU's Academic-Athletic Center during halftime of the Eagles/Austin Peay basketball game on Monday, Feb. 14.

The high energy act and breathtaking acrobatics of the Bud Light Daredevils have pleased nearly five million fans during their 14-year touring history. This year's act will consist of several new slam dunks along with all-time crowd favorites in their new routine. They have entertained audiences at more than 284 colleges and collegiate tournaments across the United States, nearly every NBA team, 22 Continental Basketball Association teams and traveled to over 15 countries worldwide.

The Eagles basketball game begins at 7:45 p.m. The Lady Eagles will play earlier in the evening with tipoff set for 5:30 p.m.

Learn to sign

The Office of Continuing Education will offer beginning and intermediate classes in signing for the deaf again this spring.

Beginning signing classes will be held on Mondays, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. with Jack Owens as instructor. Intermediate signing classes are scheduled for 6:30-9 p.m. on Thursdays, beginning Feb. 17, with Bruce Harris as instructor.

Taught in 209 Downing Hall, the sessions will run for 12 weeks. The cost of each program is $20 for adults and $10 for students.

Those interested in enrolling or in obtaining additional information may call MSU's Office of Continuing Education at (606) 783-2077.

Dr. Benjamin Malphrus, assistant professor of science, has been chosen president-elect of the Kentucky Science Teachers Association, an organization composed of approximately 1,500 science educators, elementary through college level, representing every region in the state.

Michelle B. Kunz, assistant professor of human sciences, made a presentation entitled "So, Tell Me Why I Should Hire You?" that stressed interviewing techniques and resume preparation, at the fall meeting of the Kentucky Home Economics Association-Student Member Section in Lexington, Oct. 30.

David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education at the Big Sandy ECC, conducted a

(continued on back)

Variety (continued from front)

University and Kentucky State University are among those planning to visit the MSU campus. The Black Gospel Ensemble's nearly-40 member voice choir, under the direction of Lloyd Spence, Louisville sophomore, also will perform.

Nikky Finney, assistant professor of creative writing at the University of Kentucky, will present a poetry reading on Tuesday, Feb. 22. Her presentation will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Room 111, Claypool-Young Art Building. Author of numerous poetry and fiction works, her book "On Wings Made of Gauze" was printed by William Morrow in 1985.

An African American Fashion Show is on tap—featuring MSU students as models—for Thursday, Feb. 24, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC. Admission is 75 cents.

The show, sponsored by Kappa Alpha Psi and the Office of Minority Student Affairs, will include clothing designs by Tonya Schooling, Radcliff freshman, as well as works from African American Positive Images in Lexington, owned by Angelique Bell and specializing in African fashions and other materials.

Brenda Martin of Russell, executive director of Uniting Communities to Advance our Neighborhoods (UCAN), will be the guest speaker at the symposium slated for Saturday, Feb. 26, from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room, ADUC. Among the topics to be covered are sharpening one's interviewing skills and dressing for success.

The culture of the land will be highlighted at an African Night later that day in the same room. A mini-fashion show, poetry reading by African and African American students and skits are part of the evening's program which begins at 7 p.m. On the menu will be African and soul food. The cost is $2 or bring a covered dish. A dance will conclude the day's agenda.

Rounding out the celebration will be a worship service on Sunday, Feb. 27, at 11 a.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium.

All activities set for African American History Month are free unless otherwise noted. Additional information is available by calling 3-2668.

NEW MOVES

Several members of the staff have assumed new job titles. They are:

Carol Barker, from administrative secretary to executive secretary to the president; James A. Fluty, from controller to director of Accounting and Budgetary Control; Jo Brewer, from payroll officer to director of Payroll; Lucy Norris, from secretary, Human Resources, to secretary specialist, User Services;

Allen Ray Tabor, from custodian to warehouse, General Services; James Russell Howard, from vending stock clerk, Accounting and Budgetary Control, to heating and water operator trainee, Physical Plant;

Sheila Joy Templeman, from secretary, Counseling and Health Services, to secretary specialist, Student Development; Theresa Davis, from secretary specialist to administrative secretary, Office of the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs;

Angela L. White, administrative secretary, from Elementary, Reading and Special Education, to Institutional Planning, Research and Effectiveness, and Tonia B. Lewis, from clerk/typist to secretary, Office of the Registrar.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Groundskeeper, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate $5.67, to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

Network Analyst, Office of Technical Services; annual salary $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 17.

Academic Computing Consultant I, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 24.

Telemarketing Coordinator (Temporary Full-Time), Office of Alumni Relations and Development; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 28.

Director of Publications and Printing Services, Office of Institutional Relations; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Industrial Education and Technology, Department of Industrial Education and Technology; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

More People...

(continued from front)

workshop at the Hindman Settlement School, Nov. 11. The session, for teachers from Knott County, focused on using Learning Centers in the classroom and how to design effective centers that are inexpensive. He also attended a meeting of a KERA support group and participated in a presentation on multi-cultural education given by Jan Arnow of the state Department of Education and held in Hazard.

Dr. Jack C. Sheltmire, Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, had the results of a research project published in the "Maine Journal of Health, Physical Education and Recreation," Vol. 6, No. 1, 1993. The title of the study was "Maine's Economic Downturn: Its Impact on Municipal Park and Recreation Departments (1992-93).

Robert Franzini, professor of art, exhibited a monotype at the "Contemporary Self Portrait" show at the Massillon (Ohio) Museum, Nov. 21-Jan. 16. The show featured 44 works by artists from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The PHED 301 evaluations in Health, Physical Education and Recreation Class under the supervision of Dr. W. Michael Brown, associate professor of HPER, did fit gram testing at Fleming County Middle School, Nov. 30. Results of the testing will be shared with parents and provide baseline measures for improving fitness.

HAPPENINGS

Friday, Feb. 11

Concert: "Prism" Student Ensembles, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Saturday, Feb. 12

Admissions Open House, campus, noon.

NCAA Teams Reunion, Commonwealth Room, ADUC, 5 p.m.; public reception, Eagles Nest, after basketball game.

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, Academic-Athletic Center, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:45 p.m.

Concert: MSU Concert Band/MSU Symphony Band, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, Feb. 14

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, Academic-Athletic Center, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:45 p.m.; halftime show to feature Bud Light Daredevils.

Tuesday, Feb. 15

Summer Jobs Information Day, second floor, Adron Doran University Center, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Wednesday, Feb. 16

Meet Morehead State Night, Carriage House, Paintsville, 4:30 p.m.

Thursday, Feb. 17

Senior recital: Craig Swatt, euphonium, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Support group

MSU's Counseling Center will offer sessions on campus every Tuesday for individuals who have experienced alcoholism or codependency in partners or family members.

The meetings will be held at 3 p.m. in the basement of Fields Hall and are designed to serve as a university support group activity for the organization Adult Children of Alcoholics/Addicted and Codependency (ACOC).

Additional information is available from Judy Krug at the Counseling Center, 112 Allie Young Hall, or by calling 783-2123.

Recycle books

Now that there are new MSU phone books, remember you can recycle your old phone books (the whole thing) by putting it in a Mixed Paper (red) barrel on campus.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Feb. 17, 1994

Vol. 14, No. 31

New PS chair now on board

Dr. Lane Cowser, a former Missouri Western State College administrator, has been named chair of MSU's Department of Physical Sciences.

His appointment, which was effective on Jan. 19, was announced by Dr. Gerald DeMoss, interim dean of MSU's College of Science and Technology. He will hold a full professional rank. "Dr. Cowser has been managing an agricultural program with diverse elements, much like MSU's, for 10 years," Dr. DeMoss said. "It is that leadership experience and understanding of a multi-faceted program that we were seeking to move our program forward," the dean added. "We are pleased to have him on our staff."

Prior to joining Missouri Western's faculty, Dr. Cowser headed the agricultural program at Dyersburg State Community College.

As department chair at Missouri Western, Dr. Cowser also managed the school's 425-acre farm which was a teaching laboratory and also provided research opportunities.

Dr. Cowser earned his Ph.D. and master's degrees from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and the bachelor's degree from UT-Martin.

He is active in several professional organizations, including the National Association of Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture (NACTA) in which he held offices at the state level. Dr. Cowser is a former member of the board of directors for the American Association of State Colleges of Agriculture and Renewable Resources (AASCARR) and represented AASCARR on an AID/AASCU Fellowship to visit the International Research Center in Mexico.

Recipient of the honorary State Farmer Degree in 1992 from the Missouri FFA, he is the author and co-author of numerous research station reports.

Commencement

Effective this year, MSU will hold commencement exercises only in December and May. A summer commencement will no longer be conducted.

The decision to eliminate the summer ceremony was announced by Dr. John C. Philley, MSU executive vice president for academic affairs.

"By holding commencement exercises at the close of the fall and spring terms only, we believe that we will provide our graduates a more meaningful ceremony, one that fully reflects the tradition of academic pageantry," Dr. Philley said.

Students who will be completing degree requirements during the University's first summer term may go through the May commencement program as degree candidates.

Those students finishing their requirements during Summer II will be degree recipients at the December ceremony. They also have the option of being considered as May degree candidates along with Summer I candidates.

Several factors were considered in making the decision, including the University's limited fiscal and human resources, according to Dr. Philley.

New prefix

The University of Louisville has a new dedicated University exchange. The prefix has been changed to 852. The last four digits of all the telephone numbers will remain the same.

If the number you previously dialed was (502) 588-XXXX, the new number would be (502) 852-XXXX. Please remember to update your telephone directories or programmed speed dials.

Visiting poet

Nikky Finney, assistant professor of creative writing at the University of Kentucky, will read from her works on Tuesday, Feb. 22, in 111 Claypool-Young Art Building at 7:30 p.m.

The reading, which is free and open to the public, is part of MSU's celebration of Black History Month.

Finney, born in South Carolina, graduated from Atlanta University in Georgia and Palladega College in Alabama. Her poetry and prose writings, which explore issues of race, gender, heritage and social responsibility, have been published in the poetry collection "On Wings Made of Gauze" (William Morrow, 1985), and in "Callaloo," "Essence," "Southern Black Writer" and other journals.

She received a $5,000 writing grant from the Kentucky Foundation for Women in 1991.

While visiting MSU, Finney also will speak with a poetry writing class.

Is it legal?

Federal law states that it is illegal to make unauthorized copies of software except for archival or back-up purposes. This includes not-for-profit and educational uses. Organizations can be liable for as much as $100,000 for every instance of software copyright violation. MSU faculty or staff are cautioned to verify copyright restrictions on software before offering or accepting a copy. Lab supervisors should ensure that security measures are in place to prevent University-licensed software from being copied.

Submit outline

The Cooperative Center for Study in Britain (CCSB) invites the faculty of MSU to submit course proposals—for the Ireland-Scotland Program in June and the London Summer Program in July and the first week of August—will be accepted until April 1.

Additional information and proposal guidelines are available by calling the Office of the Undergraduate Dean at 3-2004.

People in the News

Dr. Eugene B. Hastings, associate professor of romance languages, presented papers at several conferences last year: chaired session titled "Spanish XVI: 19th Century," which he and Brian Dendle organized at the 46 annual Kentucky Foreign Language Conference and read a paper titled "El enigmatico mundo lirico del espacio becqueriano," University of Kentucky in Lexington, April 23; "Sculpture and Architecture in the Rima LXXVI of Becquer," West Virginia University's 18th annual Colloquium on Modern Literature and Film: Literature and Other Arts, Morgantown, W.Va., Sept. 10; "En busca del Becquer que es y no es Becquer en El Contemporaneo de 1863," Mountain Interstate Foreign Language Conference, Clemson University, S.C., Oct. 9, and "El amor, el odio y la muerte en la obra de Becquer," International Conference on Representations of Love and Hate, sponsored by West Georgia College at Carrollton, Ga., and held in Atlanta, Oct. 23.

Dr. Sarah R. Morrison, assistant professor of English, recently had an essay entitled "Of Woman Borne: Male Experience and Feminine Truth in Jane Austen's Novels" accepted by "Studies in the Novel."

Dr. Charles Patrick, assistant professor of industrial technology, has earned the Ph.D. degree in mining engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. His dissertation was entitled "Investigation,

Deadline set

Nominations for two awards to be given by MSU to recognize both a faculty member and staff member for outstanding service are now being accepted.

The MSU Service Committee is soliciting nominations for recipients of the awards not only from MSU faculty and staff, students, and alumni, but also from the general public, according to Al Evans, committee chair.

The deadline for submission of nominations for the 1993-94 Distinguished Faculty Service Award and Distinguished Staff Service Award is 4 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 28.

Any full-time faculty member whose primary assignment is teaching is eligible to be nominated for the faculty award. Full-time staff members whose primary responsibilities are not teaching are eligible for the staff award.

All nominations should be sent to Evans at UPO 2461.

Forms due

All evaluation forms for administrators who are to be evaluated by the entire faculty and staff have been distributed. The individuals who are being assessed are:

President: Dr. Ronald Eaglin; Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs: Dr. John C. Philley; Vice President for Administrative and Fiscal Services: Porter Dailey; Vice President for University Advancement: Keith Kappes; Vice President for Student Life: Mike Mincey; Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs: Dr. Judy Rogers;

Assistant Vice President for Fiscal Services: Mike Walters; Director for Physical Plant: Joe Planck; Director of Information Technology: Dwayne Cable; Director of Human Resources: Dr. Marion Boenheim; Director Library/Institutional Media: Larry Besant.

The forms, developed by the Faculty Senate and Staff Congress, are due to the Office of Human Resources no later than March 2. Questions should be directed to Phyllis Dehart 3-2097.

Modeling and Analysis of Longwall Face-to-Face Transfers." At VPI, he was the Department of Mining and Minerals Engineering's 1991-92 Outstanding Ph.D. Candidate.

The Department of Psychology was well represented at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Psychological Association held in Louisville, Oct. 30. Presenting papers were: Dr. Lynn Haller, assistant professor, "Adults' Perceptions of Children's Use of Metaphor" and collaborated with psychology graduate student Jill Hollinden on a paper entitled "Gender Differences in Children's Production of Metaphor"; Dr. Jeffrey P. Lindstrom, assistant professor, presented two papers: "Situational Specificity of Prediction in the Theory of Reasoned Action" and "The 'How' versus 'What' of Stereotyping"; Dr. Angela Simon, assistant professor, "College Students Attitudes Toward Lesbians: A West Coast Sample," and Dr. David Olsen, assistant professor, presented "Interpersonal Problems of Dysphoric College Students, and with Kathy Fisher, clinical psychology graduate student presented a paper entitled "Dysphoria and Attachment Styles."

Robert Franzini, professor of art, had an aquatint print titled "Studio Light - Still-Life Composition" included in the Boston Printmakers 20th annual exhibit at the Art Complex Museum, Nov. 5-Jan. 23.

BCBS update

Now that 1993 is history, it's time to assess the claims BCBS paid on behalf of faculty and staff.

To date, BCBS paid $1,583,734 in hospital and professional services. There will be some additional '93 bills as employees have until Dec. 31 to process '93 BCBS claims.

Hospital claims accounted for 52 percent of the total; in-patient care accounted for 60 percent, and out-patient care 40 percent of the total hospital payments.

Professional services provided to MSU faculty and staff accounted for the balance of expenditures. There were 8,530 prescriptions with drug charges accounting for 12 percent of the overall claims. The next highest professional service was surgeries with MSU employees and family members having 506 surgeries at a cost of $180,073.

While MSU employees held down emergency room visits there were 4,008 doctors' office visits.

Since the University went to a self-insured arrangement with BCBS for the 1994 calendar year, it is imperative that all of us as MSU employees do all we can to hold down the cost of claims. Doing so will enable us to hold down our insurance premium cost.

PDK nominees

MSU's Alpha Nu Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa is seeking nominees for its three awards:

Outstanding Graduate Student, Outstanding Public School Teacher, and Outstanding Public School Administrator.

Faculty and staff members are encouraged to nominate individuals by:

*Contacting the individual to determine if they are willing to be nominated.

*Ask nominee to submit a typed vita following a specific format and a letter of recommendation from their immediate supervisor.

*Submit your own letter of recommendation for each individual and the completed nomination forms by Feb. 28, to Dr. Mary Anne Pollock, UPO 772.

Additional information and forms are available from Dr. Pollock at 3-2839.

Urgent need

Nicholas Taylor Johnson, the two-year old son of two MSU staff members, is in the University of Kentucky Medical Center, diagnosed with leukemia. If you can give blood, please consider making a blood donation in his name to the Central Kentucky Blood Center in Lexington.

His parents are Della Johnson in admissions and Randy Johnson in building maintenance.

In concert

MSU's Baird Winds will appear in concert on Thursday, Feb. 24, in Duncan Recital Hall, Baird Music Hall, at 8 p.m.

The performance, which is free and open to the public, will include chamber music by Bozza, Ligeti, Reicha, Ibert and Klughardt.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Network Analyst, Office of Technical Services; annual salary: $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 17.

Academic Computing Consultant I, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 24.

Maintenance Technician I, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 25.

Telemarketing Coordinator (Temporary Full-Time), Office of Alumni Relations and Development; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 28.

Buyer/Assistant Buyer (Preferably Buyer), Office of Purchasing; to ensure consideration, apply by March 3.

Assistant Professor of Mathematics, Department of Mathematics; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

Director of Publications and Printing Services, Office of Institutional Relations; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

Assistant Professor of Education, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; to ensure consideration, apply by April 4.

Assistant Professor of Business Education, Department of Information Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by April 11.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Industrial Education and Technology, Department of Industrial Education and Technology; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

Assistant Professor of History, Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by May 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, UPDATE will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Surplus sale

MSU will conduct a public surplus sale on Thursday and Friday, March 3-4, in Button Drill Room. The sale will run from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each day, or until all items are sold.

Items for sale include Cordata PC 400s and IBM PCs (8088 processors) 640K RAM-5.25" drives-Monochrome monitors-with and without hard drives; assorted other 8088s; some 286 class machines-not all are working but will be marked, and several individual cpu's (parts).

Additional information, including terms of sale, guarantee, methods of payment, etc., is available from Ron Jones, properties manager, at 3-5224.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Feb. 17

Senior recital: Craig Swatt, euphonium, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Friday, Feb. 18

Student Gala: 'A Night on the Town,' Adron Doran University Center, 8 p.m.

Saturday, Feb. 19

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. University of Tennessee-Martin, Academic-Athletic Center, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. University of Tennessee-Martin, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:45 p.m.

Sunday, Feb. 20

Songfest, Button Auditorium, 1 p.m.

Senior Recital: Greg Greene/Rodney Kern, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Senior Recital: Timothy Gipson, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, Feb. 21

Meet Morehead State, Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg, 4:30 p.m.

Wednesday, Feb. 23

Poetry reading: Nikky Finney, 111 Claypool-Young Art Building, 7:30 p.m.

Theatre: Tartuffe, Kibbey Theatre, 8 p.m.; through Feb. 26; also Feb. 27, 2 p.m.

Thursday, Feb. 24

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Eastern Kentucky University, AAC, 7:30 p.m.
Concert: Baird Winds, DRH, 8 p.m.

AAUP meeting

There will be a meeting of the MSU Chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) on Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 3 p.m. in the East Room A, ADUC.

The agenda will include proposed revisions to the Chapter Constitution and procedures for requesting informal and formal AAUP assistance in alleged grievance matters. Plans also will be discussed for a spring faculty forum with President Eaglin and the chair of MSU's Board of Regents.

Workshop set

An additional Grants Database workshop has been added to the Spring Technology Training schedule. The workshop, instructed by Teresa Parker from the Office of Research, Grants and Contracts, is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 22, from 3 to 4 p.m. To register, call the Technology Support Center at 3-5000.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Publications get awards

Morehead State University has received two Special Awards of Merit for excellence in publications from the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE).

The award-winning entries—a magazine focusing on faculty research and creative efforts and materials prepared for the 1993 spring gala—were entered in the publications competition sponsored by CASE District III. Both entries were first-time publications.

The magazine "Focus" was produced by the Office of Publications and Printing Services in cooperation with the Division of Academic Affairs, Office of Research, Grants and Contracts and the Research and Creative Productions Committee.

Recognizing faculty and professional involvement in sponsored research and creative projects, "Focus" was created to illustrate the diversity in MSU's mission of teaching, research and service to the people of Eastern Kentucky.

The package for the gala, "Musical Fantasy Cruise," included an invitation for a fantasy cruise, reservation card and mock passport. Showcasing the talents of MSU's Department of Music faculty, students and alumni, the gala raised $15,000 for the University's music program.

"MSU has had a long tradition of quality publications and printed matter and this recognition by those who work in the advancement field only adds to that reputation," said Keith Kappes, MSU vice president for University Advancement.

The winning entries were displayed at the District III Conference Feb. 13-16 in Nashville.

District III is composed of nine states: Kentucky, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

BCBS claims

This is a reminder to all employees who may have outstanding 1993 medical or pharmacy bills that have not yet been submitted to Blue Cross Blue Shield for payment. Technically, you have until December 31, 1994, to process these claims. However, we encourage you to submit any such claims promptly as the University would like to close out the 1993 year as soon as possible.

As previously reported, the University entered into a self insured contract with BCBS for calendar year 1994. With this new arrangement, it is more important than ever for you to process your claims on a timely basis rather than save them up for submission at the end of the year. The reason for this is that with self insurance, the university is on a "pay as we go" basis. Accordingly, we can ill afford to be lulled into thinking we are doing a great job of controlling costs and then be hit with some large bills which have been accumulating.

We are pleased to report that thus far the self insurance program appears to be doing well. We encourage you to continue to use your health insurance wisely as this goes a long way toward controlling our BCBS health insurance costs.

Correction

An article in the Feb. 17 edition of Update incorrectly listed the title for one administrator. Dr. Lane Cowser is chair of MSU's Department of Agricultural Sciences.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

MSU to participate in program

Morehead State University has been selected by the Association of American Colleges to be part of its new curriculum planning initiative, "American Commitments."

While selection includes a $2,000 grant, Dr. Judy Rogers, MSU's associate vice president for academic affairs, believes that the national recognition and the networking with other institutions will be worth much more.

MSU is one of 40 institutions chosen from among 146 applicants to participate in the program to assist schools in emphasizing diversity, democracy and liberal learning in their curriculum.

"At MSU, we are extremely concerned about providing our students with coursework that reflects diversity," Dr. Rogers said. "For us diversity not only means racial/cultural diversity but gender diversity as well," added the associate vice president who will head MSU's planning team.

The team members are Dr. Fran Helphinstine, professor of English; Dr. Russell Brengelman, professor of physics, and Dr. Wendell O'Brien, assistant professor of philosophy.

Later this month, the team will attend an AAC national conference in New Orleans designed to launch the American Commitments' network.

"Collaboration in this project pairs MSU with two other institutions who are uniquely different from us: Memphis State University and Marymount College," Dr. Rogers said.

"A larger urban school, Memphis State University has experience with curriculum change to incorporate gender diversity and racial/cultural diversity," she said. "Marymount is a nationally recognized women's college. They offer us expertise in the areas we are seeking."

Shortly after the conference, the planning team along with an undergraduate student will visit the Memphis State campus. The team members also will organize workshops for other faculty members to assist their colleagues with additional curricula changes.

"The timing of this grant and our selection could not have been better," Dr. Rogers said. "We have begun circulating a new general education curriculum for the faculty which includes a framework for diversity courses."

The University is proposing to link courses such as a junior level philosophy course on social ethics with one in sociology on American Minority Relations. Also to be explored is the integration of an introductory women's studies course with courses in English, sociology and/or government.

The goal is to develop 12 hours for the general ed curriculum in two paired interdisciplinary courses which could serve as models for others.

"There is a tremendous need for MSU to incorporate a significant number of culturally diverse courses into the curriculum," Dr. Rogers said.

"We need to prepare our traditional Eastern Kentucky students for a workplace that will bring them face-to-face with cultural diversity," she added. "Many of our students have not had the opportunity to experience cultural diversity and educating them for today's world by helping them to understand cultural/social differences is part of our responsibility."

CCL in search of new system

MSU's Camden-Carroll Library must select a new automated library system and the University community will have an opportunity to make recommendations.

Three potential vendors will demonstrate their products when they visit the campus early next month. The two-hour sessions will be held in 419 Reed Hall beginning at 3 p.m. on Wednesday, March 2; Friday, March 4, and Tuesday, March 8.

"We encourage all faculty, staff and students to attend all three sessions," said Larry Besant, director of libraries. "During the Online Catalog (OPAC) demonstration, library users will have an opportunity to try out the system, ask questions and make recommendations on their preferences for a new system."

The CCL staff was notified last year that a new company had purchased the Library's current automated system, LS/2000, but would not continue its support beyond July 1995. A committee has been reviewing proposals for several months with the top three recommended vendors being invited to demonstrate their systems on campus.

Once a new system is selected, the conversion process will take 12-18 months, Besant noted. "It is our goal to have the new system operational by January 1995," he said.

People in the News

Dr. John C. Philley, executive vice president for academic affairs, has been elected chairman of the state Board for the Registration of Professional Geologists for 1994. A certified professional geologist, he was appointed to the board by the governor and has served as its vice chairman since 1992.

Dr. Ron Dobler, professor of English, gave presentations on Appalachian songs, ballads and tales to the 4-7 grade students at Menifee County Schools in Frenchburg, Jan. 13.

Dr. Robert Boram, assistant professor of science, was elected chair of the Science Education Section of the Kentucky Academy of Science at its 79th annual meeting held in Georgetown, Oct. 21-23.

Dr. David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education at the Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, conducted an all day workshop for the teachers at Clark Elementary School in Floyd County, Dec. 10. The presentation included an overview of many hands-on activities and materials to make social studies come alive in the classroom as well as a focus on active student participation and concentration on upper level skills in Blooms Taxonomy.

Dr. Linda Salyer, Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences chair, presented a paper entitled "Leadership in the Military: Feminine/Care within Masculine/Rules," at the 1993 Wilma E. Grote Symposium for the Advancement of Women held on campus, Nov. 4-6.

Dr. Andrew Glendening, assistant professor of music, and Daniel Jacobson of the University of North Dakota, presented a paper entitled "Schubert's D. 936a: A Symphonic Homage to Beethoven," at one of the sessions of the joint meeting of the American Musicological Society and the Society for Music Theory held in Montreal, Quebec, Nov. 3-7.

Dr. Christopher Gallaher, Department of Music chair, attended the 69th annual meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music held at the Westin St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, Calif. More than 400 music executives from the U.S. and Canada attended the four-day conference. The featured speaker was Aims McGuinness, senior associate for the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems in Boulder, Colo., who spoke on "Higher Education and the Public Agenda: Danger or Opportunity."

New titles

Several members of the Camden-Carroll Library staff have received new titles that more accurately reflect their duties.

Former library assistant I staffers with new titles are: Judy Craft and Angela D. Foster, circulation specialists; Alma Lee Fairchild, photographic archives specialist; Sherry Dianne Gay, periodicals technician; Rhonda Lynn Hall, documents and graphic specialist; Mary F. Hood, administrative and government document specialist; Denise S. Thomas, periodicals technician/stacks specialist.

Former library assistant II's new titles: Marilyn Hogge, audio-visual cataloging technician; Carolyn Sue Howard, acquisitions payment specialist; Deborah Jane Howard, acquisitions order specialist; Brenda K. Jones, special cataloging technician; Betty B. Lane, interlibrary loan assistant; Bonita Rachel Lowe, acquisitions serials technician; Danice Elizabeth Nutter, extended campus specialist; Betty June Stevens, government documents cataloging technician;

Former assistant III are: Fern Butts, assistant circulation manager; Deanna Lynn Lester, materials specialist; John David Mayse, reference services paraprofessional; Kathy S. Riddle, hardware/software specialist; Linda G. Watson, acquisitions accounting assistant.

Will compete

MSU's varsity cheerleaders will defend their title in Division I competition at the National College Cheerleading Championships in San Diego, Calif., April 7-9.

In addition, two pairs from the group-Shay Whitehead and Dan Gillenwater and Carrie Neff and Michael Cooper-will participate in the partner stunt competition.

The MSU squad, which won the national title in their division in 1988, 1991, 1992 and 1993, placed first in the qualification rounds, according to Myron Doan, dean of students and squad coach.

Play it safe

Electrical panels, breakers, switches, and disconnects are shut off by lock-out or tag-out devices from time to time to permit maintenance personnel and project contractors to safely work on electrical circuits and equipment. Please do not remove or touch these lock-out/tag-out protection devices.

If there are questions or concerns regarding these devices or circuits, please call the Physical Plant Work Control number 3-2147 during regular work hours or telephone page number 3-8127 at other times.

Blood drive

The Central Kentucky Blood Center will hold a blood drive on the MSU campus on Wednesday, March 2, for Nicholas Taylor Johnson, son of MSU employees Della and Randy Johnson.

The drive, to be conducted in the gymnastics room in the Academic-Athletic Center, will run from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Academic Computing Consultant I, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 24.

Maintenance Technician I, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 25.

Telemarketing Coordinator (Temporary Full-Time), Office of Alumni Relations and Development; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 28.

Buyer/Assistant Buyer (Preferably Buyer), Office of Purchasing; to ensure consideration, apply by March 3.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Licking Valley Extended Campus Center; annual salary: $21,296; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by March 14.

Assistant Professor of Mathematics, Department of Mathematics; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

Director of Publications and Printing Services, Office of Institutional Relations; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

Counselor, Upward Bound, Academic Services Center; annual salary: $21,296; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by March 17.

Assistant Professor of Education, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; to ensure consideration, apply by April 4.

Assistant Professor of Business Education, Department of Information Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by April 11.

Instructor/Assistant Professor of English (Two Non-Tenure Track Positions), Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy; positions contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by April 1.

Assistant Professor of History, Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by May 1.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Directory check

Please check your individual listing in the 1993-94 campus telephone directory. If your information is incorrect, notify the Office of Human Resources at 3-2097 by Feb. 28. A supplemental sheet with corrections will be distributed on campus at a later date.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Feb. 24

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Eastern Kentucky University, AAC, 7:30 p.m.
Concert: Baird Winds, DRH, 8 p.m.
Theatre: "Tartuffe," Kibbey Theatre, 8 p.m.; through Feb. 26; also Feb. 27, 2 p.m.

Saturday, Feb. 26

Baseball: MSU vs. Ohio University, Allen Field, noon.

Tuesday, March 1

Baseball: MSU vs. West Virginia State College, Allen Field, 2 p.m.
Guest Recital: Marshall University professors, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.
Comedian Chris "Crazy Legs" Fonseca, Button Auditorium, 9:15 p.m.

Wednesday, March 2

Meet Morehead State Night, Landmark Inn, Pikeville, 4:30 p.m.
Faculty recital: Dr. Andrew Glendening, trombone, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Thursday, March 3

Surplus microcomputer sale, Button Drill Room, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; also March 4.
Faculty recital: Paul Taylor, piano, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Saturday, March 5

Baseball: MSU vs. Miami University, Allen Field, noon; also March 6, noon.

Sunday, March 6

Guest recital: William Baxter, trombone, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Play to open

MSU theatre students will present the classic satirical comedy, "Tartuffe", Wednesday through Saturday, Feb. 23-26, at 8 p.m., and Sunday, Feb. 27, at 2 p.m. in Kibbey.

Reservations are necessary and may be made by calling the Theatre Box Office at 3-2170. Tickets are $6 for adults, $2 for senior citizens, high school students and children, and free to MSU students with a valid I.D. card.

Top ten finish

Morehead State University's Individual Events (IE) Team recently traveled to Prince George's Community College in Largo, Md., and George Mason University in Fairfax, Va., where they competed in two speech tournaments.

The team received fourth place out of the 18 schools competing at the George Mason tournament and placed sixth out of the 17 schools attending the tournament at Prince George's.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

BOR to meet on Monday

The MSU Board of Regents will meet on Monday, March 7, at 2 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall, Baird Music Building.

Preceding the board meeting, the board's committees will meet in the Riggle Room, ADUC: Administrative and Fiscal Services, 8:15 a.m.; Academic Affairs, 9:40 a.m., and Student Life and External Relations, 10:40 a.m.

At noon, MSU will honor Lucille Caudill Little, Lexington philanthropist, at a Celebration of the Fine Arts. The event, to be held in Duncan Recital Hall, will include a special tribute to Mrs. Little by a surprise guest and remarks by Mrs. Little, who has given $1 million to support MSU's fine arts programs. Later at the Board of Regents meeting, the board will introduce a resolution to designate MSU's College of Humanities as the Caudill College of Humanities to honor Mrs. Little and her family.

In addition to renaming the College of Humanities, the board's agenda contains numerous items for discussion and/or action, including election of officers and a preliminary report on spring enrollment. The board will be asked to approve revisions or amendments to personnel policies related to promotions, tenure, faculty rights/responsibilities, affirmative action/equal employment opportunity and severe weather conditions/disaster.

Also to be approved are program deletions and tenure requests, an amendment to the Student Board of Media charter and extensions to auditing and banking contracts. Other action items include ratification of personnel items, authorization to acquire property and a lease/purchase agreement for microcomputers.

Reports are expected on the intercollegiate athletics program, the 1994-96 Executive Budget Recommendation and on major gifts since July 1. The president will update the regents on the Governor's Higher Education Review Committee, the University Ad Hoc Planning Committee and Task Force, the proposed rank confirmation and salary enhancement plan, merit pay and administrative evaluation.

Wellfest '94

If you want to assess how physically fit you are, check out the "MSU Wellfest '94" on Tuesday, March 8.

MSU, in conjunction with St. Claire Medical Center, Rowan Vocational Technical School, Morehead Clinic and several area businesses, is sponsoring the event which will be held in ADUC from 7:30 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Scheduled are a variety of free health screenings—diabetes, blood pressure, eye exams and height and weight. Informational booths will offer materials on numerous areas such as smoking cessation, substance abuse, nutrition, cancer and stress management.

For a small fee, one may have other tests completed. The charge for the hemocult test is $1; cholesterol screening is $3 or 3 cans of food, (do not eat 12 hours prior to the test); body fat test is $2 (with no food or exercise four hours prior to the test and refrain from alcohol intake for 12 hours).

Door prizes will be awarded. Telephone: 3-5282.

Surplus sale

MSU will conduct a public surplus sale of microcomputers today and Friday, March 3-4, in Button Drill Room. The sale will run from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each day, or until all items are sold.

Additional information, including terms of sale, guarantee, methods of payment, etc., is available from Ron Jones, properties manager, at 3-5224.

Videotapes are preserved

Thanks to the cooperation of several groups, Morehead State University is preserving some of the institution's historical records.

More than 16 hours of videotapes with former MSU President Adron Doran have now been converted to a 3/4-inch master. The tapes are from in-depth interviews conducted in 1975 by Dr. John Kleber, now interim dean of the College of Humanities.

The original tapes were on 2-inch videotape which was popular in the '70s but is now almost extinct, according to Clara Keyes, head of Special Collections in the Camden-Carroll Library's Archives.

"With technology advances, MSU decided to surplus all its 2-inch video equipment several years ago," Keyes said, noting that most other stations have done the same.

It was only after a careful search by John Higginbotham, MSU's coordinator of television productions, that machines were located at two stations in Lexington—WLEX-TV and WKYT-TV—that Morehead State was able to complete the reformatting.

"The 2-inch format is so obsolete that these pieces of history would have been lost because we do not have the equipment to use them," Keyes said. "We are very appreciative of the Lexington television stations in helping us preserve these interviews and restoring them to usable condition."

Also in the process of being preserved are copies of the Trail Blazer, MSU's student newspaper, which dates to the 1930s. "The acidic nature of the newsprint had caused the publications to become brittle," Keyes said. "With class assignments requiring the newspapers to be available for student use, it was important that the materials be preserved before further damage was done."

The newspapers have been sent to the University of Kentucky microfilm center where they will be reproduced on microfilm. "This will ensure their availability for students and researchers in years to come," Keyes said.

People in the News

Karen O. Hammons, assistant professor of education, and Dr. Phyllis B. Oakes, associate professor of education and coordinator of K-4 and Early Childhood Education, had an article entitled "Viewpoint: Survey Finds Teachers and Principals Differing on Available Time to Carry Out Reform Efforts," published in "Dialogue: Supplement to THE LINK," Vol. 12, No. 4, Winter, 1993, pp.5-6.

Janie Baldridge, Commonwealth Educational Opportunity Center counselor, was a presenter at the annual conference of the Kentucky Association Educational Opportunity Program Personnel in Lexington, Oct. 20-22. The title of the session was "Building Participant Self-Esteem."

Dr. Mike Adams, assistant professor of chemistry, and seven MSU students attended the 45th Southeast Regional Meeting of the American Chemical Society in Johnson City, Tenn., Oct. 17-20. They attended many presentations covering research currently being conducted at colleges and universities throughout the southeastern part of the U.S. and the students participated in the "Student-Mentor Interface" workshop.

Larry Besant, director of libraries, and Julie Lewis, library automation specialist, attended a Kentucky chapter meeting of the Special Libraries Association in Lexington, Nov. 10. The subject of the one-half day session was "Librarian vs. the Machine: the Human Interface and Information Management." Besant

MSU honors Lucille Little

MSU will honor Morehead native Lucille Caudill Little with a "Fine Arts Celebration" at noon Monday, March 7, in Duncan Recital Hall.

The program, which is free and open to the public, will include vignettes from recent MSU theatre productions and music performed by MSU students and faculty.

Little recently gave $1 million to support the University's fine arts programs. She will be recognized with a tribute by a special guest and a private luncheon will follow.

The Lexington philanthropist has dedicated much of her life and resources to improving the educational and cultural quality of life for Kentuckians. She is the daughter of the late Daniel Boone Caudill, who was a prominent Morehead banker, attorney, businessman and a Circuit Judge.

When the MSU's Board of Regents meets at 2 p.m. that day, a resolution will be introduced to designate the College of Humanities as the Caudill College of Humanities in honor of Mrs. Little and her family.

State meeting

Kentucky Supreme Court Justice Janet Stumbo will be the banquet's keynote speaker when the Kentucky Political Science Association holds its annual meeting in MSU's Adron Doran University Center, March 4-5.

More than 50 political scientists from colleges, universities and community colleges across the state are expected to attend the two-day event, according to Dr. Lindsay Back, MSU professor of government and association president.

The agenda for Friday, March 4, includes a series of panel discussions on such topics as economic development in Kentucky, American politics, and the globalization of state and local governments.

A Kentucky symposium will be on tap for Saturday, March 5. Education, health care and the budget will be discussed by representatives from the executive and legislative branches of state government.

introduced the guest speaker, Mariam Drake, director of libraries at Georgia Institute of Technology and president of the Special Libraries Association.

Dr. Alban Wheeler, professor of sociology, presented a paper "Fear of Crime on Campus: It's a Man's World," at the eighth annual Conference on Campus Violence in Baltimore, Md., Feb. 4.

Michael Seelig, professor of social work, has been appointed to the Governor's Council on Social Insurance. Also, he and Dr. Andargatchew Tesfaye co-authored an article entitled "Child Welfare in Ethiopia" accepted for publication in "International Social Work."

Dr. Robert Boram, assistant professor of science, and Dr. Ron Fiel, professor of science education, assisted the Montgomery County Math and Science Center with "Mad Scientist Day," Oct. 29.

Dr. Ed Reeves and Dr. Bob Bylund, professors of sociology, were the joint recipients of the 1993 Distinguished Article Award from the Society for the Scientific Study of Religion. Their article entitled "Anonymity and the Rise of Universal Occasions for Religious Ritual: An Extension to the Durkheimian Theory," was published in the June 1992 issue of the "Journal for the Scientific Study of Religion."

Dr. Robert C. Tesch, Sr., associate professor of computer information systems, has been elected vice president of the Central Kentucky Chapter of the Data Processing Management Association for 1994.

'Miss MSU'

Nine students will compete for $2,650 in awards at the 27th annual Miss MSU Scholarship Pageant on Thursday, March 10.

The program, set for 7:30 p.m. in Button Auditorium, will center on the "Fascinating Rhythm" theme. Tickets, which are $5 per person, are on sale now in the Student Activities Office, second floor of the Adron Doran University Center.

Special guests for the evening will be Dionne Coatie, Miss MSU 1993 and Louisville graduate student, and Tonya D. Virgin, 1993 Miss Kentucky and an MSU alumnus.

Vying for the title will be: Heather Fore, Elena Fraley, Meichelle Y. Gaines, Kristie Hicks, Georgia K. Hill, Christina M. Leavitt, Dana J. Piatt, Heather A. Prince and Donetta Riley.

The winner of the Miss MSU pageant will compete for the title of Miss Kentucky June 23-25 at Transylvania University in Lexington.

The Miss MSU Scholarship Pageant, sponsored by the University's Student Government Association and Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils, is a preliminary to the Miss America pageant. Contestants are judged in a 10-minute interview, along with evening wear, swimsuit and talent competitions. Telephone: 3-2071.

Statistics in

Recycling statistics for the 1993 shows that the MSU Recycling Program marketed 67,500 pounds (33 1/4 tons) of office paper in the various grades collected. This is a 50 percent increase over the previous year. Aluminum can collection increased more than threefold, from 1 ton in 1992, to 6,500 pounds (3 1/4 tons) in 1993.

"The MSU community is to be congratulated on a good effort, and I urge each of you to keep recycling in 1994," said Allie Secor, recycling coordinator. "There is still a lot more paper and cans out there ending up in the trash instead of in those brightly colored recycling bins."

For questions and/or suggestions, call 3-5268.

Exit properly

It is extremely important that users log off the AIMS system properly by entering the 'LO' command before turning off their workstation or exiting their telecommunications software (PC LINK-IT, Kermit).

Failing to log off prevents jobs from closing properly on the system which reduces system performance and can damage data records. If you are having a problem with a program or want to stop the process, call the Support Center at 3-5000 and ask for immediate programmer assistance. Turning off your workstation will appear to clear the problem but only causes more severe ones.

Note of thanks

The Office of Human Resources would like to thank all faculty and staff that responded to the Administrative Survey. Additional evaluations will be forthcoming for the college deans, dean of students, registrar, department chairs/coordinators, etc.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Buyer/Assistant Buyer (Preferably Buyer), Office of Purchasing; to ensure consideration, apply by March 3.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Licking Valley Extended Campus Center; annual salary: $21,296; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by March 14.

Assistant Professor of Mathematics, Department of Mathematics; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

Director of Publications and Printing Services, Office of Institutional Relations; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

Counselor, Upward Bound, Academic Services Center; annual salary: $21,296; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by March 17.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Get in shape

Want to get your body in shape before warm weather? You can start with MSU's exercise program for faculty and staff which offers a trained professional staff and a variety of exercise programs best suited to you.

The exercise program is now accepting new members. Classes are held in the AAC 140 and the University pool and costs are minimal.

The time schedule is: MTWTF, morning lap swim, 6-7:30 a.m.; M & W, aerobic (low impact and step) and walking club, 4-4:40 p.m.; T & Th, walking club, weight training, exercise machines, sauna, 4-5:30 p.m., and MTWTF, lap swimming and water aerobics, 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Additional information or a personal interview are available from Mary Alice Terry (3-5282) or Dr. Mike Brown (3-2120).

Idea for class

For those faculty members who may need to be out of class for a period or just want to include something a little different, you may want to consider having MSU's Student Wellness Peer Educators address your class.

Through the use of skits, mini-lectures and group discussions, the educators can provide information on a variety of topics including stress, sexually transmitted diseases, alcohol and other drugs, and tolerance. Telephone 3-5248.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, March 3

Surplus microcomputer sale, Button Drill Room, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; also March 4. Faculty recital: Paul Taylor, piano, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Saturday, March 5

Baseball: MSU vs. Miami University, Allen Field, noon; also March 6, noon.

Sunday, March 6

Guest recital: William Baxter, trombone, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Monday, March 7

"Fine Arts Celebration," for Lucille Caudill Little, Duncan Recital Hall, noon. Board of Regents meeting, Duncan Recital Hall, 2 p.m.; committees to meet prior.

Tuesday, March 8

MSU Wellfest '94, ADUC, 7:30 a.m.-3 p.m. Guest Recital: M. Dee Stewart, trombone, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, March 9

Baseball: MSU vs. Xavier University, Allen Field, noon.

Thursday, March 10

Guest Recital: U.S. Continental Army Band Brass Quintet, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m. Miss MSU Scholarship Pageant, Button Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, March 12

Baseball: MSU vs. University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Allen Field, noon.

Sunday, March 13

Baseball: MSU vs. Georgetown College, Allen Field, 2 p.m. Senior Recital: Tara Sparks, flute, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m. Recital: MSU Faculty Brass Quintet, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Honor society

MSU's Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences has established a Baccalaureate Nursing Program Honor Society and inducted 37 members that include MSU students, faculty and alumni, as well as registered nurses from the region.

Elected as officers were: Melinda Skaggs, MSU assistant professor, president; Marquetta Flaughter, MSU assistant professor, vice-president; Teresa Howell, a registered nurse at St. Claire Medical Center in Morehead, treasurer, and Cheryl Clevenger, MSU assistant professor, secretary.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Fine arts and athletics are in spotlight

MSU's fine arts and intercollegiate athletic programs were in the spotlight at Monday's meeting of the Board of Regents.

At a special Fine Arts Celebration showcasing the talents of MSU students and faculty, the University paid tribute to Lexington philanthropist Lucille Caudill Little.

Mrs. Little, a member of a distinguished Rowan County family, has contributed $1 million to support MSU's fine arts programs. Her gift, part of a $3 million goal to endow the College of Humanities, is the largest single donation from an individual in the University's 107 year history.

At its meeting, the board approved renaming the college as the Caudill College of Humanities in honor of Mrs. Little's parents, the late Daniel Boone and Rosetta Proctor Caudill and their descendants.

After considerable discussion, the regents unanimously voted to authorize MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin to begin a process which could result in the University going to non-scholarship football. Dr. Eaglin requested board approval to negotiate an agreement with the Ohio Valley Conference which would allow members to move to non-scholarship football while competing as full OVC members in all other sports.

Citing a number of fiscal concerns such as decreasing general fund support, Title 9 issues of gender equity and escalating costs, Dr. Eaglin told the board that he believed that there was no other alternative but to follow this course.

"We just don't have the money to do what we want to do," he said, noting that the school's academic programs also were undergoing review.

"It is just a question of priorities," said Dr. Bruce Mattingly, faculty regent.

Addressing concerns that non-scholarship football would impact MSU's minority enrollment, Dr. Eaglin said that minority access to higher education was no longer an issue. The University already has begun initiatives that place a greater emphasis on recruitment and retention of minority students, he added.

"If we have to depend upon athletics to do what is needed to increase our minority enrollment, we are heading in the wrong direction," said Regent Buckner Hinkle.

In other actions, the board elected officers, approved revisions to several personnel policies, ratified an amendment to the Faculty Senate Constitution, endorsed a revised Mission Statement, ratified a series of personnel actions, extended the banking services contract with Citizens Bank and the contract with Kelley, Galloway and Company for the 1993-94 fiscal year audit, and authorized a lease purchase agreement for microcomputers.

The regents elected William R. Seaton as chair, Sonny Jones as vice chair, Carol Johnson as secretary and Porter Dailey as treasurer. Seaton has served as chair since 1989.

Among the personnel policy revisions approved was one (Pac-2) automatically promoting assistant professors who gain tenure to the associate level. Also revised was Pac-27 to change the point at which probationary faculty sit for tenure from the fifth year to the sixth year and allows for certain academic administrators to be appointed with tenure.

Tenure was granted to:

Five assistant professors—Terry Elliott, accounting; Daniel Grace, education; George Eklund, English; Michael Acord, music, and Marshia White, nursing; (continued on back)

Electronic program expanded

MSU has received a $20,000 grant from the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation enabling the University to expand access of its computerized degree audit program to six two-year colleges in Eastern Kentucky.

Established in 1950, the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation makes national grants in journalism, education and the field of arts and culture.

The Foundation also supports organizations in communities where the Knight brothers were involved in publishing newspapers but is wholly separate from and independent of those newspapers. (The Lexington Herald-Leader is a Knight-Ridder newspaper.)

Collaborating with MSU as participants in the program are Ashland, Hazard, Maysville, Prestonsburg and Southeast community colleges along with Lees College.

The advising-degree audit system allows students to see immediately how their work at the two-year schools matches requirements for MSU's baccalaureate programs as well as what courses are needed to complete their degree work.

"The Knight Foundation is to be commended for helping us link our campus to these schools so that we can offer Eastern Kentucky students this service," said MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin.

"This project is a unique partnership of higher education institutions and shows the commitment of all of us to helping our students," Dr. Eaglin said.

MSU has been using the "Computer Assisted Advising-Degree Audit System" since 1991. The electronic program was developed totally in-house by the Offices of the Registrar and Information Technology.

Already on-line at each school, including both the Whitesburg and Cumberland campuses of Southeast, the program will ease the transfer process for students moving from these two-year institutions to MSU, according to Dr. Marc Glasser, MSU dean of Graduate and Extended Campus Programs.

"Students can obtain an accurate picture of what courses they need to complete any specific four-year degree at MSU and will receive a printout of that information on the spot," Dr. Glasser said.

"This collaborative effort also speaks directly to a key element of MSU's Mission Statement which calls for facilitating the transfer process," Dr. Glasser added.

"The participating schools themselves have recognized the importance of the computerized checksheet by making a financial commitment to it as well," the dean said. "It's an extraordinary gesture on their part and they've taken an active role in making all this possible," Dr. Glasser added.

The schools in the University of Kentucky Community College System as well as Lees College are providing financial assistance in the amount of $500 each for a total of $3,000 to assist with equipment and installation costs.

"With the computer network in place, it will be possible for us to bring other academic information programs on-line in the future," Dr. Glasser said.

One program currently being developed, according to MSU Registrar Gene Ranvier, is a data base of transfer equivalencies of all courses offered at the four-year and two-year public institutions in Kentucky and nearby out-of-state institutions.

Cellular phone

Information Technology has a limited number of cellular phones available for University faculty and staff to borrow for University-related purposes. These phones should be used if a faculty or staff member travels off-campus and needs to remain in contact with the University. These would be short term loans, with a limit of 5 working days.

There is no charge to borrow the phone. However, all usage related charges will be billed to the user's Telephone 50444 account. The user is responsible for all calls made to or from the phone during the time it is signed out.

The phones can be signed-out at the Information Technology Support Center in 110 Ginger Hall. Telephone: 3-5000

MSU mourns

Monroe Wicker of Morehead, a former administrator at MSU, died March 6 at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington. He was 86.

An MSU employee from 1947 to 1971, he served as director of admissions and university relations and director of MSU's Breckinridge Training School. He received MSU's Founders Day Award in 1983.

A native of Knott County, Wicker was a principal in several school districts in Eastern Kentucky before coming to MSU. He was a past president of Rowan County Retired Teachers' Association.

He is survived by two sons, Phillip K. Wicker of Somerset and Terry M. Wicker of Xenia, Ohio.

People in the News

Thomas J. Klein, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, has earned the Ed.D. degree from Vanderbilt University. His dissertation was entitled "A Comparison Study on the Effectiveness of Differential Equations Instruction With and Without a Computer Algebra System."

Gary Mesa-Gaido, instructor of art, has been awarded a 1993 Al Smith Artists Fellowship in Mixed Media from the Kentucky Arts Council. He was one of 20 Kentuckians selected to receive the fellowship in the general categories of visual arts and media arts.

Dr. William Green, professor of government, received a $3,000 Canadian Studies Faculty Enrichment Grant from the Canadian Embassy to study "Supreme Courts and Civil Liberties in Comparative Perspective: The Canadian Charter of Rights and Liberties and the U.S. Bill of Rights." The grant will involve field research in Canada during the summer of 1994 and allow him to revise his law-related courses by introducing a comparative Canadian legal perspective.

Dr. Robert B. Gould, professor of geography, authored the instructor's manual for the "Introduction to Geography," fourth edition, (Wm. C. Brown Publishers, 1994) that was written by Arthur Getis, Judith Getis and Jerome Fellmann that will be used nationally and internationally.

Elizabeth Mesa-Gaido, artist-in-residence, has been awarded a $7,530 grant from the Kentucky Foundation for Women. Recently, she also received an Al Smith Fellowship Professional Assistance Award from the Kentucky Arts Council as well as an Alternate Visions Grant from Alternate Root, Ga., in 1993.

Contest begun Job vacancies

Inscape, MSU's literary/art magazine, is sponsoring a contest for writers and artists.

Prizes of $50 and $25 will be awarded to first and second place winners in each of these categories: poetry, fiction and black/white art.

Winners and finalists will be announced at the Fine Arts Showcase on May 5 and their work will be published in next semester's issue of the magazine, according to Dr. Michelle Boisseau, faculty adviser to Inscape.

Only MSU students are eligible to enter, but they may be full- or part-time students enrolled on MSU's campus or at any of the regional sites.

The deadline for the writing contest in Monday, March 28. All entries must follow the submission guidelines which may be picked up in 103 Combs Building.

Additional information on the literary contest is available from Dr. Boisseau at 3-2201.

Artists seeking to enter the black and white art competition may contact Robert Franzini, MSU professor of art, by calling him at 3-2771.

Study tour

The Fashion Merchandising Club at MSU will sponsor an "Apparel Market and Merchandising Study Tour" to Dallas, Texas, May 22-28.

During the five days on site, there will be seminars, visits to market showrooms and museums, and meetings with industry professionals. The group will visit the Apparel Mart, including the Dallas Fashion and Men's Apparel Mart, and the World Trade Center.

The tour is being offered to those interested in fashion merchandising or for college credit under "HEC 490 Special Topics" in MSU's Summer I Schedule of Classes. The cost is approximately $350 for travel and accommodations plus tuition fees if registering for credit.

To register for the tour, students must make a $200 deposit by March 31. Telephone: 3-2972.

BOR (continued from front)

Six associate professors-Ishappa Huller, finance; Byron Johnson, sociology; Judith Stafford, social work; Shirley Gish, speech; Eugene Hastings, romance languages, and Brian Reeder, biology;

Two professors-Robert Grueninger, HPER, and Ronald Mitchelson, geography.

The board approved the deletion of MSU's associate degree programs in corrections, journalism, broadcast operations, broadcasting, computer information systems and office systems.

In amending the charter governing the Student Media Board, the regents restored voting rights to the editors of the Trail Blazer and Raconteur as well as to the director of Newscenter 12.

WC to meet

The MSU's Woman's Club will meet Thursday, March 17, at 7:30 p.m., in the Patti Bolin Room.

Paula Dailey will present "Cosmetics and Color." New officers will be elected.

INTERNAL

Archives Specialist, Camden-Carroll Library; hourly rate, $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

EXTERNAL

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Licking Valley Extended Campus Center; annual salary: $21,296; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by March 14.

Director of Publications and Printing Services, Office of Institutional Relations; to ensure consideration, apply by March 16.

Counselor, Upward Bound, Academic Services Center; annual salary: $21,296; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by March 17.

Assistant Professor of Government, Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by May 1.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

One of a kind

Did you know that MSU is the only university in the state that owns and operates its own water treatment plant? The employees at MSU's water plant work for the Physical Plant and are licensed by the Commonwealth of Kentucky to operate a Class IIIA Plant which serves a population between 3,000 and 15,000 people. In 1993, the plant produced 132,829,600 gallons of potable water for use by the Morehead State University community. Additional information, or a tour of the plant, is available by calling Joe Planck, director of the Physical Plant, at 3-2066, or Roger Hilderbrand, manager of the Heating and Water Plant, at 3-2609.

Take notice

Regulations from the Division of Water require that water systems be flushed twice each year. MSU's water system is scheduled to be flushed Monday, March 21.

During this time, there may be some discoloration in the water. If this is encountered, the user should let the water run until the discoloration has cleared. Questions: 3-2066 or 3-2609.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, March 10

Guest Recital: U.S. Continental Army Band Brass Quintet, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Miss MSU Scholarship Pageant, Button Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, March 12

Baseball: MSU vs. University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Allen Field, noon.

Sunday, March 13

Baseball: MSU vs. Georgetown College, Allen Field, 2 p.m.

Senior Recital: Tara Sparks, flute, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Recital: MSU Faculty Brass Quintet, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, March 14

Senior Recital: Anissa Gideon, DRH, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, March 15

Concert: New Music Symposia "The Music of Joseph Klien," Duncan Recital Hall, 3 and 8 p.m.

Wednesday, March 16

Concert: New Music Symposia, SAI American Composers, DRH, 8 p.m.

Three one-act plays, Kibbey Theatre, 8 p.m.; also March 17.

Thursday, March 17

Baseball: MSU vs. Pikeville College, Allen Field, 2 p.m.

Concert: New Music Symposia: "The Music of Joseph Klien & Arnold Schoenberg," DRH, 8 p.m.

In the works

During the upcoming spring break, Physical Plant is scheduling two projects. Nunn Hall will receive a new domestic hot water tank. Construction for this project will take place throughout the week and will require that water be turned off the entire building.

The Adron Doran University Center and Alumni Tower kitchens will have exhaust duct work cleaned. The University Center will be cleaned on Monday, March 21, and Alumni Tower will be cleaned on Tuesday, March 22.

Successful!

The CKBC blood drive for Nicholas Taylor Johnson held on the campus March 2 was successful. There were 130 individuals processed with 104 donating blood. Many others showed up to donate but were eliminated before completing the processing stage.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

FD activities being planned

Planning is under way for MSU's 1994 Founders Day which will be observed Friday, April 8.

The observance will mark the 107th year of higher education in Rowan County and MSU's 72nd anniversary as a public institution.

Arrangements are being finalized for a variety of events at which MSU will recognize the contributions made by several friends, according to Dr. John R. Duncan, emeritus professor of education and chairperson for the 1994 Founders Day.

The day will begin with a special breakfast for retired faculty and staff during which MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin will recognize those who retired during the past year.

The annual convocation and awards ceremony, where the Founders Day Award for University Service will be presented, is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. in Button Auditorium. It will be followed by a noon luncheon at which time new MSU Fellows will be honored and other friends of the University will be recognized.

Culminating the day's activities at 6:30 p.m. in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, will be the Alumni Awards Dinner, highlighted by the induction of three new members into the Alumni Hall of Fame. Following the dinner, there will be an MSU theatre production in Button Auditorium. Curtain time for the comedy, "On The Verge," will be at 8:30 p.m.

In addition, several student events arranged by MSU's Student Alumni Ambassadors are in the planning stages, including distributing birthday cake and the traditional blue and gold ribbons.

Working with Dr. Duncan in planning the celebration is an advisory committee which includes representation from the faculty, staff, retirees, alumni and the community. Members are: Jan Burge, Bryan Carlier, Dr. Chris Gallaher, Diane Hubbard, Keith Kappes, Betty Philley, Bill Redwine, Larry Stephenson, Paul Stokes and Judith Yancy.

New calendar

Morehead State University has revised its summer school schedule and will open its first summer session a week later than previously announced, according to Dr. John C. Philley, MSU executive vice president for academic affairs.

The action was taken to enable the region's public school teachers whose school year has been extended as a result of the severe winter to pursue their education, he said.

Under the new calendar, registration for Summer I will be conducted Monday, June 13, with classes beginning on Tuesday, June 14, and continuing through Friday, July 8.

Registration for Summer II will be Monday, July 11, with classes starting the next day and continuing through Friday, Aug. 5.

"When we originally set our 1993-94 calendar, it was impossible to foresee that Eastern Kentucky would have the kind of weather conditions it has faced this winter," Dr. Philley said.

"By changing our summer start-up date, we are making it possible for teachers in our service region to stay on track with their educational goals," Dr. Philley added.

Correction

At its meeting on March 7, the MSU Board of Regents deleted five associate level degree programs and only the executive secretarial option within the two-year Office Systems degree. The board Agenda Booklet erroneously listed the full Office Systems program as recommended for deletion.

Art auction

Hundreds of items—ranging from works by local artists to scripts signed by Hollywood celebrities—will be on the auction block at the Department of Communications' Art Auction, slated for Saturday, April 2.

Items will be on display two hours prior to the sale which begins at 7 p.m. in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center. There is no admission charge and refreshments will be served.

There will be a variety of items, with something to please almost any taste, according to Harlen Hamm, MSU professor of speech and chairman of the auction's organizational committee. "This is a good way to obtain high quality art works while helping a worthwhile cause," he said.

Proceeds from the auction are for the student emergency loan fund for students majoring in speech and theatre.

Some of the items for sale are original oil paintings and water colors, limited edition prints, pottery, crafts, collector items, antiques and celebrity memorabilia such as an autographed book by Steve Allen and Hal Holbrook's signed script from "Evening Shade."

Spring Break

MSU will be closed for Spring Break, March 21-25; however, certain offices and services will be available with minimal staffing.

Regular office hours and classes will resume at 8 a.m. Monday, March 28.

Areas scheduled to offer services during the break include:

GOLF COURSE: Normal operations.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY: The Information Technology Support Center will be staffed March 21-25 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The AIMS system will be unavailable March 19-23. The academic system will be unavailable March 24-25.

PHYSICAL PLANT: Offices closed; essential staffing as required in the various areas.

PUBLIC SAFETY: Patrol and dispatch services only.

SWITCHBOARD: March 21-25, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Recitals set

Two faculty members in the Department of Music will present recitals during the last week of March.

The recital of soprano Roma Prindle will be Monday, March 28. Her program will consist entirely of song repertoire.

Dr. Robert Pritchard will present a flute recital on Thursday, March 31. He is the principal flutist with the Lexington Philharmonic.

Both recitals, which will be held in Duncan Recital Hall, will begin at 8 p.m.

People in the News

Jane C. Ellington, associate professor of human sciences, served as a judge for STAR Events, Region 9-Kentucky at Fleming County High School on Feb. 26 and U.S. Grant Vocational District at Bethel, Ohio, March 19.

Dr. Ronald F. Tucker, professor of industrial education, has been appointed by Gov. Brereton Jones to a three-year term on the Kentucky Job Training Coordinating Council. A former Education Professional Development Act (EPDA) fellow, he was the only Fellow in the U.S. to serve an internship on the Education and Labor Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives. The appointment was under the chairmanship of the late U.S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins.

Celebration to be televised

MSU-TV Channel 12, MSU's campus television station, will air the recent Fine Arts Celebration and tribute to Lexington philanthropist Lucille Caudill Little at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, March 29.

The program features vignettes from recent MSU theatre productions and music performed by the University's students and faculty as well as a special tribute to the Morehead native by her niece, The Rev. Susie Skinner of Webster Groves, Mo.

A member of a prominent Rowan County family, Little recently gave $1 million to support MSU's fine arts programs. Her gift is part of a $3 million goal to endow the University's Caudill College of Humanities. The college was renamed by the Board of Regents in recognition of the Caudill family's long standing commitment of service to the residents of Eastern Kentucky.

Little, daughter of the late Daniel Boone and Rosetta Proctor Caudill, has dedicated much of her life and resources to improving the educational and cultural quality of life for Kentuckians.

MSU-TV is seen locally on Simmons Cable channel 12.

Former faculty

MSU has been saddened by the loss of a former faculty member: Dr. Crayton T. Jackson of Morehead, former professor of science education, died March 11.

Dr. Jackson, who was employed by MSU from 1958 to 1971, was mayor of Morehead from 1978 until 1981. He was involved in numerous community activities including serving as a member of the city council, developing and selling real estate and serving as a director of Morehead National Bank.

A native of Menifee County, he has taught school at the high school and college levels.

He is survived by his wife, Bernice Hogsd Jackson; a son, Benjamin Crayton Jackson of Morehead, five brothers and two sisters.

'Miss MSU'

Meichelle Gaines, Cincinnati, Ohio, graduate student, was crowned the 1994 Miss Morehead State University at the 27th annual Miss MSU Scholarship Pageant on Thursday evening, March 10.

She will compete in the Miss Kentucky Pageant June 30-July 2 at Transylvania University in Lexington.

First runner-up in the competition was Kristie Dawn Hicks, Elena Jill Fraley was second runner-up, Heather Dawn Fore was third runner-up and Heather Ann Prince received the Scholastic Award.

Dr. Mark Schack, professor of education, and his four-year-old son made a computer software presentation entitled "Developmentally-Appropriate Computer Software for Preschool Children" at the annual Kentucky Early Childhood Association Conference in Louisville, Oct. 11. Dr. Schack, also published "Mathematics Freeware For Young Children" in the 1993 annual issue of "Journal of the Ohio Elementary Kindergarten, Nursery Educators."

Janice B. Daniel, instructor of English, has earned the Ph.D. degree in English from the University of Kentucky. Her dissertation is entitled "Additional Voices: Hawthorne's Use of Personification."

MSU visitors

Several hundred high school students will be visiting the MSU campus before the end of the month.

More than 1,000 students are expected for the annual Region V Conference of the Future Business Leaders of America on Thursday, March 17. The program will include the election of officers, guest speakers, workshops, competitive events and announcement of Mr. and Ms. FBLA.

The Department of Art will host its annual High School Art Day on Wednesday, March 30. As part of the day's activities, the Kentucky Art Education Association's (KAEA) Burley/Coal Region art competition will be on display in the Claypool-Young Art Building. More than 800 students from across the state are expected to participate in the demonstrations/workshops which will be taking place.

The Department of Human Sciences will host its Spring Personal Enrichment Program (PEP) for students of home economics and other related areas on Thursday, March 31. Students from more than 80 high schools in Kentucky and Southern Ohio have been invited to attend.

Interim coach

Matt Ballard, former head football coach at Union College and assistant head coach/defensive coordinator at MSU, has been named MSU's interim head football coach.

His appointment followed the reassignment by mutual agreement of MSU's former head coach Cole Proctor to the Department of HPER for the duration of his contract which expires Dec. 31.

"We are extremely grateful for Cole's loyal service and integrity in leading the University's football program over the past four years," Director of Athletics Steve Hamilton said in announcing the move.

Ballard, a 36-year-old native of Charlotte, N.C., was on the MSU football coaching staff for four seasons (1984-87) before leaving to accept the Union College post.

Ballard was given a one-year contract and MSU will conduct a national search to fill the head football coaching position following the 1994 season.

"We're fortunate to find someone with Matt's ability to take over our football program," Hamilton said. "He is a man of integrity and a hard-worker. Through past association with Morehead State, he has shown outstanding leadership ability."

KTN program

Reservations are now being accepted for MSU's 1994 Kentucky Teacher Network program to be held on Wednesday, March 30, in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center.

Individual interviews may be scheduled from 2 to 7 p.m., with an open fair to be conducted from 7 to 8 p.m.

Representatives from approximately 30 school systems are expected to be on campus to interview current education students and alumni who are certified to teach, according to Dr. Michael Hopper, director of Career Planning and Placement. Telephone: 3-2233.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Counselor, Upward Bound, Academic Services Center; annual salary: $21,296; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by March 17.

Assistant Professor of Education (Joint Appointment-Lees College/MSU), Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; position is renewable for up to three years contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by April 13.

Chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

Assistant Professor of Government, Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by May 1.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

New system

Major changes to improve the current budgeting system will be implemented on July 1. In the 1994-95 opening budget, unit budgets for discretionary operating accounts such as supplies, postage and travel will be combined into one line for each unit. Expenditures will be processed using the same object codes as are currently used, and the new system will automatically allocate funds to the proper line from the operating fund pool. The change will substantially reduce the number of budget transfers necessary to balance unit budgets. The new system also will include on-line budget transfer capability. Training will be scheduled during the month of June.

Additional information is available from Mike Walters at 3-2053 or Ray Pinner at 3-2444.

On-line PAR

A new on-line Personnel Action Request (PAR) system is scheduled for implementation May 1. The new system offers many improvements: an on-line PAR tracking system for user departments, automatic error checking, less paper to file and a reduction in time required to complete and route forms. Training for all departments will be scheduled for April. Additional information is available from Ray Pinner at 3-2444.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, March 17

Future Business Leaders of America
Region V Conference, Button, 8:30 a.m.
Baseball: MSU vs. Pikeville College,
Allen Field, 2 p.m.
Concert: New Music Symposia: "The Music of Joseph Klien & Arnold Schoenberg," DRH, 8 p.m.
Three one-act plays, Kibbey Theatre, 8 p.m.

Monday, March 21

Spring Break, through March 25.

Friday, March 25

Softball: MSU vs. West Virginia Tech,
Softball Field, 1 p.m.

Saturday, March 26

Baseball: MSU vs. Southeast Missouri State University, Allen Field, noon; also
March 27, noon.

Monday, March 28

Faculty Recital, DRH, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, March 29

Concert: MSU Trombone Choir, DRH, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, March 30

High School Art Day, Claypool-Young
Art Building, 9 a.m.
Kentucky Teacher Network, Crager Room,
ADUC, 2-8 p.m.
Baseball: MSU vs. University of Louisville,
Allen Field, 2 p.m.
Guest Recital: William Bootz, DRH, 8 p.m.

Thursday, March 31

Personal Enrichment Program, Lloyd
Cassidy Building, 8:30 a.m.
Softball: MSU vs. Northern Kentucky,
Softball Field, 2 p.m.
Faculty Recital, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, April 1

NAHS Continuing Education Program:
"CPR-Level 'B'," 237 Reed Hall.

Saturday, April 2

Northeast Kentucky Regional Science Fair,
Laughlin Health Building, 8 a.m.
Reebok Greatest Hits Workshop, AAC, 9 a.m.
Department of Communications Art Auction,
Crager Room, Adron Doran University
Center, 5-7 p.m.-viewing; auction-7 p.m.

Changes made

There has been a change made in MSU's exercise program since the activities and times were published in the March 3 Update.

Morning lap swimming has been cancelled due to lack of interest. Afternoon lap swimming and water aerobics will be held Mondays through Thursdays, only.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Gala brings NY to campus

Invitations are being sent for MSU's second annual Spring Gala, "A New York Fantasy," which will be held Saturday evening, April 30.

The gala, a benefit for the University's music and theatre programs, will feature the talents of MSU faculty, students and alumni from those areas.

"Our agency, Eagle Fantasies, Inc., has developed a tour package that will provide gala-goers an unforgettable evening as they are transported from New York City's East Side to West Side and all around the town," said Dr. Christopher Gallaher, Department of Music chair.

Dr. Gallaher, Mrs. Ronald G. Eaglin and Harlen Hamm are serving as the executive committee to plan the event with the assistance of a 24-member steering committee. Members of the steering committee are:

Mrs. J. Dan Lacy of Huntington, W.Va.; Mrs. Robert L. Goodpaster of Ashland; Mrs. Woodson T. Woods of Maysville; Mrs. Larry J. Besant, Mrs. Biebighauser, Mrs. J. Hunter Black, Mrs. Paul W. Blair, Mrs. Walter W. Carr, Mrs. B. Proctor Caudill, Mrs. John E. Collis, Mrs. J.E. Duncan, Mrs. Ronald L. Fiel, Mrs. James E. Jackson, Clyde I. James;

Keith R. Kappes, Dr. William J. Layne, Mrs. James C. LeMaster, Mrs. George M. Luckey, Mrs. Phillip Martin, Mrs. John C. Philley, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Redwine, Mrs. Ewell G. Scott and Mrs. Patrick J. Sevey.

"Last year's 'Musical Fantasy Cruise' was such an overwhelming success that we weren't sure we could top it, but our 'New York Fantasy' tour is going to be even more memorable," said Mrs. Eaglin, wife of MSU's president.

The evening will begin at Grand Central Station (Academic-Athletic Center) with gala-goers on the Blue Package Tour to arrive between 6 and 7 p.m. to catch the subway to Times Square.

Those purchasing Eagle Fantasies' Gold Package will begin their fantasy tour at Tavern on the Green (President's Home) with a 6 p.m. champagne buffet dinner.

All travelers to the "Big Apple" will be treated to "Broadway Rhythms," a smash hit musical playing The Palace (Button Auditorium), before beginning their night on the town.

The Adron Doran University Center will be filled with the glitz and glamour of New York's musical night spots. The Palladium Room will offer dancing to the Big Band sounds of the Big Apple Swing Orchestra, while warm and mellow jazz will emanate from the Village Vanguard.

At Carnegie Hall, gala-goers will be treated to classical works, while down at Denim and Diamonds, it's country and western time. The Hard Rock Cafe will feature nostalgic rock by the New York Rock and Soul Review.

"In just one short year, our annual gala has become one of the most eagerly awaited events in the region," said Mrs. Eaglin. "We think it is a wonderful way to have a fun-filled evening that provides us a chance to spotlight the extraordinary talent we have at MSU and at the same time raise funds to enhance those programs," she added.

The Gold Tour Package cost is $125 per person, while the Blue Tour Package, which includes everything but dinner at Tavern on the Green, is $50 per person. The deadline for signing up for the New York Fantasy Tour is April 15.

Banquet set

The will be an International Banquet on Sunday, April 17, at 6:30 p.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC. The cost is $5 per person or a covered dish. Entertainment will be provided.

'First Brother' coming to MSU

Roger Clinton, brother of U.S. President Bill Clinton, will be the featured speaker for MSU's annual Founders Day on Friday, April 8.

Clinton, who grew up sharing the same joys and hardships as our nation's leader, will speak at the Founders Day Convocation and Awards Ceremony at 10:30 a.m. in Button Auditorium.

MSU's Founders Day Award for University Service also will be presented at the convocation by Dr. Bruce Mattingly, faculty representative to the University's Board of Regents.

Often referred to by the news media as the "First Brother," Clinton will share memories of growing up with his big brother and his thoughts on life in the sudden glare of the media spotlight.

A survivor of physical abuse as a child and substance abuse as an adult, Clinton will speak about the strength of the Clinton family and "real" American values as well as the need to accentuate the positive on both a personal and national level.

Roger Clinton also is making a name for himself as a rhythm and blues performer. He gained attention as leader of the warm-up band for the hit television shows Evening Shade, Designing Women and Hearts Afire. He has appeared on Hearts Afire singing the title song and also was seen on MTV's nationally televised inaugural gala.

Several other activities are planned that day as MSU marks 107 years of higher education in Rowan County and its 72nd year as a public institution. The day begins with a special breakfast for all retired faculty and staff members at which MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin will recognize those who retired during the past 12 months.

At a noon luncheon following the convocation, 12 new MSU Fellows will be recognized along with other major donors who have supported the University. Guest speaker for the luncheon will be MSU President Emeritus Adron Doran, who led the University from 1954 to 1977. Tickets for the $6 per plate luncheon must be purchased and picked up in advance.

Capping the day will be the Alumni Awards Dinner at 6:30 p.m., highlighted by the induction of three new members into the Alumni Hall of Fame: Dr. Lauretta Flynn Byars, UK vice chancellor for minority affairs; Ann Karrick, former Montgomery County school teacher, coach and administrator, and Dennis L. Speigel, president of the International Theme Park Services, Inc.

Dr. Byars, who earned a baccalaureate degree in sociology with an emphasis in social work from MSU in 1970, is responsible for overseeing and coordinating a wide variety of minority affairs programs at UK, including the Martin Luther King Jr. Cultural Center. She also is involved in recruitment of African-American students as well as program development in educational and health areas. She has been in her current role since 1990.

An associate professor, she is the former director of Undergraduate Programs for UK's

College of Social Work and has been the college's assistant dean for student affairs. As assistant dean she coordinated the college's recruitment, admissions, advising and financial aid activities. Dr. Byars also has served as executive director of UK's Educational Talent Search Program.

Ann Karrick of Mt. Sterling, who earned her bachelor's degree from MSU in 1957, holds a number of distinctions. She is the co-founder for the Kentucky's Girl Sports Association, a charter member of the Kentucky Community Education Association, and was both the first woman coach and Girls Athletics director in the school systems in Montgomery County.

Karrick began her teaching career in Boone County and then taught in Montgomery County for a few years before a four-year stint in Florida. She also completed a masters degree and Rank I at UK. While in Florida, she started that state's first full-time physical education and camping program for trainable retarded youngsters. Karrick returned to Montgomery County in 1970, where, in addition to teaching, she held such administrative posts as school health coordinator and director of pupil personnel until her retirement in 1992.

Professionally, Karrick has held the top offices in the Kentucky Association for Health, Kentucky Practical Arts Association and Kentucky Girls Sports Association as well as serving on numerous Kentucky High School Athletics committees.

Her list of community involvement credentials is nearly endless running the gamut from civic and service organizations to the special olympics and the American Cancer Society as well as the Bluegrass State Games. She also is an active volunteer with the American Heart Association and Girl Scouts.

She has been honored by the Cancer Society multiple times, by the Heart Association, and by the Kentucky Association for HPER of which she is a life member. She recently was inducted into the KHSAA Hall of Fame.

From ticket taker and seasonal worker at the old Coney Island Amusement Park to president of the Cincinnati-based company, International Theme Park Services, Inc. (ITPS), Speigel has more than 30 years experience in the theme park/leisure industry.

Earning his undergraduate degree from MSU in 1969, Speigel was named vice president and general manager of Kings Dominion/Lion Country Safari, a Taft Broadcasting Company and Kroger Company venture. Holding this position from 1974 to 1980, he oversaw the planning and construction of the park, developed and implemented long-range marketing plans and administered the park which generated more than $250 million during that time.

Before founding ITPS, Speigel served as vice president for operations with Taft Broadcasting with such diverse responsibilities as standardizing a safety security program and overseeing activities with Hanna-Barbera Studios. As vice president of international operations for Taft, he was responsible for several foreign market leisure site projects, including ones in Singapore, Tokyo and London.

As past president of the International Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions (IAAPA), Speigel currently serves on its board of directors and received the IAAPA 1993 Outstanding Service Award for developing the Cornell Management Institute Program.

Following dinner, there will be a theatre production in Button Auditorium. Curtain time for the comedy, "On the Verge," is 8:30 p.m. Dinner tickets will be $11 each and must be purchased and claimed in advance. Persons reserving tickets for either the luncheon or dinner may purchase theatre tickets at a reduced rate of $5 each when ordered in advance.

In addition, other opportunities for students to take part in the celebration have been arranged
(continued on back)

Service pins

Service pins will be presented by President Ronald G. Eaglin on Tuesday, April 5, at 2 p.m. in the Gold Room, ADUC, to those who have completed milestone years of service during this quarter.

Completing 25 years are Homer Adkins, Broadus Jackson, Keith Kappes, Mildred Jean Patrick and George Tapp.

Receiving a 20 year pin will be Robert Hayes. Completing 15 years are: Porter Dailey, Shirley Hamilton, Deborah Howard and I. Jeanette Stone.

Recognized for 10 years will be: Donald Applegate, Robin Black, Alta Blair and Elaine Parish.

Be health wise

How many people do you know who ought to be taking steps to improve their health? Many of these people just put-off doing so until they are told by their doctors—"if you want to stay alive, you will have to: (a) lose weight, (b) reduce your blood pressure or cholesterol, (c) stop smoking, (d) start exercising, or whatever health culprit(s) happen to be adversely affecting your health."

Why does it take some crisis or life threatening event to motivate a person into changing one's lifestyle? Why not be pro-active—starting NOW.

To help you get started, (if you have such a need), a healthy Stress Free diet is suggested. Limit the use of some items and substitute with healthy choices:

Limit alcohol and choose water; limit coffee and choose herb teas; limit chocolate and choose fresh fruits; limit cola drinks and choose lemonade (hold the sugar); limit tea and choose low-fat dairy products; limit sweets and choose fresh vegetables; limit "junk" foods and choose lean meat, fish or poultry, and limit refined flours and choose whole grains.

Along with these diet modifications, add a little exercise and some relaxation and you're on your way to a healthier life style.

Challenge

MSU's Adult Fitness Program will sponsor a fitness challenge for all who wish to participate.

To be a winner, challenge yourself to complete the following activities in 30 days: walking/jogging, 40 miles; riding a bike, 20 miles; climbing stairs, 150 flights; and attending aerobic classes, 10 meetings.

"Each entrant will be asked to keep an exercise log," said Mary Alice Terry, challenge coordinator. "Everyone can be a winner!"

There will be three levels of competition: beginner, intermediate and advanced categories. The deadline to enter is Friday, April 8. There is a $5 entry fee to be eligible for a prize.

Additional information is available by calling 3-5282 or stopping by Room 140 in the Academic-Athletic Center.

Science fair

More than 400 students from nearly 50 counties are expected to exhibit projects in the 31st Northeast Kentucky Regional Science Fair to be held Saturday, April 2, in Wetherby Gymnasium.

Approximately 150 schools will be represented in the competition, according to Dr. Vic Ramey, associate professor of science, who is coordinating the fair.

"Exhibits of original science projects will be brought from the student's home school and set up in Wetherby Gymnasium and the Laughlin Health Building," Dr. Ramey said.

The general public may view the exhibits after 3 p.m. with the awards ceremony to be held at approximately 5 p.m.

WC to meet

The MSU Woman's Club will hold its installation banquet on Thursday, April 14, at 6 p.m. in the Gold Rood, ADUC. Reservations may be made by calling Deanie Brown at 3-2461 or writing UPO 724. The cost is $8.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Librarian I, (Head, Government Documents/Microform Department), Camden-Carroll Library; to ensure consideration, apply by April 6.

Senior Academic Computing Consultant, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: $28,325; to ensure consideration, apply by April 6.

EXTERNAL

Admissions Counselor, Office of Admissions; annual salary: $17,782; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by April 8.

Archives Specialist, Camden-Carroll Library; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by April 8.

Assistant Professor of Education (Joint Appointment-Lees College/MSU), Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; position renewable for three years contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by April 13.

Chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

Assistant Professor of Computer Information Systems, Department of Information Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by May 4.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Founders Day...

(continued from front)

by the MSU Student Alumni Ambassadors. Activities include a signing party on Thursday, April 7, for a giant birthday card to be presented at the convocation. Signees will receive a piece of birthday cake. Also the ambassadors will distribute blue and gold ribbons Thursday and prior to the convocation on Friday.

The Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, will be the site for all meal events. The deadline for reservations and picking up tickets is 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 5, according to Larry Stephenson, ticket chairman. Tickets will not be sold at the door.

Tickets may be purchased at the Student Activities Office on the second floor of ADUC and at the Alumni Center.

Additional information is available by calling 3-2071 or 3-2080.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, March 31

Personal Enrichment Program, Lloyd Cassity Building, 8:30 a.m.

Softball: MSU vs. Northern Kentucky, Softball Field, 2 p.m.

Faculty Recital, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, April 1

NAHS Continuing Education Program: "CPR-Level 'B'," 237 Reed Hall, 8:30 a.m.

Saturday, April 2

Northeast Kentucky Regional Science Fair, Laughlin Health Building, 8 a.m.

Reebok Greatest Hits Workshop, AAC, 9 a.m.

Department of Communications Art Auction, Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, 5-7 p.m.-viewing; auction-7 p.m.

Wednesday, April 6

Softball: MSU vs. Marshall, Softball Field, 2 p.m.

Senior Recital: Anissa Gideon, soprano, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Thursday, April 7

Art Exhibit: "Sophomore Show" gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, 8 a.m.-4 p.m., weekdays, through April 22.

Opening reception, April 7, 7 p.m.

Faculty Recital: L. Curtis Hammond, horn, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Theatre: "On the Verge," Button Auditorium, 8 p.m.; also April 8, 8:30 p.m., and April 9, 8 p.m.

Friday, April 8

Founders Day (see story for details)

Softball: MSU vs. University of Tennessee-Martin, Softball Field, 2 p.m.

Kentucky Mathematics Association of America, Rader Hall; also April 9.

Art exhibit

MSU students will display their works in the "Sophomore Exhibition," April 7-22, in the gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building.

The artists will be honored at an opening reception on Thursday, April 7, from 7 to 9 p.m. It is free and open to the public.

Each student will exhibit six pieces. Some of the works will be for sale.

Self-defense

A self-defense seminar will be held on Wednesday, April 6, beginning at 7 p.m. in Butler Hall. Judy Carpenter, who holds a third degree black belt, tang soo do, will be the instructor. There is no charge.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Former dean gets award for service

A distinguished musician, educator and administrator will be the 1994 recipient of the MSU Founders Day Award for University Service.

Dr. J.E. Duncan, dean emeritus, will be honored during the annual Founders Day Convocation and Awards Ceremony on Friday, April 8, at 10:30 a.m. in Button Auditorium. Presenting the award will be Dr. Bruce Mattingly, faculty representative to MSU's Board of Regents.

Established in 1978 by the Board of Regents, the award is presented annually at the convocation to recognize an individual with a record of outstanding service to the University over a sustained period.

"With this award, Dr. Duncan joins a list of individuals whose contributions over the years have added much to the reputation of our University as a quality institution," said MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin. "We are pleased to recognize his efforts and continued service."

The featured speaker for the convocation will be Roger Clinton, brother of President Bill Clinton. He will share memories of growing up with his big brother and his thoughts on life in the sudden glare of the media spotlight. The first brother also will talk about the strength of the Clinton family and the need to accentuate the positive on both a personal and national level.

Dr. Duncan, a cellist by training, came to MSU in 1956 to head the Department of Music. He developed what came to be recognized as one of the top music programs in Kentucky and the Southeast. Four years later, the Alabama native's administrative skills led him to the chairmanship of the Division of Fine Arts and six years later he was appointed dean of MSU's School of Humanities. After 15 years in that position, he stepped down, but continued to teach on a limited basis until retiring in 1983. He remains active in the campus community.

The Founders Day honoree's achievements at MSU included service as national president of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia fraternity; selection as the 1966 Distinguished Faculty Award recipient, and membership on the editorial board of the University Press of Kentucky.

Active in his community, Dr. Duncan is a founder of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Morehead, a former president of the Morehead Optimist Club and a lay speaker in the United Methodist Church.

Several other activities are planned that day as MSU marks 107 years of higher education in Rowan County and its 72nd year as a public institution. The day begins with a special breakfast for all retired faculty and staff members where MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin will recognize those who retired during the past 12 months.

At noon following the convocation, 11 new MSU Fellows will be recognized along with other major donors who have supported the University. Guest speaker for the luncheon will be MSU President Emeritus Adron Doran, who led the University from 1954 to 1977.

MSU also will honor four special friends of the University for their support. Recognition will be given to: Mrs. Lucille Caudill Little, Most Valuable Giver; W. Stu Taylor, Volunteer Fund Raiser of the Year, and Dr. C. Lee Tyner, coordinator of MSU's veterinary technology program, and Harlen Hamm, professor of speech, Outstanding Faculty/Staff Fund Raisers.

Following the luncheon at 2:30 p.m., a brief ceremony will be held in the west lobby of the

(continued on back)

'Open house'

MSU will host an "Open House" for prospective students and their parents on Saturday, April 16, on the campus.

"This is a special time for students to visit the campus, learn about college life and explore specific programs of study," said Michelle Richmond, admissions counselor and coordinator of the activity.

The program is available to all students-high school and community college—who are interested in continuing their education, Richmond noted.

The activity begins with registration at noon in the lobby of Button. Displays of the University's programs will be available for viewing in the Button Drill Room.

Information sessions for parents, "How to Pay for College" and "Overview of Academic Opportunities," will run concurrently from 12:15 p.m. in Fields Hall seminar Room 2.

University representatives will welcome the group at 1:30 p.m. Campus tours begin at 2:30 p.m., concluding the program.

Those visiting the campus will be invited to be guests of the University when the MSU Eagles baseball team take on Austin Peay State University in a doubleheader that begins at 1 p.m. at Allen Field.

AAUP meeting

There will be an open meeting of the MSU chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) on Tuesday, April 12, at 3 p.m. in East Room B, ADUC.

The meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the proposed career ladder for nontenure track faculty presently under consideration by the Faculty Senate. AAUP principles, ratio of nontenure track to tenure track faculty, method of hiring nontenure track faculty and workload will be among the issues discussed.

People in the News

Dr. Robert Boram, assistant professor of science, presented two papers, "Science Methods—The Cornerstone for Preservice Elementary Teachers" and "Writing to Learn Science," and co-presented a workshop, "Telescope Construction Workshop," at the National Science Teachers Association 1993 Area Convention held in Louisville, Nov. 11-13.

Dr. Charles Holt, professor of history, is serving as the University's liaison to the James Madison Memorial Fellowship Foundation.

Dr. Paul Taylor, assistant professor of piano, performed works by Chopin, Crumb and Beethoven at the Singletary Center in Lexington, Murray State University and Marshall University during March. He also judged the Lexington Federated Music Club's piano competition Feb. 26. He debuted a new piano competition by Larry Barnes at the "Piano Mania" festival in Lexington, March 5.

Mary Jo Netherton, associate professor of French, and Dr. John R. Secor, associate professor of romance languages, have had a paper, entitled "Experiential Strategies in the Teaching of French Literature, or Coffee, Tea, and Me," accepted for the Cincinnati Conference on Romance Languages and Literatures, May 12-14.

Dr. Ron Spangler, assistant professor of industrial education, presented a paper entitled "Effects of Computer-Based Animated and Static Graphics on Learning to Visualize Three-Dimensional Objects" at the National Conference of the Association for Educational Communications and Technology in Nashville, Tenn., in February.

Jane C. Ellington and Carolyn Taylor, associate professors of human sciences, attended the Kentucky Women Advocates 1994 Legislative Day in Frankfort, Feb. 22. Topics covered were

AIM presents musical show

Arts in Morehead (AIM) will present the off-Broadway hit musical "Cotton Patch Gospel" on Monday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. in MSU's Button Auditorium.

General admission tickets will be available at the door on the evening of the performance at $8 for adults and $4 for non-MSU students and children. MSU students with a valid I.D. cards will be admitted free.

A five-person musical with a score by the late Harry Chapin, "Cotton Patch Gospel" was adapted from "New Testament 'Cotton Patch' Paraphrases," a work by Dr. Clarence Jordan.

"Cotton Patch Gospel" was originally conceived by actor Tom Key as a one-man play based on the idea of a contemporary Matthew telling the story of Jesus as though he were born in Gainesville, Ga.

After a National Concert-Artist Series tour of the play, Key teamed up with the award-winning director Russell Treyz, Broadway producer Philip Getter and Chapin to produce the musical.

Following Chapin's death, his brother Tom guided the production musically to its October, 1991, premiere at the Lambs Theatre. The musical earned a Drama-Logue Award for Outstanding Achievement in Theatre and inspired the NBC special, "Harry Chapin's Cotton Patch."

Breaking attendance records at theatres in Dallas and Atlanta, the production has earned acclaim from such celebrities as Greer Garson, Larry Gatlin and former President Jimmy Carter. Plans are under way for its London premiere at Westminster Theatre.

Information on the performance or on group rate tickets is available by calling 3-2602.

child abuse, child support, gender fairness, legislative ethics, lobbying, the state budget and victims of sexual abuse.

Dr. William Green, professor of government, and Dr. Ernest J. Yanarella from the University of Kentucky authored an article on "Canadian Recruitment of East Asian Automobile Transplants: Cultural, Economic, and Political Perspectives" which appeared in the "Canadian Journal of Sociology," (Fall 1993), 18:359-81.

Dr. Judith Stafford, associate professor of social work, was a presenter at the 1994 GROW Conference in Louisville, Feb. 25. The title of the session was "Youth Service Centers in Kentucky Schools: Roles for Removing Barriers."

Dr. Mark G. Minor, Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy chair, attended the annual meeting of the Midwest Society of Biblical Literature of Northwestern University/Garrett Seminary where he presented a paper entitled "My Place or Yours? Reflections of a Literary Critic Newly Come to Biblical Criticism." He and several others were co-editors for the 1992 "Romantic Movement: A Selective and Critical Bibliography" which was published in December. He also recently signed a contract with Locust Hill Press to produce a follow-up volume of "Literary-Critical Approaches to the Bible" which was published in 1992.

Dr. Daniel Fasko, associate professor of education, presented a paper entitled "When We Ask Questions, Are the Students Attentive?" at the International Listening Association meeting in Boston, Mass., in March.

Dr. Fran Helphinstine, professor of English, presented a paper entitled "Schennkan's 'The Kentucky Cycle' No Match for O'Neill's Use of Myth" at the Kentucky Philological Association in Frankfort, March 4.

Entertainment

Described as outrageous and unforgettable, Jane Powell will make a return visit to MSU on Thursday, April 14, for a 7:30 p.m. concert in the University's Academic-Athletic Center.

The show, sponsored by the Student Government Association, is free and open to the public.

A Roanoke, Va., native, Powell has a five-octave range and her voice has been classified with such greats as Mahalia Jackson and Ella Fitzgerald.

The vocalist of Jane Powell and Co. received the Campus Entertainment Award in the Jazz Music Category this year. She also was nominated in the Contemporary Music and Performing Arts: Music categories.

An all-around entertainer, Powell puts a "little bit jazz, a little bit rhythm and blues, a little bit soul" in her music. She is known for her rapport with the audience where she is "totally unself-conscious, witty, sexy and playful."

Founders Day...

(continued from front)

Lloyd Cassity Building to unveil a plaque in memorial of the late Dr. Robert E. Newton, former chair of MSU's Department of Industrial Education and Technology. Dr. Newton, who developed MSU's pioneering program in robotics, joined the faculty in 1963 and served as chair from 1976 until his death in April 1992.

Capping the day will be the Alumni Awards Dinner at 6:30 p.m., highlighted by the induction of three new members into the Alumni Hall of Fame. Following dinner, there will be an MSU theatre production in Button Auditorium. Curtain for the comedy, "On the Verge," will be 8:30 p.m.

In addition, other opportunities for students to take part in the celebration have been arranged by the MSU Student Alumni Ambassadors. Activities include a signing party on Thursday, April 7, for a giant birthday card to be displayed at ADUC. Signees will receive a piece of birthday cake. Also the ambassadors will distribute blue and gold ribbons Thursday and prior to the convocation on Friday.

The Crager Room, ADUC, will be the site for all meal events.

Procedures

Current employees will be permitted to make changes in their optional insurance deductions only during the open enrollment period (November of any calendar year) for all implementation in January of the following calendar year unless a qualifying event occurs. All changes or new elections must be approved through the Office of Human Resources. No changes or elections of new coverage will be made retroactively. All changes and/or new elections must have the employee's signature. Example of qualifying events within the Internal Revenue Service guidelines are: (1) marriage; (2) divorce; (3) birth or adoption of a child; (4) death; (5) change in family status; and (6) officially approved leave without pay status.

For annuities, current employees will be permitted to make one change per calendar year per annuity company.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Bookkeeper I, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by April 13.

EXTERNAL

Admissions Counselor, Office of Admissions; annual salary: $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by April 8.

Archives Specialist, Camden-Carroll Library; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by April 8.

Chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

Secretary, Dean's Office, College of Business; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

Assistant Professor of Education, Big Sandy Extended Campus Center; to ensure consideration, apply by May 10.

Assistant Professor of Accounting, Department of Accounting and Economics; to ensure consideration, apply by May 18.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

AETNA rep.

Jeff Rankin, registered representative with the Aetna Life Insurance Company, will be in ADUC, East Room A, on Thursday, April 14, from noon until 2 p.m.

Aetna clients and those interested in learning about the Aetna products are invited to stop by. Aetna is one of the Annuity Companies that is approved for MSU payroll deductions.

MSU visitors

Approximately 1,000 students are expected to participate in MSU's Regional Foreign Language Festival on Friday, April 15.

The students will represent 10 senior and junior high schools throughout Eastern Kentucky, according to Mary Jo Netherton, associate professor of French and festival coordinator.

Reminder

An International Banquet will be held on Sunday, April 17, at 6:30 p.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC. The cost is $5 per person or a covered dish. Entertainment will be provided.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, April 7

Art Exhibit: "Sophomore Show" gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, 8 a.m.-4 p.m., weekdays, through April 22. Opening reception, April 7, 7 p.m.

Faculty Recital: L. Curtis Hammond, horn, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Theatre: "On the Verge," Button Auditorium, 8 p.m.; also April 8, 8:30 p.m., and April 9, 8 p.m.

Friday, April 8

Founders Day, activities all day.

Softball: MSU vs. University of Tennessee-Martin, Softball Field, 2 p.m.

Saturday, April 9

Baseball: MSU vs. UT-Martin, Allen Field, 1 p.m.; also April 10, 1 p.m.

Softball: MSU vs. Southeast Missouri, Softball Field, 2 p.m.

Sunday, April 10

Softball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, Softball Field, 2 p.m.

Senior Recital: Shelley Charles, piano, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Sophomore Recital: Christina Opell/Kathy Hunt, Duncan Recital Hall, 5 p.m.

Monday, April 11

Junior Recital: Cabel Payne, saxophone, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, April 12

Softball: MSU vs. Eastern Kentucky University, Softball Field, 2 p.m.

Wednesday, April 13

CKBC Blood Drive, Button, 10 a.m.

Softball: MSU vs. Tennessee Tech, Softball Field, 2 p.m.

Baseball: MSU vs. UK, Allen Field, 3 p.m.

Junior Recital: Jason Nicholson, trombone, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Art exhibit

The paintings of Letcher Countian David Lucas will be exhibited in the Kentucky Folk Art Center on the MSU campus, April 11-May 27.

The center, located at 119 West University Blvd., is open 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., weekdays. There is no charge for viewing.

Blood drive

The Central Kentucky Blood Center will hold a spring blood drive on the MSU campus on Wednesday, April 13.

The drive, which will be held in the Button Drill Room, will run from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. All donors will receive a free T-shirt.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Accreditation is continued

MSU's College of Education and Behavioral Sciences has received continuing accreditation from the National Council for Accreditation for Teacher Education (NCATE) through 1998.

NCATE's action also means automatic continuing accreditation from the Kentucky Department of Education for the same period.

"MSU has long been known for the quality of its teacher education programs," said MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin. "Historically, it has been a major part of our mission to this region and we are committed to continuing to provide quality education professionals."

The president commended the faculty and staff for their continued dedication which resulted in this achievement.

According to Dr. Sylvester Kohut Jr., dean of the college, all of the University's undergraduate and graduate teacher education programs are in compliance with all accreditation standards.

In his letter of notification, Dr. Arthur Wise, NCATE president, indicated that MSU has had a pioneering role in the teacher education field. The University was one of the first institutions nationwide in 1988 to be fully accredited under new standards for teacher education program accreditation and now is one of the first under NCATE's new continuing accreditation guidelines.

"NCATE conducted an extensive review of our programs, including a rigorous examination of portfolios for specific certification programs," said Dr. Kohut.

"Our self-study process involved faculty, staff, students and alumni as well as teaching professionals in our region," said the dean. Dr. Kohut also praised the efforts of Dr. Tim Miller, associate professor of education, who coordinated the self-study process.

"During its campus visit this past October, the NCATE Board of Examiners concluded that we were to be commended for our leadership role and for helping to implement education reform throughout our service region under the Kentucky Education Reform Act of 1990," Dr. Kohut said.

"Out of the 26 schools offering teacher education programs in Kentucky, only 10 are NCATE accredited," the dean added.

While almost 1,300 colleges and universities throughout the nation offer programs to prepare teachers and other professional education personnel, less than half of them are accredited by NCATE, according to the dean.

"In fact, the recently revised NCATE standards are so demanding that only about 70 percent of the institutions reviewed were accredited upon initial review," Dr. Kohut added.

NCATE's next visit to MSU will be in 1998, but during the interim the University will be submitting an annual report to the council on its teacher education programs.

Internet works

Internet, a network that links thousands of smaller networks together, allows a user to connect to other computers across the nation and around the world. Through the Internet, users can perform research, send/receive electronic mail, participate in discussion groups, transfer files, converse "on-line" with other users, and participate in simulations.

Through the Technology Training program, Internet workshops-providing hands-on experience-have been scheduled during the spring semester. It is anticipated that 100 faculty and staff will have taken advantage of these workshops. For information on scheduled dates and times or to register for a workshop, call the Technology Support Center at 3-5000.

CCL survey

This year Camden-Carroll Library will celebrate National Library Week by conducting a survey as part of a nation-wide effort to measure user satisfaction with library services.

The purpose of the survey is to obtain a "national snapshot of library customer satisfaction and to generate feedback from those we value most-our customers," according to the American Library Association, sponsor of the project.

CCL will participate in the survey because "it will let us know how we are doing, if we are doing things right," said Carol Nutter, CCL reference department head. She noted that the library is committed to ongoing assessment.

Library staff will conduct a survey Saturday, April 16, from 1-3 p.m.; Sunday, April 17, from 9-11 p.m.; and Monday and Tuesday, April 18-19, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Persons leaving the library will be asked to respond to several questions regarding library materials and services.

"There are 12 questions with check boxes on the survey form, and room for comments on the back. We don't anticipate that it will take anyone more than five minutes to fill out the form. We hope all library users will take this opportunity to tell us what they think about our library," Nutter said.

Deadline nears

Reservations for MSU's gala, "A New York Fantasy" which will be held on Saturday, April 30, will be accepted through April 15.

Designed as a fund raiser for MSU's music and theatre programs, the gala will showcase the talents of students, faculty and alumni of those programs.

Fantasy tour goes on the blue package will check in at Grand Central Station (Academic-Athletic Center) between 6 and 7 p.m. to catch the subway for Times Square. Those on the deluxe gold package have 6 p.m. reservations at Tavern on the Green (President's Home) for a champagne buffet dinner.

The cost of the blue package tour is $50 per person, while the patron level gold package is $125 per person.

All New York Fantasy travelers will be treated to the smash hit musical, "Broadway Rhythms," at The Palace Theatre (Button Auditorium) with curtain time at 7:30 p.m. Then it's on to the Manhattan (Adron Doran University Center) where nostalgic rock, country and western, classical music and even sounds of the big bands may be enjoyed in one of numerous stops.

Offspring visit

MSU will participate in the "National Bring Your Child to Work Day" on Thursday, April 28.

The campus activity is being co-sponsored by the Rowan County Board of Education, St. Claire Medical Center, Rotary International and MSU.

Employees with children in grades 6, 7 and 8 are encouraged to bring their child to work. President Ronald G. Eaglin and Dr. Judy Rogers will welcome the group at 8:30 a.m. in Seminar Room 2, Fields Hall. Activities will conclude at approximately 1:30 p.m. Rowan County Middle School students will be excused from classes during this event. Parents are responsible for transportation. Additional information is available from the Office of Human Resources at 3-2097.

People in the News

Dr. Kent Freeland, professor of education, conducted a professional development session on curriculum for Boyd County teachers at Ponderosa Elementary School, Feb. 19.

Dr. Ray Bernardi, professor of business

Preregister for classes

Advance registration for MSU's two summer sessions and the fall 1994 semester will be conducted Monday through Thursday, April 18-21, on the main campus, at MSU's extended campus centers and at Lees and Pikeville Colleges.

Students currently enrolled and those interested in attending MSU this summer or fall may register during this period, according to Gene Ranvier, MSU registrar.

Course schedules containing trial schedule blanks are now available from academic departments and the off-campus advance registration sites.

Main campus students will advance register in their major department, beginning with graduate students, seniors and juniors on Monday, April 18. From Tuesday through Thursday, the final day, the process will be open to all other students as well. Students without a declared major will register in the Office of General Studies, 233 Allie Young Hall.

Advance registration at the Ashland Area, Big Sandy and Licking Valley extended campus centers, Lees College and the Appalachian Graduate Consortium at Pikeville College will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Off-campus students who have never enrolled at MSU before should contact their nearest extended campus center or off-campus registration site.

New students planning to study on the main campus should initiate the admissions process in 301 Howell-McDowell Administration Building for undergraduate admission or in 701 Ginger Hall for graduate admission.

MSU's summer dates are June 13 to July 8 for Summer I and July 11 to Aug. 5 for Summer II. Fall 1994 classes begin Aug. 22.

Staff member

Mary Frances Lance Wolfe, 59, a former staff member at MSU, died April 6 at St. Claire Medical Center.

She was a former office manager of the federal credit union at MSU.

Before coming to the University, she was an administrator of medical records at Cave Run Comprehensive Care Center in Morehead, and a former employee of Memorial Mission Hospital in Asheville, N.C., and Miners Memorial Hospital in Pikeville.

A graduate of MSU, she is survived by her husband, Robert H. Wolfe, MSU associate professor of agriculture; two daughters: Robin Wolfe of Lawrenceburg and Ramona Gardner of Morehead; stepmother Edna Wilkerson Lance; brother Roger Lance, and a grandchild.

No service

Due to a floor tile removal project, the University Bookstore will be closed on Friday, April 22, and Monday, April 25. Employees will be available to answer telephone inquiries during this time. However, due to health and safety concerns, customers can not be permitted in the store.

education, presented a paper entitled "A Comparison of Vocational Education in Germany and the USA" at the 1994 Atlantic Coast Business and Marketing Education Conference in Raleigh, N.C.

Be a tutor

A tutor-training workshop for volunteers who would like to learn how to teach an adult to read or improve their reading skills will be held April 22-23 in the Rowan County Public Library Community Room.

The workshop is sponsored by the MSU Rowan County Volunteer Literacy Project and MSU Adult Learning Center.

The 12-hour training will be held from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday and from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday. It will be taught by Betty Thompson, a retired teacher and volunteer at the MSU Adult Learning Center.

The Center offers private tutoring to adults through volunteers. Tutors and students meet 2-3 hours a week at convenient times and places. The workshop will cover the use of Laubach and Literacy Volunteers of America materials. Books, training materials, and food are provided free to participants, and certificates will be given to those completing the 12 hours.

The Community Room is at the back of the Rowan County Public Library at 129 Trumbo. For more information and reservations, please call the center at 783-2871 by Tuesday, April 19.

Travel safety

It is a fact of modern life that travelers can become crime victims especially in our larger cities. American Express offers these tips on how to avoid the more dangerous situations.

Airport: Don't rush or appear frantic or lost. Walk confidently and watch your possessions especially when going through security.

Hotel: Ask the desk attendant not to announce your room number. Locate all fire exits. Don't open your door unless you are certain it is someone you know or a bona-fide hotel employee. Use all the interior locks available.

Car: Request a rental car not marked with special license plates or stickers. Get a cellular phone if possible. Map out your route in advance. If lost ask for directions at a well lit busy service station or food mart. Park in a well lit place and enter the hotel/motel by the front entrance.

Generally be cautious but appear confident. But, remember your possessions can be replaced, you cannot be.

Public reading

Elaine Fowler Palencia, a Morehead native and author of "Small Caucasian Woman," will read from her collection of short stories Monday, April 18, at 8 p.m., in Reed Hall Auditorium at MSU.

Sponsored by the Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy, the event is free and open to the public. A reception and book signing will be held afterward in the Patti Bolin Room, Lloyd Cassity Building.

Colloquium

Dr. Ric Northrup, MSU professor of government, will present a colloquium on "Blustering Brags, Dueling Inventors, and Corn Square Geniuses: The Process of Recognition Among Philadelphia Artisans, 1787-1825" on Wednesday, April 20, in 104 Rader Hall. All interested faculty are encouraged to attend.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

Secretary, Dean's Office, College of Business; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by April 15.

Custodian (9-month Position), Big Sandy Extended Campus Center; hourly rate: $4.78; to ensure consideration, apply by April 20.

Postal Clerk, University Post Office; hourly rate: $5.67; to ensure consideration, apply by April 21.

Head Women's Volleyball Coach/Facilities Coordinator, Office of Athletics; position is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by April 26.

Assistant Professor of Education, Big Sandy Extended Campus Center; to ensure consideration, apply by May 10.

Assistant Professor of Accounting, Department of Accounting and Economics; to ensure consideration, apply by May 18.

Radiologic Technology Program Faculty, Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by May 18.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Healthy plan

Have you been a couch potato all winter and now find that your summer clothes are just a bit too snug?

Hope may be on the way with a new "Lose Weight Not Your Health" series now being coordinated through the Student Wellness Office.

The two-week program, which starts Tuesday, April 19, will be held in 202 Laughlin Health Building beginning at 6 p.m. It is free and open to all faculty, staff and students. Enrollment is limited to 30 participants.

After completion of the program, an optional support group will be available, according to Judy Krug, coordinator of student wellness. "This series will help one develop a personal weight loss program and offer tips on how to avoid pitfalls along the way," Krug said.

The program is sponsored by the Counseling Center, Health Clinic, HOPE, the Wellness Committee for faculty and staff and the Student Wellness Office.

Additional information and registration is available by calling 783-5248.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, April 14

Softball: MSU vs. Eastern Kentucky University, Softball Field, 2 p.m.
Concert: Jane Powell, AAC, 7:30 p.m.
Concert: MSU Jazz Ensemble I, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Friday, April 15

MSU Regional Foreign Language Festival, campus, 8 a.m.

Saturday, April 16

Admissions Open House, Button, noon.
Baseball: MSU vs. Austin Peay State University, Allen Field, 1 p.m.; also April 17.
Softball: MSU vs. APSU, Softball Field, 2 p.m.
NAHS Continuing Education: "Safety and First Aid," 229 Reed Hall, 5:30 p.m.

Sunday, April 17

Softball: MSU vs. Middle Tennessee, Softball Field, 12:30 p.m.
Concert: MSU Fusion Ensemble, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, April 18

Preregistration for Summer I, II, and Fall 1994 semesters, 8 a.m.
Volunteer Fair, Perkins Center, noon-8 p.m.
Senior Recital: Chris Whelan, DRH, 8 p.m.
Public reading: Elaine Fowler Palencia, 419 Reed Hall, 8 p.m.; reception and book signing to follow.
Arts in Morehead: "Cotton Patch Gospel," Button Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, April 19

Concert: MSU Trumpet Ensemble, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, April 20

Baseball: MSU vs. Marshall University, Allen Field, 3 p.m.
Junior Recital: Norman Epley/Jackie Jamason, tuba/euphonium, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Thursday, April 21

Concert: MSU Chamber Singers/Concert Choir, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Demonstration

The Office of Information Technology will sponsor a demonstration of high-resolution, color printers on Friday, April 22, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in 110Z Ginger Hall. Both the Hewlett-Packard 1200 and the Tektronix Phaser 220i will be featured. These printers are capable of printing in color at 600 dpi using inkjet technology. Faculty and staff are encouraged to drop by and evaluate these printers.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

CCED offers assistance

MSU's newly-established Center for Community and Economic Development (CCED) is designed to assist Eastern Kentuckians in their efforts to improve the quality of life in their communities.

"By systematically organizing our resources to serve the region, we believe it is possible to boost community and economic development in Eastern Kentucky and improve the quality of life," said Michael Harford, Department of Management and Marketing chair, who serves as co-director of the center.

Serving with Harford as the other co-director is Dr. Ronald L. Mitchelson, Department of Geography, Government and History chair.

The CCED offers five types of assistance to the region: information, facilitation, analysis, training and leadership development.

The CCED attempts to link MSU and its resources to community organizations as well as business and professional associations by providing services that will enhance economic opportunity and community development, Harford said.

Also, through its involvement with these groups, the University will gain valuable information to assist it in updating and strengthening its curriculum across the four colleges.

Only in its first year of operation, the center has 30 MSU faculty and 10 staff members working on various projects. There are also 65 university students involved in special leadership development program, which is designed to teach the concepts and skills of leadership.

Project analysis assistance from the center has spurred the development of five Eastern Kentucky businesses. Market and feasibility studies also can be conducted by the CCED.

As a result of its initiatives, the center has received preliminary funding commitments for 1994 and 1995 from the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) and the Kentucky Heritage Council (KHC), according to Hartford.

Recently, Gov. Brereton Jones came to the campus to announce that he was recommending an ARC grant of $142,000 for the center to initiate an Appalachian Cultural Resource Development project.

The grant will allow the CCED to assist in developing historic sites in 33 Eastern Kentucky counties that would help increase tourism and economic development.

Plan to attend

Issues and answers pertinent to the growth and development of Eastern Kentucky will be explored during the Seventh Annual East Kentucky Leadership Conference April 29-30 at Pikeville College.

MSU faculty and staff are encouraged to attend this two-day conference designed to bring the region's leadership together to discuss issues and develop goals, according to Shirley Hamilton, a member of the East Kentucky Leadership Foundation Board of Directors.

Registration will be held noon-6 p.m. on Friday, April 29, but participants are urged to take part in Early Bird Sessions set for 2 to 4 p.m.

Dr. Grady Stumbo, chairman of the East Kentucky Leadership Foundation Board of Directors, welcoming those attending the conference at a dinner that begins at 5 p.m. Later in the evening, WYMT-TV will present a live broadcast entitled "Issues and Answers," also in Chrisman Auditorium.

Additional information is available by calling the Pikeville-Pike County Tourism Commission at 1-800-844-7453.

Agreement established

Last fall, the University and the MSU Foundation, Inc. entered into an operating agreement that formally defines the administrative and fiduciary relationships between the two entities. The area of the agreement with the most wide ranging effect on the University community is the receipt, custody, and acknowledgement of private gifts.

MSU's Board of Regents has designated the Foundation as the official organization to solicit, receive, and administer all private gifts contributed to the University. The policy includes not only monetary support, but also gifts-in-kind such as livestock, equipment, or works of art. The Foundation will ensure that the donor receives a proper acknowledgement of the gift and that all documentation for the Internal Revenue Service is submitted on a timely basis.

Any University faculty or staff member who may have the opportunity to be involved in the solicitation of private gifts should become familiar with the terms of the Operating Agreement between the University and the Foundation. Copies of the Agreement may be obtained from the appropriate Dean or Vice President. Questions about the procedures for the receipt of gifts may be addressed to the Foundation at 3-2031.

Changes made

On Monday, April 25, the Information Technology Support Center will be implementing a new Automated Call Directing (ACD) feature to the 35000 number. This new feature will allow callers to automatically direct their call by selecting options from a voice menu if a Support Center operator is not available. Calls will be routed directly to an appropriate technician, programmer or consultant. These changes are being implemented to assist with the increased number of Support Center calls and to get the user in direct immediate contact with a technical staff member. The hours of live support available through the 35000 number are 8 a.m.-7:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Callers may leave voice messages outside of this time period.

AIMS users

Informational forums have been scheduled for all AIMS administrative computer users on Tuesday, April 26, at 9:10 a.m. and 1:50 p.m. in 419 Reed Hall. Several changes to the AIMS software will be demonstrated including a new program to edit spool files, on-line manuals and handbooks, KERMIT update, notifications and vacation status maintenance. All AIMS users are encouraged to attend one of the one-hour sessions.

People in the News

Dr. Janice Daniel, instructor of English, presented a paper entitled "Making Her Own Patterns: Enclosure Imagery in the Fiction of Mary Wilkins Freeman," at the 18th annual conference of the Philological Association of the Carolinas in Charleston, S.C., March 11.

Debra Salyer, coordinator of academic/students services at the Ashland Area Extended Campus Center, spoke to women in the Ashland area about women's roles and how they have changed over the years. The speech, entitled "In Every Generation, Action Frees Our Dreams," was written and distributed by the National Women's History Project and Salyer presented it in March, National Women's History Month.

WMKY hosts fund drive

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from MSU's campus, will launch its 1994 Spring Fund Drive later this month with an added incentive for residents of the region to phone-in their pledge.

The Fund Drive will run Saturday, April 23, through Friday, April 29, according to Ron Mace, WMKY promotion and development director.

"The majority of the support for our past on-air fund raising efforts has been from local contributors, in Morehead and Rowan County," Mace said.

"In order to make it easier for our listeners out in the region to support our unique programming service, we have teamed up with MCI to provide a toll-free number. And we are now accepting pledges by Visa and Master Card," he added.

To avoid long distance phone charges when pledging, listeners outside of Rowan County should dial 1-800-232-6781. Local contributors will use WMKY's regular number 783-2001.

WMKY offers significant programming in the areas of news and information as well as public affairs and entertainment.

"We are an affiliate of National Public Radio, American Public Radio, the Kentucky Network and several independent programming sources," Mace said.

"We believe our listeners will want to support such quality programs as 'Morning Edition,' 'All Things Considered,' our evening classical shows and other entertainment programs," Mace added.

Additional information is available by calling Mace at 3-2001, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Campus visit

Dr. Bert G. Hornback, an internationally-known expert on Victorian literature, will visit MSU's campus on Thursday, April 28.

In addition to meeting with students in undergraduate and graduate English programs, Dr. Hornback will present two sessions which will be open to the public.

At 3 p.m. in Room 412, Combs Building, he will discuss his essay "Hardy's Feminism," which explores the women characters in Thomas Hardy's works and the author's feminist impulses. Copies of the essay are available in Room 103, Combs.

At 8 p.m., Dr. Hornback will speak in Room 111, Claypool-Young Art Building, on the topic "Justified U." In this presentation, he will discuss the relationship between teaching and research.

Now a professor of humanities at Bellarmine College, the Bowling Green native previously was on the faculty of the University of Michigan where he received the title of professor emeritus of English.

MSU was highlighted in the "True Basic Bulletin," Issue 14, Winter/Spring 1994 in an article about Dr. Benjamin Malphrus, assistant professor of science, and the radio telescope, with photographs by Eric Shindelbower, chief photographer. The international publication is sent to computer programmers/scientists and those dealing with computer language.

Thomas L. Yancy, assistant professor of electronic media, attended the 39th annual convention of the Broadcast Education Association in Las Vegas, March 18-21, where he was elected chair of the Courses and Curricula Division of the association.

Update

Ten reasons

There are many reasons for walking; here are only the Top 10:

10. Walking increases feeling of well being.
9. Physicians recommend walking more than any other activity.
8. Walking is one of the safest activities available.
7. A walking program has positive effect's on one's health. It can lower body weight, blood pressure, total cholesterol, LDL and body fat and it can increase HDL cholesterol and bone mineral content.
6. Walking is great for people with chronic diseases (diabetes, high blood pressure, obesity, arthritis, cancer) as well as special conditions like pregnancy.
5. Walking is a low impact activity that can be done anytime, anyplace and in almost any weather conditions.
4. Walking requires no special equipment. All you need is a good pair of walking shoes.
3. Walking improves fitness as much as running or aerobics.
2. Walking is an excellent fat burning activity. A walker striding at 12 minutes per mile will burn the same amount of calories as runner pounding along at 9 minutes per mile.
1. Almost anyone can walk!

Micro update

The first year of the five-year plan to replace all microcomputers on campus has been completed. A total of 200 microcomputers were replaced with new Hewlett-Packard 486 machines and 91 new machines were installed in student labs, classrooms, and faculty/staff offices. In addition to the new installations, there were 77 existing machines transferred within departments for a total of 368 installations completed by the Office of Information Technology. Each installation took an average of four hours to complete including the inventory, installation of memory and 5.25" drive, equipment setup, backup and installation of software and data, and proper removal of old equipment and software. The surplus 8088 and 286 technology machines were offered at a public sale on March 3-4 and 110 items were sold. The remaining items were sold at the surplus auction on April 2.

Use caution

Faculty and staff are reminded to exercise caution when using floppy disks in their personal computers. Several microcomputer viruses, including the "FORM" virus, have been detected on campus. While microcomputer viruses are rarely destructive, anti-virus procedures should be followed by all microcomputer users:

- Use a reliable viral scan package on a periodic basis such as F-Prot, Microsoft Anti-Virus, or Norton Anti-Virus.
- Run a memory-resident virus detection program such as Virstop.
- Limit use of the computer to business activities; use floppy disks only where necessary.
- Thoroughly check all software downloaded from Bulletin Boards and from the INTERNET.
- Anyone suspecting they have a virus on their disk(s) may contact the Office of Information Technology at 3-5000 for immediate assistance.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Postal Clerk, University Post Office; hourly rate: $5.67; to ensure consideration, apply by April 21.

Head Women's Volleyball Coach/Facilities Coordinator, Office of Athletics; position is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by April 26.

Radiologic Technology Program Faculty, Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by May 18.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Faculty forum

The MSU chapter of the AAUP and the Faculty Senate will sponsor a "Faculty Forum" on Wednesday, April 27, 3-4:30 p.m. in 111 Claypool-Young Art Building.

William Seaton, chair of the MSU Board of Regents, President Eaglin and Dr. John Philley will be present to listen to and address issues and concerns of both faculty and professional librarians. The format will be an open agenda.

Reactions to the proposed career ladder for nontenure track faculty, implementation of the performance based salary increase plan, considerations regarding reorganizing of academic units and potential cost containment measures are a few of the topics expected to be raised.

Need a phone?

Information Technology has a limited number of cellular phones for MSU faculty and staff to borrow for University-related purposes. These phones may be used if a faculty or staff member travels off-campus and needs to remain in contact with the University. These are for short term loans with a limit of five working days.

There is no charge to borrow the phone. However, all usage related charges will be billed to the user's Telephone 50444 account. The user is responsible for all calls made to or from the phone during the time it is signed out.

The phone can be signed out at the Information Technology Support Center in 110 Ginger Hall. Please call 3-5000 to check on availability.

Children's day

Parents who wish to participate in the "Bring Your Child to Work Day" activities on Thursday, April 28, are reminded to complete the necessary paperwork by Monday, April 25.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, April 21

Concert: MSU Chamber Singers/MSU Concert Choir, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Friday, April 22

NAHS Continuing Education Program: "CPR Level 'C'," 229 Reed Hall, 8:30 a.m.

Sunday, April 24

1994 Scholarship Bridge Tournament, grill, ADUC, noon.

Junior Recital: Lee Anderson, DRH, 3 p.m.

Senior Recital: Wes Flinn, DRH, 8 p.m.

Monday, April 25

College of Business Retirement Reception, 214 Combs Building, 3-4:30 p.m.

Concert: MSU Jazz Ensemble II, DRH, 8 p.m.

SGA concert: "Confederate Railroad," "Highway 101," and John Berry, AAC, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, April 26

Senior Recital: Ian Insko, DRH, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, April 27

Art Exhibit: Senior Show, gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, 8 a.m.-4 p.m.; through May 20; Opening reception, April 27, 7 p.m.

Baseball: MSU vs. Western Kentucky University, Allen Field, 1 p.m.

Junior Recital: Cabell Payne, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, April 29

FFA Field Day, DAC, 9 a.m.

Reminder

Due to a floor tile removal project, the University Bookstore will be closed on Friday, April 22, and Monday, April 25. Employees will be available to answer telephone inquiries. However, due to health and safety concerns, customers cannot be permitted in the store.

No. 1 again!

MSU's varsity cheerleaders are Number 1, again!

The squad won the national title in Division 1 at the National College Cheerleading Championships held in San Diego, Calif., April 7-9.

The MSU team won the national title in their division in 1988, 1991, 1992 and 1993.

You can help!

If you have an abundance of "Campus Only" envelopes, you can assist others by returning them to Printing Operations in Allie Young Hall. Both the large and small sizes are needed.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

WMKY gets 'Best' award

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from MSU's campus, has been recognized by the Kentucky Broadcasters Association with an award for "Best Local Involvement in News."

The award was earned for WMKY's coverage of the open forums held by the Rowan County Board of Education during its search for a new superintendent.

"The board gave us permission for live broadcasts of the forums with each of the candidates," said Tom Lewis, WMKY news and public affairs director.

"Although in a fund drive period at the time, we altered our schedule to produce the live remotes, because we believed the issues addressed were important to everyone with a child in the school system. This approach allowed a much larger audience to hear each candidate's views," he added.

Lewis, who acted as moderator, credited other full-time staff members, as well as the student staff at WMKY, for the award. "We were in a fund drive, using our remote broadcasting facilities everyday until 4:30 p.m., then breaking down the equipment and hitting the air with the forums within one hour.

"It took a great deal of coordination, technical knowledge and physical labor to set up the broadcast on time. This award was received due to a team effort on the part of full-time staff, the students working in WMKY's news department and the willingness of the educational community to allow us the space and time required for a quality broadcast," Lewis said.

WMKY earned the award in competition with both commercial and public broadcasting entities throughout the state. Earlier this year, the WMKY sports department was recognized for its coverage of the Bluegrass State Games.

Report injury

Effective immediately, all work related injuries must be reported within three (3) days of the accident. This change was initiated through House Bill 928 adopted on April 4. State Workers' Compensation reporting guidelines require the employer to complete the appropriate records within the three (3) day reporting deadline.

Employees need to report all work related injuries to their supervisors as soon as possible after the injury. Supervisors need to contact the Office of Occupational Safety and Health at 3-2179 immediately upon notification of a work related injury to assure correct reporting procedures and obtain the necessary medical payment authorization forms. Additional information is available by calling Gary Messer at 3-2179 or Bill Rosenberg at 3-2007.

On-line PARs

Programming will soon be implemented that will allow all Personnel Action Requests (PARs) to be submitted on-line through the AIMS software application. Training sessions have been scheduled for Tuesday, May 3, and Thursday, May 5, at 9 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m., in Reed Hall Auditorium. The on-line process will reduce paperwork and allow originator to check status of the approval process.

Court repair

Several tennis courts at MSU will be closed this summer for repairs.

The upper eight courts will be closed May 1 through July 15 to repair cracks in the playing surface.

Senate elects

Larry Keenan, professor of music, was elected chair-elect of the Faculty Senate at its April 7 meeting to fulfill the remainder of the term for chair-elect Harlen Hamm, professor of speech. Hamm resigned for health reasons.

Keenan will serve as chair of the senate for the 1994-95 academic year, succeeding current Chair Rodney Stanley, associate professor of industrial education.

A former University Senate member, Keenan was a charter member of the Faculty Senate, having served two terms as a senator from the Department of Music and his current term as an at-large senator from the Caudill College of Humanities. He currently is chair of the Professional Policies Committee of the Faculty Senate and a member of the Executive Council.

Reception

The University family is invited to attend a reception on Tuesday, May 3, for faculty members from the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences who are retiring. The reception will be held in the Gold Room, Adron Doran University Center beginning at 3 p.m.

Retiring from CEBS are Dr. Ann L. Demaree, Dr. William F. Moore, Margaret Patton, Dr. Dan Thomas and Dr. Charles Mays.

Colloquium

Dr. Perry LeRoy, professor of history, will present a colloquium on "Mayans Have a History: Glyphs and Archaeological Evidence" on Wednesday, May 4, at 3 p.m. in 104 Rader Hall. All interested faculty are encouraged to attend.

People in the News

Clyde I. James, University Center services manager, has been awarded a 1994 Gerald Howard Read International Seminar Scholarship. The scholarship may be used for travel purposes for Phi Delta Kappa-sponsored seminars held abroad.

Dr. Ronald Mitchelson, Department of Geography, Government and History chair, presented a colloquium on "The Flow of Information in a Global Economy: The Role of the American Urban System in 1990" in Rader Hall, April 13.

Dr. W. Michael Brown, associate professor of HPER, and Dayna Brown, assistant professor of HPER, along with 10 students majoring in exercise science, attended a Cardiac Rehabilitation Conference in Cincinnati, Feb. 16-17.

Dr. Vicente Cano, professor of romance languages, read a paper entitled "La funcion de los diminutivos metaforicos en Las Moradas de Santa Teresa" at the Southeast Conference on Foreign Languages and Literatures held at Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla., Feb. 26-29. He also gave a presentation, illustrated with slides, to the third and fourth grade students at Salt Lick Elementary School on Spanish culture and civilization up to 1492, March 22.

Dr. Sylvester Kohut Jr., College of Education and Behavioral Sciences dean, has been appointed chair of the Teacher Education Admissions Committee of the Kentucky Education Professionals Standards Board. He also has been appointed to chair a screening committee for the selection of the new director of the Kentucky Department of Education Region 7 Serice Center on campus.

Dr. W. Michael Brown, associate professor of HPER; Dayna Brown, assistant professor of HPER; graduate assistants in the department, Missy Durr and Mary Alice Terry, and the HPER

Fund raiser

Two MSU honor organizations are sponsoring a fund raising concert for two-year-old Nicholas Taylor Johnson, who has been diagnosed with leukemia.

Alpha Epsilon Rho national broadcasting society and Sigma Tau Delta English honorary society have joined hands to help Nicholas' parents, who are MSU employees.

The concert is scheduled for Thursday, May 5, on the front lawn of the Laughlin Health Building, and will run from 12:15 p.m. to 10 p.m. In the event of rain, the concert will move into Laughlin Gym.

Six student bands have donated their time, according to Charles Johnson, Jenkins senior and AE Rho coordinator of alumni and professional relations. Their sound is "alternative" and Johnson described it as "unpredictable."

Performing will be Liege, Fighting Chance, Trespasser's William, Magic Cottage, Buzzard Skyline and King Friday.

While the concert is free, donations will be greatly appreciated, said Mic Parsons, Bethel, Ohio, senior and vice president of the English honor society.

Fun run/walk

MSU's Department of HPER will sponsor a three mile "Fun Run/Walk" on Tuesday, May 10.

The event will begin at Jayne Stadium and follow a course through campus. Starting time is 5:30 p.m.

Prizes will be awarded to first and second place finishers in both the run and walk categories. The entry fee is $5.

Additional information is available by calling 3-5282.

602 Wellness Promotion Class organized and presented "WELLFEST '94" in ADUC, March 8. More than 800 participated in the activities with nearly 500 having physical assessments of cholesterol, blood pressure, blood glucose, body fat and vision exams performed.

Dr. Mary Anne Pollock, associate professor of education, and Jenny Enix, seventh grade language arts teacher at Lewis County Junior High School, made a presentation entitled "Using Picture Books with Older Students to Motivate Writing and Reading." Dr. Kathy Herzog, associate professor of education, and Drema Price, assistant professor of education, made a presentation entitled "Activities to Celebrate Children's Literature." Both presentations were made at the 58th annual Conference of Kentucky Council of Teachers of English/Language Arts in Louisville, Feb. 25.

Several members of the Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy participated in the Kentucky Council of Teachers of English/Language Arts Annual Conference in Louisville, Feb. 25-26. Dr. Fran Helphinstine, Dr. Glenn Rogers, and Dr. George Luckey, did a panel presentation for advanced and developmental composition and across-the-curriculum models for "Critical Thinking and Active Learning Across the Curriculum" and Kathryn Mincey and Dr. Rogers did an interactive presentation "Writing Poetry With Students."

Dr. Wanda Staley, assistant professor of education, has been invited to serve on the Kentucky Occupational Information Coordinating Special Projects Committee. She will be working toward greater involvement of university counselor educators with KOICC in implementing career education programs. Dr. Staley also is serving as a university advisory representative on the Letcher County Tech-Prep Committee.

Videotapes now available

"Adults as Students: Their Status and Role in Higher Education" is an informative video that is available for viewing by interested individuals and groups through the Office of Continuing Education, 203 Downing Hall.

The videos are the result of an interactive videoconference sponsored by the Offices of Community Services and Nontraditional Students and held at MSU last year.

Experts in the field of adult learning are featured on the video: Stephen Brookfield, professor, Graduate School, University of St. Thomas; Nancy K. Schlossberg, senior fellow at the Center for Adult Learning of the American Council on Education, University of Maryland; and Carol Aslanian, director of the Office of Adult Learning Services, The College Board.

The two, four-hour videotapes explore some of the problems the older, returning student is facing and some of the ways colleges can combat the problems. Persons interested in using the video can call 3-2077 for scheduling information.

Performance

MSU students will present a Reader's Theatre program, "Growing Mountain Girls," on Thursday, May 5, in Breckinridge Auditorium at 4 p.m. and again at 7 p.m.

The performances, which are free and open to the public, will feature students in an advanced oral interpretation class, taught by Dr. Shirley Gish, associate professor of speech.

"Growing Mountain Girls" is a staged reading which includes a variety of literature selections by Southern female writers. The selections range from Elaine Fowler Palencia's recent book entitled "Small Caucasian Woman" to a 1907 publication, "Aunt Jane of Kentucky. Other pieces incorporated into the program are newspaper gossip columns from the late 1960s to the "Foxfire Book of Recipes."

"Poems, recipes, gossip and short stories are pieced together into a quilt of Southern women's experiences," Dr. Gish said.

They passed!

Maintenance Technicians with the Office of Physical Plant are currently preparing and testing for the EPA required Refrigeration Certification. Study preparation and testing is extensive for the Universal Status or highest certification level. The Rowan State Vocational Technical School is administering the testing locally for the Environmental Protection Agency.

The first three technicians to study and test for this Certification are Ronnie Porter, Maintenance Tech III; Larry Skaggs, Maintenance Tech II, and Gary Smith, Maintenance Tech II. All have passed with very high scores and are now EPA Certified Technicians. Other Technicians will be preparing for the next Certification testing this summer.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Custodian (Two Fixed-Term Positions), Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $4.78; to ensure consideration, apply by May 12.

Recycling Coordinator, Office of Physical Plant; position is 80 percent time with an annual salary of $14,226; to ensure consideration, apply by May 16.

Head Women's Softball Coach, Office of Athletics; position is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by May 18.

Chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education (Search Extended), Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; to ensure consideration, apply by May 25.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

Assistant Professor of Psychology, Department of Psychology; to ensure consideration, apply by July 11.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

NEW FACES

Several new faces have been added to the MSU staff since Jan. 1. They include:

Roderick D. Blincoe, custodian; Joey Boyd, custodian, residence hall; Melinda Carol Clark, telemarketing coordinator, Office of Alumni Relations and Development; Robert Louis Clemons, public safety officer, Office of Public Safety;

William Bryson Coburn, custodian, MSU-Ashland Extended Campus Center; Debra Ann Furnish, custodian, residence hall; Ostria Louise Gatlin, assistant women's basketball coach; Constance L. Hardesty, assistant professor of sociology, Sociology, Social Work, and Corrections;

Melissa Jo James, dispatcher, Office of Public Safety; Mary Susan Jessee, custodian, residence hall; Eddie Venton McCleese, vending stock clerk, concessions and vending; Amy Sue McNeal, network analyst, Office of Network Services; Catherine A. Mooney, librarian I, Camden-Carroll Library;

Wendy L. Nelson, program and productions director, WMKY; Nancy D. Newberry, program consultant, Elementary, Reading, and Special Education; Beverly B. Ratliff, secretary, Wellness Educator;

Anthony Lee Roberts, payroll specialist II, Payroll; Helen Robinson, groundskeeper, Landscaping and Grounds Maintenance; Karen Lee Spradling, secretary, Beginning Teacher Internship Program; Titina Glendora Thomas, public safety officer, Office of Public Safety, and Cynthia K. Thompson, secretary, Office of Human Resources.

HAPPENINGS

Friday, April 29

FFA Field Day, DAC, 9 a.m.

Saturday, April 30

Spring Gala: "A New York Fantasy."

Sunday, May 1

Faculty Recital: Jay Flippin, DRH, 3 p.m.
Spring Percussion Recital, DRH, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, May 3

CEBS retirement reception, Gold Room, ADUC, 3 p.m.

Baseball: MSU vs. University of Cincinnati, Allen Field, 3 p.m.

Concert: University Chorus, DRH, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, May 4

Baseball: MSU vs. Union College, AF, 3 p.m.

Annual ROTC Awards Ceremony, Commonwealth Room, ADUC, 3 p.m.

Junior Recital: Jay Hinshaw, DRH, 8 p.m.

Thursday, May 5

Fund raiser for Nicholas Taylor Johnson, Laughlin lawn, 12:15 p.m.

Faculty Recital: "Silverwood," DRH, 8 p.m.

Fine Arts Showcase, gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, 8 p.m.

Friday, May 6

Twelfth Annual Spring Counseling Conference, ADUC.

Saturday, May 7

Baseball: MSU vs. Eastern Kentucky University, Allen Field, 1 p.m.; also May 8, 1 p.m.

Conference

The Department of Leadership and Secondary Education will host the 12th Annual Spring Counseling Conference on Friday, May 6, at the Adron Doran University Center. This year's program is entitled "Current Issues in Counseling." The presenters will be professors from MSU, counselors from the University's service area and others.

Additional information is available by calling 3-3538 or 3-2502.

Need plants?

The campus greenhouse, located next to Reed Hall, will be open on Tuesdays and Fridays, May 3-20, from 12:30 until 1:30 p.m. to sell bedding plants and house plants.

Self-defense

Judy Carpenter, who holds a black belt in tang soo do, will offer a self-defense seminar on Tuesday, May 2. The program will begin at 7 p.m. in Regents Hall.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead
State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

May 5, 1994

Vol. 14, No. 41

Achievements highlighted May 9-15

MSU will recognize scholastic achievement by students and faculty during its 10th annual Academic Awards Week, May 9-15.

Throughout the week, the colleges and various departments will recognize outstanding endeavors by their students. Capping off the activities will be the traditional Academic Awards Convocation at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 15.

Awards for excellence will be presented by many of the University's academic departments to their outstanding graduate and undergraduate students at the convocation.

In addition, students maintaining perfect grade point averages and graduating seniors in the Academic Honors Program will be recognized, along with the winner of the A. Frank Gallaher Memorial Music Performance Competition, Kenneth Meeker of Russellville, Ohio, who will perform.

The recipients of the University's most prestigious faculty honors—Distinguished Teacher, Distinguished Researcher and Distinguished Creative Production awards—also will be announced.

Established by the Alumni Association, the Distinguished Teacher Award recognizes an educator, selected by a faculty committee, as one whose contributions to the student educational experience are truly outstanding.

Created by MSU's Research and Creative Productions Committee, the Distinguished Researcher and Distinguished Creative Production awards are designed to recognize special achievements in research and creative productivity.

Dr. John C. Philley, executive vice president for Academic Affairs, will present the faculty awards. Outstanding student awards will be presented by Dr. Marc D. Glasser, dean of Graduate and Extended Campus Programs, and Dr. Judy Rogers, associate vice president for Academic Affairs and dean of Undergraduate Programs.

Lenore Womack, a Grayson senior, will be the student speaker. A dean's list student, she will graduate with honors on May 21. A philosophy major with an English minor, she has been accepted into the master's degree program at Baylor University.

The daughter of Carl and Betty Womack, she holds an Honors Program Scholarship and the Ralph Woods Memorial Scholarship. Active in MSU's Academic Honors Program since her sophomore year, she currently is the student representative to the Academic Honors Committee.

The East Carter High School graduate is a member of Phi Kappa Phi honor society, Cardinal Key and Delta Zeta social sorority. She also serves as a Student Alumni Ambassador.

Dr. George M. Luckey Jr., Academic Honors Program director and professor of philosophy, will preside at the convocation and MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin will congratulate the honorees. A reception will follow.

Other events are scheduled throughout the week in the Adron Doran University Center to honor outstanding achievement, including a noon luncheon on Monday, May 9, hosted by Research and Creative Productions to recognize faculty and staff research and creative production efforts.

The Caudill College of Humanities will honor students with an 11:30 a.m. luncheon on Tuesday, May 10; the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences will be honored at a 7:30 a.m. breakfast on Thursday, May 12, and the College of Business has scheduled an honors/scholarship dinner at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, May 13.

Awards won

MSU has received two Merit Awards for its primary recruitment publications from the Admissions Marketing Report, a national publication for professional admissions personnel.

The award-winning entries were the 1993-94 Student Viewbook and its companion piece, "Consider Us for Your First Year." The full-color publications were produced by the Office of Publications and Printing Services in cooperation with the Division of Academic Affairs and Office of Admissions.

"We have found that both pieces are visually appealing to our student audience and accurately reflect the opportunities at MSU. We are pleased that our peers nationally also find them to be quality pieces," said Charles Myers, MSU director of admissions.

Reception

The Caudill College of Humanities will host a retirement reception from 3 to 5 p.m. on Thursday, May 12, in the gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building for three faculty members who are retiring this semester.

The retirees include M.K. Thomas from the Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy and Roger Jones and Don Young, Department of Art.

People in the News

Dr. Richard Miles, associate professor of music and director of bands, recently served as a guest clinician and conductor for the Jefferson All-County High School Honor Band in Louisville, the Cabell All-County Honor Band in Huntington, W.Va., and the Northern Kentucky High School Select Band at Northern Kentucky University.

Dr. Larry Blocher, associate professor of music, presented a research study at the Research Session of the 54th Biennial In-Service Conference of the Music Educators National Conference (MENC) in Cincinnati, April 8. Results of the original study were presented by Dr. Blocher at the World Association for Symphonic Bands and Ensembles (WASBE) International Conference held this past July in Valencia, Spain.

Dr. Robert C. Tesch, Sr., associate professor of computer information systems, has co-authored a textbook "Introductory COBOL: A Transaction Oriented Approach" with the Dryden Press of Harcourt Brace College Publishing.

Jane C. Ellington, associate professor of human sciences, attended the Vocational Teacher Education Conference in Owensboro, Feb. 2-4. The program discussed assessment, status of teacher education in the state, tech prep, school of work program and integration of academics and vocational education.

Dr. Wanda Staley, assistant professor of education, successfully passed the Board Examinations to become a National Certified Counselor and National Certified Career Counselor.

Clement Liew, international student adviser, attended the Kentucky Immigration Officers meeting in Elizabethtown, April 28. He was elected state representative to the GRAC (Government Regulations Advisory Committee), NAFSA: International Education Association. He is a member of NAFSA Region VI.

Rosemarie A. Battaglia, assistant professor of English, has recently been included in "Who's Who in American Education," 1994-95 edition. She also made two presentations: a paper, "Nora, Molly, Desire, and Language," at the 20th

Broadcast set

MSU-TV 12 and American Cable Entertainment Channel 12 will broadcast "Folkfest '93" on Tuesday, May 10, at 4:30 p.m.

The two-hour program was recorded during MSU's Appalachian Celebration. The show will be hosted by Stephen S. Young, the producer of the event. The original outdoor concert was hosted by Glen Buckner, Harvey Pennington and Young, the radio personalities of "Friends and Folk" on WMKY, 90.3 FM. MSU's public radio station.

Talent from solo acts to trios and quartets included: Robert Tinchler of Lexington; MSU student Emily Weatherspoon of Russellville, Ohio, accompanied by Leo Blair, music faculty member; MSU student Tim Gipson of Louisville, assisted by Rich Howe; vocalist Brenda Rigsby and Steve Rigsby of Morehead on acoustic bass; local barbershop quartet, "The Tru-Tones"; Rob McNurlin of Ashland and guitarists and folk singers, and "Raison D' Etre", a trio of MSU alumni from northern Kentucky.

Postponed

The meeting of the MSU Board of Regents previously set for Friday, May 20, has been postponed. A new meeting will be set following the passage of the state budget during a special legislative session. We will keep you posted.

Century Literature Conference in Louisville, Feb. 24-25, and a paper, "Waiting for Godot: A Tragic-Comedy in Two Acts," at the Kentucky Philological Association Conference in Frankfort, March 4-5, where she chaired a panel. Her article reviewing three books of Joyce criticism will be published in "Textual Practice," Summer 1994, and her review of Arnold Weinstein's "Nobody's Home: Speech, Self, and Place in America Fiction from Hawthorne to De Lillo" will appear in "Studies in the Novel" in either Winter 1994 or Spring 1995.

Paul Taylor, assistant professor of music, performed George Crumb's "Makrococosmos" at the Heidelberg Contemporary Music, March 26. This year's festival focused primarily on American composers and had in residence Leslie Bassett, winner of the Prix de Rome composition prize.

Marilyn Y. Sampley, Department of Human Sciences chair, has completed a two-year appointment to work with the Office of Vocational Education. The work concentrated on the development of certification requirements for teachers of special needs students. A workshop is being prepared to update current teachers. She also has been appointed to serve a two-year term on the executive board of the National Council of Administrators of Home Economics.

Dr. Fran Helphinstine, professor of English, presented a paper entitled "And Lead Us Not into Temptation But Deliver Us From Evil: T.S. Eliot's 'Murder in the Cathedral' and Vaclav Havel's 'Temptation'," at the 20th Century Literature Conference in Louisville, Feb. 24-26. At the same conference, Dr. Loreta Vishomirskyte presented a paper "The Peculiarities of Edward Bond's Political Drama" and Mary Jo Netherton and Jill Leroy Frazier served as section chairs.

Dr. James E. Smallwood, associate professor of industrial education, gave a presentation entitled "The Right Stuff—Excelling in Leadership" at the International Technology Education Association national conference in Kansas City, Mo., March 19-23. He also served on two committees, Publications and Professional Development, for this organization which meets every year at the conference.

Enjoy aging

Research at the Duke Center for the Study of Aging shows that 70-80 percent of those over 65 are healthy, happy and enjoying an active retirement. It is true that there are some physical and mental changes that usually occur with aging but you can successfully adapt to these changes by following some health tips. You can even improve your health and happiness as you age!

*Increase your exercise. As you grow older, your metabolism tends to slow down, so you need more exercise to get the same benefits you got from less exercise when you were younger. You really need three kinds of exercise as you age: stretching, aerobic, and strength training.

*Decrease passive activities such as watching spectator sports, riding in elevators, cars, or golf carts.

*Decrease fatty foods in your diet. Because of slowing metabolism and growing risk of heart disease, fatty foods become increasingly dangerous as you age.

*Increase your mental stimulation. Because of slowing reaction time and tendencies to resist change and new ideas, it becomes increasingly important to exercise your mental abilities and to inform yourself about current events and new ideas.

*Decrease your exposure to violence and tragedy. Movies and TV shows that are violent, horrible or depressing tend to arouse the unhealthy emotions of fear, anger, and despair. These emotions become dangerous as you age.

Showcase set

Inscape, MSU's literary and arts magazine, will host its Spring Fine Arts Showcase at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 5, in the gallery of Claypool-Young Art Building.

The program will feature poetry, fiction, art and music presented by the writers and artists whose work was selected for the magazine's fall issue. The event is free and open to the public.

The winners of this semester's poetry, fiction and art competition will be announced at this time.

Fun run/walk

Faculty, staff, students and members of the community are invited to participate in the "Fun Run/Walk" on Tuesday, May 10.

There will be eight age groups in both the run and walk categories. The event will begin at 5:30 p.m. at Jayne Stadium. Prizes will be awarded to first and second place finishers in both the run and walk categories. The entry fee is $5.

Additional information and registration are available by calling 3-5282.

DD scramble

The MSU Golf Club and the staff at the University Golf Course invites all faculty, staff and students to participate in a Derby Day Scramble on Saturday, May 7, beginning at 12:30 p.m. at the MSU Golf Course.

Entry fees will be $10, plus green fees and carts. Prizes will be awarded in the form of gift certificates. Additional information is available by calling the University Golf Course at 3-2866.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Custodian (Two Fixed-Term Positions), Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $4.78; to ensure consideration, apply by May 12.

Recycling Coordinator, Office of Physical Plant; position is 80 percent time with an annual salary of $14,226; to ensure consideration, apply by May 16.

Head Women's Softball Coach, Office of Athletics; position is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by May 18.

Chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education (Search Extended), Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; to ensure consideration, apply by May 25.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

Assistant Professor of Psychology, Department of Psychology; to ensure consideration, apply by July 11.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Limited calls

Budget considerations have necessitated further reductions of MSU's "800" toll-free telephone service. Beginning Aug. 1, the University will activate the following "800" number: 800-585-MSU1 (6781). The number will be accessible for both in-state and out-of-state callers. Incoming calls will be routed to the Office of Admissions, Graduate Admissions and the Office of Alumni Relations and Development only.

This change will necessitate offices using the University's "800" number in publications and advertisements to publish the University's main switchboard number, 606-783-2221, or a specific department number. The new "800" number should be referenced as it relates to Admissions, and Alumni and Development activities.

Please make all possible efforts to communicate this change. For information, call 3-2619.

Need access?

Any faculty or staff member who needs an academic or administrative computer account to access the INTERNET, electronic mail, advising module or other on-line University resources can obtain an account by calling 3-5000.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, May 5

Fund raiser for Nicholas Taylor Johnson, Laughlin lawn, 12:15 p.m.

Fine Arts Showcase, gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, 8 p.m.

Friday, May 6

Twelfth Annual Spring Counseling Conference, ADUC.

Saturday, May 7

Baseball: MSU vs. Eastern Kentucky University, Allen Field, 1 p.m.; also May 8, 1 p.m.

Sunday, May 8

Junior recital: Weng Ping Chin, piano, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Recital: Kentucky Horn Quintet, DRH, 8 p.m.

Monday, May 9

Academic Awards Week, through May 15 (see separate story)

Picnic at the Pops, Academic-Athletic Center, 6:30 p.m.

Tuesday, May 10

Fun Run/Walk, Jayne Stadium, 5:30 p.m.

Guest recital: Janean Freeman, soprano, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, May 11

All Sports Banquet, Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, 6 p.m.

Senior recital: Jerry Wirtley, electric bass, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Thursday, May 12

Caudill College of Humanities retirement reception, gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, 3 p.m.

SBDC seminar, Downing Hall, 3 p.m.

Health smart

Each time you make a heart-healthy choice, you are strengthening your body against a life threatening emergency. The result: a happier, longer, more productive life. To help your heart keep pumping smoothly, and your arteries stay open: If you smoke, try your best to quit.

Keep active with regular exercise.

Lose extra pounds.

Avoid fat, especially animal fats, which makes your body produce more cholesterol.

Follow your doctor's advice on when to have your cholesterol level checked.

Get your blood pressure measured at least once a year and work with your doctor to lower your pressure if it is high.

At your next visit, talk to your doctor about taking an aspirin a day, which some researchers now believe may help prevent heart disease.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Heritage will be preserved

More than 50 faculty and staff volunteers have fanned out across the campus this week to tell their colleagues about Phase One of the Heritage Campaign, a fund raising appeal aimed at preserving MSU's human legacy.

"This is a great opportunity for active and retired members of the University community to come together to permanently honor our colleagues who have excelled in various activities throughout the institution's history and those who served for significant periods of time," said President Ron Eaglin.

A $500 gift from an individual or group will memorialize a departed colleague in what will become known as the "Heritage Room" when the Gold Room in ADUC is transformed into a "showplace of native hardwoods." Also included in the space will be recognition of those receiving awards for teaching, research, public service, creative expression and leadership.

"Faculty and staff members contribute to many good causes at the University and we feel this one will be just as worthy," Dr. Eaglin added. "If you are not giving on a regular basis through payroll deduction or some other means, this would be a good starting point."

The next phase of the campaign, expected to get underway early in 1995, will be the development of an outdoor memorial plaza to honor all who have served MSU since its founding in 1887. The last phase will be on-going expansion of the University Memorial Fund which underwrites named scholarships in memory of deceased faculty and staff members.

Accredited

The Veterinary Technology Program's full accreditation status has been extended through Dec. 31, 1995.

The certification was granted by the Committee on Veterinary Technician Education and Activities (CVTEA) following review of the program.

"The program has been successful because of the dedication of our faculty, the work ethic of our students, and the clinical opportunities that are available because of the unique relationship between the University farm and the community," said Dr. Lee Tyner, program coordinator.

The Vet Tech program began as an associate degree offering at MSU in 1977 and has retained full accreditation status since that time. It is administered through the Department of Agricultural Sciences in the College of Science and Technology.

Results from student survey

Last spring students at MSU were given the opportunity to express their opinions about the services and environment available to them. A survey was conducted as part of the University's accountability process to assess how satisfied students are with this institution. The responses are those of undergraduates seeking degrees.

The students were asked to rate their level of satisfaction both with College Services/Programs and with their College Environment. Of those students who answered the questions regarding services and programs, the following categories ranked more than 60 percent satisfied: Academic Advising Services, Recreation and Intramural, Library Facilities and Services, and Computer Services. Lowest satisfaction ratings (7 percent) were reported for Day Care Services and Parking Facilities and Services.

For College Environment, students responded with "did not apply," or ranked their level of satisfaction. Again, of the responding students many categories ranked above 60 percent in rate of satisfaction: Testing/grading system, Course content in major, Instruction in major, Out of class availability of your instructors, Attitude of the faculty toward students, Class size relative to type of course, Availability of your adviser, College Catalogue/admissions publications, Classroom facilities, Study areas are all categories that received high rankings.

Students were most dissatisfied with Student voice in college policies, Residence hall rules and regulations, Purposes for which student activity fees are used, Racial Harmony at this campus, and Opportunities for student employment.

(continued on back)

People in the News

Dr. Roland Buck, professor of economics, presented a paper entitled "Liquidity Preference and Loanable Funds: A Non-Market-Clearing Approach" at the 1994 meeting of the Midwest Economics Association, March 25.

Carolyn Taylor, and Jane Ellington, associate professors of human sciences, attended the 72nd annual Kentucky Home Economics Association conference in Owensboro, March 24-25. The theme was "1994: International Year of the Family-Resources and Responsibilities in a Changing World." Taylor made a poster presentation, "Restructuring-A Threat to Home Economics Units at Benchmark Institutions." She also was installed as president-elect of KHEA while Ellington, president for 1994-95, served as vice president of Program of Work.

Paul Taylor, assistant professor of music, has been appointed by the Kentucky Music Teacher's Association as High-School Auditions chairperson for both the Bluegrass and Yamaha vocal, instrumental, piano ensemble and chamber music competitions for 1994. The position involves organizing this year's state-wide competition which will be held in Ashland in October.

Michelle B. Kunz, assistant professor of human sciences, attended the annual meeting of the Midwest Marketing Association, held in conjunction with the Midwest Business Administration Association in Chicago, March 16-18. She and four students: Jennifer Frazier, Abby Haw, Heather Stone and Arlie Wells, attended the Career Day, sponsored by the Dallas Fashion Group, Inc., in Dallas, Texas, March 26. Haw, Stone and Wells competed in the Student Design Competition with entries in the Special Occasion/After Five category. Kunz and Sheryl Brown, assistant professor of management, attended the American Collegiate Retailing Association Spring Conference on Sports Retailing in Atlanta, April 14-17. Kunz was a co-presenter for a workshop entitled "The Use of Multi-Media Technology on the Classroom of Tomorrow."

Dr. Fran Helphinstine, professor of English, presented a paper "The Rape of the Knightly Lover: Shakespeare's Recasting of Chaucer's Troilus" at the Shakespeare Association of America in Albuquerque, N.M., April 15.

Dr. David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education at the Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, attended the Tri-State Education Conference at Lincoln University, April 23. He attended sessions on "Cooking in Language Arts," "Whole Language" and a presentation on the life and works of Jesse Stuart. This was in addition to a presentation on quality schools based on Glasser's theories.

Dr. Ronald D. Morrison, associate professor of English, read a paper entitled "Their Fruits like honey in the throat/But poison in the blood": Christina Rossetti's Rewriting of the Vampire Myth in "Goblin Market" at "The Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood and Its Circle" at Baylor University in Waco, Texas, April 23. The conference was hosted by the Armstrong Browning Library which houses a collection of 19th century British literary materials.

Dr. Serjit Kasior, assistant professor of journalism, presented a paper "Censorship of the Collegiate Presses: 1987-1992" at the sixth annual meeting of the International Academy of Business Disciplines held in Pittsburgh, April 7-11.

Survey (continued from front)

Students also answered five "accountability" questions. Sixty-seven percent thought that the quality of instruction at the university was good to excellent. When asked again in the Fall of 1993, 73 percent of those who responded rated the quality of instruction good/excellent, and 79 percent said they would recommend MSU to another student.

"Not all survey questions merit the same degree of concern," said Dr. Jeanne Osborne, Institutional Research coordinator. "For example, although MSU does not offer a child day care service, four respondents reported using one and six reported satisfaction with the phantom service," Dr. Osborne said.

"Issues such as parking facilities and residence halls may never reach high satisfaction levels among the students. Still, they should be discussed along with more serious concerns such as perceptions of racial harmony at this campus. And more than a third of the student body should feel that faculty and staff have a concern for them as individuals," she added.

Seminar today

MSU's Small Business Development Center will offer a "Presentation of the Small Business Loan Proposal" seminar on Thursday, May 12, beginning at 3 p.m. in the Downing Hall Conference Room. The program will cover the five c's in borrowing, documentation needed for a good loan package and making your presentation to investors. There is no charge for attending, however, because of limited seating, reservations are necessary. Additional information and registration are available by calling 3-2895.

Bus provided

The Office of Physical Plant will provide shuttle service for faculty and staff members participating in the May 21 graduation ceremonies. The bus will shuttle between the front of ADUC and the intersection of Morrow Drive and Lee Avenue. Service will begin at 11 a.m. and end at approximately 4 p.m.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Custodian (Two Fixed-Term Positions), Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $4.78; to ensure consideration, apply by May 12.

Recycling Coordinator, Office of Physical Plant; position is 80 percent time with an annual salary of $14,226; to ensure consideration, apply by May 16.

Head Women's Softball Coach, Office of Athletics; position is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by May 18.

Chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education (Search Extended), Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; to ensure consideration, apply by May 25.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

Clerk/Typist (9-Month Position), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; hourly rate: $5.67; to ensure consideration, apply by June 10.

Instructor of Business, Department of Management and Marketing; to ensure consideration, apply by June 15.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, May 12

College of Education and Behavioral Sciences Honors Breakfast, Commonwealth Room, Adron Doran University Center, 7:30 a.m.

Caudill College of Humanities retirement reception, gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, 3 p.m.

SBDC seminar, Downing Hall, 3 p.m.

Friday, May 13

Senior Recital: Anissa Gideon, soprano, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

College of Business Honors/Scholarship Banquet, Commonwealth Room, ADUC, 6:30 p.m.

Sunday, May 15

Honors Convocation, Button Auditorium, 2 p.m.

Faculty Recital: John Viton, oboe, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Senior Recital: J.J. Pipitone, percussion, Duncan Recital Hall, 5 p.m.

Senior Recital: John Hylton, trumpet, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, May 16

Final examinations; also May 17, 19 and 20. May 18, Reading Day, no exams.

Saturday, May 21

Baccalaureate and Associate Degree Nursing Programs' pinning ceremony, Button Auditorium, 9 a.m.

Spring Commencement, Academic-Athletic Center, 1:30 p.m.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Three selected for awards

Three MSU faculty members have been selected by their colleagues to receive the University's most prestigious faculty awards for their extraordinary achievements.

Dr. David J. Saxon, professor of biology, who has instilled the principles of scientific inquiry into the minds of countless students, was the recipient of the 1993-94 Distinguished Teacher Award established in 1964 by the MSU Alumni Association.

Dr. Brian G. Reeder, associate professor of biological and environmental sciences, who is internationally known for his work in wetland ecology, has earned the 1993-94 Distinguished Researcher Award, sponsored by the MSU Research and Creative Productions Committee and awarded annually since 1979.

(continued on back)

Gala passes 'success' test

NOTE: The following is a report from Mrs. Bonnie Eaglin on the Spring 1994 Gala.

Ways to measure success are varied, but by any measure the 1994 N.Y. Fantasy Gala passed the test as it won friends and encouraged the public to support the institution.

The increased number of corporate sponsors is only one indication of how far reaching the event was in promoting MSU. There were additional sponsors who could have been added but were not so that individual tickets could be purchased.

Besides the great food, wonderful entertainment and beautiful decorations, the Gala showcased the exceptional talent and the spirit of cooperation that exists on campus. Those who attended were encouraged to become involved in other activities on campus.

To ensure the success of such an event requires hard work and dedicated people. The total number of hours to create, plan and implement the activity is almost impossible to compute. The Broadway Rhythms show alone entailed nearly 2,000 hours from 73 performers, technicians, costumers and house workers. In addition, 52 students, 20 faculty members and 30 alums from the Department of Music logged in excess of 5,000 hours on such activities as parking cars, decorating, busing tables, rehearsing and entertaining.

Volunteer workers came from at least 14 other MSU departments as well as from the community and the more than 120 students who performed a variety of supporting roles represented our entire campus.

The results of our efforts both tangible and intangible were many and varied: a sense of pride in those who helped create the event; a special sense of unity of purpose shared by the students, faculty, staff and community members worked together for a common goal and the direct and indirect support from those who attended.

Many of the gifts to the University that have benefitted almost every department over the past two years can be directly linked to the donor's attendance at our galas.

It has been the involvement and cooperation of all of you that has made the 1994 gala such a success and, as chair of the committee, I want to thank you for your hard work to ensure that success. For me, it is the positive friendships that develop and our opportunity to showcase what a special place Morehead State is that makes it all worthwhile.

Please mark your calendar for our third annual gala, scheduled for April 29, 1995, and plan to attend. Our involvement and support of this benefit demonstrates to the community that we believe in ourselves.

Graduation day is Saturday

MSU will hold its 1994 Spring Commencement on Saturday, May 21, at 1:30 p.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center.

More than 900 undergraduate students are candidates for degrees to be conferred by MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin. The student speaker will be Lenore Womack of Grayson, a student in the Caudill College of Humanities and a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree with honors.

The daughter of Carl and Betty Womack, she is a philosophy major with a minor in English. A dean's list student at MSU, she has been accepted into Baylor University's graduate program in philosophy.

Active in MSU's Academic Honors Program since her sophomore year, Womack served as vice president of the Academic Honors Student Association and as the student representative to the Academic Honors Committee.

The East Carter High School graduate is a member of Phi Kappa Phi honor society, Cardinal Key and the Delta Zeta social sorority. She also has been active in the Student Alumni Ambassadors.

Also to be honored will be a faculty and a staff member who are recipients of the University's Distinguished Service Awards: Mary Jo Netherton, associate professor of French, and Tim P. Rhodes, director of financial aid and scholarships.

With a teaching career that spans three decades, Netherton was recognized as last year's Distinguished Teacher; but she maintains an active role as a volunteer outside the campus classroom. She is director of MSU's Eastern Kentucky Regional Foreign Language Festival, a volunteer French teacher for Rowan County's Elementary Division Gifted Education (EDGE) program, and has co-directed Rowan County Elementary Academic Days.

Adviser to MSU's chapter of Chi Omega social sorority, she is a two-time recipient of the University's Greek Adviser of the Year Award for her work with the sorority. She also received the sorority's National Award for Excellence. During its recent 25th anniversary celebration, the MSU chapter endowed a $15,000 scholarship in her name.

In addition to her work with professional organizations in her discipline, Netherton is active at the local, state and national levels with the National Association of Anorexia Nervosa and Associate Disorders as well as with the National Anorexic Aid Society.

Rhodes, the staff recipient, has been a member of the administrative staff since 1972, assuming a variety of roles related to student aid. Over the years, he has helped thousands of Eastern Kentucky students resolve financial roadblocks to their college degree.

The coordinator for an annual on-campus financial aid workshop for high school counselors, Rhodes has logged countless miles on the road to conduct evening and weekend financial aid workshops for parents and students. He also has been instrumental in securing external scholarship funds.

Active in national, regional and state professional organizations, he serves on the board of the MSU Foundation, Inc., and is a member of the University Expanded Council.

A Youth Soccer League and Little League coach, Rhodes is a member of the Gateway Development District's JOBS Council, which assists nontraditional students in preparing for and entering the workplace. Since 1985, he has been an ordained minister and currently is pastor of the Elliottville Baptist Church.

Dr. David Saxon, the 1993-94 Distinguished Teacher Award recipient, will serve as grand marshal, assisted by Dr. Frances Helphinstine, professor of English, and Dr. Paul McGhee, interim chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education.

Once the degrees have been awarded, the new alumni will be inducted into the MSU Alumni Association by its president, Louis M. "Sonny" Jones.

A reception for graduates and their families, sponsored by the MSU Alumni Association, will be hosted by MSU President and Mrs. Eaglin immediately following the ceremony.

Commencement activities begin at 9 a.m. with the nursing program pinning ceremony in Button Auditorium.

Performance

To ensure employees perform their job to the best of their abilities, it is important that they be recognized for good performance and that they receive appropriate suggestions for improvement when necessary. Consistent with this goal, performance should be evaluated by supervisors on an ongoing basis. Written evaluations of performance normally occur after employment for six months, and annually thereafter. In addition, persons promoted to a higher level position will be evaluated in writing after six months.

All written performance will be based on overall performance in relation to job responsibilities and will also take into account conduct, demeanor, and record of attendance and tardiness.

In addition to regular performance evaluations described above, special written performance evaluations may be conducted by supervisors at any time to advise one of the existence of performance or disciplinary problems.

Reminder

Requisitions for purchases against the 1993-94 fiscal year must be submitted to the Office of Purchasing by the close of business on June 10. All purchase orders placed with vendors must be received and invoiced by June 30. The deadline for submitting your receiving report(s) and invoice(s) is July 1 for payment in the '93-94 fiscal year.

Copy in color

The Office of Publications and Printing Services has installed a color copier for campus use. If you have color copying needs, stop by Printing Operations, located on the ground floor of Allie Young Hall, or call 3-2032 for complete details and costs.

People in the News

Gary Mesa-Gaido, instructor in art, is exhibiting encaustic paintings at Artswatch in Louisville, now through May 28. The gallery is open Tuesday through Saturday, 1-5 p.m.

Dr. Wanda L. Staley, assistant professor of counselor education, made a presentation entitled "Accepting the Challenge: Counselor Educators as Leaders in the Global Economy" at the American Counseling Association national conference in Minneapolis, April 27.

Dr. William Green, professor of government, authored "The UAW, Lean Production, and the Future of the National Labor Relations Act" published in "Labor Law Journal" (March 1994), 45:167-181. He and Dr. Ernest J. Yanarella from the University of Kentucky co-authored "The UAW and CAW Confront Lean Production at Saturn, CAMI, and the Japanese Automobile Transplants" published in "Labor Studies Journal" (Winter 1994), 18: 52-75.

Honors (continued from front)

Dr. Shirley Gish, associate professor of speech, whose extraordinary creative talents have enriched so many lives, was selected as the 1993-94 Distinguished Creative Production Award honoree.

The awards were announced at the University's tenth annual Academic Awards Convocation (May 15) which capped a weeklong tribute to scholastic achievement.

A faculty member since 1967, Dr. Saxon serves as adviser for students in MSU's pre-medical program which, over the years, has enjoyed a higher than average student acceptance rate into medical school.

Describing Dr. Saxon as "an exceptional teacher," a colleague noted that he is a conscientious instructor who is always prepared for class and who constantly revises the course content to reflect the latest knowledge. "Dr. Saxon truly wants his students to succeed," he added.

Active in several professional organizations, Dr. Saxon also has received more than $28,000 in institutional research grants as well as an HEW Title VI in conjunction with another MSU researcher.

Dr. Reeder, who joined the MSU faculty in 1989, has gained the attention of his peers here and abroad for his study of wetland issues. Focusing on ecosystems modeling, he currently uses his expertise to address environmental problems of Eastern Kentucky Watersheds.

He has received approximately $140,000 from six externally-funded grants, including a National Science Foundation EPSCoR award.

Dr. Reeder has published 35 articles and abstracts in scholarly journals and has given more than a dozen presentations of professional meetings. His work has been cited many times in scientific literature. A member of several national and international scientific organizations, he also serves as a consultant.

Dr. Gish is a multi-talented artist who is recognized nationally and regionally for her creativity. A member of the MSU faculty since 1989, she is a writer, performer, producer and director as well as a teacher.

She maintains an active schedule of oral interpretation and reader's theatre performances, adapting much of the material herself, and has developed several original scripts, producing some as videos. Her most recent work was "Me 'n Susie," a full-length play based on the life and community of Dr. C. Louise Caudill, which premiered last fall as a benefit for MSU's theatre program.

The student speaker for the convocation was Lenore Womack, Grayson senior, who graduates this month with honors.

Summer fun

Are you interested in joining a basketball, volleyball or softball league for the summer? Would you enjoy a family fun night, complete with picnic and games?

If these activities appeal to you, please call 3-5282 for additional information.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education (Search Extended), Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; to ensure consideration, apply by May 25.

Residence Hall Director (4 Positions), Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $14,267; to ensure consideration, apply by June 1.

Clerk/Typist (9-Month Position), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; hourly rate: $5.67; to ensure consideration, apply by June 10.

Instructor of Business, Department of Management and Marketing; to ensure consideration, apply by June 15.

Instructor/Assistant Professor of Art Education, Department of Art, (One year appointment with the possibility of leading to a tenure track assistant professor position if candidate holds the Ph.D. or Ed.D.); to ensure consideration, apply by June 15.

Animal Care Technician (10-Month Position), Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by June 22.

Laboratory Supervisor (10-Month Position), Department of Physical Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by June 27.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

CE classes

MSU's Office of Continuing Education will offer two computer classes next week.

Introduction to Computers will be taught Tuesday through Thursday, May 24-26, from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Topics to be covered will include components of a computer system, operating a computer, printing with a computer, using disks and the operating system and what to look for when buying a computer. Dr. Marvin Albin, Department of Information Sciences chair, will be the instructor.

Word Perfect II (Version 5.1) will be taught from 1 to 4 p.m. on the same days. Students will be instructed on using merge, sort, select and working with graphics in desktop publishing. The instructor will be Gail Ousley, assistant professor of business education.

Both classes will be taught in 304 Combs building. The cost is $30 for either class.

To register, telephone 3-2077.

HAPPENINGS

Saturday, May 21

Baccalaureate and Associate Degree Nursing Programs pinning ceremony, Button Auditorium, 9 a.m.
Spring Commencement, Academic-Athletic Center, 1:30 p.m.

Monday, May 30

Memorial Day holiday.

Friday, June 3

SOAR, Button, 11:30 a.m.

Monday, June 13

Registration for Summer I, Crager Room, ADUC, 8 a.m.

SGA officers

Mark Robert Anderson, Georgetown, Ohio, junior, has been elected president of the Student Government Association.

In his new role, Anderson will serve as the student representative on the MSU Board of Regents.

The new president served as vice president of finance for SGA last year.

The slate of officers also include: William Roger Varney, executive vice president; Trisha Mae McHolland, vice president for administration; Robin Lynn Hayes, vice president for finance; Brian Allen Hutchinson, vice president for programming, and Holly Michelle Slone, vice president for publicity.

Relieve stress

If you feel irritable, overwhelmed and exhausted, try this simple five step solution: adjust your schedule and your priorities; simplify your lifestyle—be cool; cut back, delegate, say "no" sometimes; plan and take a restful vacation, and laugh more—its healthy and its contagious.

Staying fit

The Faculty and Staff Fitness Program will run throughout the summer. Various activities are scheduled for Monday through Thursday, 3-7 p.m. in 140 Academic-Athletic Center.

Registration will be held June 6, 3-7 p.m. and the cost is $30. Additional information is available by calling 3-5282.

Break time

This is the last issue of Update until the Summer I term begins. The next edition will be printed June 16 with the deadline June 14 for materials to be considered.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

AC begins on Sunday

Thousands of visitors are expected to visit the MSU campus for the 18th annual Appalachian Celebration, June 19-25. The weeklong festival, sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education, offers a variety of activities designed to enhance one's knowledge of Appalachian culture.

The week will be filled with music, storytelling, workshops, noontime and evening concerts, and arts and crafts demonstrations and market.

The celebration will begin with an opening reception on Sunday, June 19, at 6:30 p.m. in the gallery of the Claypool-Young Art Building. Minnie Adkins, well-known folk artist from Elliott County, will be presented the annual Appalachian Treasure Award at this time.

Adkins has been honored for her art on numerous occasions and received the Folk Art Society of America's Award for Distinction last year. With assistance from her husband Garland, Minnie, 59, has been carving animals from maple and bass wood for the last decade. She makes roosters, bright red foxes, black bears, Noah's arks, three-legged hogs and piglets. Also included among her 20 or so different animals is a "cowsum," a cross between a cow and a possum.

Her work is featured in major folk art collections of individuals and museums across the country. She has an exhibit in MSU's Kentucky Folk Art Center at the present time.

On tap for Monday, June 20, is the "Women of the Nineties-My How You've Grown!" luncheon and symposium. The day begins with registration at 9:30 a.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC.

Welcoming attendees will be Mrs. Bonnie Eaglin, wife of MSU's president. Keynote speaker for the noon luncheon, which will be held in the Commonwealth Room, ADUC, will be Janet L. Stumbo, Kentucky Supreme Court Justice.

Following the luncheon, the group will move to the Riggle Room where a panel of distinguished Appalachian women will discuss their careers, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Panelists include: Lois Baker, executive director of the Mountain Comprehensive Health Cooperative and a member of MSU's Board of Regents; Donna Damron, Pike County judge-executive; Kay Freeland, superintendent of Rowan County Schools, and Marsha Weinstein, executive director of the Kentucky Commission on Women. Shirley Hamilton, Office of Continuing Education director, will serve as moderator.

The cost of the luncheon and symposium is $20 per person or $10 for the luncheon only.

Lovers of traditional music will be treated to the sounds of bluegrass, gospel and other mountain melodies during the week. Kicking off the free noon concerts on Monday, June 20, will be bluegrass performer James Price on the lawn of Fields Hall. Later that day, Carl Hurley, who calls himself "America's Funniest Professor" will perform at 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall, in Baird Music Hall. Admission is $5 per person.

On Tuesday, June 21, country and traditional singer Leigha Knipp will perform at the noon concert. That evening, Scotty McKee will host a "Night of Traditional Dancing" on the plaza in front of Ginger Hall. The free program, which begins at 7 p.m., offers an exhibition and participation show in clogging and line dancing.

C. Roger Lewis and Friends, a group of Morehead-area traditional musicians, will take the stage on Wednesday, June 22, for the noon entertainment. The evening concert entitled "Gospel Sing," hosted by Lynwood Montell, will include a variety of gospel music beginning at 7 p.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium.

Unlimited Tradition, a group rooted in old country, will perform at noon on Thursday, June 23. That night's entertainment will be provided

(continued on back)

Streamlined

The accounting and budgeting system will be streamlined and improved beginning July 1 with the new year 1994-95 budgets. The new system includes two major components: on-line budget transfers and "pooling" of most operating accounts into one line.

The on-line budget transfer module is similar to the purchasing and PAR systems. On-line transfers will replace the current paper forms for all Fund 10 (Unrestricted) and Fund 11 (Restricted) accounts.

The "pooling" of basic operating expense object codes in fund 10 will eliminate the need for more than 50 percent of current budget transfers.

Budgeting of personnel expenditures, equipment and capital will not be changed from the current system. All operating expense codes, object 50200-50899, will be pooled into one line in the opening budget. Funds will be expended using the same object code system currently in place, and the system will automatically charge the proper object code and reduce the balance available in the pool accordingly. User departments will see a significant reduction in paperwork and in purchasing delays caused by line-item shortfalls.

Training sessions have been scheduled in the Reed Hall Auditorium for the week of June 27-July 1. All personnel who administer a budget, process or approve budget transfers must attend one of the following one-hour sessions: Tuesday, June 28, 3 p.m.; Wednesday, June 29, 8:30 a.m., or Thursday, June 30, 10:30 a.m.

Telemarketing gets results

An 11-week intensive telemarketing effort has resulted in $100,941 in pledges to the MSU Foundation, Inc., this spring.

"With 3,615 individual pledges, we expect to generate more than twice what we have with past phonathons," said Bill Redwine, acting director of Alumni Relations and Development.

"We have already received nearly half of the pledged funds and expect to see about 85 percent fulfillment rate," Redwine said. Last year's campaign resulted in approximately $30,000 being raised.

The majority of the funds raised will go to the University's Fund for Progress, while some of the donors specified that their money go to special programs, such as scholarships.

In past years, according to Redwine, MSU's telemarketing efforts have been added to the duties of existing staff members. "Our success rate this year is largely due to the addition of a full-time person to coordinate this program," Redwine said.

Mindy Clark of Morehead, an MSU alumnus, assumed the role of telemarketing coordinator earlier this year. She recruited and trained a pool of student callers, who telephoned Monday through Thursday evenings and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

People in the News

Dr. Mark Schack, professor of education, and his five-year-old son Brian, conducted a computer software presentation at the Annual Kentucky Council of Teachers of English/Language Arts Conference in Louisville, Feb. 25. The title was "Language Arts Computer Software for Reading Readiness." They also conducted a workshop at the Annual Kentucky Educational Technology Conference in Louisville, March 5. The title was "Software for the Prereading Child."

Dr. Jack C. Sheltnire, Department of HPER chair, recently presented the results of his research entitled "Outdoor Leader's Standards-A

Staff regent

Gene Caudill, an MSU employee since 1970, has been elected as the staff representative to the MSU Board of Regents.

The first MSU staff member to hold this distinction, Caudill, administrative superintendent in the Office of Physical Plant, will assume his three-year term on July 15 and will be officially sworn in later this summer.

The Kentucky General Assembly enacted legislation earlier this year providing for a staff representative to each of the eight regional universities in the state system.

Sixty percent of the 599 eligible voters participated in the June 1 run-off election between Caudill and Alan Baldwin, provisional studies coordinator in Academic Support Services. Caudill won with 195 votes to Baldwin's 166.

A two-time graduate of MSU, Caudill began his career at the University in the business office and later transferred to physical plant.

"All of us regional university employees should really appreciate the efforts of those legislators who supported this legislation and have given us a voice on our boards," he said.

"My primary goal is to see that the staff's views are well represented at board meetings," Caudill said. "I appreciate the staff giving me this opportunity and I will represent them to the best of my ability," he added.

Caudill said that he believed articulating the staff's concerns to the governing board was critical to the University's overall well-being. "I plan to work with the regents for the betterment of the University community," he said.

One continuing issue, according to the Rowan County native, will be the budget and the struggle by higher education and the state government for adequate funding of education.

Noting that he didn't believe one part of the campus should suffer more than another, Caudill said he would voice his constituents' concerns regarding the impact additional cuts might have on the University's staff.

Active in the Association of Physical Plant Administrators, Professional Grounds Management and the Kentucky Turfgrass Council, Caudill also serves on the board of the Morehead Federal Credit Union. He was a member of the steering group which organized MSU's Staff Congress and served four years as a representative.

New carrier

This being the fourth and final year of the University's contract with Commonwealth Life Insurance Company, the University recently requested proposals from 11 highly reputable life insurance companies, including Commonwealth.

Based upon proposals submitted, it appears there will be a new carrier when the present contract with Commonwealth expires on June 30. The new coverage will be comparable to the present coverage and there will be a reduction in premium costs. Details will be forthcoming.

National and International Summary," at the National Convention for the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (AAHPERD) in Denver, Colo.

Dr. Ron Mitchelson, Department of Geography, Government and History chair, and James O. Wheeler of the University of Georgia, co-authored an article entitled "The Flow of Information in a Global Economy: The Role of the American Urban System in 1990," for the "Annals of the Association of American Geographers," (March 1994), Vol. 84, No. 1.

AC... (continued from front)

by professional storyteller and Pike countian Andrena Belcher. She will perform "Stories from Home" at 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall. The admission is $5.

In concert on Friday, June 24, will be Corn Drinkers. This group blends a variety of traditional and bluegrass music within its performances. One of the favorite events is the gathering of Traditional Musicians scheduled for 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall that evening. It will feature many of the musicians who have performed at the free noon concerts during the week. Cost for the "Gathering" is $5.

The Celebration will close the concert events with Folk Fest '94 on Saturday, June 25. Music-lovers are invited to bring a picnic supper at 6 p.m. and enjoy performances of Appalachian folk music beginning at 8 p.m. on the lawn at Laughlin Health Building.

Folk Fest host Steve Young will be joined by Harvey Pennington and Glenn Buckner who perform as "Friends and Folk." Other performers will include: Jennifer Rose of Berea, Mitch Barrett of Berea, Raison D'Etre of Covington, Akoustikats of Cincinnati and Janean Freeman of Morehead.

A number of special events are planned throughout the week. These include exhibits in the Camden-Carroll Library, demonstrations at the Kentucky Folk Art Center, and workshops at numerous locations on campus.

In addition, tours have been scheduled to the Red River Gorge and Natural Bridge area, to Old Washington near Maysville, as well as to covered bridges in the region. Visitors also may view the Morehead and North Fork Railroad Exhibit in Clearfield on KY 519 or participate in Frontier Housing's 20th anniversary celebration and reunion.

For those interested in antiques and collectibles, an Antique Show and Sale will be held in Button Drill Room. The exhibit area will be open Wednesday through Saturday from 10:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. each day. Several local collectors and dealers will be displaying a variety of wares ranging from the 1700s to the 1940s.

Set for Saturday, June 25, will again be the large crafts show in the Laughlin Health Building. More than 100 craftspeople will be showing and selling handmade crafts from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. The admission is $2.

As a pre-celebration special, the Morehead Theatre Guild will present the musical "Meet Me in St. Louis," Friday through Sunday, June 17-19. Showtime is 8 p.m., except for a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday. Tickets are $8 for adults, $5 for students, and $3 for youngsters under 12 and may be purchased at the Bookhaven, LeChele's and Occasions in Morehead.

Additional information on the events is available by calling 3-2077.

Service pins

Service pins will be presented by President Ronald G. Eaglin on Thursday, June 16, at 2 p.m. in the Gold Room, ADUC, to those who have completed milestone years of service.

Completing 15 years are Nina Reynolds and Timmy Thornsberry.

Receiving a 10 year pin will be Carol Barber, Deborah Cline, Phyllis DeHart, Dave Egelston, Sherry Mays and Danice Nutter.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Library Automation Specialist, Camden-Carroll Library; hourly rate: $8.34; to ensure consideration, apply by June 22.

EXTERNAL

Learning Specialist (10-Month Position), Academic Services Center; 10-Month Salary: $17,747; to ensure consideration, apply by June 16.

Provisional Studies Coordinator (One-Year Appointment Ending June 30, 1995), Academic Services Center; annual salary: $24,810; to ensure consideration, apply by June 20.

Animal Care Technician (10-Month Position), Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by June 22.

Laboratory Supervisor (10-Month Position), Department of Physical Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by June 27.

Teacher Aide/Bus Driver (9-Month Position), Head Start Program; hourly rate: $6.56; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by June 30.

Assistant Professor of Secondary Education (Tenure Track, Search Extended), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by July 5.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

V-ball coach

Tracy Beaty has been named head women's volleyball coach. She comes to MSU from Lake Forest College in Lake Forest, Ill., where she served as head coach.

A three-time first-team All-American selection at NCAA Division III Illinois Benedictine College, Beaty also has been active with summer volleyball camps and the AAU Junior Olympic Volleyball program in Illinois.

Beaty earned a bachelor's degree from Illinois Benedictine in 1990. She spent two years as a graduate assistant in the health, physical education and recreation department at Oklahoma State where she earned a master's degree in 1992.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, June 16

Workshop: "Discipline of Non-productive Employees," Eagle Meeting Room, ADUC, 9-11:30 a.m.; repeated 1-3:30 p.m.

Friday, June 17

SOAR, Button, 11:30 a.m.

Art exhibit: Vince Torano, gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, through Aug. 5.

Sunday, June 19

Appalachian Celebration, runs through June 25; opening reception, gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, 6:30 p.m. (see separate story for additional activities).

Monday, June 20

Lady Eagle Basketball day camp, through June 24.

Wednesday, June 22

MSU Board of Regents meeting, Riggle Room, ADUC, 1:30 p.m.; committees to meet earlier in the day.

Saturday, June 25

Appalachian Celebration Arts and Crafts Market, Laughlin, 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

Save energy

Energy conservation was in the forefront of our minds in the 1980s. Fuel prices had skyrocketed and our pockets were feeling "the big pinch." Over time, the MSU community has gotten used to the fuel prices and our home, business and university budgets have been adjusted.

From 1986-1990, the MSU master electric meter, which serves the main campus, had a per year average of 26,660,800 KW of electric at a cost of $937,895. In 1993, the meter used 33,134,400 KW of electric at a cost of $1,036,077.74. The reduction of campus electric usage has been designated as one of the Physical Plant's 1994 goals. However, Physical Plant cannot accomplish this goal without the help and support of faculty, staff, and students. All conservation will translate into a savings of money for MSU. Don't be complacent, be conservative. Let's help MSU save money that can be used to further the mission of our University.

Here are some helpful hints:

*Turn off your office or room lighting when you leave the room for an extended period of time.

*Designate a person in your office or room to ensure all lights and equipment are turned off at the close of the work day.

*Be sure your computer, monitor, printer, terminal, typewriter, calculator, copying machine, radio, portable heater, fan, and coffee pot are turned off at the end of each work day.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

June 23, 1994

Vol. 14, No. 48

Fellowships are awarded

Ten MSU faculty members have been awarded Summer Fellowships of $500 each to defray the costs of special projects.

"In addition to these fellowships, MSU awards grants for research and creative productions during the academic year in an effort to encourage the professional growth of our faculty," said Dr. John C. Philley, MSU executive vice president for academic affairs.

"The fellowships are for summer projects which have the potential for contributing to the professional growth," he added.

MSU's 1994 Summer Fellows and their projects are:

Dr. Nancy Breaux, assistant professor of radio-television, for "Night Club Skin: A Portrait of Nancy King."

Dr. Andrew Glendening, assistant professor of music, for "The Reception of Trombone Passages and Their Extra-Musical Association in the Symphonies of Johannes Brahms."

Robert Hayes, associate professor of industrial education, for "Needs Assessment for Manufacturing Companies in Morehead State University Service Region."

Dr. Ishappa Hullur, associate professor of finance, for "Investment Tax Credit and Capital Formation."

Dr. Terry Irons, assistant professor of English, for "Verb Forms in Appalachian English."

Dr. Bruce Mattingly, professor of psychology, for "Role of Dopamine D3 Receptors in the Development of Cocaine-Induced Behavioral Sensitization."

Dr. David Olson, assistant professor of psychology, for "Cognitive and Interpersonal Correlates of Hostility."

Nancy Peterson, assistant professor of English, for "Understanding the Stakes of Writing Curriculum Reform in Pre- and Post-Secondary Education."

Dr. James Smallwood, associate professor of industrial education, for "Investigation of Technology, Science and Math Integration Activities."

Steve Tirone, associate professor of art, for "Ceramic Shell Bronze Casting."

Proposals for Summer Research and Creative Productions Fellowships are solicited by MSU's Research and Creative Productions Committee, which reviews them under University guidelines and makes funding recommendations to the executive vice president for academic affairs.

Dean leaving

Dr. Sylvester Kohut Jr., dean of the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences at MSU since January 1991, has resigned to take a similar position at Seton Hall University.

His resignation is effective June 30, according to Dr. John C. Philley, MSU executive vice president for academic affairs. The University has begun the process of a national search for his successor, Dr. Philley said.

During Dr. Kohut's tenure as dean, the college saw increases in enrollment and in external funding of special projects and grants. Also partnerships and alliances designed to help implement KERA initiatives were established with school districts, education consortia and the state Department of Education.

Also, all MSU teacher education programs were fully reaccredited recently by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education and the state Department of Education.

"We wish him well as he takes on his new role," said Dr. Philley.

Scholarship is endowed

MSU's chapter of Chi Omega social sorority has endowed a scholarship in the name of an alumnus who continues to serve the chapter.

The announcement of the Mary Jo Martin Netherton Chi Omega Scholarship Endowment Fund was made at the chapter's 25th anniversary celebration.

Making the presentation to MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin at the anniversary banquet was Sue Bell Simpson of Milledgeville, Ga., who founded in 1967 what was to become MSU's Chi Omega chapter in May 1969.

Now endowed with more than $15,000, the scholarship campaign was launched in 1989. The MSU Epsilon Theta Chapter of Chi Omega was the first Greek organization at the University to initiate such an effort through the MSU Foundation, Inc.

"The members of the Epsilon Theta Chapter are to be commended for selecting this mechanism to honor one of their own," said Keith Kappes, MSU's vice president for university advancement and executive vice president of the MSU Foundation. "This endowment will provide access to higher education for students in years to come."

Netherton, an associate professor of French at MSU, serves as personnel adviser to the sorority and is a two-time recipient of the University's Greek Adviser of the Year Award for her work with the chapter. Her work with the sorority, which began in 1969, also earned her Chi Omega's National Award for Excellence.

In addition to her service to the sorority, Netherton maintains an active role at the local, state, and national level as a presenter of educational programs on eating disorders. She also is involved in foreign languages enrichment programs for the public schools.

As a result of her commitment to service outside the classroom, Netherton is the 1994 faculty recipient of MSU's Distinguished Service Award.

Dr. Williams is appointed

Dr. Mariam T. Williams, director of MSU's Clearinghouse for School Services, has been named teacher certification officer for the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences.

In this new role, which she assumed earlier this year, Dr. Williams will be assisted by Sue Vencill.

Dr. Williams, associate professor in the Department of Leadership and Secondary Education, will succeed Dr. Barbara Neimeyer, associate professor of education.

"We are delighted that Dr. Williams has agreed to assume these additional responsibilities," Dr. Kohut said. "She has an outstanding reputation as an educator and I am confident that our students will continue to benefit from her expertise."

A veteran public school administrator and teacher, Dr. Williams came to MSU in 1990 from Nicholas County Elementary School where she was co-principal. She became director of the clearinghouse when it was established in 1992.

With more than 30 years experience as a teacher or administrator, Dr. Williams has taught at Maysville Community College, Midway Junior College, Kentucky State University, Paris High School, and Carroll County Elementary School. She earned an Ed.D. degree from the University of Kentucky with a major in instruction and supervision and an M.A. degree from Memphis State University where she majored in English.

Dr. Williams has earned several certificates including Superintendent, Director of Pupil Personnel, Elementary and Secondary Principal, Supervisor of Instruction and Standard and Provisional Secondary Teacher's Certificates. She is a member of Kentucky Professors of Educational Administration, Phi Delta Kappa, Kentucky Association of Teacher Educators and numerous other professional organizations.

A frequent presenter on the impact of the Kentucky Education Reform Act, Dr. Williams also is a published author and serves as a consultant on the primary program for area school systems.

People in the News

Larry X. Besant, director of libraries, and CCL librarians Greg Mitchell, Carol Nutter, Elsie Pritchard, Teresa Welch, Helen Williams and Betty Jean Wilson attended the American College and Research Libraries Kentucky Chapter/Kentucky Library Association Academic Section Spring Conference at Lake Barkley State Park, April 6-8. At the conference, Mitchell and Pritchard presented a session entitled "Document Delivery: A Cost Rationale." In conjunction with the conference, Besant attended a special meeting of the State Assisted Academic Library Council of Kentucky.

Adrian Swain, folk art curator, made a presentation at Sinclair Community College in Dayton, Ohio, April 26, as part of the first "Reach Across Dayton" conference, organized to promote cross-cultural understanding between African Americans and Appalachians. Noah Adams of National Public Radio was the keynote speaker.

Norma Jean Maguire, associate professor of interior design, along with several students attended a two-day marker sketching workshop at Eastern Kentucky University March 4-5. Don Gerds, an instructor in interior architecture and graphic design at Santa Monica College in Santa Monica, Calif., was the instructor. She also attended the Interior Design Educators Council Annual International Conference in San Antonio, Texas, April 6-9. The theme was "Design: A Multi-cultural Experience."

Dr. William Green, professor of government, received a $3,000 Quebec Studies Grant from the Government of Quebec to study "The Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and Minority Language Education Rights." He will use this grant, along with a 1994 Canadian Government Faculty Enrichment Grant for $3,000, to conduct field research in Canada this summer, introduce a Canadian perspective to his courses and prepare a journal article on Canadian minority language education rights.

Norma Jean Maguire and Carolyn Flatt, professors in the Department of Human Sciences, and MSU students Sonya Gaines, Chris Miller, Brian Lawson, Jennifer Davis, Erica Burden, Nancy Fannin and Tonya Sizemore visited the Biltmore House and Gardens near Asheville, N.C., April 30. They also visited the "Old City" in Knoxville, Tenn.

Dr. Lee Tyner, coordinator of the Veterinary Technology Program, and faculty and students in the program, hosted the annual workshop for the University of Cincinnati veterinary technicians, May 6, at Derrickson Agricultural Complex. Two faculty members and 25 UC students participated in the day's activities.

Paul Taylor, assistant professor of music, presented a paper at the Bluegrass Area Music Teacher's Association meeting on the University of Kentucky campus, May 14. The paper, entitled "The Advanced Piano Student—Their Care and Maintenance," proposed solutions to retention and development of piano students in independent studio settings.

(continued on back)

Requests will be accepted

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from Morehead State University's campus, will sponsor an all-request week for its popular locally-produced classical music program, "Afternoon Classics," beginning Monday, June 27.

Listeners may either mail their requests to the station or drop them off in "request boxes" located in public libraries in Bath, Elliott, Fleming, Lewis, Morgan and Rowan counties.

Input on music is always welcome, but the "All Request Week" offers more to listeners than just hearing their selection on the radio, according to Janean Freeman, "Afternoon Classics" host.

"On July 1, we'll draw a name from the requests that are submitted and that person will receive a copy of the National Public Radio Guide to Building a Classical Collection," she said.

"In addition, the winner will get three classical music CD's to start building such a collection," Freeman added.

Requests may be mailed to "Afternoon Classics," c/o WMKY, MSU, UPO 903, or dropped off at a participating public library.

Book sale

Camden-Carroll Library will hold a gigantic book sale on Saturday, June 25, in the Laughlin Health Building.

It is being held in conjunction with the Appalachian Celebration's Arts and Crafts Market which will run 9 a.m.-6 p.m. on that day.

An estimated 15,000 hardbound and paperback books will be available for purchase along with audio-visual materials. The sale, which will be held from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., will offer older materials and surplus items not needed by the library.

Prices will range from 25 cents to $5, with a majority of the items priced at 50 cents or less. Proceeds from the sale will be used to buy replacement materials for the library.

Inventory

The University Bookstore will be closed Thursday, June 30, and part of Friday, July 1, for inventory. No purchases may be made during these times.

The Bookstore will re-open after the audit is completed, probably around noon on Friday.

More People...

(continued from front)

Dr. Jack C. Sheltnire, Department of HPER chair, had an article entitled "Senior Games: A Moving Experience" published in Volume 30, Number 1, Spring 1994 edition of "Kentucky Journal of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance."

Tammy McMillan, instructor of horsemanship, attended the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association National Board of Directors meeting at Texas A&M University, April 28-29. She was designated chairman of the National Stock Seat Committee.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Laboratory Supervisor (10-Month Position), Department of Physical Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by June 27.

Teacher Aide/Bus Driver (9-Month Position), Head Start Program; hourly rate: $6.56; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by June 30.

Assistant Professor of Secondary Education (Tenure Track, Search Extended), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by July 5.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Fees include some meals

It has increasingly become the practice at conferences to provide some meals and include them in the registration fee. These can range from a simple continental breakfast to a full-course dinner.

State travel policy does not permit per diem meal claims when meals are furnished by a conference sponsor. Normally, a conference brochure will list those meals that will be included in the registration fee. MSU employees should place an asterisk by any meal provided from such an arrangement while in travel status. Light snacks and drinks served at break times would not constitute a provided meal.

A copy of the conference agenda must accompany the travel request. Meals can then be determined and an accurate travel request prepared. Travel reimbursement requests that do not include a copy of the conference agenda will be returned.

MSU will soon issue the fifth edition of the travel regulations. These will be distributed in workshops geared primarily to secretarial and clerical staff who prepare travel documents. The exact times will be announced later.

No charge

Directory assistance can be obtained on campus by simply dialing the Information Technology switchboard at 0 or 3-2221. Information Technology is able to provide directory assistance through CD-ROM which provides instant access to more than 90 million listings nationwide. Operator assistance information (555-1212) can cost the University up to 75 cents per call. By calling the switchboard, you can obtain the same information quickly and at no charge.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, June 23

Appalachian Celebration, continues through June 25 with concert, workshops, and exhibits, among the highlights.

Friday, June 24

Gathering of Traditional Musicians, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Saturday, June 25

Appalachian Celebration Arts and Crafts Market, Laughlin, 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

Folk Fest '94, lawn, Laughlin Health Building, picnic, 6 p.m./music, 7 p.m.

Monday, June 27

Workshop: "Resolving Conflict in the Workplace," East Room B, ADUC, 9 a.m.-noon; repeated 1-3:30 p.m. Presenter: Anthea Boarman, J.D.

Wednesday, June 29

SOAR, Button, 11:30 a.m.; repeated July 1.

Thursday, June 30

Workshop: "Principles of Supervision," East Room B, ADUC, 9-11:30 a.m.; repeated 1-3:30 p.m. Presenter: Anthea Boarman. SBDC Seminar: "Pre-Business Orientation," 310 Combs Building, 6-8:30 p.m.

Calling tips

All University employees placing long distance calls must use an authorization code. If you do not have one, it can be obtained through Vice Presidential approval. Each department should have a supply of forms to complete this process or they can be obtained from Information Technology at 3-5000.

Dialing procedures from most offices are:

Direct Dial-6 1 /10 digit telephone number / tone / Authorization Code;

Information-6 1 / (Area Code) 555-1212;

"800" Calls-7 1 /800-(7 digit telephone number);

Credit Card-6 0 /10 digit telephone number / tone / Credit Card number;

Local-7 / 7 digit telephone number;

AT & T-7 1 /800-321-0288 (credit card or operator), or 7 1 /800-225-5288 (credit card call only); Sprint Operator-7 1 /800-877-8000.

When calls are placed from on campus to one of the Extended Campus Centers (ECC), it is less expensive to place the call directly using an authorization code, than to place the call using the ECC "800" number.

Calls that are placed from campus should not be placed using one of the MCI long distance calling cards. Rates are lower if you will use your individual authorization code rather than your calling card.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL. MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

June 30, 1994

Vol. 14, No. 49

Daniel named interim dean

Dr. Richard W. Daniel, professor of education, has been named interim dean of MSU's College of Education and Behavioral Sciences.

His appointment, effective July 1, was announced by Dr. John C. Philley, MSU's executive vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. Daniel will serve through the 1994 fall semester or until a national search can be completed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Sylvester Kohut Jr.

Dr. Kohut, who had served as dean since 1991, accepted a similar post at Seton Hall University.

"I am exceedingly pleased that Dr. Daniel has agreed to accept this responsibility," Dr. Philley said. "He has a proven track record as an administrator and has the respect of his colleagues."

Dr. Daniel served from 1988 to 1990 as assistant to the vice president for academic affairs and then as interim chair of the Department of Leadership and Secondary Education.

A member of the faculty since 1976, the interim dean is a three-time graduate of North Carolina State University, where he earned the Doctor of Education degree. Active in adult and continuing education professional organizations, he is the author or co-author of several journal articles.

WMKY special

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from the MSU campus, will again offer a special line-up of programming for the Fourth of July.

At 6:30 p.m., listeners can tune into "Capitol Steps," with its unique brand of political commentary. This year, the "Steps" ensemble will reflect on our nation, where the government is undecided about weapons proliferation in North Korea, but has taken strong, decisive action on the imminent danger of movie popcorn. And, in a Singapore swing, "Cane Drops Keep Fallin' on My End," the group makes no judgement about caning as punishment for the boy accused of vandalism, but is unanimous on the issue of caning for his lawyer.

Composer-artists Jay Ungar and Molly Mason will present Civil War-era music on "Faded Coat of Blue" which airs at 7 p.m. Recorded at Gettysburg College, the concert honors the 130th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and features such songs as "Cumberland Gap," "Yellow Rose of Texas," "Faded Coat of Blue," "Ashokan Farewell" and others.

BOR approves 1994-95 budget

MSU's Board of Regents approved a $64.3 million operating budget for fiscal 1994-95 and approved locking-in housing rates for students who maintain continuous occupancy in University housing, effective this fall. This makes MSU the first state-supported institution with a fixed housing rate plan.

Any future housing rate increases will apply to first time MSU students and returning students who were not previously living in University housing.

The budget includes a 5 percent salary increase pool with 2 percent across the board, 2 percent in merit and 1 percent for promotions and other enhancements. According to Ray Pinner, MSU director of budgets and management information, 95 percent of the salary increases fall in the range of 2 to 10 percent.

In their meeting Wednesday (June 22), the regents extended MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin's contract through June 30, 1998, and increased his salary by 6 percent to $125,557.

At the outset of the meeting, Board Chair William R. Seaton presented Dr. Eaglin with a presidential medallion symbolic of the office. Designed by Dr. Roger Jones, professor of art, Dr. Eaglin's medallion incorporates Rowan County hardwood and has this inscription on the back:

"May your leadership be as inspiring and as durable as this black walnut from the hills of Rowan County, Kentucky."

In acting on the operating budget, the board approved the 1994-95 fee schedule which includes a $40 per semester tuition increase set by the Council on Higher Education, a $10 increase in the services portion of the student activity and services fee and increased student housing rates by approximately 3.7 percent.

Additionally, the regents approved consolidating the computer and student health fee with tuition and mandatory fees. For fall 1994, tuition and mandatory fees for an undergraduate in-state student will be $950. Also approved was the 1994-95 personnel roster.

The board approved revisions and amendments to a number of personnel policies ranging from teaching workload responsibilities and overload for faculty to probationary periods for classified staff; promoted 13 faculty members; awarded emeritus status to eight retired faculty and granted tenure as an associate professor of radio/television to the new chair of the Department of Communications.

The regents gave the go-ahead for MSU to enter into an agreement with the FIVCO Area Development District for the renovation and occupancy of the G.B. Johnson Economic Development Center in Ashland for expansion of the MSU-Ashland Area Extended Campus Center. The University already occupies the second floor.

In a similar move, the board authorized MSU to enter into a lease/purchase agreement with the Prestonsburg/Floyd County Public Properties Corporation for the construction of an approximately 30,000 square foot classroom and student services building for the Big Sandy Extended Campus Center. The site would be near the intersection of U.S. 23 and KY 114 adjacent to the soon-to-be developed Mountain Arts Center.

Currently the Big Sandy Extended Campus Center is located in the Highland Shopping Plaza. The new building would double the center's space.

Other board actions included adopting a resolution commending outgoing student regent Bryan Carlier for his services; approved amendments to the Student Government Association Constitution; accepted the third quarter financial report; and ratified a series of personnel actions, personal service contracts and external agreements.

People in the News

Alvin Madden-Grider, instructor of English, has been selected to work on the Language Arts Textbook Review Committee for the Kentucky Department of Education. The committee will meet to review and recommend textbooks for use in Kentucky high schools.

Dr. Phyllis Oakes, associate professor of education, and six MSU students attended the meeting of the Southern Early Childhood Conference (SECA) in New Orleans, April 13-17. Attending were Terri Lawson, Jennifer Sexton, Debbie Ison and Melanie Bevins, undergraduate students, and Carolyn Collins and Vicki Brown, graduate students who are primary teachers at Olive Hill Elementary School.

Dr. Roland Burns, director of the Ashland Area Extended Campus Center and professor of geography, was a guest speaker at soil conservation districts in Rowan and Greenup counties. He also gave programs on wildlife conservation at Ponderosa Elementary and Verity Middle Schools in Boyd County. In addition to his duties for MSU, he is vice-chairman of the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission.

Program notes Job vacancies

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from the MSU campus, will usher in the summer with some exciting changes in its program line-up, according to Wendy Nelson, WMKY program and production director.

"Bob and Bill," a decidedly unstuffy classical music program, makes its prime-time debut at 8 p.m. on July 4.

"Many listeners have responded enthusiastically to the show, which has been airing early Sunday morning," said Nelson. "In its new time slot, airing five nights a week, we hope even more listeners tune in for Bob and Bill's down-to-earth approach to classical music."

On Saturdays, WMKY will begin its day at 6 a.m. with a new offering, "Zorba Paster: On Your Health," which premieres July 9. A family physician, Dr. Paster teams up with co-host Tom Clark to offer listeners the latest medical news, tips for healthy living and a weekly heart-healthy recipe.

WMKY's jazz blues programming also has undergone some changes recently. "Morning Magazine" has become "Morning Jazz," with an emphasis on traditional jazz. Paul Hitchcock, WMKY music and traffic director, will host the program, moving from his evening duties as host of "Jazzline." Rob Ballou, a familiar voice on WMKY's "Community Calendar," has been named the new host for "Jazzline," which airs weeknights from 10 p.m. to midnight.

Other changes at WMKY this summer include some scheduling revisions. Broadcasts of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will move to Sunday mornings at 6 a.m. "E-Town," a program that mixes acoustic music with discussions about environmental issues will be heard Saturdays at 7 p.m. Also "The RCA Victor Hour," which highlights new classical releases from that record label, will now air at 2 p.m. on Sundays.

July 4 holiday

Morehead State University will be closed Monday, July 4, in observance of the Fourth of July holiday. There will be no classes or offices hours.

Classes and office hours will resume at 8 a.m. Tuesday, July 5.

EXTERNAL

Teacher Aide/Bus Driver (9-Month Position), Head Start Program; hourly rate: $6.56; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by June 30.

Auditor I, Office of Internal Audits; annual salary: to be determined; to ensure consideration, apply by July 18.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Education and Behavioral Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 15.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Science and Technology; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 17.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Coffee time

Beginning June 29, groups of employees will be invited to have coffee on Wednesday mornings with the Director of Human Resources. Invitations will be sent out for these coffee sessions. This will be an opportunity to meet fellow staff members and to raise issues of concern. Staff members are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity.

New calendar

The new academic calendar for the 1994-95 Fiscal Year is available to faculty and staff. They may be obtained from the Office of Human Resources in 101 HM.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, June 30

SBDC Seminar: "Pre-Business Orientation," 310 Combs Building, 6-8:30 p.m.

Friday, July 1

SOAR, Button, 11:30 a.m.

Monday, July 4

Independence Day holiday, no classes or office hours.

Sunday, July 10

Dulcimer Camp, campus, through July 16.

Monday, July 11

Registration for Summer II, Cragger Room, ADUC, 8 a.m. Classes begin July 12; session ends Aug. 5.

SBDC Seminar: "Developing a Marketing and Sales Plan," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Tuesday, July 12

SBDC Seminar: "Basic Pricing Strategies for Small Business," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Thursday, July 14

SBDC Seminar: "Advertising Strategies for Small Business Owners," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Alumni Association's "Day With The Reds," departure for Cincinnati, 4:30 p.m.

Plan approved

The Incentive Bonus Pay Program was approved at the June 22 Board of Regents meeting. Any questions regarding this program should be directed to your vice president or the Office of Human Resources at 3-2097.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

BEULAH HITE
RR 1

ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

July 7, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 1

Dulcimer camp offers concerts

The sounds of the dulcimer may be heard the week of July 10-16 as MSU conducts its annual "Dulcimer Camp in the Mountains."

Not only will there be workshops and classes for the more than 100 participants from all over the United States attending, but music lovers will have five opportunities to hear some of the nation's best dulcimer musicians.

Free public concerts will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday in Breck Auditorium.

The schedule includes:

Monday, July 11, Tull Glazener and Jim Sperry;

Tuesday, July 12, Maureen Sellers on the lap dulcimer and Anne Marie Begley on the hammer dulcimer;

Wednesday, July 13, Art and Marjorie Nicholas with Kendra and Bob Bence on hammer dulcimers;

Thursday, July 14, Sue Carpenter and Susan Trump on lap dulcimers;

Friday, July 15, Dulcimer camp participants and other special guests.

The "Dulcimer Camp in the Mountains," an offering of MSU's Office of Continuing Education, is coordinated by George and Rodi Jackson.

Appy artists display works

"Images from the Mountains: A Traveling Exhibit of Appalachian Artists" may be viewed now through July 15 on the fifth floor of the Camden-Carroll Library.

Now in its eighth year, "Images from the Mountains" is an annual competitive exhibition of work by established and emerging artists from Eastern Kentucky. The exhibit features a wide range of work reflecting the rich diversity of the region.

More than 20 pieces are on exhibit, including Cave Run Figure I, part of a series of works that originate from found natural forms, by Robert Franzini, professor of art.

"I have often walked the shoreline of Cave Run Lake and have discovered in the driftwood and rock a fascinating range of forms that are beautiful and evocative," the artist said. "These natural objects enliven my imagination and bring to mind figures, human gestures and expressive postures."

Many of the works are available for sale.

Registration for Summer II

Registration for Morehead State University's second summer term is scheduled from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday, July 11.

Also students taking classes at the extended campus centers in Ashland, Prestonsburg and West Liberty may register at those sites from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. the same day as main campus students.

Main campus students who did not advance register will develop class schedules in their major departments before going to Button Drill Room to pay fees.

Students registering on the main campus who do not have a declared major will go to 233 Allie Young Hall to schedule classes. Undergraduate students who have not previously been admitted or who were not enrolled Summer I will need to stop first at the Admissions Office, 301 Howell-McDowell. For graduate students, that stop will be 701 Ginger Hall.

Entry into the payment area in Button is based on an alphabetical system by last name. All fees should be paid at this time.

Schedule adjustments for students who pre-registered for Summer II will be processed in the students major department during this period as well.

Summer session tuition is $70 per credit hour for undergraduates and $103 for graduate students who are Kentucky residents. The tuition rate for out-of-state students is $195 per undergraduate credit hour and $287 per graduate credit hour.

Out-of-state students enrolled at off-campus sites pay in-state tuition.

Course directories with complete listings of classes and registration information will be available at registration. Additional information may be obtained by calling the Office of Registrar at 2008.

People in the News

Dr. David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education at the Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, attended the Annual American Indian Celebration on May 6-7. The event, sponsored by the East Tennessee Indian League, included demonstrations on traditional dancing, storytelling, archery and tomahawk throwing.

Dr. Robert Meadows, professor of management, received a $3,500 grant from the U.S. Small Business Administration to fund the Small Business Institute which would consult

Area SOARs to be held

MSU will host Summer Orientation, Advising and Registration (SOAR) programs at two off campus locations: Tuesday, July 19, at the Ashland Extended Campus Center and Thursday, July 21, at the Big Sandy Extended Campus Center in Prestonsburg.

University representatives will be on hand from 1 until 6 p.m. to answer questions about MSU's academic programs, financial aid and student housing. Registrations for fall also will be processed.

"We are providing services to students in our service region," said Charles Myers, director of admissions. "On this day, graduate and undergraduate students may register for classes to be held on campus or at one of the off-campus locations."

Advisers from all academic areas will be available to assist students in their scheduling needs, Myers noted. "After deciding what classes they wish to take, students may complete the total registration process, including paying fees and having an I.D. card made," he said.

Those who wish to attend the SOAR program should register with MSU's Office of Admissions or the extended campus center by Friday, July 15, so that adequate materials will be available. To complete the registration process, students will need to pay a $50 deposit fee which will be credited to their bill for the fall semester.

"If you are thinking about transferring to MSU or would just like some information about the University, we are making this opportunity available to you," Myers said. The agenda will be a "drop by" anytime occasion and no appointments will be necessary, he added. Students currently registered will not be able to complete the drop/add process at this time.

with small businesses utilizing undergraduate and graduate students and faculty consulting teams to address problems identified by regional businesses.

Dr. Robert W. Grueninger, professor of HPER, was recently published in "Teaching American Indian Students" (1994), edited by Jon Reyhner and published by the University of Oklahoma Press. His chapter is entitled "Physical Education."

(continued on back)

Calendar info

Publications and Printing Services is gathering information on campus events for the 1994-95 Desk Calendar.

All information to be included must be sent to UPO 1102 or taken to Printing Services at 7 Allie Young Hall no later than July 11. The information will not be accepted by phone.

More People...

(continued from front)

Larry X. Besant, director of libraries, and CCL librarians Greg Mitchell, Elsie Pritchard and Helen Williams attended the annual membership meeting of the Kentucky Library Network in Lexington, May 16. Pritchard was elected to the KLN Board of Directors. Williams serves as chair of the Membership Committee.

Don B. Young, Sr., assistant professor of art, presented a workshop entitled "Photography for Writers: More Than Pretty Pictures," at the Kentucky Professional Communicators annual spring conference in Louisville, June 4.

Dr. Wanda L. Staley, assistant professor of counselor education, presented on the topic "University Counselor Educators Role in Career Counseling" as a member of a state-wide team of presenters at Kentucky Tech in Lexington, April 19; MSU, May 3, and Ashland Community College, May 4.

Dr. Christopher Gallaher, Department of Music chair, was notified by the American Society for Composers, Authors, and Publishers (ASCAP) that one of his compositions, entitled "Forever is a While," was performed several times in Austria in 1992.

Roma Prindle, assistant professor of music, was the guest conductor and soloist for the 50th Anniversary Concert of the Harlan Musettes. More than 200 alumni of all women's choral group gathered for the event, June 17-18.

Larry Besant, director of libraries, presented a paper and participated in a panel discussion with the Library Management Division at the annual conference of the Special Libraries Association in Atlanta, Ga., June 13.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Auditor I, Office of Internal Audits; annual salary: $21,296; to ensure consideration, apply by July 18.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Education and Behavioral Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 15.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Science and Technology; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 17.

Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Surplus sale

MSU will hold a public surplus sale of student dorm room refrigerators on Thursday, July 14, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. or all items are sold, at the tobacco warehouse on U.S. 60 East. The cost will be $20 plus 6 percent sales tax.

All refrigerators will be sold as is with no implied guarantee as to working condition. There will be no testing prior to the sale. Purchased items must be removed from the area following the sale and MSU employees will not be available to assist with the removal.

Purchases will be limited to two refrigerators per person from starting time until 1 p.m. There will be no limit for the remainder of the sale.

Additional information is available from Ron Jones, Properties Manager, at 5224.

HAPPENINGS

Sunday, July 10

Dulcimer Camp, campus, through July 16; evening concerts.

Monday, July 11

Registration for Summer II, Button Drill Room, 8 a.m.; classes begin July 12, session ends Aug. 5.

NAHS Continuing Education Program: "Pediatric Assessment," Commonwealth Room, ADUC, through July 17.

SBDC Seminar: "Developing a Marketing and Sales Plan," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Tuesday, July 12

SBDC Seminar: "Basic Pricing Strategies for Small Business," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Thursday, July 14

SBDC Seminar: "Advertising Strategies for Small Business Owners," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Alumni Association's "Day With The Reds," departure for Cincinnati, 4:30 p.m.

Sunday, July 17

Band Camp, Jayne Stadium, through July 22.

Tuesday, July 19

SOAR, Ashland Extended Campus Center, 1-6 p.m.

SBDC Seminar: "Advertising Strategies for Small Business Owners," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Thursday, July 21

SOAR, Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, 1-6 p.m.

SBDC Seminar: "Cash Flow and Budgeting Analysis," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

92A1-1-8-6

Morehead
State University

Update

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

July 14, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 2

Program gets a makeover

For the Department of Communications, a state-mandated effort to eliminate academic program duplication systemwide, has served to strengthen the department's offerings.

"For MSU, it was the opportunity to provide our communications students with a broader, more diversified focus," said Dr. Judy Rogers, associate vice president for academic affairs and dean of undergraduate programs.

Four specific degrees in mass media-related programs as well as the non-teaching B.A. in speech/theater were among those deleted by the Board of Regents at its June meeting.

"There has been some concern that we aren't offering media-related programs any longer, but that's just not the case," Dr. Rogers said. "We now will offer a Bachelor of Arts degree in communication with areas of emphasis in journalism, electronic media arts, advertising/public relations and communication. The electronic media arts has two options: production/management and news."

"The new degree was carefully developed by the faculty. It includes a core of required communication courses and related courses, plus those courses required for the student's area of emphasis," Dr. Rogers said.

"For example, among the courses required is one dealing with the fundamentals of geography," she added. Others are basic courses in such areas as history and government.

"The restructuring of this degree program really translates in a stronger liberal arts background which is complemented by specific knowledge in the student's career field," Dr. Rogers said.

Whether the prime focus of a student's education should be in mass media courses or in a related field such as government or economics has long been debated, according to Dr. Janet Kenney, Department of Communications chair.

"What the faculty has done is create a program that offers answers to both arguments," Dr. Kenney said. "Students who choose one of the options under the B.A. degree in communication will be well-prepared for careers in today's world."

Students enrolling this fall will enter the new program while students already in the programs affected will have sufficient time to complete those programs.

In response to the Governor's Higher Education Review Commission, MSU is taking action on 35 degree programs which will result in elimination of 10 while the rest will be consolidated or merged into other programs.

Changes made in 800 number

Beginning August 1, the University will activate a new "800" number of 800-585-MSU1 (6781) that will be routed to the Office of Admissions, Graduate Admissions and the Office of Alumni Relations and Development. This number is accessible for both in-state and out-of-state callers. The existing 800 numbers will no longer be available after August 1.

This change will necessitate offices currently using the University's "800" number in publications and advertisements to publish the University's main switchboard number, 606-783-2221, or a specific department number. The new "800" number should be referenced only as it relates to Undergraduate and Graduate Admissions, and Alumni and Development activities.

Inspections

National Guardian Security has scheduled inspections of fire alarms on the campus for July 25 through August 12.

Inspections include testing of all alarm systems which require sounding horns and/or bells in all campus facilities.

Questions, comments or concerns about your facility's inspection should be directed to Gary Messer, Occupational Safety and Health coordinator at 3-2179.

People in the News

The Veterinary Technology Program co-sponsored the Buffalo Trace Veterinary Medical Association Morehead Clinic Day. Dr. C. Lee Tyner, program coordinator, lectured veterinarians on chemical restraint and field anesthesia in the horse, while Dr. Scott W. Rundell, associate professor, and Vivian S. Barnes, instructor, lectured veterinary technicians on practical blood transfusion which included a wet lab.

Adrian Swain, Folk Art curator, received a $1,975 grant from the Institute of Museum Services to provide an independent evaluation of the Folk Art Center's collections care and management priorities.

Jonell Tobin, MSU-Licking Valley Extended Campus Center director, received a $59,051 grant from the Kentucky Workforce Development Cabinet to provide adult basic education, general education development services and literacy

MSU names editor-in-chief

Mickey Morgan Russo, formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, has joined the University Advancement staff as director of Publications and Printing Services.

As the University's editor-in-chief, she coordinates all aspects of MSU's publications and also oversees the University's printing services operation.

She is responsible for quality control of the University's publications and for ensuring the appropriate use of MSU's graphic symbols.

"Ms. Russo brings a varied background in publications management, a proven record of creativity and outstanding organizational skills to her new position," said Judith Yancy, director of Institutional Relations. "She will be a tremendous asset to our efforts."

Russo's most recent professional experience was as publications coordinator for the Center for Women's Studies at the University of Cincinnati, where she coordinated, wrote and/or edited, photographed, designed and computer produced all publications.

She earned both her bachelor's and master's degrees in English at UC where one of her graduate concentrations was editing/publishing.

In addition to designing publications for various arts groups, she is a former art and dance critic for WGUC Radio. Russo also is a published poet and author of art and dance criticism for several art journals.

services to Morgan, Menifee, Elliott, Magoffin and Wolfe counties. Dr. Harold Rose, professor of education, received a $80,226 grant from the same organization to provide the services to Bath, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Menifee, Morgan, and Rowan counties through MSU's Adult Learning Center 1993-94 ABE/GED.

Dr. George Tapp, Department of Psychology chair, received a $18,034 grant from the Workforce Development cabinet/Carl D. Perkins Comprehensive Rehabilitation Center to provide additional services for the rehabilitation center in Thelma.

Debra Mattingly, child development lab director, received grant monies totalling $53,095 from seven Head Start programs to provide on-site training and instruction in a laboratory and classroom setting for paraprofessional teachers of pre-school children.

(continued on back)

More People...

(continued from front)

Dr. Scott Rundell, associate professor of veterinary technology, recently completed a two-week clinical rotation in small animal surgery at the University of Missouri College of Veterinary Medicine during which he worked with several board certified veterinary surgeons and surgical residents to learn new surgical techniques.

Dr. David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education at the Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, attended a KTIP Update Training workshop at the Morehead Holiday Inn, June 23-24. Dr. Timothy Miller, director of Kentucky Teacher Internship Program at MSU, coordinated the two-day event.

Dr. Harold Rose, professor of education, received two grants from the Kentucky Workforce Development Cabinet: $3,000 to conduct an evaluation of the first year adult education for Homeless Program and $3,000 to expand existing services at the MSU Adult Learning Center to provide family literacy to students with children.

Demonstration

On Tuesday, July 19, Cabletron Systems will have its LAN VAN on the MSU campus. This van has been equipped with a fully functional local area network and provides an ideal opportunity to see all of the "behind the scenes" components that make up a network.

Personnel from Cabletron will be available to answer questions and perform demonstrations of the equipment and software. The van will be located on University Blvd., outside ADUC and will be available from noon until 4 p.m.

Anyone wanting to better understand some of the latest in networking technologies should see the demonstration. Additional information is available from Mike Eldridge in the Office of Information Technology, at 3-2675.

You can help!

If you have an abundance of "Campus Only" envelopes, you can assist others by returning them to Printing Operations in Allie Young Hall. Both the large and small sizes are needed.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Administrative Secretary, Office of Athletics; hourly rate: $8.34; to ensure consideration, apply by July 20.

EXTERNAL

Auditor I, Office of Internal Audits; annual salary: $21,296; to ensure consideration, apply by July 18.

Coordinator, MSUCorps, Academic Services Center; position is contingent upon receipt of federal grant funds and is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by July 22.

Assistant Coordinator, MSUCorps, Academic Services Center; position is contingent upon receipt of federal grant funds and is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by July 22.

Communications Technician I, Office of Technical Services; hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by July 28.

Accounting Assistant, Office of Accounting and Budgetary Control; hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by July 29.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Marketing (Tenure Track), Department of Management and Marketing; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 1.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, July 14

SBDC Seminar: "Advertising Strategies for Small Business Owners," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Alumni Association's "Day With The Reds," departure for Cincinnati, 4:30 p.m.

Sunday, July 17

Band Camp, Jayne Stadium, through July 22.

Tuesday, July 19

UCA II, campus, through July 22;

UCA III, July 26-29.

SOAR, Ashland Extended Campus Center, 1-6 p.m.

SBDC Seminar: "Advertising Strategies for Small Business Owners," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Thursday, July 21

SOAR, Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, 1-6 p.m.

SBDC Seminar: "Cash Flow and Budgeting Analysis," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Sunday, July 24

Band Camp II, campus, through July 29.

Friday, July 29

MSU Writing Project, ADUC, through July 30. Poetry Alive!, Crager Room, ADUC, 7 p.m.

Sunday, July 31

Band Camp III, campus, through Aug. 5.

Friday, Aug. 5

Summer II ends.

Saturday, Aug. 6

Radiological Technology Program Pinning Ceremony, Duncan Recital Hall, Baird Music Hall, 11 a.m.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Morehead
State University

Update

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

July 21, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 3

Repairs are scheduled for Button

Repairs are under way this summer to MSU's Button Auditorium and are scheduled to be completed by late September.

The work includes replastering and painting the ceiling in the auditorium as well as replacing the molded house lighting.

Low bidder on the approximately $69,000 project was Pack's, Inc., of Morehead, according to Steve Leitz, building maintenance supervisor, Office of Physical Plant.

Improvements to the facility's air conditioning system also are planned during the 1994-95 fiscal year.

While the auditorium will be back in use this fall, the renovations have necessitated relocating large group events normally held there at the start of the academic year. This includes holding two separate back-to-back convocations for faculty and staff rather than the traditional joint session.

The convocations are scheduled in Duncan Recital Hall on Wednesday, Aug. 17, at 10 a.m. for staff and 2:30 p.m. for faculty.

Dating back to 1929, Button Auditorium houses the Department of Military Science, a 1,367-seat auditorium and a 8,900-square-foot drill room.

Demonstration of software

Tom Jones, president of Scanning Products Incorporated, will present a demonstration of some of the company's software products on Monday, July 25.

Among the software programs included are: Bubble Publishing Form Shop, which provides a user with a wealth of Optical Mark Recognition (OMR) forms designed to be used in data collection; Bubble Publishing Surveys and Tests, which allows the user to create OMR bubble sheets, and Bubble Publishing Designer, which allows users in locations remote from the scanner to create and print OMR sheets.

The demonstration will be held at 1 p.m. in 110 Ginger Hall. Anyone interested in seeing this technology is invited to attend.

Additional information is available from Dr. Jeanne Osborne, director of the Office of Institutional Planning, Research and Effectiveness.

Writing conference/workshop

A newspaper columnist, professional writers and a drama troupe will be among the presenters when MSU hosts its second annual Writing Conference/Workshop on Friday and Saturday, July 29-30 on the campus.

The conference, entitled "Developing the Writer Within," is designed for teachers of all grade levels and will include hands-on workshops while emphasizing writing across the curriculum.

Registration begins at 8 a.m. in the Adron Doran University Center. Barry Lane, Portfolio Network leader in Vermont schools, will be the keynote speaker. He will discuss instructional techniques that have been tested in the classroom. In addition to published essays, he has written three books: "Discovering the Writer Within," "After THE END: Teaching and Learning Creative Revision," and "Writing as a Road to Self-Discovery."

A professional writer, Lane received a master's degree in creative writing from the University of New Hampshire. After moving to Vermont in 1987, he coordinated the Open Doors Literacy Project which published six books by new adult readers that are now being used as literacy materials in 28 countries.

During the afternoon session, Bill Bishop, associate editor and columnist for the Lexington Herald-Leader, will address the general session. With a careful observation of Kentucky's educational system, Bishop is a strong supporter of the Kentucky Education Reform Act (KERA).

Concluding the day's activities will be Poetry Alive!, a drama troupe which demonstrates interactive strategies that can be used in any classroom setting. The performance, designed to bring an appreciation of poetry to audiences through participation and fast paced dramatic interpretation, is appropriate for all age groups. There is no charge for the program which begins at 7 p.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC.

Highlights for Saturday include a luncheon with readings by former Morehead resident and author Elaine Fowler Palencia. She will share some of her early writing experiences and read from her latest book "Small Caucasian Woman," a collection of stories about a community in Eastern Kentucky.

A resident of Champaign, Ill., Palencia has been honored for her published works in short fiction, non-fiction and poetry. For "Small Caucasian Woman," she received the Society of Midland Authors Fiction Prize Nomination in 1993, PEN/Faulkner Award Nomination in 1993 and Best Appalachian Book Nomination from the Appalachian Writers Association in 1994. Awards for other works include a second place in poetry in the 1994 Willow Review Awards and an honorable mention in the Billie Murray Denny Poetry Contest in 1992.

Palencia is an honors graduate of Vanderbilt University where she received a B.A. degree in English.

The preregistration fee for the conference is $15 and includes the Saturday luncheon; on-site registration is $20 and does not include the luncheon. Additional information is available from Dr. Mary Anne Pollock, conference coordinator, at 3-2839.

People in the News

Jennifer Cady, coordinator of Upward Bound, received a $380,227 grant from the Kentucky Department of Education to fund the 1994-95 Upward Bound program and an additional $15,499 grant for food costs for the 90 participants.

Dr. William Green, professor of government, received a $3,000 grant from the Quebec Ministry of International Affairs to develop an upper division, undergraduate course on the "Supreme Courts and Civil Liberties in Canada and the United States" which compares and contrasts the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and the U.S. Bill of Rights, which will be based on Canadian research.

C. Glen Colburn, assistant professor of English, received a $3,600 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to participate in a summer seminar at the University of Pennsylvania to enhance an understanding of significant ideas and texts in the humanities.

Dr. Jeanne Osborne, director of Institutional Planning, Research & Effectiveness, attended the 36th Annual Forum of the Association for Institutional Research for management research, policy analysis and planning in New Orleans, May 28-31. She attended a pre-conference workshop on Total Quality Management and convened a special interest group meeting of the Kentucky Association of Institutional Research (KAIR) attendees to plan a Kentucky fall meeting.

(continued on back)

Staying fit

While it is easy to forget an exercise routine during vacation times, MSU's Fitness Program is ongoing throughout the summer months.

Some of the activities offered during the weekdays are:

Weightlifting, MW, 4 p.m.

Muscle toning, MW, 4:45 p.m.

Circuit training, TTH, 4:45 p.m.

Water aerobics, MTWTH, 5:30 p.m.

Step aerobics, TTH, 7 p.m.

Personal training, MTWTH, by appointment.

Also in the planning stages are volleyball and basketball pick up each afternoon.

Anyone interested in these activities, may call 5-4103 and leave a message for pro-rated rates and updated information.

More People...

(continued from front)

Dr. Dan Connell, Academic Services Center director, received a $84,105 grant from the Tenco Private Industry Council to fund the 1994 Morehead Occupational and Academic Retreat (MOAR) program and a $6,974 grant from the Kentucky Department of Education to supplement food costs for the 27 MOAR participants. He and Rodney Mitchell, Destination Graduation coordinator, received a $76,329 grant from the Council on Higher Education/U.S. Department of Education to fund the Destination Graduation program for the summer and an additional $9,285 grant to serve an additional 10 student participants and tutors as well as an $800 Bell South supplemental for the program.

Carolyn D. Taylor, associate professor of human sciences and president of the Kentucky Home Economics Association, met with the 1994-95 KHEA Executive Board in Elizabethtown, June 13. The meeting focused on transition of officers while revision of bylaws and the impending organizational name change were topics of discussion.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Coordinator, MSUCorps, Academic Services Center; position is contingent upon receipt of federal grant funds and is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by July 22.

Assistant Coordinator, MSUCorps, Academic Services Center; position is contingent upon receipt of federal grant funds and is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by July 22.

Communications Technician I, Office of Technical Services; hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by July 28.

Accounting Assistant, Office of Accounting and Budgetary Control; hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by July 29.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Marketing (Tenure Track), Department of Management and Marketing; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 1.

Independent Living Program Assistant, Department of Psychology-detached services in Frankfort; position may be renewed on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 2.

Independent Living Program Monitor, Department of Psychology-detached services in Frankfort; position may be renewed on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 2.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Business; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 24.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, July 21

SOAR, Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, 1-6 p.m.

SBDC Seminar: "Cash Flow and Budgeting Analysis," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Sunday, July 24

Band Camp II, campus, through July 29.

Friday, July 29

MSU Writing Project, ADUC, through July 30.

Poetry Alive!, Crager Room, ADUC, 7 p.m.

Sunday, July 31

Band Camp III, campus, through Aug. 5.

Monday, Aug. 1

Art Exhibit: Margery Amdur, gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, through Sept. 16; 8 a.m.-4 p.m., weekdays.

Tuesday, Aug. 2

District VI Science and Math Alliance, Lappin Hall, 8:30 a.m.

UCA IV, Wetherby; through Aug. 5

SBDC seminar: "Providing Quality Customer Service," 310 Combs, 3 p.m.

Thursday, Aug. 4

SBDC seminar: "Managing Employees," Eagle Dining Room, ADUC, noon.

Ashland SBDC: "Insurance Needs for Small Businesses," 207-15th Street, 2nd floor, 1 p.m.

Saturday, Aug. 6

Radiological Technology Program Pinning Ceremony, Duncan Recital Hall, Baird Music Hall, 11 a.m.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

92A1-1-8-12

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

July 28, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 4

Jazz studies is approved

MSU's Department of Music has been notified that another of its programs has received final approval from the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM).

MSU's jazz studies area of specialization under the Bachelor of Music degree is now fully approved, according to Dr. Christopher Gallaher, department chair.

Four years ago, the department received accreditation for its graduate and undergraduate music programs from NASM through the year 2000. "At that time, the jazz studies specialization was recognized, but full approval of that one area was delayed until a sufficient number of students had graduated from it," said Dr. Gallaher.

"This now means that the full gamut of our department's degree offerings are unconditionally accredited by the NASM. 'It's basically the seal of 'good housekeeping' from our peers,' the department chair added.

Headquartered in Reston, Va., NASM is composed of more than 550 schools in the United States and Canada.

At the undergraduate level, the department offers the Bachelor of Music Education degree for teachers; a Bachelor of Arts degree with a music major within a liberal arts curriculum; a Bachelor of Music degree with specializations in performance, theory/composition and jazz studies.

At the graduate level, master's degrees are offered in both music education and performance.

Currently MSU's Department of Music has approximately 140 undergraduate majors and a full-time faculty of 24.

MSU earns KEA awards

WKMY 90.3 FM, public radio from MSU's campus, has earned two awards from the Kentucky Education Association (KEA) for excellence in education programming during the 1993-94 school year.

Tom Lewis, WKMY news and public affairs director, and Dr. John Modaff, assistant professor of speech and a volunteer producer for the station, both earned honorable mentions in the competition.

This is the second consecutive year that the pair have received KEA School Bell Awards. According to Mary Ann Blankenship, KEA

(continued on back)

Department has new chair

Dr. Janet R. Kenney, a former administrator at Valdosta State University and Murray State University, has assumed the post as chair of the Department of Communications at Morehead State University.

Dr. Kenney had been telecommunications coordinator and an associate professor at Valdosta since 1992 and served as manager of Murray State's public radio station, WKMS-FM, for eight years previously.

"Dr. Kenney is a highly qualified administrator with sound management skills," said Dr. John Kleber, dean of the Caudill College of Humanities. "Her familiarity with our state higher education system also will be an asset as she leads the department," Dr. Kleber added.

Dr. Kenney earned her B.S. degree in radio/television/film and theatre from Temple University, a master's degree from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, and the Ph.D. degree from the University of Oregon. She also participated in a Harvard Executive Management Seminar in 1980 and is a graduate of Leadership Murray.

The new department chair is a former producer and programming coordinator for WEKU-FM and was the first chair of the Kentucky Public Radio Council. Her professional experience includes classroom teaching as well as directing for theatre and television.

A founding board member of the Alliance for Career Development in Eugene, Ore., she was secretary for Public Radio in Oregon and is a former board member of the Radio Research Consortium.

As a director of the Radio Council, National Association of Educational Broadcasters in 1977-79, she served as a convention planner and as both host and participant for several panels.

Dr. Kenney, who holds academic rank as associate professor, has been active in various nonprofit theatre and social services organizations. She also has written grants that have been funded by local, state and federal agencies in various areas of communication as well as in the area of public health.

Housing rates to be frozen

Morehead State University has taken a step to help families hold down escalating college costs by freezing housing rates for students who stay in campus residence halls throughout their college careers.

Effective this fall, students will know their housing costs will remain the same as long as they maintain continuous occupancy.

Any future housing rate increases will apply to first time students or returning students who were not previously living in University housing.

"This action should take a bite out of the ever-rising costs of higher education and also should make residence hall living more attractive to students, especially those on tight budgets," said Mike Mincey, MSU vice president for student life.

"We are the only state-supported institution in Kentucky with such a plan, although this strategy has been used by private institutions nationwide for a number of years," Mincey added.

Students moving to another residence hall will pay the rate for the new hall which was in effect when they qualified for the locked-in rate and that, depending on their hall choice, could increase or decrease their housing costs, according to the vice-president.

The rate freeze policy applies only to traditional residence halls and not to family housing. Residence hall rates at MSU this fall will range from a low of $655 to a high of $775 with the average being between $690 and $710.

Also going into effect this fall at MSU is another housing policy which the Board of Regents approved last year. It requires students with fewer than 60 hours to reside in University housing and participate in a minimum dining club program. "We've provided for a number of exceptions to this requirement," Mincey said.

Exempted are students 21 years old or older, single parents, married students, students with documented medical reasons and veterans.

"Based on nationwide studies, it appears that students who live in residence halls do better and graduate sooner than those living off campus," Mincey said. "On-campus living also encourages students to be more involved in campus activities."

People in the News

Michael Seelig and Ted Marshall, professors of social work, received a $4,166 grant from Eastern Kentucky University to fund the MSU Training Resource Center.

Dr. Wayne Willis, associate professor of education, and Joy Gooding received a $33,000 grant from the Kentucky Department of Education to present a professional development series on teaching and assessing writing in all content areas.

Catherine Riley, Retired Senior Volunteer Program coordinator, received a $4,975 grant from the United Way of the Bluegrass to support the RSVP program in Montgomery County.

Excellence...

(continued from front)

director of communications, there has been a trend over the past few years toward more awards being won by public broadcasters.

Lewis was recognized for moderating live broadcasts of a series of forums with Rowan County school superintendent candidates.

"While live coverage of news events is not unusual, we felt these forums were groundbreaking because they allowed a larger number of Rowan County residents to evaluate the candidates via radio rather than traveling to the forum site," Lewis said.

Also honored was Dr. Modaff for his ongoing series "Focus on Education." Two specific programs, "MSU-KERA Update Conference" and "How Students Have Changed in the Last 20 Years," received praise.

"Education should be challenging, not mysterious. Focus seeks to highlight the educational changes while hoping to de-mystify educational practices," Dr. Modaff said.

Lauding WMKY's involvement in addressing education reform through the broadcast media was Doug Jones, chairman of the Rowan County Community Committee for Education.

"At long last, parents are seeing accountability for their tax dollars," Jones said. "Business, industry and government have joined together with school system employees for total community involvement in this informational process. This improved public understanding is a direct result of the coverage by Mr. Lewis and Dr. Modaff's 'Focus on Education' program," he added.

Also praising Lewis' efforts was Jeanette Fannin, Rowan County Education Association president, who said:

"Not only has Mr. Lewis demonstrated excellence in reporting school-related news, but also for indepth analysis of various school-related issues such as fiscal management, new programs and personnel matters."

Lewis is the producer of local and regional news inserts during NPR's "Morning Edition" on Monday through Friday from 6 to 9 a.m. He also may be heard as producer/anchor of "WMKY Newsroom" on weekdays at 4:30 p.m.

"Focus on Education" airs the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Modaff's commentary, "My Turn," can be heard during "WMKY Newsroom" on Wednesdays.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Counselor, Commonwealth Educational Opportunity Center, Academic Services Center; annual salary: $21,296; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 3.

Residence Hall Area Coordinator, Office of Student Housing; annual salary: $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 3.

EXTERNAL

Communications Technician I, Office of Technical Services; hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by July 28.

Accounting Assistant, Office of Accounting and Budgetary Control; hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by July 29.

Independent Living Program Assistant, Department of Psychology-detached services in Frankfort; position may be renewed on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 2.

Independent Living Program Monitor, Department of Psychology-detached services in Frankfort; position may be renewed on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 2.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Business; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 24.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Car wash

Non-traditional students will hold a car wash on Thursday, Aug. 4, at Wal-Mart, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the Non-Traditional Students Emergency Loan Fund.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Aug. 4

Car Wash, Wal-Mart, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., to benefit the Non-traditional Student Emergency Loan Fund.

SBDC seminar: "Managing Employees," Eagle Dining Room, ADUC, noon.

Ashland SBDC: "Insurance Needs for Small Businesses," 207-15th Street, 2nd floor, 1 p.m.

Friday, Aug. 5

Summer II ends.

Saturday, Aug. 6

Radiological Technology Program Pinning Ceremony, Duncan Recital Hall, Baird Music Hall, 11 a.m.

Tuesday, Aug. 9

SEDC seminar: "Computer Applications for Small Businesses," 110 Ginger Hall, 5 p.m.

Monday, Aug. 15

Orientation for new students, through Aug. 17.

Tuesday, Aug. 16

SBDC seminar: "Software Applications for Small Businesses," 110 Ginger Hall, 5 p.m.

Comedian Henry Cho, Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, 9:15 p.m.

Wednesday, Aug. 17

Residence halls open for fall semester.

Opening of School Activities: Faculty/Staff Continental Breakfast, Camden-Carroll Library, 8:15-9:45 a.m.; Convocation: Staff at 10 a.m. and Faculty at 3:30 p.m., Duncan Recital Hall, and college faculty meetings, 10 a.m.;

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

92A1-1-8-15

Morehead
State University

Update

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Aug. 4, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 5

Convocations, other events to launch year

Morehead State University will kick off the 1994-95 academic year on Wednesday, Aug. 17, with a variety of convocations and other meetings.

The day begins with a Continental Breakfast for all faculty and staff set from 8:15 to 9:15 a.m. in Camden-Carroll Library.

The repair work under way at Button Auditorium has made it necessary to schedule separate convocations for staff and faculty this year.

The staff convocation is set for 10 a.m. in Duncan Recital Hall. New staff members will be introduced and MSU President Ron Eaglin will speak. There will be minimal staffing of offices so that as many staff members as possible may attend.

College faculty meetings are scheduled at 10 a.m. as follows: Science and Technology, 419 Reed Hall; Humanities, 111 Claypool-Young; Business, 208 Combs, and Education and Behavioral Services, Breckinridge Auditorium.

Division, department and office meetings begin at 1 p.m. The faculty convocation will be at 2:30 p.m. in Duncan Recital. New faculty members will be introduced and Dr. Eaglin will speak.

Fall registration will be conducted Thursday and Friday, Aug. 18-19. Also on tap those two days is an orientation for new faculty and professional staff from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Also Friday President and Mrs. Eaglin will host a campuswide picnic on Fields Hall lawn from 6:30 to 8 p.m. (Rain site is Button Auditorium.)

Newcomers and old hands alike won't want to miss the annual street dance/ice cream fest for faculty, staff and students on Sunday from 8 to 10 p.m. Held on the president's lawn and University Boulevard, it is hosted by the Student Government Association as well as President and Mrs. Eaglin.

On Sept. 10, an all-day trip into the service region for new faculty is scheduled followed by a picnic at the President's Home and football game between the Eagles and East Tennessee. Spouses are invited to the picnic and football game.

On Sept. 17, new professional staff members and spouses will be guests of the Eaglins at the Eagles vs. Tennessee State football game.

Tips for f/s registration

Faculty/staff members who go to Laughlin Health Building to complete the processing of tuition waiver forms, either their own or for spouse or dependent, should enter the arena through the northwest door (nearest Public Safety).

Faculty/staff must show the door attendant copies of their tuition waiver form.

After entering, the next stop is the fee adjustments area, station 8. A Human Resources representative will verify pertinent information and authorize the form.

Also at station 8, an Accounting and Budgetary Control representative will assess fees and the tuition waiver credit will be applied to the appropriate account.

If the waiver covers all fees that are owed, the process will be completed. If not, individuals with tuition and fees not covered will need to go to through a cashier line to complete payment.

While the process should move relatively quickly at any time, the optimum hours are from 8 to 11 a.m. and from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Retirement

A retirement reception for veteran physical plant employee Freeman Hamilton will be held Friday, Aug. 5, beginning at 2 p.m. in the Rice Maintenance Building.

A staff member since June 1, 1968, Hamilton currently was construction coordinator. His retirement was effective July 31.

All of Hamilton's friends and associates campuswide are encouraged to attend.

People in the News

Dr. Judy Willard, associate professor of agriculture sciences, received a $48,000 grant from the Council on Higher Education to support the Higher Education Equine Trust Summer Program.

Adrian Swain, artistic director & curator of the Kentucky Folk Art Center, has received a $3,950 Arts Development grant from the Kentucky Arts Council to be used as general operating support for the center during the 1994-95 fiscal year.

Pauline Young named editor

Pauline Young, an MSU employee since 1975, is now News Bureau Editor for the Office of Institutional Relations.

Formerly staff writer, Young has been part of the Institutional Relations staff since 1985. In her new role, she is responsible for much of the day-to-day operation of the News Bureau, coordinating the gathering and writing of hometown releases and directing student writers.

She also edits the faculty/staff newsletter and coordinates the scheduling of photo assignments. Additionally, she assists the director in long range planning for the office.

"Mrs. Young is a valuable member of the advancement team and I am pleased to recognize her commitment to our efforts," said Judith Yancy, director of IR.

A two-time MSU graduate, Young recently earned eight awards, including five first places, in the Kentucky Professional Communicators competition.

Faculty survey

The Camden-Carroll Library has received the "National Faculty Salary Survey" for 1993-94, compiled by the College and University Personnel Association. It is available at the Library's Reserve Desk.

Taking a break

This is the last issue of Update until the beginning of the fall semester classes. Publication will resume on Aug. 25; the deadline for materials to be considered is noon Tuesday, Aug. 23.

William DeBord, librarian I for the East Kentucky Health Science Information Network, received a $2,000 grant from the University of San Francisco, Quito, Ecuador, to provide computer searches of online databases for its library.

Dr. Barbara Niemeyer, associate professor of education, received a $37,769 grant from the Kentucky Department of Education to develop and implement a teacher preparation program in interdisciplinary early childhood education.

Registration slated for fall

Registration for MSU's 1994 fall semester will be conducted Thursday and Friday, Aug. 18-19.

Students who did not advance register will develop class schedules in their major departments before going to Laughlin Health Building to pay fees.

Students who have not declared a major will go to 233 Allie Young Hall to schedule classes. Undergraduate students who were not previously admitted or were not enrolled last spring or during either summer term, will need to stop first at the Admissions Office, 301 Howell-McDowell. For graduate students, that stop will be 701 Ginger Hall.

Registration will be from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. both days and entry time into the payment area is based on an alphabetical system by last name. All fees should be paid at this time.

Part-time students taking classes on the main campus also will process their schedules in their major department and may pay fees in Laughlin between 5 and 6 p.m.

Registration at MSU's Ashland Area, Big Sandy and Licking Valley Extended Campus Centers and the Appalachian Graduate Consortium will be from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 18, and also from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 19.

The registration period for classes at Jackson, Maysville, Mt. Sterling, and Whitesburg will be from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 18, only.

All MSU classes, including evening and off-campus, will begin meeting Monday, Aug. 22.

Schedule adjustments will be processed Aug. 18-19 in the student's major department. Beginning Monday, Aug. 22, drop-adds will be processed in the Office of the Registrar, 201 Ginger Hall. The drop-add fee goes into effect Monday, Aug. 29.

Course directories with a complete listing of classes and registration information are available from the Registrar's Office.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Head Start Teacher (two positions), Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; Positions are contingent upon funding and renewable upon an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 15.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Adult Learning Center; annual salary, $21,296; position is contingent upon funding and is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 18.

Farm Laborer, Department of Agricultural Sciences; hourly rate, $5.67; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 22.

Customer Service Representative, Office of Publications and Printing Services; hourly rate, $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 22.

Graphic Designer, Office of Publications and Printing Services; annual salary, $21,296; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 31.

Accountability and Performance Funding Coordinator (One year appointment), Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs; annual salary, $28,325; Position may be renewable contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 1.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Aug. 4

Car Wash, Wal-Mart, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., to benefit the Non-traditional Student Emergency Loan Fund.

SBDC seminar: "Managing Employees," Eagle Dining Room, ADUC, noon.

Friday, Aug. 5

Summer II ends.

Saturday, Aug. 6

Radiological Technology Program Pinning Ceremony, Duncan Recital Hall, Baird Music Hall, 11 a.m.

Tuesday, Aug. 9

SBDC seminar: "Computer Applications for Small Businesses," 110 Ginger Hall, 5 p.m.

Monday, Aug. 15

Orientation for new students, through Aug. 17.

Tuesday, Aug. 16

SBDC seminar: "Software Applications for Small Businesses," 110 Ginger Hall, 5 p.m.

Comedian Henry Cho, Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, 9:15 p.m.

Wednesday, Aug. 17

Residence halls open for fall semester, 8 a.m.

Opening of School Activities: See story on front.

Thursday, Aug. 18

Registration for Fall Semester, in departments and Laughlin Building, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; also Aug. 19; classes begin Aug. 22.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Morehead
State University

Update

August 11, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 6

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff
JOB VACANCIES

EXTERNAL

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Education and Behavioral Sciences. To ensure consideration, apply by August 15, 1994.

Head Start Teacher (Two Positions), Dept. of Elementary, Reading and Special Education. Positions are contingent upon funding and renewable on an annual basis. To ensure consideration, apply by August 15, 1994.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Science and Technology. To ensure consideration, apply by August 17, 1994.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Adult Learning Center. Annual Salary: $21,296. Position is contingent upon funding and is renewable on an annual basis. To ensure consideration, apply by August 18, 1994.

Farm Laborer, Dept. of Agricultural Sciences. Hourly Rate: $5.67. To ensure consideration, apply by August 19, 1994.

Customer Service Representative, Office of Publications and Printing Services. Hourly Rate: $7.45. To ensure consideration, apply by August 22, 1994.

Coordinator, Adult Learning Center (9-Month Position, Extension to 10-Month Appointment is Dependent Upon Additional Funding), Adult Learning Center. Position is renewable on an annual basis. Salary: $18,608. To ensure consideration, apply by August 23, 1994.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Business. To ensure consideration, apply by August 24, 1994.

Associate Degree Nursing (ADN) Campus Laboratory Coordinator (Nine-Month, Part-Time), Dept. of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences. To ensure consideration, apply by August 25, 1994.

Programmer/Analyst I, Programmer/Analyst II, or Senior Programmer/Analyst, Office of User Services. Annual Salary: $24,810-$31,839 (depending on level). To ensure consideration, apply by August 26, 1994.

Graphic Designer, Office of Publications and Printing Services. Annual Salary: $21,296. To ensure consideration, apply by August 31, 1994.

Accountability and Performance Funding Coordinator (One-Year Appointment), Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. Annual Salary: $28,325. Position may be renewable contingent upon funding. To ensure consideration, apply by September 1, 1994.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

92A1-1-8-19

Morehead
State University

Update

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

August 18, 1994 Vol. 15, No. 7

JOB VACANCIES

EXTERNAL

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Adult Learning Center. Annual Salary: $21,296. Position is contingent upon funding and is renewable on an annual basis. To ensure consideration, apply by August 18, 1994.

Farm Laborer, Dept. of Agricultural Sciences. Hourly Rate: $5.67. To ensure consideration, apply by August 19, 1994.

Customer Service Representative, Office of Publications and Printing Services. Hourly Rate: $7.45. To ensure consideration, apply by August 22, 1994.

Coordinator, Adult Learning Center (9-Month Position, Extension to 10-Month Appointment is Dependent Upon Additional Funding), Adult Learning Center. Position is renewable on an annual basis. Salary: $18,608. To ensure consideration, apply by August 23, 1994.

Dean (Tenure Track), College of Business. To ensure consideration, apply by August 24, 1994.

Associate Degree Nursing (ADN) Campus Laboratory Coordinator (Nine-Month, Part-Time), Dept. of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences. To ensure consideration, apply by August 25, 1994.

Programmer/Analyst I, Programmer/Analyst II, or Senior Programmer/Analyst, Office of User Services. Annual Salary: $24,810-$31,839 (depending on level). To ensure consideration, apply by August 26, 1994.

Graphic Designer, Office of Publications and Printing Services. Annual Salary: $21,296. To ensure consideration, apply by August 31, 1994.

Accountability and Performance Funding Coordinator (One-Year Appointment), Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. Annual Salary: $28,325. Position may be renewable contingent upon funding. To ensure consideration, apply by September 1, 1994.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in Howell-McDowell 101.

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Aug. 25, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 8

Fall semester opens with convocations

A reaffirmation of commitment on the part of all employees was stressed by MSU President Ronald Eaglin in his address to staff and faculty at the opening of school convocations.

Repairs to Button Auditorium, MSU's 1,300-seat auditorium, made it necessary for Dr. Eaglin to speak separately to the groups in Duncan Recital Hall.

"It's not what we say, but what we do that makes a difference in our own lives and the lives of others," the president said.

He reminded his audiences that it was incumbent on each faculty and staff member to share the responsibility for preparing students to be productive members of society.

"We are always reading about the breakdown in the family, church and other institutions. I wonder if the same factors are affecting our faith and loyalty in the workplace," he said.

"What does MSU mean to us?" he asked rhetorically and noted that it provides us jobs, career opportunities and an economic livelihood. "Working at MSU also should provide a sense of meaning and purpose for each of us individually and for all of us collectively," he added.

Challenging his listeners, Dr. Eaglin said, "At times our relationships may get strained, but creating a satisfying and productive workplace is all of our responsibility. It must begin with an internal respect for ourselves and our colleagues."

He reminded them of the increased external demands for change, that offering programs outside the main campus is now a necessity rather than an option, and that massive environmental changes are creating more stress than tension.

"No longer is it enough to be computer literate, but we must now be computer proficient to do our jobs," he said. "It's not the same workplace of a decade ago; expectations and standards have changed."

Telling them that what was happening in the workplace was not limited to higher education but also hit workers in every sector, the president added, "Even our children seem to run from one senseless activity to another without interaction."

He said that he was counting on the senior faculty and staff, those who remembered the "mom and pop" philosophy of operation that permeated the workplace of the past along with the sense of belonging and the feeling that loyalty was rewarded, to commit themselves to helping others understand the true meaning of loyalty and the true mission of MSU.

"One of the advantages of being in a small rural setting such as this, is that a real sense of belonging can be developed. It is incumbent that you develop and possess the collective spirit that many of your predecessors had. The common goal for all of us is to make the University a better place to work and live," he said.

He told those who've been here five to 10 years that they must know more than just their job; that they must learn about their colleagues and the heritage of MSU. "Commit yourself to this learning process, commit yourself to the common goal," he urged.

"We must learn it is all right to disagree, that it is all right to express our views to supervisors. We can only get better by being honest, but we must respect others and their opinions too," he said. "We must be accepting of others as outside pressures will necessitate that we work together."

At the outset of the speech, the president spoke of his pride in the University's accomplishments last year. He cited several including the gains in

(continued on back)

New faculty

MSU has added a number of new faculty since the close of the spring 1994 semester. Among them are:

Susanne Bounds and Patti C. Swartz, instructors of English; Annette S. Graham, assistant professor hotel/management; Michael L. Finch, assistant professor of accounting; Deeno A. Golding, instructor of art; and Elizabeth Mesa-Gaido and Gary Craig Mesa-Gaido, assistant professors of art;

Janet R. Kenney, chair, Department of Communications and associate professor; Gary B. LaFleur and Cathy L. Thomas, assistant professors of speech; Cathy L. Barlow, chair, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education; James A. Knoll, associate professor of education; and Mbibong I. Nchami, Nola F. Newsome and Sunday C. Obi, assistant professors of education;

Carol A. Mauriello, lecturer in English; Robert D. Royer and Xiaobo Hu, assistant professors of English; John F. Ernst, assistant professor of history; Fragano S.J.

Ledgister, assistant professor of government; Chun Lin, assistant professor of history; William R. Grise and Ahmad Zagari, assistant professors of IET; Art Kazmierczak, assistant professor of CIS; Robert C. Magee, assistant professor of business education; Kelly M. Dowdy, instructor of marketing; and Marietta Daulton, Thomas Diamantes and Sharon F. Hudson, assistant professors of education;

Robert L. Lorentz, associate professor of marketing; John P. Boardman and Vivian Flora Cyrus, assistant professors of mathematics; Kenneth Siple, assistant professor of music; Marcia J. Cooper, assistant professor of radiologic technology; Edward F. Breschel and Constance L. Hardesty, assistant professors of sociology; Susanne M. Rolland, assistant professor of social work, and Danny B. Shope, instructor of sociology.

Welcome to MSU!

Retiree dies

Victor A. Venettozzi, 77, a retired associate professor of English, died of an apparent heart attack on Aug. 4.

A Morehead resident, he joined the faculty in 1960 and taught English and linguistic courses until retiring in 1987.

He was a two-time graduate of Eastern Kentucky University where he also had taught and was named a distinguished professor in 1959. He earned an additional master's degree from MSU and also studied at the University of Kentucky and the State University of Iowa.

The author of several short stories, he was a member of the American Legion and the National Education Association.

He is survived by his wife, Vasile, a retired professor of music; two sons and a daughter.

People in the News

Beverly McCormick, College of Business interim dean, received a $5,700 grant from the Kentucky Board of Auctioneers to develop a model program creating a course in auctioneering that will provide education prior to licensing and further professionalism of auctioneers as part of their continuing education.

Dr. Brian Reeder, associate professor of biology, received a $11,441 grant from the state Division of Fish and Wildlife to complete a fertilization study at Grayson Lake.

Dr. John C. Philley, Executive Vice President of Academic Affairs, and Dr. Vic

Newcomers

Since May several new staff members have joined the MSU family. Among them are:

Betty L. Karrick, assistant coordinator, MSU Corps, Academic Services Center; Dawn L. Colbert, accounting assistant, Accounting and Budgetary Control; Russell L. Caudill and James E. Chapman, custodians; Darryl Bullock, Ronald L. Burton, John W. Gilliam and Peter J. Lee, assistant football coaches;

Christopher G. Roberson, golf course manager; Joy F. Cecil, clerk/typist, Leadership and Secondary Education; Agnes I. Younce, custodian, MSU-Big Sandy ECC; Charlotte A. Hall, literacy coordinator, MSU-Licking Valley ECC; Sherry A. Curtis, continuing education assistant, Nursing and Allied Health Sciences-BSN Program;

Darrell L. Smith, academic computing consultant I; Chando R. Mapoma, and Michael E. Pennington, admissions counselors; Donna J. Caudill, auditor I, Office of Internal Audits; Taunya Y. Jones, telephone operator/receptionist, Office of Network Services; Deonna L. Scott, postal clerk; Rodney L. Coffey, public safety officer; Marcia D. Hairston and Barbara K. Lowery, residence hall directors; Betty R. Cowsert and Laura L. Dixon, clerk/typists, Registrar's Office; Rita K. Calhoun, lab supervisor, Physical Sciences; Sandra L. Newton, buyer, Purchasing; April D. Haight, recycling coordinator; Steve Swim, counselor, Upward Bound-TRIO; Jennifer L. VanSickle, women's softball coach, and Tracy E. Beaty, women's volleyball coach.

Welcome to the campus!

Carrier change

Effective July 12, MSU began acquiring its Educator's Legal Liability coverage from United Educators, a higher education self retention group. The change was initiated to take advantage of broader coverage issues, particularly relevant to institutions of higher education.

According to Bill Rosenberg, risk manager, "It is United's philosophy to look for exposures and umbrella such risks, realizing that if one institution or its faculty and staff are at risk, all are at risk. This is opposed to the industry standard of creating substantial exclusions."

United Educators was founded specifically to serve the higher education community and names specific academic and administrative actions as "covered categories" under its wrongful acts provisions.

Faculty and staff members will be receiving an individual mailing outlining the terms of coverages under this new policy. Any questions should be directed to Rosenberg at 3-2007.

Gym closed

The Academic-Athletic Center gym floor will be closed Aug. 22 through Sept. 5 for refinishing. No activities will be scheduled during this time.

Health hint for well-being

(The following is a health tip from the Office of Human Resources.)

We all feel down sometimes. That's normal. But if people are so troubled that they lose sleep and don't function well on the job or at home for more than two weeks, they should seek help from their doctor, a psychotherapist or a counselor.

At any given time, at least one in twenty people are seriously depressed. People who suffer from depression miss even more days of work than those with heart disease. Often, they don't realize they are depressed. Instead, they go to regular doctors complaining of symptoms like fatigue, recurring headaches or backaches or sudden weight loss or gain.

Most depressed people get better in six months to two years, without any treatment. But early detection and treatment with medication and brief psychotherapy, if needed, can prevent most depressed people from hitting bottom. It helps speed their recovery to feeling well, concentrating fully, making decisions and working productively.

Self-help can stop a blue mood from turning into deep depression. Try these proven tips: Exercise; Spend time with family and friends; Try to keep your troubles in perspective; Remind yourself of your unique successes; Reward yourself with a treat, but avoid alcohol; Best of all, take action and try to solve the problem that's bothering you the most.

Broadcasts

SportsNet, Inc., a partnership effort of WMOR-Radio, Morehead, and WCMI-Radio, Ashland, has been awarded radio broadcast rights for Morehead State University football, men's basketball, women's basketball, and baseball.

The partnership has secured rights for the next two years and has two, one-year renewal options.

"We're very pleased to be working with Morehead State in this capacity," said WMOR General Manager Jim Forrest. "Dicky Martin of WCMI and I have long been associated with the University, and we hope to provide the best possible outlet for Eagle and Lady Eagle athletic events. We're working hard to reach as many markets as possible and are pleased with the response we have received to this point."

Markets already confirmed are Ashland, Grayson, Maysville, Morehead, Paintsville and West Liberty.

Code changed

The deduction code description for the group term life insurance provided by the University changed effective with the monthly and bi-weekly payroll checks released on Aug. 5. The deduction had been listed on the check stub as Commonwealth Life Ins. or Commonwealth Life Ins. Sec. 125. It was changed to Group Term Life or Group Term Life Section 125 due to the change in the carrier providing the coverage. The amount of insurance coverage that an employee was enrolled for did not change. This also applies to the dependent coverage provided through the group life carrier.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Secretary Specialist, Academic Services Center, Educational Opportunity Center; hourly rate: $7.45; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 31.

EXTERNAL

Programmer/Analyst I, Programmer/Analyst II, or Senior Programmer/Analyst, Office of User Services; annual salary $24,810-31,839 (depending on level); to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 26.

Graphic Designer, Office of Publications and Printing Services; annual salary, $21,296; to ensure consideration, apply by Aug. 31.

Accountability and Performance Funding Coordinator (One-year appointment), Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs; annual salary, $28,325; position may be renewable contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 1.

Museum Shop/Volunteer Coordinator, Folk Art Center; annual salary: $14,267; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 8.

Maintenance Technician III-Plumbing, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $9.22; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 16.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Correction

Some of the Fiscal Year 1994-95 calendars, provided by the Office of Human Resources, contained an error regarding the December closing. The break will begin Friday, Dec. 23, instead of Thursday, Dec. 22. Please check your calendar and make the necessary changes.

Calendars

Just a reminder that the Office of Printing Services still has desk calendars available at a cost of $2.50 each. Please note, however, that night classes will meet on Nov. 22, the Tuesday preceding Thanksgiving Break. The entry on the 1994-95 desktop calendars is incorrect.

HAPPENINGS

Tuesday, Aug. 30

Comedienne Renee Hicks, Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, 9:15 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 1

Workshop: "Conflict Resolution," East Room B, ADUC, 9-11 a.m. Presenter: Anthea M. Boarman, J.D.

Saturday, Sept. 3

Morehead State Invitational Volleyball Tournament, Academic-Athletic Center, 2 p.m.; also Sept. 4.

Monday, Sept. 5

Labor Day; no classes or office hours.

Tennis results

Results from MSU's summer tennis league, sponsored annually by MSU's intercollegiate women's tennis program, have been announced.

Winners in the Men's A Division were Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin, MSU president, first; Dr. Robert Meadows, MSU professor of management, second, and Johnny Webb of Prestonsburg, third.

According to Chih Loo, MSU women's tennis coach and league coordinator, Dr. Eaglin was undefeated with a 6-0 record.

Taking first place in Men's Division B was Jeff Eaglin of Morehead with a 7-0 record. Second place went to Charles Tingle of Morehead with Joshua Knipp of Morehead in third.

In the women's division, no winners were declared because of insufficient match play.

Opening (continued from front)

the salary gap, a record year with $6.3 million in grants from outside sources, the start of the Heritage Project and the funding of the Lappin Hall project-the only higher education capital project to be funded in this biennium.

The Breckinridge Hall project will be the priority in the next biennium, according to the president. It is slated to house MSU's distance learning component which will open the information highway to the citizens of Eastern Kentucky.

Reminding his audience of the importance of MSU's past heritage, he told them that the Heritage Project will be a means to celebrate the significance of the efforts of those who have served the University.

New tax rate

The Morehead City Council passed an ordinance raising the City Payroll and Profit Tax rate from 1 to 1 1/2 percent, effective July 1. The tax withholdings from wages earned after this date will reflect the increase.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Sept. 1, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 9

MSU part of AmeriCorps

Gov. Brereton C. Jones announced recently that Morehead State University will be one of six sites in the state to share $1.4 million in federal funding through a new national service initiative, AmeriCorps.

Signed into law last fall by U.S. President Bill Clinton, AmeriCorps is designed to address a wide variety of the nation's needs in such areas as education, public safety, human service and the environment.

Participants receive a $7,640 living allowance, free health care benefits, child care benefits when eligible and an educational award of $4,725. The education award may be used for post secondary education or to pay back a student loan.

The University's project, MSUCorps, will provide tutors and mentors for "high risk" students in eight Eastern Kentucky counties in its service region: Bath, Carter, Lewis, Magoffin, Menifee, Montgomery, Rowan and Wolfe. MSU will be working closely with 17 Family Resource and Youth Services centers in those counties.

First year funding for MSUCorps, a three-year effort, will be $239,177 in federal monies with an additional $266,122 in cash and gifts in kind from the participating centers and the university.

"MSU is proud to be selected as a project site," said MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin. "We view this as a win-win program benefitting those who serve and those who are served. It's an innovative attempt to solve a variety of social problems at the grassroots level."

Dr. Dan Connell, director of MSU's Academic Services Center and the MSUCorps program, described the project saying, "Our intent is to increase the chances of student success in school by involving the whole family in the education process through tutoring, mentoring, and parental involvement programs for high risk students and their parents."

"MSUCorps project members will work with personnel at the Family Resource and Youth Services centers who will identify the high risk students. Ultimately our tutors/mentors will connect the students with mentors in their own community," he added.

"Currently we are recruiting a coordinator, assistant coordinator and 18 tutors/mentors from the areas to be served. Ideally they will commit to one year of service and then either pursue their education goal or seek employment," Dr. Connell said.

"We expect to announce the names of the MSUCorps coordinator and assistant coordinator as well in the very near future," he added.

"The support of the school superintendents and the Family Resource and Youth Services centers personnel has been tremendous. We appreciate the enthusiasm they have already shown for the program," Dr. Connell said.

The Kentucky Community Service Commission, a 25-member agency created by Gov. Jones, is responsible for overseeing the state's AmeriCorps program which is funded by the Corporation for National Service. The KCSC is chaired by Franklin Jelsma with David Crowley as director.

According to KCSC officials, the AmeriCorps funding to Kentucky is nearly twice the state's formula allocation.

Correction

In the listing of new faculty in last week's Update, one name was listed incorrectly.

Xiaobo Hu is an assistant professor of government.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

OVC banner

For the second consecutive year, MSU has earned one of the Ohio Valley Conference's most prestigious awards, the 1993-94 Academic Achievement Banner.

The banner is given annually to the school whose athletes have the highest combined grade point averages compared to the average for the entire student body. Morehead State's athletes had a combined grade point average of 2.74, which was not only the best in the conference compared to the entire student body, but also was the top overall grade point average among the nine league schools. Six Morehead State student-athletes achieved perfect 4.0 grade point averages and eight others had GPA's above 3.8.

Since the OVC began awarding the Academic Achievement Banner eight years ago, this is the fourth time that MSU has been the winner. The school also won the award in 1987, 1988, and 1993.

Dan Beebe, OVC Commissioner, will present Morehead State with the banner during the Eagles' home football game against Tennessee Tech on Sept. 24.

Retiree dies

Hazel Dean Hicks Whitaker of Morehead, 74, a retired faculty member and administrator, died Aug. 26 of an apparent heart attack.

A former associate professor of education and director of testing services, she retired from MSU in 1976. She also was a former principal, teacher and guidance counselor.

She earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from MSU and a specialist degree from University of Kentucky.

Organist for Northcutt Home for Funerals for nearly 20 years, she was a deacon at the First Baptist Church, where she also had been church musician and held other leadership roles.

Preceded in death by her husband William M. Whitaker, Jr., she is survived by a son, William M. Whitaker III, a former MSU administrator and faculty member, now of Statesboro, Ga.; a sister; five grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

People in the News

Dr. Richard Miles, director of bands, has been appointed to serve on the State Music Committee of the Kentucky Department of Education (KDE). The committee will serve as a communication link with state-wide music educators and will consult and advise on issues relating to music instruction/assessment and the Kentucky Education Reform Act.

Dr. Harold Rose, professor of education, received a $8,867 grant from the Kentucky Workforce Development Cabinet to provide Adult Basic Education, General Education Development and Literacy services to Bath, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Lewis, Menifee, Morgan and Rowan counties and a $26,896 grant from the Cabinet to develop a system for translating the results of an earlier needs survey into effective training materials. He also received a $11,637 grant from the Kentucky Cabinet for Human Resources to increase parental involvement in Eastern Kentucky schools through family resource and youth service centers.

Ernestine Winfield, Minority Teacher Education Program coordinator, received a $12,000 grant from the Council on Higher Education to fund the 1993-94 MTEP program.

Dr. Judy Rogers, Undergraduate Programs dean, received a $113,264 grant and a $15,836 supplemental grant from the U.S. Department of Education to fund the 1993-94 Title III-

Fall fitness

It's time to register for the Faculty/Staff Wellness Program for fall which has added a new lunchtime walking program.

Participants will be able to walk every day on their lunch hour, with a 10-15 minute sack lunch seminar on Wednesdays. The afternoon program will be held Monday and Wednesday with aerobic conditioning and walking program starting at 4:45 p.m. Strength training/toning and/or additional walking opportunities will be available on Tuesday and Thursday from 4:45 until 6 p.m.

Blood pressure monitoring, body composition determination, goal setting and personal consultations will be available for participants. Incentives will be given for those who meet their goals or reach pre-set standards.

The program is open to any faculty or staff member for $30 per semester or $50 per year. Participants can attend any or all sessions they wish, and as an added bonus, members of the MSU Faculty/Staff Wellness Program may register for continuing education classes at 1/2 the cost, including water aerobics and step classes.

For more information or to register, call 3-5282 or 3-2120. Programs begin Sept. 7. If you are interested in an early morning (6:30-7:30 a.m.) aqua aerobics class or lap swimming, please call and let your wishes be known.

Submit forms

In accordance with PAC-17, faculty members are responsible for submitting applications for a sabbatical leave to their respective department chair no later than Sept. 15. Forms are available in the office of the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs.

MSU closed

Morehead State University will be closed Monday, Sept. 5, in observance of Labor Day. There will be no classes or office hours.

Offices will reopen and classes resume at 8 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Improvement of Academic Programs and Faculty Development program, and a $2,000 grant from the Association of American Colleges to fund the General Education Reform: Planning, Collaboration and Commitment project.

Dr. Byron Johnson, associate professor of sociology, and Dr. David Rudy, Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminology chair, received a $15,000 grant from the Kentucky Department of Corrections to evaluate substance abuse programs at selected Kentucky correctional institutions.

Dr. Stuart Sprague, professor of history, received a $750 grant from the Southern Regional Education Board to complete a project entitled "African Americans in Eastern Kentucky: The Civil War and Aftermath."

Dr. Benjamin Malphrus, assistant professor of science, received a $1,000 grant from the Kentucky Space Grant Consortium to provide travel expenses for exploration space-related research.

Dr. David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education at the Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, attended a pilot workshop on critical thinking at MSU, June 6-10. Dr. George M. Luckey, professor of philosophy, was the presenter of the workshop sponsored by the Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education.

WMKY offers two specials

WMKY—FM 90.3, public radio from MSU's campus, will broadcast two special programs on Sunday, Sept. 4.

Airing at 3 p.m. will be "Elisheva's Diary," which includes dramatic readings from the journal of a young Jewish woman during the Holocaust period woven together with commentary from two modern-day women.

The diary serves as a bridge that brings these three women together, from Elisheva's terrible times in 1940s Poland to the present and presenting hope for the future.

Following at 4 p.m. will be "The Door Is Opened: A Jewish High Holidays Meditation." Through words and music, this program explains the 10 days of the Jewish New Year, beginning with Rosh Hashanah, the "Birthday of the World", and ending with Yom Kippur, the "Day of Atonement."

Known as the high holidays, the period between these two events is a time for family and friends to gather together to reflect on the past year and plan for the new year.

Musical performers on "The Door Is Opened" include Laurie Anderson, Phillip Glass, Richard Thompson and Mary Chapin-Carpenter. Host Ellen Kushner became part of the project with the goal of "explaining the holiday to people of all backgrounds and also to give listeners the opportunity to join in a meditation on friendship, family, and forgiveness—issues which cut across all boundaries."

An affiliate of National Public Radio, WMKY features news, information programs, classical music, jazz and other musical genres, broadcasting from 6 a.m. to midnight seven days a week. Free program guides are available by calling 3-2001.

Financial aid

The Office of Financial Aid assigns students to counselors by an alphabetical schedule using the student's last name. This makes it easier for scheduling and builds a relationship between students and their counselor.

It will be simpler for the students if they contact the counselor assigned to their alphabet. The counselors are:

Karla Cooper: A, D-G;
Teresa Shields: B-C;
Carol Barber: H-L;
Rhonda Swim: M-R, and,
Donna King: S-Z.

Students may make an appointment with their counselor by calling 3-2011 or stopping by the Office at 305 HM.

Golf anyone?

Anyone interested in playing in the Family Weekend golf scramble should contact Susette Redwine at 3-2071 by 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 16. Play is scheduled to begin at noon on Saturday, Sept. 17.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Accountability and Performance Funding Coordinator (One-year appointment), Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs; annual salary, $28,325; position may be renewable contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 1.

Museum Shop/Volunteer Coordinator, Folk Art Center; annual salary: $14,267; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 8.

Secretary, Office of Athletics-Football; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 9.

Maintenance Technician III-Plumbing, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $9.22; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 16.

Dean, College of Business (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 12.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the Office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Work in Japan

There are still some openings in the Visiting Professor Program for the 1995 spring semester at Kansai Gaidai University in Osaka, Japan.

This program provides faculty members at affiliated institutions the opportunity to do research in Japan. One of the main obstacles for doing research in Japan may be the extremely high housing costs, but in return for teaching one course in the Asia Studies Program, participating faculty members are provided with free housing and utility expenses. The class meets twice a week (80 minutes each).

Additional information is available from Dr. Roger H. Jones, professor emeritus of art, at 3-2763 or by dropping him a note to UPO 1305.

Recycling

Just a reminder that when you have cardboard to discard, don't throw it away. Instead call recycling coordinator April Haight at 3-5268. If you know when you will be getting a large quantity of cardboard, she will appreciate any advance notice.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Sept. 1

Workshop: "Conflict Resolution," East Room B, ADUC, 9-11 a.m. Presenter: Anthea M. Boarman, J.D.

Saturday, Sept. 3

Morehead State Invitational Volleyball Tournament, Academic-Athletic Center, 2 p.m.; also Sept. 4, beginning at noon.

Monday, Sept. 5

Labor Day, no classes or office hours; offices reopen and classes resume, Sept. 6, 8 a.m.

Tuesday, Sept. 6

Pool Shark Tom Rossman, ADUC Gameroom, all day.
Faculty recital: Jon Burgess, trumpet, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.
Magician Mark Sparkman, Button Auditorium, 9:15 p.m.

Saturday, Sept. 10

Football: MSU vs. East Tennessee, Jayne Stadium, 7 p.m.

Monday, Sept. 12

Red Cross Bloodmobile, Button Drill Room, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; also Sept. 13.

Tuesday, Sept. 13

Faculty recital: Robert Pritchard, flute, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

WC to meet

The MSU Woman's Club will meet on Thursday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Patti Bolin Room, Lloyd Cassity Building.

Martha Perkins, Rowan County home economist, will present the program on microwave cooking.

All MSU faculty and staff members and the wives of faculty and staff members are eligible to join the MSU Woman's Club. Additional information is available from Susette Redwine at 3-2071.

Color copier

The Office of Publications and Printing Services has installed a color copier for campus use. For additional information and costs, stop by printing operations on the ground floor of Allie Young Hall or call 3-2032.

Retirement

A retirement reception will be held for Mary Stacy, custodian, on Friday, Sept. 2, at 2 p.m. in the W. H. Rice Maintenance Building.

All her friends and associates are invited.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Sept. 8, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 10

Grant funds special study

A study by MSU's Center for Community and Economic Development of the flow of hazardous materials along the I-64 corridor from Ashland to Louisville will provide state and regional authorities with some much needed data.

Funded by a $43,340 grant from the Kentucky Emergency Response Commission, the commodity flow analysis is a joint project of MSU's center and the Rowan County Local Emergency Planning Committee, according to Dr. Ron Mitchelson, co-director of the center and project director.

"There is a great deal of hazardous material moving on Interstates nationwide, but neither the federal nor state governments know the extent of the volume or pattern of movement," said Dr. Mitchelson.

"In order to plan for appropriate training of emergency response personnel and equipment, we need to know when and where these materials are moving," he said.

"We do know that there is an annual pattern to the flow—chlorine moves in the spring—but we don't know the origin of destination," Dr. Mitchelson said. "The number of hazardous materials moving is growing rapidly, making this study even more important."

For the year-long study which will be coordinated by C. Dale Caudill, MSU assistant professor of management, trained student volunteers from MSU as well as from other institutions of higher education will assist in gathering the data along the 191-mile corridor.

Twenty-four key focus points along the corridor have been identified for study. Using sophisticated computer graphics, maps and other graphics along with summary tables will be produced to show where and when the greatest chemical risks take place along the corridor. When completed, the project will document for each of the 24 focus points: Total number of hazardous material movements per 24 hour period; Number of hazardous material movements per weekday; Number of hazardous material movements per weekend day; Number and percentage of hazardous material movements occurring during peak periods (7-9 a.m. and 4-6 p.m.); Relative composition of hazardous material types, and Comparison of frequency of total 24 hour hazardous material movements to daily traffic counts by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet.

"This project is going to give us a wealth of valuable information," said Robert Baker, chair of the Rowan County Emergency Planning Committee. "It will enable us to be better prepared for spills and other catastrophes related to the transporting of hazardous materials," he said.

Gets approval

The second stage of a three-stage process to review and revise the general education component has been approved by a vote of the general faculty. The approval of general education goals, the first stage of the process, occurred in May 1992. The second stage, the approval of a framework for courses, took place in May with 53 percent of the faculty voting and 52 percent voting to approve.

The third stage process will include an invitation to academic departments to develop courses for general education and the creation of a general education curriculum committee to review and approve the course proposals. This third stage also includes the development of general education requirements for associate degrees and the choice of assessment practices for both the baccalaureate and associate components.

They passed!

The 1994 graduating class from MSU's Veterinary Technology Program achieved a 100 percent passage rate after taking the Veterinary Technician National Examination.

All 11 members of the class, who sat for the licensing exam in May, earned passing scores, according to Dr. Lee Tyner, program coordinator. During the summer the students completed preceptorships, which is the final requirement prior to receiving their degrees.

"We are very proud of their accomplishment," Dr. Tyner said. "They now are qualified to be licensed as veterinary technicians in most states."

Class members are Roma Adkins, Kim Avis, Cheri Craft, David Fugate, Quin Green, Ann Marie Haburne, Kim Harding, Christy Hollon, Samantha Hudson, Carmel Lewis, and Shannon Sprowles.

Graduates of the two-and-a-half year program earn the Associate of Applied Sciences degree.

Service pins

Two service awards ceremonies have been scheduled to honor those milestone years of service.

The first ceremony will be held Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 2 p.m. in the Gold Room, ADUC.

To be recognized for completing 35 years will be James Beane and Franklin Mangrum.

Completing 30 years are Mary Jo Netherton, Mohammed Sabie and Howard Setser.

Recognized for 25 years of service will be Roland Burns, Russell Flippin, Jerry Franklin, Coletta Grindstaff, Jack Henson, George Mays, Joe Planck and Harry Sweeney.

Completing 20 years are Lindsey Back, Debbie Crawford, Eulene Dyer, Roger Hilderbrand, Mary Hood, Clyde James, Regina Kissick, Gary Lanham, Arthur McCleese, Dreama Price and Kenny White.

Those individuals completing 15 and 10 years of service will be honored on Tuesday, Sept. 20.

People in the News

Dr. Harold Rose, professor of education, received a $7,984 grant from the Cabinet for Workforce Development to fund the Employment Training Program.

Jonell Tobin, Licking Valley Extended Campus Center director, received a $7,000 grant from the state Department for Adult Education and Literacy to fund the Family Literacy Program at the Center and a $9,167 grant from the Kentucky Workforce Development Cabinet to provide ABE, GED and Literacy Services to Morgan, Menifee, Elliott, Magoffin, and Wolfe counties.

Dr. C. Lee Tyner, Veterinary Technology Program coordinator, attended the 131st annual meeting of the American Veterinary Medical Association in San Francisco, Calif., July 9-13, that was attended by more than 3,000 veterinarians and veterinary technicians. He served as consultant for Sensor Devices, Inc. relative to the application of pulse oximetry monitoring in veterinary hospitals and emergency clinics.

Dr. Shirley Gish, associate professor of speech; Dr. Travis Lockhart and Dr. Bill Layne, associate professors of theatre, presented "Me 'n Susie" at the Lexington Opera House, June 25, as part of the Actor's Guild Lexington season. The production was written/performed by Dr. Gish while Dr. Lockhart was the director and Dr. Layne scenic/technical director.

Wilson Grier, Small Business Development Center director, received grants to operate the SBDC centers: $13,804 from the Economic Development Corporation of Boyd and Greenup Counties for the Ashland center; $138,600 from the Small Business Administration/University of Kentucky Research Foundation for the East Kentucky District which includes Morehead, Pikeville and Ashland; $6,100 from the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development/University of Kentucky Research Foundation for the SBDC center on the MSU campus; $1,000 from Pikeville National Bank and Trust Company, Bank One of Pikeville, Citizens National Bank of Paintsville and TransFinancial Bank of Pikeville for operating expenses to the program that serves Pike, Johnson, Martin, Floyd, Knott, Magoffin, Breathitt, Wolfe, Lee, and Owsley counties, and $2,000 from the Kentucky Institute of Banking to continue services at the Ashland center.

Betty Karrick received a $5,000 grant from the Rowan County Fiscal Court to fund the Mentoring Program for 1994-95.

Elaine Tyree, special services coordinator, has received a $197,578 grant from the U.S. Department of Education to fund the Student Support Services 1994-95 program.

Debra Mattingly, Child Development Lab director, received grant monies totaling $93,558 from area boards of education and Head Start Programs to supplement the Child Development Associate Training Program.

Eric Shindelbower, chief photographer, was a first place winner in the portrait competition at the Three by Three juried photography contest, sponsored by the Kentucky Highlands Museum, Paramount Arts Center and Ashland Area Art Gallery. The 180 photographs accepted for the competition were the works of 63 photographers from Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Dr. John C. Philley, executive vice president for academic affairs, has been re-appointed by Gov. Brereton C. Jones to the state Board of Registration for Professional Geologists. His four-year term will expire July 14, 1998. A certified professional geologist, he currently serves as chairman of the board.

Dr. C. Lee Tyner, Veterinary Technology Program coordinator and Dr. Scott Rundell, assistant professor of veterinary technology, have received a $2,800 grant from Orion Corporation Animal Health to complete a clinical study on the treatment of symptoms of aging in dogs.

Paul Taylor, assistant professor of music, had an article entitled "Herds of Black Pianists: Piano Ensemble Concerts" published in the October/November 1994 issue of the "American Music Teacher," the official journal of Music Teachers National Association. The article summarizes MSU's 1993 annual Summer Keyboard Experience's Monster Concert that he directed.

Dr. Jennings Mace, associate professor of English, has received a $52,189 grant from Lexmark International, Inc., to continue the Lexmark Technical Writing Services project.

Dr. George Tapp, Department of Psychology chair, has received a $391,326 grant from the Carl D. Perkins Comprehensive Care Center in Thelma to continue to provide comprehensive rehabilitation care for the center.

Dr. Dan Connell, Academic Services Center director, and Catherine Riley, Retired Senior Volunteer Program coordinator received a $37,942 grant from ACTION to continue the RSVP in Bath, Rowan and Montgomery counties. Dr. Connell also received $1,000 from the Christian Appalachian Project to recruit and train 25 adult volunteers to serve as mentors in the Rowan County-MSU Mentoring Program.

Carolyn DeHoff, Talent Search coordinator, received a $276,275 grant from the U.S. Department of Education to fund the Educational Talent Search program.

Procedure for success

Want to plan an on-campus teleconference or record a satellite feed for use in your class? If so, these offices are available to provide support services: Conference Services-3-5128; ADUC Services-3-2810; TV Productions-3-2082, and Information Technology-3-5000.

To reserve facilities on campus in any building except ADUC, you will need to call Conference Services. If you would like to schedule a room in ADUC, you need to contact the ADUC Services Manager. Remember that the facilities in ADUC, as well as other campus buildings, are often in constant use. Reserving facilities as soon as you become aware of a teleconference date is strongly recommended.

TV Productions is responsible for tuning in the satellite feed and patching the signal into the campus cable system. TV Productions also provides video recording services of satellite programming. You may provide your own VHS tape or purchase one from this office. TV Productions needs a hard copy (on paper) of the satellite coordinates (e.g., Spacenet 2, Transponder 12, audio frequencies). This information, usually found on the promotional material about the satellite programming, should be delivered to 408 Ginger Hall or sent to UPO 940 with a cover letter. As with facilities use, requests for satellite feeds and recordings become heavy during certain times of the year. The earlier your request is received, the better.

Information Technology provides support when you are having difficulties with the picture or sound of your teleconference. This office also can assist you in setting up two-way audio for a teleconference.

Success of your teleconference is important. Don't hesitate to call the appropriate office if you have further questions about the process.

New counselor

Michael E. Pennington of Flatwoods has joined MSU's Office of Admissions as an admissions representative for the Big Sandy area.

Pennington will be based in Prestonsburg at MSU's Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, according to Charles Myers, MSU's director of admissions.

"He will be working with all students—traditional and nontraditional—from the Big Sandy area who are interested in continuing their education at Morehead State," said Myers.

"Placing him out in the region will make it easier for students and school personnel to find out about MSU's programs and services," Myers said. "He will visit area high schools as well as assist transfer students enrolling at MSU."

A nontraditional student, Pennington earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in communications magna cum laude from MSU. He is a December candidate for the master's degree in adult and higher education at MSU.

As a graduate student, Pennington served as an intern in the Office of Admissions. He is a member of the Kentucky Association of College Registrar and Admissions Officers and Phi Kappa Pi national honor society.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Secretary, Office of Athletics-Football; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 9.

Maintenance Technician III-Plumbing, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $9.22; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 16.

Manager of Academic Computing, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: under review; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 11.

Dean, College of Business (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 12.

Assistant Professor of Psychology (Tenure Track), Department of Psychology; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 15.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Flute recital

Dr. Robert Pritchard, associate professor of music, will present a flute recital in Duncan Recital Hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 13.

He will be accompanied by Mary Ellen Creighton McNeill, a 1992 MSU alumnus and graduate of the University of Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music, on piano, and Suanne Blair, assistant professor of music and principal cellist with the Lexington Philharmonic, on cello.

The concert, which is free and open to the public, will include Bach's "Sonata in E Major, BWV 1035," Beaser's "Variations for Flute and Piano," and Boehm's "Grand Polonaise in D Major for Flute and Piano, Opus 16."

Dr. Pritchard earned the Bachelor of Music degree from Florida State University, the Master of Music degree from Duquesne University and the Doctor of Musical Arts degree from Boston University.

Reception set

All faculty and staff are invited to a reception to honor Ray M. Pinner, director of Budgets and Management Information, who is leaving MSU.

The reception will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 14, in the Gold Room, ADUC, from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Pinner came to MSU as controller in 1987 and was moved to director of BMI in 1988. He is going to the University of Alabama at Huntsville as assistant vice president for Finance and Budgets.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Sept. 8

Meeting: MSU Woman's Club, Patti Bolin Room, Lloyd Cassity Building, 7:30 p.m.

Friday, Sept. 9

Retirement reception: Mary Stacy, custodian, W.H. Rice Service Building, 2 p.m.

Saturday, Sept. 10

Football: MSU vs. East Tennessee, Jayne Stadium, 7 p.m.

Monday, Sept. 12

Red Cross Bloodmobile, Button Drill Room, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; also Sept. 13.

Tuesday, Sept. 13

Faculty recital: Robert Pritchard, flute, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 15

EKSBD workshop: "IRS Tax Workshop," 219 Combs Building, 1 p.m.

Ashland SBDC workshop: "Accounting/Bookkeeping for Small Businesses," 207 15th Street, Ashland, 1 p.m.

Friday, Sept. 16

Family Weekend, through Sept. 17.

Meeting: MSU Board of Regents, Riggle Room, ADUC, 1:30 p.m.; committees to meet prior.

Music lessons

MSU's Academy of Music will offer a variety of music instruction during the fall semester.

Private lessons for adults and children in piano, percussion, voice, brass instruments, woodwind instruments and string instruments will be offered through MSU's Department of Music. Applications are still being accepted for the fall term. Students will meet once a week for 14 half-hour sessions. Telephone: 3-2659.

Horsemanship

The Office of Continuing Education will offer a horsemanship class for beginners this fall at the Derrickson Agricultural Complex.

Elementary Horsemanship will be taught from 6 to 8 p.m. on Mondays, beginning Sept. 12. The class is open to anyone age nine or older. Kim Wenman will be the instructor.

The cost for the eight-week program will be $50. To reserve a space in the class, call 3-2077.

Self-defense

Judy Carpenter, third degree black belt, will conduct a free self-defense seminar/demonstration in Cartmell Hall on Monday, Sept. 12, at 8 pm.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Sept. 15, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 11

BOR to meet this Friday

MSU's Board of Regents will meet on Friday, Sept. 16, at 1:30 p.m. in the Riggle Room, Adron Doran University Center.

The board agenda includes a variety of items for discussion and/or action, including a final report on summer enrollment; preliminary figures for fall 1994 enrollment; ratification of personnel actions, and approval of property acquisition as well as establishment of a board Audit Committee.

Reports are slated on personal service contracts, lease/purchase of a library computer system, real property, an optional retirement plan and the 1993-94 employee compensation.

Approval of an amendment to the board bylaws will be sought. Other reports include the 1993-94 private giving, major gifts since June 22 and the president's report.

Preceding the meeting, the board's committees will hold public sessions in the Riggle Room: Administration and Fiscal Services, 9 a.m. with Student Life and External Relations to follow. The Academic Affairs Committee will not meet.

After the committee meetings, (approximately 10:15 a.m.), the regents will tour the campus.

EOC funded for five years

Ranked in the top 10 percent nationally last year as a result of its efforts, MSU's Educational Opportunity Center has been funded for the next five years.

MSU competed against 294 universities, colleges and community agencies to obtain one of the 74 grants awarded by the U.S. Department of Education. The grant, which begins this month, is in excess of $1.4 million with funding for 1994-95 being $281,665.

The University's application received a perfect 100 point review by a team of three field readers and a perfect 15 point score on the program's record of prior achievements, according to Dail Howard, project director.

"The superior ranking was based on quality of the application as well as quality and quantity of prior achievements," Howard said. Traditionally, grants are funded for a four-year period.

Howard credits the success of the program to a dedicated, compassionate and highly skilled team of counselors who travel daily throughout MSU's 22-county service region. "They provide the information and assistance necessary to enable adults to enter a program of postsecondary education," he said.

Working as counselors in the program are Lula Bowling, Penny Felty, Janie Baldrige and Katie Ballard.

Others involved in preparing MSU's application were Dr. Dan Connell, Academic Services Center director, who served as mentor during the development and critique process, and Kittie Kornved, secretary specialist, who did the layout and formatting of all statistical data as well as the supporting narrative for the 241-page grant application document.

The Educational Opportunity Center is located at 303 Ward Oates Drive. Telephone: 3-2063.

Who shot JFK?

Writer, political activist and researcher Bob Harris will offer his theory on "Who Shot JFK? Covert Actions in America" on Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 7 p.m. in Button Auditorium.

There is no admission charge for the Student Government Association-sponsored program.

MSU hosts Family Weekend

Mom and Dad, along with other family members and friends, are invited to go to college for the weekend.

MSU will welcome the campus visitors during its 15th annual Family Weekend, Sept. 16-18.

All the events were planned with the family in mind, according to Susette Redwine, university center programs and special events coordinator. "They will allow students to host their loved ones and friends while enjoying a variety of activities that are a part of campus life," she said.

Kicking off the festivities on Friday, Sept. 16, will be magic and illusion by The Spencers. This husband and wife duo use a non-traditional approach to the craft to give a performance for all ages. Showtime is 9 p.m. in Button Auditorium. There is no charge for attending but donations to benefit the Student Emergency Loan Fund will be accepted at the door.

On Saturday, Sept. 17, the first order of the day is a complimentary continental breakfast that starts at 9 a.m. in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center. The MSU Family Association will install new officers of the 1994-95 Family Advisory Committee at its annual meeting which will follow at 10 a.m. Parents are encouraged to attend to provide input or voice concerns.

As the noon hour approaches, golf enthusiasts will head to the MSU Golf Course for the Golf Scramble. This is a nine-hole, best ball tournament with a shotgun start. Pre-registration is necessary as play is limited to 72 registrants.

Service pins

Individuals completing 10 and 15 years of service to MSU during this quarter will be honored on Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 2 p.m. in the Gold Room, ADUC.

Recognized for 15 years of service will be Palmer Adkins, Bonnie Bailey, Jeff Bizzell, Mary Jane Blair, Robert Bylund, Dan Cornett, Jacklynn Darling, Alma Fairchild, Herbert Hedgecock, Katharine Herzog, William Keeton, Tamara McMillian, Green Miller, Charles Morgan, Mary Osborne, Jack Peters, Walter Ramey, William Roger Stigall, Jack Templeman, Vandy Trent and Dallas Sammons.

Receiving a 10 year pin will be Ray Bernardi, William Green, John Hanshaw, Randy Johnson, John Nathanson, Nancy O'Dell, Edward Reeves, C. Brent Rogers, Scott Rundell, Thomas Sternal and Margaret Stokley.

The fee is $2.50 per person and tee time is promptly at noon.

Whether it's touring the campus or checking out the city of Morehead, the afternoon schedule allows time for family members to visit. A stop at the Derrickson Agricultural Complex will offer a preview of MSU's Equestrian Team when it presents a riding demonstration. The free performance begins at 2:30 p.m. in the Richardson Outdoor Arena.

After the activity, it's time to enjoy the all-you-can-eat fish fry on the lawn of the Academic-Athletic Center. Tickets are $6.50 for adults, $4.50 for children 5-10 years old and free to those under four. In case of rain, the meal will be moved inside the facility.

Rounding out the evening, MSU students and their families will head to Jayne Stadium to cheer the Eagle football team as it takes on the Tennessee State Tigers. Kickoff is 7 p.m. Students may obtain tickets for their special guests at a reduced rate of $5 for reserved seats and $3 general admission. Purchases must be made by noon on Friday, Sept. 16, at the Athletic Office in the AAC.

The MSU visitors are invited to attend services at local churches on Sunday, Sept. 18, before departing for home.

Throughout the weekend, receptions and open house activities have been planned by the various clubs and organizations in the residence halls. For those who want to truly experience campus life, arrangements may be made to allow parents to spend the night in their child's hall. Also, a special award will be given to the residence hall with the highest percentage of parents registering during the weekend.

Retiree dies

Octavia Williams Graves of Morehead, 91, a retired associate professor of elementary education, died Sept. 6.

Wife of the late Dr. Roy Edwin Graves, she taught at MSU from 1946 until retiring in 1973. She was a graduate of Morehead State University and George Peabody University and a member of Faith Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are a son, Roy Edwin Graves Jr. of Vestal, N.Y.; a daughter, Jane Graves of Cupertino, Calif.; a brother and two sisters.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Diabetes Association, 721 W. Main Street, Louisville, KY 40202.

People in the News

Dr. Ted Pass, professor of biology, received $300 grants from three offices: Dr. Arvis Porter, Dr. James E. Jackson and Shay Dental Practice, to dispose of medical waste materials.

Dr. Jack Sheltmire, Department of HPER chair, received a $47,000 grant from the National Collegiate Athletic Association to fund the 1994 Summer National Youth Sports Program and a $18,712 grant from the Kentucky Department of Education to cover food costs for the program.

Jane Ellington, associate professor of human sciences, received a $12,000 grant from the state Department of Education to provide training for academic and/or vocational teachers in MSU's service region to integrate academics and vocational education in their schools.

Dr. Daniel Seth, assistant professor of mathematics, received a $10,800 grant from Kentucky NSF/EPSCoR to complete a project entitled Integrodifferential Equations for Two-Dimensional Transition Kernels in Particle Transport: Derivation and Numerical Computation.

Carolyn Taylor, associate professor of human sciences and president of the Kentucky Association of Family and Consumer Sciences, was among the delegates voting to change the name of the American Home Economics Association at the groups annual meeting in San Diego, Calif. The new name, American Association of Family and Consumer Sciences (AAFCS), reflects programs that publish research, educate, influence public policy and disseminate information.

Dr. David R. Olson, assistant professor of psychology, presented a paper entitled "Attachment Styles and Childhood Experiences of Dependent and Self-Critical Dysphorics" at the annual meeting of the Midwestern Psychological Association in Chicago, May 5-7.

Dr. Daniel Fasko, associate professor of education, conducted a symposium entitled "Integrating School and Educational Psychology Research and Practice" at the American Psychological Association meeting in Los Angeles in August.

IT workshops

To help new employees become familiar with campus technology, Information Technology will offer several training workshops. The sessions, to be held in 110Z Ginger Hall, are:

Monday, Sept. 19, AIMS Resource Overview, 3-4:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Sept. 20, On-Line Processing I, 10:20 a.m.-12:20 p.m.; Academic Resource Overview, 3-4:30 p.m.; Wednesday, Sept. 21, Grants Database, 3-4 p.m.; Thursday, Sept. 22, On-Line Processing II, 10:20 a.m.-12:20 p.m.; Friday, Sept. 23, Telephone Features/Voice Mail, 10:20 a.m.-12:20 p.m.; Tuesday, Sept. 27, On-line Payroll Verification, 10:20 a.m.-12:20 p.m.; Thursday, Sept. 29, On-line PAR, 10:20 a.m.-12:20 p.m.; Tuesday, Oct. 4, Electronic Mail (AIMS), 10:20 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

To support Macintosh users, Dr. Serjit Kasior from the Department of Communications, will instruct these workshops in 103 Breckinridge Hall, from 1:50 to 3:50 p.m. on these days:

Monday, Sept. 19, Introduction to Macintosh I; Wednesday, Sept. 21, Introduction to Macintosh II; Monday, Sept. 26, Microsoft Word I; Wednesday, Sept. 28, Microsoft Word II; Monday, Oct. 3, PageMaker I, and Wednesday, Oct. 5, PageMaker II.

Additional sessions are listed in the "1994 Fall Semester Technology Training Workshop Schedule." A workshop catalog has been mailed to all unit heads. To register or to inquire about a session, contact the Technology Support Center at 3-5000.

WMKY special

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from MSU's campus, will present a special two-hour program on Friday, Sept. 23, about the difficulties girls face as they enter adolescence.

Entitled "Girls: Growing Up, Speaking Out," it will air at 8 p.m.

Co-produced by WXPB and WHYY in Philadelphia, the program addresses issues of self-esteem, preoccupation with body image and the drop in school performance experienced by many young women at this stage.

The first hour of the show features teens talking about being young and female in today's world, as well as a conversation with the publishers of New Moon, a magazine for girls, and Philadelphia psychologist Mary Eisman.

The second hour focuses on the adult response to these issues by talking to parents, educators and psychologists about ways in which society unconsciously fails young women.

In addition to providing advice on helping girls maintain their self-confidence, this segment also features an interview with Gloria Steinem, activist and founder of Ms. magazine.

Chess Club

The MSU Chess Club will meet on Thursdays from 6 to 10 p.m. in the Eagle Room of ADUC. All interested faculty, staff and MSU friends are welcome. Additional information is available from Andy Martin at 3-2935.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Maintenance Technician III-Plumbing, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $9.22; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 16.

Administrative Assistant I, Office of Human Resources; annual salary: $17,782; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 22.

Custodian (8 positions), Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $4.78; positions are third shift and renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 22.

Counselor, Upward Bound, Academic Services Center; annual salary: $21,296; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 29.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 5.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, MSU-Licking Valley Center; annual salary: $21,296; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 6.

Manager of Academic Computing, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: under review; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 11.

Dean, College of Business (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 12.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Business (Tenure Track), MSU's Appalachian Graduate Consortium in Pikeville; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 19.

Assistant Professor of History (Tenure Track), Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Assistant Professor of Psychology (Tenure Track), Department of Psychology; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 15.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

MSU discount

MSU employees and their families are eligible for a 10 percent discount at DH Western Village, riding stable at Plummers Mill, for a special weekend on Oct. 7-8. Additional information is available by calling 1-800-737-7433.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Sept. 15

EKSBD workshop: "IRS Tax Workshop," 219 Combs Building, 1 p.m.

Ashland SBDC workshop: "Accounting/Bookkeeping for Small Businesses," 207 15th Street, Ashland, 1 p.m.

Friday, Sept. 16

Family Weekend, through Sept. 18; (see related story on Page 1).

Meeting: MSU Board of Regents, Riggle Room, ADUC, 1:30 p.m.; committees to meet prior.

Saturday, Sept. 17

Football: MSU vs. Tennessee State University, Jayne Stadium, 7 p.m.

Tuesday, Sept. 20

Lecture: "Who Shot JFK?" Button Auditorium, 7 p.m.

Wednesday, Sept. 21

Comedian/ventriloquist Don Horn, Button Auditorium, 9:15 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 22

Ashland SBDC: "Recordkeeping, Payroll and Employee Taxes Seminar," 207 15th Street in Ashland, 1 p.m.

Need a ride?

MSU's Office of Continuing Education will sponsor a van for faculty and staff members who want to attend the U.S. Southeastern Regional Conference on Women in Louisville on Sept. 23-24.

The conference, sponsored by the Kentucky Commission on Women, is a prelude to the United Nations 4th World Conference on Women to be held in Beijing, China, next year. The regional theme is "Women Thinking Globally, Acting Locally: On the Road to Beijing and the 21st Century."

The registration fee for the conference, including meals, is $85. Additional information is available by calling Shirley Hamilton, continuing education director, at 3-2077.

Learn to sign

The Office of Continuing Education will offer a beginners class in signing for the hearing impaired this fall.

Classes begin Monday, Sept. 19, at 6 p.m. in 209 Downing Hall. The classes are open to everyone, including family, friends and educators of the hearing impaired.

The cost for the eight-week session is $25 per person for the general public and $15 for MSU students. To register: 3-2077.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Sept. 22, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 12

Figures down

Preliminary figures for MSU's fall 1994 enrollment show 8,585 students enrolled, a decrease of 3.5 percent from the final 1993 fall figure of 8,899.

Noting that the figure was still preliminary, Dr. John C. Philley, MSU executive vice president for academic affairs, said that, when the final count is in, the University anticipated exceeding this year's budget projection of 8,600.

Factors contributing to the decrease, according to Dr. Philley, include the region's economic status and last year's increase in the minimum index for unconditional admission.

"Enrollment figures statewide demonstrate that this is not a local phenomena," Dr. Philley said. "Many of the state's universities have been affected by current economic and demographic factors," he said.

"We're all faced with a shrinking pool of high school age students, which means we are seeing fewer graduating. National statistics tell us that it will be a few more years before we will see real growth again," the vice president said.

The headcount enrollment was announced Sept. 16 at a meeting of MSU's Board of Regents.

'We Love MSU'

Morehead State University will kick off its "We Love MSU" campaign as part of the 1994 Homecoming activities.

The MSU Foundation, Inc., in conjunction with the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce, will sponsor activities throughout the week of Sept. 26-Oct. 1.

Community volunteers will be contacting local businesses and organizations during the week. The phonathon will run Sept. 26-28.

All MSU supporters are invited to show their "blue and gold" colors at the Homecoming football game on Saturday, Oct. 1, when the Eagles take on Southeast Missouri. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. in Jayne Stadium.

A formal pledge presentation will take place at the annual Homecoming post-game fish fry. There is no charge for the meal which will be served in the lot behind the Alumni Center.

Also scheduled is a "Business After Hours" reception on Thursday, Sept. 29, at the Kentucky Folk Art Center, from 4:30 to 7 p.m. On exhibit will be the gourd sculptures by nationally-known folk artist Minnie Black of East Bernstadt. There is no charge for attending.

Proceeds from the weeklong campaign will benefit the Student Emergency Loan Fund at MSU. For additional information contact Mindy Clark, telemarketing coordinator, at 3-2388.

Roles filled

Morehead State University has filled the leadership roles of its new MSUCorps Program.

Steve L. Swim of Salt Lick has been named coordinator of the program with Betty L. Karrick of Wallingford as assistant coordinator.

"We are very fortunate to have this team to implement the program," said Dr. Dan Connell, director of MSU's Academic Services Center, in announcing the appointments.

MSUCorps is a branch of the national AmeriCorps program, designed to pay participants' college or vocational school expenses in exchange for community service.

The University's program will provide tutors and mentors for "high risk" students in eight Eastern Kentucky counties in MSU's service region: Bath, Carter, Lewis, Magoffin, Menifee, Montgomery, Rowan and Wolfe. University personnel also will work with the Family Resource and Youth Services centers in each of the counties.

College fair

Morehead State University, in conjunction with the Kentucky Association of School and College Counselors and area high school counselors, will host the second annual Regional College Fair on Tuesday, Sept. 27.

More than 1,000 students from area high schools are expected to participate in the program, coordinated by MSU's Office of Admissions. It will be held in the Academic-Athletic Center from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Personnel from various colleges, universities and vocational schools as well as representatives from the military services will be available to talk with students about careers and opportunities at their institutions.

"Colleges and universities from Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and West Virginia will participate in the program," said Michelle Richmond, admissions counselor who serves as fair coordinator.

Representatives from MSU's offices of Financial Aid and Career Planning and Placement will be available to answer questions about financial aid and discuss the forecast for career opportunities.

Additional information is available from MSU's Office of Admissions at (606) 783-2000.

Teleconference

The Office of Information Technology will sponsor a "Reengineering Distributed Learning Environments" live satellite broadcast on Thursday, Sept. 29, from 1 to 3:30 p.m. in the Riggle Room, ADUC.

The teleconference will examine ways to apply process reengineering to the design of learning environments—integrating hardware, software, facility design, and learning theory in new and more efficient ways. As a case study, there will be an examination of the development of the Comprehensive Unified Physics Learning Environment and the new facilities to accommodate it at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Fall showcase

The Department of Music will hold its annual Fall Faculty Showcase on Thursday, Sept. 29, at 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall.

The showcase, which will feature the talents of musician educators in the department, is a fundraiser for student scholarships. Admission is $5 for the general public and $2 for students. Tickets may be purchased in advance at 106 Baird Music Hall or at the door on the evening of the performance.

The program, which will include a range of works by diverse composers, will feature performances by groups as well as individuals.

People in the News

Malcolm Bigelow, Jim Caudill, Pamela Fuoss, Bob Howerton, Tami Jones, Shirley Parker, Bill Redwine and Linda Simpson from the Division of University Advancement recently completed CPR certification.

Dr. Vicente Cano, professor of romance languages, read a paper entitled "El nuevo culturalismo en la poesia de Manuel Mantero" at the 14th Cincinnati Conference on Romance Languages and Literatures held at the University of Cincinnati, May 4. Also, he and Lesia Brewer, a Nicholas County High School French teacher, co-sponsored the spring meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Language Collaborative, held at MSU.

Dr. Ray Bernardi, professor of business education, attended the 1994 International

Join others for discussion

"What is the relation of education to genuine democracy?" "How does the allocation of power and decision-making about what is taught, in what setting, and to and by whom influence the perpetuation or dismantling of larger structural inequalities of our country?" "How do issues of race, gender, sexuality, or class affect the classroom?" If these topics interest you, then join others and explore these issues at the fall discussion series.

The programs will be held in the Eagle Meeting Room from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. this fall.

To serve as stimulant for the discussion, these materials will be on reserve in the library as Dr. Lynne Fitzgerald's "Diversity Issues."

For Tues. Sept. 27, Barber, Benjamin. "The Civic Mission of the University," Education for Democracy, and Rich, Adrienne, "Taking Women Students Seriously," On Lies, Secrets and Silence."

For Tues. Oct. 18, Bell, Derrick. "The Status of Blacks Today: The Chronicle of the Constitutional Contradiction," And We Are Not Saved: The Elusive Quest for Racial Justice; Hooks, Bell. "Keeping Close to Home: Class and Education," Talking Back: thinking feminist, thinking black.

For Tues. Nov. 15, Takaki, Ronald. "A Different Mirror: A History of Multicultural America," Chapter 8-Searching for Gold Mountain: Strangers for a Pacific Shore," esp. the subdivision Twice a Minority: Chinese Women in America; Omni, Michael and Howard Winant. "Racial Formation in the United States." Chapter 4.

Additional information is available by calling 3-2466, 3-2736, or 3-2108.

Colloquium

The Department of Communications will sponsor a faculty colloquium on Friday, Sept. 30, at 10:30 a.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium.

Dr. Rachel L. Holloway, assistant professor of communication studies, and Dr. Robert E. Denton, Department of Communications Studies chair, at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va., will be the featured speakers. Their presentation will be "Presidential Discourse as Mediated Conversation" which will appear as an article in "Research in Political Sociology," Vol. 7.

A former Morehead native, Dr. Holloway is the author of "In the Matter of J. Robert Oppenheimer: Politics, Rhetoric and Self-Defense" and numerous articles.

Dr. Denton is an associate editor of "Presidential Studies Quarterly" and editor of the Praeger Press series in political communication.

Society for Business Education Congress in Oslo, Norway, July 24-30. He served as an official delegate to the Congress from the U.S.

Dr. Frank Spaniol, head baseball coach, served as a guest speaker at two Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) baseball clinics this summer, one in Cincinnati and the other at Asbury College. He also published a strength training article titled "Basic Training" in the fall issue of the Doyle Baseball Review.

Wendy Nelson, WMKY program and production director, has an article in the Spring-Summer edition of "Media History Digest." The article, entitled "17 Going on 50," is about the 50th anniversary of Seventeen magazine.

Gourd exhibit

Sculptures created by nationally-known folk artist Minnie Black of East Bernstadt will be featured at the Kentucky Folk Art Center on MSU's campus from Sept. 24 through Nov. 22.

The exhibit, entitled "Oh My Gourd!," is free and open to the public. The center's hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

For the past 46 years, Black, 95, has made an art of creating unusual sculptures and musical instruments from ornamental gourds which she grows, for the most part, in her own garden. She has also appeared with her artwork on NBC's Tonight Show and the David Letterman Show.

The exhibition will highlight fantasy creatures constructed by joining gourds, molding with sculptural clay and adding found objects. Also on view will be hats, a self-portrait of the artist and gourd instruments—mandolins, lutes, cymbals and drums.

Request time

WMKY 90.3 F.M., public radio from MSU's campus, again will offer classical music fans a chance to hear their favorite selections during an "All Request Week" on Afternoon Classics.

The week of Sept. 26-30, Afternoon Classics host Janean Freeman will play listener requests from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

The All Request Week comes at the end of National Public Radio's "Classical Music Month." Participants will be eligible for a variety of prizes including compact discs from Essex Entertainment and a gift certificate from Joseph-Beth Booksellers in Lexington.

Listeners may drop off their requests at WMKY Radio or at the public libraries in Rowan, Morgan, Elliott, Bath, Fleming, Lewis or Menifee counties.

Poet to read

Award-winning American poet Richard Tillinghast will read from his works on Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. in 111 Claypool-Young Art Building on the campus.

The program is free and open to the public. Currently a professor of English at the University of Michigan, Dr. Tillinghast also is a member of the Poets' House faculty at Islandmagee, Northern Ireland.

The author of five books of poetry, Dr. Tillinghast has a new volume of poems, "The Stonecutter's Hand," to be published in November by David R. Godine.

Guest recital

Clarinetist Linda Bartley and pianist Todd Welbourne will present a guest recital on Wednesday, Sept. 28, at 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall on the campus.

The musicians are faculty members in the School of Music at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

The recital, which is free and open to the public, will include works by Busoni, Muczynski, Tower and Rezzo.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Groundskeeper, Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $5.67; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 28.

EXTERNAL

Custodian (Eight positions), Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $4.78; positions are third shift and renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 22.

Counselor, Upward Bound, Academic Services Center; annual salary: $21,296; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 29.

Deaf Interpreters (Two positions), Department of Psychology, (to provide detached services to the Kentucky Department of Vocational Rehabilitation); positions are renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 30.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 5.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, MSU-Licking Valley Center; annual salary: $21,296; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 6.

Carpenters (Four positions), Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $7.45; positions are renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 6.

Secretary Specialist, Educational Opportunity Center, Academic Services Center; hourly rate: $7.45; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 7.

Construction Manager, Office of Physical Plant; annual salary: $24,810; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 7.

Manager of Academic Computing, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: under review; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 11.

Dean, College of Business (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 12.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Business (Tenure Track), MSU's Appalachian Graduate Consortium in Pikeville; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 19.

Assistant Professor of History (Non-Western)(Tenure Track), Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Assistant Professor of History (European)(Tenure Track), Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Assistant Professor of Geography (Tenure Track), Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 15.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Sept. 22

Ashland SBDC: "Recordkeeping, Payroll and Employee Taxes Seminar," 207 15th Street in Ashland, 1 p.m.

Friday, Sept. 30

Homecoming, through Oct. 2.
Faculty/Staff appreciation coffee and continental breakfast, Alumni Center, 8:30 a.m.

Saturday, Oct. 1

Football: MSU vs. Southeast Missouri, Jayne Stadium, 1:30 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 3

Concert: Jeff Foxworthy and BlackHawk, Academic-Athletic Center, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, Oct. 4

Minority and University Career Day, Crager Room, ADUC, 10 a.m.

Concert set

MSU's Student Government Association will present comedian Jeff Foxworthy with special guest BlackHawk in concert on Monday, Oct. 3, at 8 p.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center.

Tickets are on sale now at various locations. In Morehead they may be purchased at Martin's Department Store and Main Street Music and on campus at the Student Activities Office in ADUC.

Admission for the general public will be $15 reserved and $10 for bleacher seating, while MSU students with a valid I.D. card will pay $10 for reserved and $5 for bleacher seats.

One of the rising comedians in show business, Foxworthy tours 48 weeks out of the year. He recently starred in two Showtime specials and has authored four books. The most popular of his books, "You Might Be a Redneck If..." mirrors the comedian's "Redneck" standup routine. He is currently working on "Banner Times," a CBS television pilot scheduled for fall lineup.

Foxworthy has opened for such performers as Garth Brooks, The Judds and Eddie Rabbitt.

A country-rock group, BlackHawk is credited for songs such as "Goodbye Says It All," "Every Once in a While," "I Can Sure Smell the Rain" and "Down in Flames."

AAUP to meet

The MSU Chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 3 p.m. in East Room B, ADUC. The agenda will include issues of membership, dues, constitutional revision, executive committee actions, annual activities, etc. For further information, contact Dr. Janet Gross, interim president, at 3-2211.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Sept. 29, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 13

Former dean named chair

Dr. Cathy L. Barlow, former dean of the College of Education and Health Services at the University of Evansville (Ind.), has been named chair of the Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education at MSU.

Before assuming the role of dean in 1991, Dr. Barlow had served as director of Instructional Services at Bartlesville, Okla., public schools.

"We are very fortunate to have this highly qualified professional," said Dr. Richard Daniel, interim dean of the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences. "Her knowledge of the college curriculum, as well as that of public schools, will be a valuable asset as we continue to work with KERA."

The new chair previously was an assistant principal for Bartlesville High School and a professor at Oklahoma State University. She held terms as vice president and then president of the National Division of Learning Disabilities after serving the organization at the state level. She was chairman of the Board of the Community Counseling Services at Community Methodist Hospital and past president of the Oklahoma Federation of the Council for Exceptional Children.

A member of the American Association on University Women and Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, Dr. Barlow has been widely published as well as active in numerous research projects. She has given presentations on grant writing, training programs, and educational strategies.

Dr. Barlow earned her B.A. degree in psychology/education from Milligan College in Tennessee, a master's degree from Ball State University, and the Ed.D. degree from the University of Tulsa.

Alum to talk

Ayre Ellington Dethmers of Racine, Wis., a 1963 graduate of MSU, will be the keynote speaker at the Department of Human Sciences Alumni Chapter meeting on Saturday, Oct. 1, at 11 a.m. in the Riggle Room, Adron Doran University Center.

Currently director of business intelligence for the S.C. Johnson & Son Inc., Dethmers will speak on "Career Management: Motivation and Strategies." The presentation will cover her experiences in home economics and food science as well as research and development and corporate management.

In her present position, Dethmers oversees activities involving key competitors that impact business decision-making and strategic planning.

Dethmers founded the S.C. Johnson & Son, Inc.'s, Women Business Council and recently the company was listed among the Top 100 companies for Working Women. Sponsored by Working Mother magazine with the U.S. Department of Labor, the recognition was for addressing the issue of women's advancement barriers.

Promotion info

There will be a meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 3:30 p.m. in the Eagle Meeting Room, ADUC, for all faculty members who are interested in applying for promotion during the Spring Semester.

At that time, Dr. Ann Demaree, chairperson of the 1993-94 University Promotion Committee, and Dr. John C. Philley, executive vice president for academic affairs, will discuss the timelines for the process and the composition of the promotion portfolio.

It's Homecoming '94 weekend

MSU's '94 Homecoming, Sept. 30-Oct. 2, promises to be a weekend for reminiscing, reunions and renewing old friendships.

Kicking off the event will be the annual appreciation coffee and continental breakfast for faculty and staff members on Friday, Sept. 30, from 8:30 until 11 a.m. in the Alumni Center.

A reunion for members of the 1951-57 Track and Cross Country teams will follow at 11:30 a.m. in the Eagle Dining Room, ADUC. Dr. Nolan Fowler of Cookeville, Tenn., former head coach of the athletes, will be on hand for the luncheon. The annual Welcome Reception will be held at the Morehead Holiday Inn later that day, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Completing the day's activities will be the Athletic Hall of Fame banquet that begins at 7 p.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC. Six athletes from various sports will be inducted during the dinner program. They include: Louis Rogan of Columbus, Ohio, and Frank Robertson of Lexington, football; Lawrence Carter of Vero Beach, Fla., football and basketball; Carl Deaton of Greensburg, track; Marti Rust Sizemore of Independence, volleyball, and Walt Terrell of Union, baseball.

Career day

Morehead State University will host a Minority and University Career Day on Tuesday, Oct. 4, in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center.

The program, coordinated by the offices of Minority Student Affairs and Career Planning and Placement, will run from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Employers from numerous agencies will be on hand to discuss their company's co-ops, internships and job openings. Among these are representatives from state government and public and private sectors, as well as radio stations, security, and branches of the military.

Currently, more than 40 companies are scheduled to be on campus with new ones being added every day, according to Dr. Michael Hopper, Career Planning and Placement director. "Of those planning to attend, several are looking for new employees. For instance, the FBI will hire 500 new agents this year and Long John Silver's will need new managers for its 100 new stores," he said.

The day's agenda will follow a come-and-go atmosphere and pre-registration is not required to attend.

Automation

Educators and librarians are invited to participate in an interactive videoconference on the electronic library on Tuesday, Oct. 4, in the Riggle Room, ADUC, on the Morehead State University campus.

The session will run from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. There is no charge, but because of limited seating, pre-registration is necessary and may be made by calling (606) 783-5102. Participants may bring a brown bag lunch.

The videoconference, which will originate from the Online Computer Library Center, Inc. (OCLC) in Dublin, Ohio, will focus on issues that libraries and librarians will face as services become more automated. Host for the program will be K. Wayne Smith, OCLC president and CEO.

People in the News

Dr. Judith Stafford, associate professor of social work, made a presentation entitled "The Children of Ruth: Gleaning For the Future"

In conjunction with the Homecoming Weekend, MSU will join other professional organizations for the American Heart Association Walk.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. with the walk to start at 9 a.m. on the Laughlin lawn.

On the other end of campus, reuniting and reminiscing will be the focus for Saturday's Homecoming activities. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in the First Floor lobby, ADUC. Complimentary coffee and juices will be available.

Members of the 1953-55 graduating class will participate in reunion activities beginning at 10 a.m. in the Commonwealth Room, ADUC. The reunions will continue with former members of the Student Government Association, presidents and executive officers getting together at 10 a.m. in the Eagle Dining Room. The Human Sciences Alumni Chapter will hold its annual meeting for home economics alumni in the Riggle Room, beginning at 11 a.m.

Rehearsal for the Alumni Band will start at 10 a.m. at Baird Music Hall. Coordinated by the Department of Music, the reunion of former musicians will provide entertainment during the afternoon football game.

There will be time to relax and reflect at the annual Homecoming Brunch that runs from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC. The buffet style meal, which will offer breakfast and lunch items, will allow time to unwind before gearing up for the afternoon's revelry.

"Eagle Pride" will be abundant in the grandstands when the Eagles take on Southeast Missouri State University in the annual Homecoming football game. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. in Jayne Stadium.

During the game, the Alumni Band will play and members of the 1936-52 Ellis Johnson football teams will be recognized. Crowning of the Homecoming Queen and a performance by the MSU Marching Band will be part of the halftime activities.

The annual Homecoming Fish Fry, in the parking lot behind the Alumni Center, will follow the game. There is no charge for attending.

Other groups will be hosting receptions and/or reunions throughout the weekend. Minority alumni are invited to a reception at the president's home at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday. Former members and coaches of the debate and Individual Events team will gather in the Eagle Dining Room, beginning at 7 o'clock, and some Greek organizations will be meeting in various locations.

Culminating the Homecoming weekend activities, members of the 1930-35 classes will meet in the Commonwealth Room, ADUC, for a brunch on Sunday, Oct. 2.

Co-directors

Michelle Hardin, recruitment & employment manager, and Suzanne Hogge, compensation and benefits manager, will serve as interim co-directors of Human Resources effective Oct. 3.

The resignation of Dr. Marion Boenheim to accept the position of Vice President of Human Resources for the Community College of Spokane has created the temporary vacancy in the Office of Human Resources. A national search is being conducted to fill the position on a regular basis. All human resource issues and questions should be addressed to either Hardin or Hogge during the interim period.

at the 19th Annual Institute on Social Work and Human Services in Rural Areas at Castleton, Vt., in July.

Learn to ride a motorcycle

Motorcycle Rider courses for the beginner will be offered this fall by MSU's Office of Continuing Education.

The beginners course, which lasts two and a half days, will be offered three times on the following weekends: Oct. 7-9, Nov. 11-13 and Nov. 18-20. Classes will meet from 6 to 9 p.m. on Fridays and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

The registration fee for the beginners class is $100 which includes use of a motorcycle and helmet, according to Shirley Hamilton, director of continuing education.

The first class meeting will be in 209 Downing Hall, with subsequent sessions on courses laid out on the parking lot across from Jayne Stadium.

"The class, taught by qualified instructors, is designed to reduce motor vehicle accidents and injuries," Hamilton said. Anyone interested in taking the class may register by calling 3-2077.

Also registrations for an advanced motorcycle riding course, the dates of which are still to be determined, will be accepted at this time. The fee is $60 and participants must provide their own motorcycle and other equipment.

Helping sponsor the program locally are Midland Marine in Bath County and Honda of Flemingsburg. Supporting the local effort is the Motorcycle Safety Foundation, a national nonprofit organization sponsored by Honda, Yamaha, Kawasaki, Suzuki and BMW.

Get the facts

If you are interested in learning how to select the best computer for your needs or how to run current software programs, MSU's Office of Continuing Education may have your answer.

Three classes on computers and software are scheduled to be offered this fall as follows:

Fundamentals of Buying and Using a Computer: Oct. 4, 6, 13, and 18, from 6 to 8 p.m. in 304 Combs with Marvin Albin as instructor, cost $15. The course will cover what to look for when buying a computer and an explanation of those features. Hardware and software, including Windows and operating systems also will be discussed.

Introduction to WordPerfect 6.0 for Windows: Oct. 5, 12, 19, 26 and Nov. 2, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. in 304 Combs with Robert Magee as instructor, cost $25. The course will introduce the WordPerfect 6.0 for Windows environment and mouse navigation techniques. Skills covered include entering/editing text, saving/retrieving documents and printing. Text formatting also will be introduced.

Fundamentals of Spreadsheet Computing Using Lotus 1-2-3: Oct. 25, 27, Nov. 1, 3, 10 and 15, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. in 304 Combs with Marvin Albin as instructor, cost $25. Course will introduce spreadsheet computing using the Lotus 1-2-3 software and will cover data types, functions, formulas, printing and making charts. To register: 3-2077.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Counselor, Upward Bound, Academic Services Center; annual salary: $21,296; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 29.

Deaf Interpreters (Two positions), Department of Psychology, (to provide detached services to the Kentucky Department of Vocational Rehabilitation); positions are renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Sept. 30.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 5.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, MSU-Licking Valley Center; annual salary: $21,296; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 6.

Carpenters (Four positions), Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $7.45; positions are renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 6.

Secretary Specialist, Educational Opportunity Center, Academic Services Center; hourly rate: $7.45; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 7.

Construction Manager, Office of Physical Plant; annual salary: $24,810; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 7.

Secretary, Folk Art Center; hourly rate: $6.56; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 7.

Manager of Academic Computing, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: under review; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 11.

Dean, College of Business (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 12.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Department of Psychology, Carl D. Perkins Comprehensive Rehabilitation Center, Thelma; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 17.

Assistant Professor of History (Non-Western) (Tenure Track), Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Assistant Professor of History (European) (Tenure Track), Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Assistant Professor of Geography (Tenure Track), Department of Geography, Government and History; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 15.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

HAPPENINGS

Friday, Sept. 30

Homecoming, through Oct. 2 (see story on page 1).

Saturday, Oct. 1

Football: MSU vs. Southeast Missouri, Jayne Stadium, 1:30 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 3

Concert: Jeff Foxworthy and BlackHawk, Academic-Athletic Center, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, Oct. 4

Minority and University Career Day, Crager Room, ADUC, 10 a.m.
Volleyball: MSU vs. EKU, WG, 7 p.m.
Junior recital: Mary Allen, DRH, 8 p.m.
Comedian Vic Henley, BA, 9:15 p.m.

Thursday, Oct. 6

Concert: Symphonic Winds and Concert Band, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 7

Volleyball: MSU vs. Middle Tennessee, WG, 3 p.m.; MSU vs. Tennessee State, 7 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 8

Volleyball: MSU vs. Tennessee Tech, WG, 2 p.m.

Art exhibition

The photographs of Richard Arentz of Flagstaff, Ariz., are on display now through Nov. 4 in the gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building.

The public is invited to meet the artist at an evening reception on Wednesday, Oct. 5. The event will run from 7 to 9 p.m. in the gallery.

The exhibit, entitled "Views of France, Britain, Portugal and Greece," consists of 40 platinum and palladium photographs in a 7" x 17" format.

Gallery hours are 8 a.m.-4 p.m., Monday through Friday. There is no charge for viewing.

Finalists named

Eleven MSU students were recently selected as finalists for the 1994 Homecoming Queen competition. They are: Deana Rachelle Bailey, Valetta Kelly Hardwick, Kirsten Huffman, Scarlett ShaLomia Johnson, Julie McDermott, Trisha McHolland, Jill Ratliff, Kristi Kathleen Scott, Amy Welch, Beth Whitney and Natalie Woods.

SC officers

MSU's Staff Congress has elected officers for the coming year. They are: Chair: Russell Glenn Howard, work control center supervisor, Office of Physical Plant; Vice chair: Dr. Mike Hopper, Career Planning and Placement director, and Secretary: Debra Renee Morris, reference service paraprofessional, Camden-Carroll library.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Oct. 6, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 14

Workforce being explored

Economic growth and prosperity for Kentucky depend on creating a culture that values lifelong learning is the message of a six-week campaign entitled "Crisis in the Workforce: Help Wanted" that will conclude Oct. 22.

"In previous years, it was enough to educate and train people in basic and specialized skills," said Billy Harper, co-chairman of the coalition and president of Harper Institutes in Paducah. "The state prospered, along with the nation, because companies defined work by simplification of tasks. Education and training which emphasized mastery of narrow, specific skills became an integral part of what seemed to be a winning model."

Harper believes a new world of work is now emerging and companies realize that narrow job descriptions and limited job responsibilities make for unhappy, unproductive employees. The route to higher levels of productivity lies on the road to education and training programs which are coordinated and emphasize multiple skills development. "In short, we can no longer concentrate on training for the job; we must train for a job," he said.

This need for multiple skills is one Bill Sprague, co-chairman of the campaign and president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, sees every day.

"Agriculture, like other industries in this country, must have a skilled, educated, and motivated work force if it is going to compete successfully in this global community," Sprague said. "It is imperative that all of us seek innovative ways to meet this task."

According to Sprague, there are two factors that makes fundamental change in workforce education essential: much of the technology needed 10 years from now hasn't even been developed yet and 80 percent of our current workforce will still be in the workplace 10 years from now.

"This means we must have a comprehensive system in place capable of training and retraining those individuals," he said.

Making Kentuckians more aware of these issues is the purpose of the campaign, which was based in part on research done by the Public Agenda Foundation, a nonprofit, non-partisan education and research organization. The Foundation found that there is a wide gap of understanding between the public and experts on these issues in many states including Kentucky. The campaign is designed to help close that gap by providing citizens with both the information and the forum from which to discuss alternatives and make decisions.

'Humor' power

"The Healing Power of Humor," a continuing education program for psychologists and other human services personnel, will be offered by the Department of Psychology on Friday, Oct. 14, from 1 to 4:15 p.m. in the Riggle Room, Adron Doran University Center.

Dr. Michael R. Nichols, psychologist at Eastern State Hospital, will be the speaker.

The immediate past president of the Kentucky Psychological Association and former board member, Dr. Nichols also has adjunct faculty status at the University of Kentucky. He is author of several articles, book chapters and monographs as well as three films and has performed at "Comedy on Broadway" in Lexington.

The program is open to the public, but limited seating is available and advance registration is recommended. There is a $30 registration fee. Telephone: 3-2981.

Comments?

Faculty, staff and students will have the opportunity to comment on the draft of the 1994 Accountability Report. The report, mandated by Kentucky Senate Bill 109, measures University progress from baseline data established in the 1993 Accountability Report in 15 accountabilities ranging from student/alumni satisfaction, graduation/persistence rates, pass rates on licensure exams, faculty workload & contact hours, and classroom utilization. The final edition of the 1994 Accountability Report for each Kentucky college/university will be issued by the Council on Higher Education in December.

There will be an open-forum to discuss significant aspects of the report on Thursday, October 13, at 11:30 a.m., in East Room B, ADUC. Additionally, a copy of the draft report is available at the Reserve Desk, Camden Carroll Library.

Any questions or comments concerning the draft report should be directed to Dr. Judy R. Rogers at 3-2004.

Angela Martin is new director

Angela Martin, formerly director of internal audits, has been named director of budgets and management information.

Martin's appointment was effective Oct. 1, according to Porter Dailey, MSU vice president of administration and fiscal services.

A staff member since 1989, Martin fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Ray Pinner, who accepted a post as assistant vice president for finance and budgets at the University of Alabama-Huntsville.

"Ms. Martin already has demonstrated her excellent abilities in fiscal management," Dailey said. "We were pleased to offer her this opportunity for advancement."

Martin earned the B.S. degree in business administration from the University of Louisville and an M.B.A. degree from Xavier University. In addition, she is a certified public accountant, licensed in Kentucky.

Gov. Jones to be guest

Gov. Brereton C. Jones will be the guest on a special "Focus on the Region" which airs at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 11, over WKMY 90.3 FM., public radio from the MSU campus.

The governor will take part in a half-hour interview with Tom Lewis, WKMY news and public affairs director.

Among the topics to be discussed are health care reform, the governor's appointees to the state Health Policy Board, economic development in Northeastern Kentucky, the down-sizing of state government, preparations for possible severe winter weather and what Jones hopes to accomplish during his last 14 months in office.

"We appreciate the governor's willingness to spend this time addressing issues affecting the region," Lewis said.

"This program will give WKMY listeners an opportunity to hear the commonwealth's chief executive respond more fully to important questions, giving them more than just a short sound bite," he added.

BCBS change

MSU's Blue Cross Blue Shield Health plan is now being handled by Acordia of Lexington, Inc. There have not been any changes to your current BCBS health insurance coverage. This transition was implemented to enhance the services provided to MSU employees. All claim forms should now be mailed to Acordia of Lexington, 333 West Vine Street, Suite 600, Lexington, KY 40507-1627.

You will continue to use the current BCBS claim forms which have the Louisville address until the supply is depleted but remember to mail them to the Lexington address.

Questions regarding insurance coverage or claims should be addressed to Adelaide Willis, customer service representative assigned to MSU's group, at 1-800-456-3361. Additional information is available from the Office of Human Resources at 3-2097.

People in the News

Tom Sternal, Department of Art chair, installed several sculpture pieces this summer: six monumental-sized pieces on the Allentown (Penn.) Hospital Center's grounds, three large stone sculpture pieces at California (Penn.) University, and a stone and welded copper piece at Appalachian State University for the Eighth Rosen Sculpture Competition in Boone, N.C. In July he began installation of a series of sculpture pieces for a new park on the former site of the Ben Synder Department Store in Lexington.

Dr. Kent Freeland, professor of education, served on the Kentucky Department of Education's content advisory committee at its meeting in Louisville, Aug. 2-3.

Dr. Charles E. Holt, professor of history, has been selected to serve on the National Council for the Social Studies teacher education committee. His term will run through June 1996.

Dr. Michael Biel, associate professor of radio-television, attended the annual conference of the Association for Recorded Sound Collections in New York City where he hosted and chaired two presentations by Dr. Alexander Tikhonov of the Russian State Archive of Phonodocuments, Moscow, Russia. He assisted in arranging for Dr. Tikhonov's American visit and guided him to private and institutional sound recordings archives in numerous sites including the Library of Congress, Voice of America, Country Music

Foundation, Rodgers and Hammerstein Archive of Recorded Sound and the Edison national historic site. The tour also included a trip to Morehead where Dr. Tikhonov inspected Dr. Biel's collection and MSU's audio and video studio facilities. Dr. Biel made videotape recordings of the conference presentations and tours to be shown on the Russian SECAM television.

Four faculty members took part in a special 10-day faculty development seminar sponsored by the American Association of Colleges and Universities and funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Ford Foundation. They were: Dr. Lynne Fitzgerald, associate professor of health, physical education and recreation; Dr. Fran Helphinstine, professor of English; Dr. Layne Neeper, assistant professor of English, and Dr. Suzanne Tallichet, assistant professor of sociology. Their participation in "Boundaries and Borderlands: The Search for Recognition and Community in America" was made possible by a grant from AACU written by Dr. Judy Rogers, associate vice president for academic affairs, and the President's Commission on General Education. Held at Williams College, the institute was part of AACU's "American Commitments: Diversity, Democracy and Liberal Learning" project. The program, which ran from July 27 through Aug. 1, was held at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass.

Workout plan

If you want to add something to your lunchtime agenda, why not join the Faculty/Staff Wellness Program's walking plan.

Participants walk every day on their lunch hour and enjoy a 10-15 minute sack lunch seminar on Wednesdays. The afternoon program includes aerobic conditioning and walking program starting at 4:45 p.m. Monday and Wednesday with strength training/toning and/or additional walking opportunities available on Tuesday and Thursday from 4:45 until 6 p.m.

Blood pressure monitoring, body composition determination, goal setting and personal consultations are available.

The program is open to any faculty or staff member for $30 per semester or $50 per year. Participants can attend any or all sessions they wish, and as an added bonus, members of the MSU Faculty/Staff Wellness Program may register for continuing education classes at 1/2 the cost, including water aerobics and step aerobics classes.

For more information or to register, call 3-5161. If you are interested in an early morning (6:30-7:30 a.m.) aqua aerobics class or lap swimming, please call. A list of 10 names is needed.

New shows

WMKY, 90.3 F.M., public radio from MSU's campus, has added two new shows to its fall line-up, both of which will air on Sunday, according to Wendy Nelson, WMKY program and production director.

"The World Cafe," a showcase of adult, alternative and acoustic music, will be presented at 8 p.m.

Produced by WXPB in Philadelphia and hosted by David Dye, "The World Cafe" features a blend of recorded music, along with live in-studio performances and interviews. Artists to be heard will include John Gorka, Sam Phillips, Sarah McLachlan, Iris Dement, October Project, Sonia Dada, the Subdudes, Shawn Colvin and many others.

National Public Radio's latest new program, "Weekly Edition," will debut at 4 p.m. on Oct. 9. Hosted by Neal Conan, it is a magazine-style show highlighting the previous week's best reports and features from "Morning Edition" and "All Things Considered."

Food day

MSU will be a host site for the 14th annual World Food Day Teleconference on Friday, Oct. 14, from noon to 3 p.m. in the Riggle Room, Adron Doran University Center.

"Sharing Water: Farms, Cities and Ecosystems," will be broadcast live from studios at George Washington University. The focus of the teleconference is the scarcity of fresh water that threatens the entire global population.

Organized by the U.S. National Committee for World Food Day and sponsored locally by MSU's Office of Continuing Education, the teleconference will examine many issues concerning the earth's water supply, including the rising competition among agricultural, industrial and urban consumers for its limited resource.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Adult Basic Education Teacher, MSU-Licking Valley Center; annual salary: $21,296; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 6.

Carpenters (Four positions), Office of Physical Plant; hourly rate: $7.45; positions are renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 6.

Construction Manager, Office of Physical Plant; annual salary: $24,810; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 7.

Secretary, Folk Art Center; hourly rate: $6.56; position renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 7.

Secretary Specialist, Educational Opportunity Center, Academic Services Center; hourly rate: $7.45; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 7.

Manager of Academic Computing, Office of Academic Computing; annual salary: under review; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 11.

Dean, College of Business (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 12.

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Department of Psychology, Carl D. Perkins Comprehensive Rehabilitation Center, Thelma; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 17.

Assistant Professor (or above) of Music Education/Jazz Studies (Tenure Track), Department of Music; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 24.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Recycling tips

Staples do not have to be removed from white ledger paper or other mixed paper, in order to recycle. In other words, staples are Okay.

However, mailing labels are out. Please remove the glued non-recyclable mailing labels. April Haight, recycling coordinator, suggests that campus organizations using these labels look at using another method for mailing in bulk and will be glad to assist in choosing an alternative method. She may be reached at 3-5268.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Oct. 6

Concert: Symphonic Winds and Concert Band, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 7

Volleyball: MSU vs. Middle Tennessee, WG, 3 p.m.; MSU vs. Tennessee State, 7 p.m.; also Oct. 8, MSU vs. Tennessee Tech, WG, 2 p.m.

Sunday, Oct. 9

Senior recital: Donald Sorah, DRH, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, Oct. 11

Meet Morehead State Night, Holiday Inn in Hazard, 7 p.m.

Faculty recital: Michael Acord, clarinet, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Oct. 12

Middle School Band Clinic, Baird, 9 a.m.

Thursday, Oct. 13

Senior recital: John Wright, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 14

World Food Day teleconference, Eagle Dining Room, ADUC, noon.
MSU Fall Classic Horse Show, University Farm, 6 p.m.; also Oct. 15.

Saturday, Oct. 15

Blue and Gold Festival of Marching Bands, Jayne Stadium, 9:45 a.m.

WW at Work

The MSU F/S Wellness Program has announced the At Work Weight Watchers Program. This program, which will condense a regular meeting into a half hour program, will take place at lunchtime, on either Tuesday or Thursday.

An informal meeting will be set to determine the time and date, based on scheduling. At this meeting, a representative from Weight Watchers will be available to explain the program, financial commitments and answer questions. Fifteen people are needed to enroll in order for the program to get underway. Additional information and to give input on when the free informational meeting will take place are available from Beth Vincenzo with the MSU F/S Wellness Program at 3-5161.

Save energy

Since October is Energy Conservation Month, here are some tips to help conserve energy: turn off lights in a classroom when not in use, walk to work or across campus instead of driving, and keep windows closed when air conditioning or heat is on.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

0037039
MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Oct. 13, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 15

CHE forum

All faculty and staff are encouraged to attend the Council on Higher Education public forum on Tuesday, Oct. 18, at 6 p.m. in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center.

This is one of a series of CHE-sponsored public forums offering Kentuckians the opportunity to comment upon the strategic plan for higher education update for 1996-2000 and plans for a new method of allocating state money to universities based on their performance. The forum at MSU is only one of two being held in Eastern Kentucky; the other is slated for Oct. 19 at Prestonsburg Community College.

New program is launched

MSU, through the Appalachian Graduate Consortium in Pikeville, has launched an Executive M.B.A. Program for area business personnel seeking to further their education with a graduate degree in business administration.

The program was created by MSU's College of Business faculty after talks with community leaders who believed there was a need for local access to the master's degree program.

MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin told the civic leaders that if they would raise $50,000 a year for the program's first three years, that MSU will fund instructional and other costs of about twice that amount each year.

The local funding will be used to help hire an on-site faculty member for the program, who also would be available to assist with economic development efforts in the Pikeville area.

"This program is truly a partnership between the University and the region it serves," Dr. Eaglin said. "It is a good example of a community recognizing a need and working to make it happen."

Custom-designed Executive M.B.A. programs are becoming more commonplace, according to Beverly McCormick, interim dean of MSU's College of Business. "However, we think our approach is rather unique," the dean said.

Enrolled in a special "Precept Seminar" this fall are 39 individuals, whose ranks include mining executives, banking personnel, medical administrators, store managers, CPAs and small business owners. Many of the students' employers are paying full or partial tuition through educational assistance programs.

In addition to the traditional undergraduate degree requirement, students enrolling in the Executive M.B.A. Program must have a minimum of two years of managerial or supervisory experience.

Based on the cohort concept, this group of degree seekers will stay together for a three-year period to complete the program and then a new cohort class will be started when sufficient enrollment becomes available.

Executive M.B.A. Programs differ from the customary M.B.A. degree in that they are based on actual experience in the business world, according to John Alcorn, MSU associate professor of accounting and coordinator of the M.B.A. program.

The Precept Seminar, which meets twice a week for two and a half hours this semester, was carefully tailored to cover a common body of knowledge required for the graduate degree.

"Actually, the seminar transcends traditional business-related courses and will include such areas as writing skills and presentation," McCormick said.

(continued on back)

Class offered

Morehead State University will offer a new class during the second nine weeks of the fall semester.

The course, "MSU 400: The World of Work," is designed to give upcoming graduates a successful transition from college to the beginning of a career, according to Dr. Michael Hopper, director of Career Planning and Placement.

Dr. Hopper, who will teach the course, plans to instruct students on how to best find the job they want.

"I'm going to teach a procedure for getting a job. Whether it's today or 20 years from now, the method works," said Dr. Hopper.

The course, restricted to juniors and seniors, will cover three main areas: 1) Self Assessment: assessing career goals, individual skills, and career targets; 2) Market Analysis: researching companies, potential employers, and 3) Job Search and Process: resumes, cover letters, interviewing.

Dr. Hopper will prepare students to locate the best cities and companies that offer the most promising job opportunities.

"We will show students how to target a specific city and that city's job climate," he said.

"Upcoming graduates also need to think about life after college and prepare themselves for a highly competitive job market," he added.

"The class will offer a unique opportunity for students to get a head start," he said. "Many students don't know what they want to do, and the uncertainty can cause problems. The class will help students assess personal skills and learn how to decide what they want to do and where they want to do it."

Students taking the class will be required to start a file with Career Planning and Placement.

Dr. Hopper has been putting up posters around campus to promote the class. Second semester classes begin Oct. 17.

Enrollment

The open enrollment period for the Section 125 Cafeteria Plan has been set for Oct. 10-28.

Representatives of Benefit Planning Services, Inc., administrator for Morehead State University's IRC Section 125 - Cafeteria Plan, will be on campus during this three week period to meet with all employees.

As stipulated in the IRC regulations, each employee is to have this plan explained to him/her and then to sign a form indicating a decision relative to participation or nonparticipation in the Section 125 Plan for the 1995 calendar year. When you are contacted by a representative, please take a few minutes to meet with them so that they can assist you in making a decision as to the feasibility of the plan for you.

Questions regarding the Cafeteria Plan may be directed to Bill Riley at 3-2097; or stop by 109 Howell-McDowell or call 3-2569 to talk with a Benefits Planning Services representative.

People in the News

Dr. Robert Grueninger, professor of HPER, served as a sports specialist in Malaysia and Hong Kong for the U.S. Sports Academy in mid-August.

Dwayne Cable, Information Technology director, presented a paper entitled "Technology Integration and Organizational Cultures" at the North Carolina Community College Institutional Information Processing System Users Group meeting in Raleigh, N.C., July 20-22.

Dr. Mark Schack, professor of education, authored an article entitled "Exploring Science with NASA Spacelink" that was published in the

Fund drive

WMKY 90.3 F.M., public radio from the MSU campus, will launch its Fall Fund Drive on Saturday, Oct. 15.

"Our seven-day fund drive is an opportunity for listeners to express appreciation for a service which enlightens and entertains by supporting WMKY with their financial contributions," said Ron Mace, WMKY promotions and development director.

Listeners from outside the Morehead area may call 1-800-232-6781 toll-free, while local residents may call 783-2001 to make their pledges. Pledges again will be accepted on Visa and MasterCard and MSU employees may contribute through payroll deduction as well.

"Our news and information programming, such as 'Morning Edition,' 'All Things Considered,' and 'As It Happens,' gives the listener an up to the minute picture of world events," Mace added. "We cover local and regional news and sports throughout the day, in addition to an in-depth look with 'WMKY Newsroom' which airs at 4:30 p.m. weekdays."

"Licensed to serve the public, WMKY cannot fulfill its mission without the financial support of the public. Our arts and entertainment programming is well-produced and presented," Mace said. "We receive wonderful materials from independent distributors."

"However, the common theme to all the programming is escalating costs which increase with each year and that means that passive listeners, by necessity, must become active contributors in order to keep quality programming on the air," he said.

Highest honor

MSU's Kentucky Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, international honor society in the social sciences, has again attained the society's highest ranking-Roll of Distinction.

Recognition of MSU's achievement will be included in the "International Science Review" for the coming year.

Dr. Suzanne Tallichet, assistant professor of sociology, is the chapter adviser. Margaret D. Patton and Lola R. Crosthwaite, associate professors of sociology, serve as faculty consultants.

Band festival

Approximately 4,000 high school students are expected to participate in MSU's Blue and Gold Festival of Marching Bands on Saturday, Oct. 15.

Band performances will begin at 9:45 a.m. in Jayne Stadium and continue throughout the morning and afternoon with an awards ceremony slated for 8:30 p.m.

Tickets will be available at the gate at $4 for adults, $2 for children 12 and under, and free to those under 6.

Fall issue of "CommuniKAPS," the journal of the Kentucky Science Teachers Association. Dr. Ronald Fiel, Department of Physical Sciences chair, is the editor.

Dr. Ray Bernardi, professor of business education, attended the 1994 Kentucky Business Education Conference in Louisville, Aug. 7-10. He is a KBEA Executive Board member which also met during the conference.

Sharon Jackson, KET GED-ON-TV project director, has received a $157,733 grant from Kentucky Educational Television, Inc., to fund the program for the coming year.

MBA... (continued from front)

Successful completion of the seminar for six graduate credit hours is a requirement to progress in the program. Students will be evaluated on the basis of a portfolio created from assignments evolving out of the seminar.

The full program not only includes specific required courses, but also there will be electives offered structured to meet the needs of the cohort, Alcorn said.

Nina Reynolds, a medical technologist at Pikeville Methodist Hospital who holds a bachelor's degree in biology from MSU, has long wanted to see graduate education opportunities in the area for those who are not teachers.

"MSU's Executive M.B.A. program is giving me an opportunity for self-improvement while making me more valuable to my employer and this region," Reynolds said.

A letter of support from Charles G. Snively, president of the Martin County Coal Corporation, is typical of the responses received from other area businesses. In it Snively voiced the company's support of the program itself and of its employees who enroll.

"I am glad that Morehead State University is bringing a program such as this to our area and commend you for that investment," he wrote.

"We really appreciate the enthusiastic support of the business community for this program," said McCormick. "There's excitement on the parts of both our faculty and the program participants. We really think this program is a win-win situation for all parties involved in this."

Newsletter

Library Bits and PC's, Camden-Carroll Library's newsletter, is now available in electronic form on the MSU gopher server. The Fall 1994 issue is the first to be published in electronic form. It includes such topics as information about the new library system, how to log in to the online catalog from outside the library, new search services available in the library and through the Internet, and a new table of contents service, also available through the Internet.

To use the MSU gopher server, log in to the campus network using the c msuacad login. At the $ prompt, type in MENUS. At the MSU Main Menu, select "Internet Resource Menu," and then select "Gopher Menu." From the Gopher Menu, select "Electronic Journals," which is number six on the menu. Library Bits and PCs will be listed as a choice on the next menu.

Anyone who wishes to receive Library Bits and PCs through e-mail may submit a request to c.keys@msuacad.morehead-st.edu, or call 3-5122 and leave their e-mail address.

Fax paper

The Office of Student Wellness has received 1.0 inch Core, Xerox fax paper in error. It cannot be returned to the supplier. For anyone needing this paper, we will gladly exchange using interaccount request. Telephone: 3-5248.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Secretary (12 months, 32 hours per week), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 19.

EXTERNAL

Adult Basic Education Teacher, Department of Psychology, Carl D. Perkins Comprehensive Rehabilitation Center, Thelma; position is renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 17.

Head Football Coach, Office of Athletics; position is renewable; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 21.

Dean, College of Science and Technology (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 1.

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Assistant Professor (or above) of Music Education/Jazz Studies (Tenure Track), Department of Music; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 24.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Presentation

The Department of Geography, Government and History will begin its fall program series with a lunchtime presentation by Dr. William Green titled "Consumer-Directed Advertising of Contraceptive Drugs: the FDA, Products Liability, and the Case of Depo-Provera." The program will be on Wednesday, Oct. 19, at 11:30 a.m. at 215 Rader Hall. All faculty and staff members are invited to bring a brown-bag lunch and beverage.

The presentation will be an analysis of the risk management dimensions of consumer-directed contraceptive drug advertising which argues that even though these ads comply with FDA regulations, that state products liability law still has a critical role in managing contraceptive drug use.

Dr. Green's presentation will be one of a series of programs to be sponsored by the department throughout the fall and spring semesters with topics ranging from the Chinese economic system to the art of lecturing.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Oct. 13

Senior recital: John Wright, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 14

World Food Day teleconference, Eagle Dining Room, ADUC, noon.
Seminar: "The Healing Power of Humor," 1 p.m., Riggle Room, ADUC.
Seminar: Dr. Merle Valdmann, Estonia veterinarian, Reed Hall, 2 p.m.
MSU Fall Classic Horse Show, University Farm, 6 p.m.; also Oct. 15.

Saturday, Oct. 15

Blue and Gold Festival of Marching Bands, Jayne Stadium, 9:45 a.m.

Sunday, Oct. 16

Alumni Association's "Day at the Races."

Tuesday, Oct. 18

Council on Higher Education Public Forum, Crager Room, ADUC, 6 p.m.

Wednesday, Oct. 19

Theatre: "The Women," Kibbey Theatre, through Oct. 22, 8 p.m.; also Oct. 23, 2 p.m.

Thursday, Oct. 20

Senior recital: Rebecca Castle, DRH, 8 p.m.

WW to begin

An informational meeting of the Weight Watchers at Work Program will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 18, at noon in the Len Miller Room of the Academic-Athletic Center.

A representative from Weight Watchers will be on hand to explain the program and answer questions. A minimum of 15 people are needed to start the program which is designed to meet once a week at work for one-half hour.

Additional information is available from Beth Vincenzo with the F/S Wellness Program at 3-5161.

CU meeting

The credit union will hold its annual meeting on Thursday, Oct. 27, at 3 p.m. in 209 Downing Hall. The public is invited to attend the brief business meeting and meet the board of directors.

During the third quarter, the board of directors increased dividends from 3.3 to 3.5 percent on all share accounts with balances of at least $10.

Self-defense

Judy Carpenter, third degree black belt, will conduct a free self-defense seminar/demonstration in Butler Hall on Monday, Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Oct. 20, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 16

Register now for women's symposium

The unique ways women have of communicating, knowing and learning will be the focus of a special symposium held at MSU's Adron Doran University Center Nov. 10-12.

Coordinated by a campuswide steering committee, which includes MSU's ad hoc committee on women's studies, the 1994 Wilma E. Grote Symposium for the Advancement of Women has drawn presenters from all over the United States as well as from New Zealand.

The theme, "Women's Ways of Knowing, Learning and Communicating," will be explored in a variety of workshops, general sessions and paper presentations.

"As women, we share distinctive ways of communicating and learning," said Dr. Linda Salyer, chair of MSU's Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences who is co-chairing the symposium with Gail Wise, coordinator of the department's continuing education component.

"This symposium will examine a variety of these ways as they relate to issues affecting women's lives, both professionally and personally," Dr. Salyer added.

"This year's theme evolved from the award-winning book, 'Women's Ways of Knowing: The Development of Self, Voice and Mind' and one of its four authors, Dr. Mary Field Belenky, will be a featured speaker," she said.

Dr. Belenky, an associate research professor at the University of Vermont, will speak at the 6:30 p.m. banquet on Friday, Nov. 11, as well as participate in a paper session earlier that day.

With registration commencing at noon on Thursday, Nov. 10, the symposium will open at 2 p.m. with several workshop sessions.

On Friday, Nov. 11, Lorie Kleiner Eckert, a contemporary quilt artist from Loveland, Ohio, will present "One Woman's Journey Toward Self-Acceptance and Love" using her quilts to illustrate her talk.

Capping the symposium program will be author George Ella Lyon of Lexington, who will speak at the noon luncheon on Saturday, Nov. 12. Her topic will be "The Weave of Womanthought."

For symposium-goers registering by Nov. 4, the fee, including meal functions, will be $70 for all three days or $40 for a single day. The cost of on-site registration or for those registering after Nov. 4 will be $90 for all sessions or $55 per day.

Students may attend all sessions except for meal functions at no charge, but must register in advance. Those wishing to attend meal functions will be charged $10 per day.

Information on special rates for MSU faculty and staff members is available by calling the symposium office at 3-2004.

I-9 forms

The Immigration Council and Reform Act of 1986 requires employers to verify employment eligibility for all employees within three days of employment. Hiring supervisors must ensure that new and returning employees report to the Office of Human Resources (OHR) within the specified time period, preferably on the first day of employment. An employee returning on a new work authorization must reverify employment eligibility. The OHR schedules orientation sessions for new and returning employees as Personnel Action Requests (PARs) are approved for the purpose of ensuring completion of the required I-9 Form and other necessary forms for enrollment in University benefits.

Composer shares works

The Department of Music will present "The Music of Michael Angell" on Friday, Oct. 21, at 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall as part of its visiting composer series.

Dr. Angell also will present a lecture on his music and compositional techniques on Thursday, Oct. 20, at 3 p.m. also in Duncan.

Both events are free and open to the public.

Currently on the faculty of the University of Alabama at Birmingham, Dr. Angell has won numerous prizes and competitions, including the International Trumpet Guild's Composition Award for his "Sonata for Two Trumpets and Percussion."

He received his master's and doctoral degrees from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, where he also taught as a lecturer in music technology.

The evening's performance will conclude with the satire "The Death of Disco," performed by the MSU Orchestra and conducted by Dr. Andrew Glendening, associate professor of music.

PAR process

Did you know the employee entering a Personnel Action Request (PAR) on the system can check the approval status of the request at any time via their computer terminal? The originator should monitor each PAR for changes made during the approval process and kicked back notifications. A kicked back PAR requires further action by the originator before being resubmitted for approval. Supervisors must ensure that each PAR is approved before making an offer of employment or confirming a change in an employee's status. Please note that PARs are requests until officially approved through all appropriate levels. PARs should request a starting date after the PAR origination date giving reasonable time for the request to be approved/disapproved.

Presentation

The Department of Geography, Government and History will sponsor a presentation by Dr. Tim Pitts, assistant professor of geography, on Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 2 p.m. in 355 Rader Hall.

Dr. Pitts will speak on "Seaport Competition in the United States in the Early 1900s." His comments will include developments which have produced profound changes in the transportation systems of the U.S. and examine the results of these changes on seaports.

All faculty and staff are invited to attend. Additional information is available by calling 3-2720 or 3-2898.

People in the News

Dr. David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education at BSECC, will be a presenter at the fall conference of the Kentucky Council of Social Studies. The focus is a hands on approach to the social studies curriculum and is for grades 1-12.

Dr. Wayne Willis, associate professor of education, and Joy Gooding have received a $16,000 grant from the National Writing Project to fund the Writing Project on the campus for the third year.

Dr. Benjamin Malphrus, assistant professor of science, has received two grants totaling $111,718 from the Kentucky Department of Education to fund the PRISM project and a $6,352 grant from the Kentucky Educational

Leon Burchett has new role

Leon Burchett, former superintendent of the Paintsville Independent Schools, has been named special assistant for school relations at MSU.

Announcement of his appointment to the part-time post was made jointly by President Ronald G. Eaglin and Dr. John C. Philley, executive vice president for academic affairs.

"Well-known and respected in public education circles throughout Eastern Kentucky, Mr. Burchett will serve as our liaison with the schools in our service region," Dr. Eaglin said. "We are pleased to have him working on MSU's behalf."

Other responsibilities include assisting to identify and recruit outstanding students from the region, helping with "Meet Morehead State" programs and acting as a liaison with the Kentucky Educational Development Corporation.

"He also will be working closely with the offices of admissions and financial aid as well as with MSU's extended campus centers," said Dr. Philley. "Mr. Burchett's knowledge of Eastern Kentucky's public schools is an invaluable asset in his new role."

Communication is critical to his new role, according to Burchett. "I realize the importance of good communication and good relationships between MSU and the schools in the region," he said. "I will work hard to keep those lines of communication open."

Burchett served as superintendent from 1983 until retiring earlier this year. He previously was principal at Johnson Central High School, where he had held other administrative positions and also taught.

He earned his B.A. and M.S. degrees from the University of Kentucky and the Rank I in school administration from Eastern Kentucky University.

Open forum

The MSU Faculty Senate and the Morehead Chapter of the AAUP will co-sponsor an open forum on Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 4:10 p.m. in 419 Reed Hall to discuss the recently distributed Performance Based Salary Increase Revised Guidelines.

The draft of these guidelines were distributed from the office of the executive vice president for academic affairs on Oct. 3. This draft revision of the PBSI Guidelines was the work of an ad hoc PBSI advisory committee chaired by Dr. David Rudy.

Faculty members are invited to ask questions and comment on the proposed PBSI guidelines for this year. Written comments or questions may be directed to the Faculty Senate office, HM 204. Telephone: 3-2226.

Development Corp., to provide technical assistance to teachers for activity-centered science activities.

Paul Taylor, assistant professor of music, will present a paper entitled "Removing the Mystique from Technique" at the joint meeting of Kentucky and West Virginia Music Teachers Association in October. He also will perform Beethoven's "Third Piano Concerto" and conduct a masters class at the convention.

Bobbie Chaney, secretary specialist, was recognized as a sales achiever at the annual national convention of The Longaberger Company in Columbus, Ohio, for annual sales of at least $20,000.

Newsletter

NOTE: One step was omitted in this article when it ran in Update on Oct. 13. It is being reprinted in its entirety. We are sorry for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Library Bits and PC's, Camden-Carroll Library's newsletter, is now available in electronic form on the MSU gopher server. The Fall 1994 issue is the first to be published in electronic form. It includes such topics as information about the new library system, how to log in to the online catalog from outside the library, new search services available in the library and through the Internet, and a new table of contents service, also available through the Internet.

To use the MSU gopher server, log in to the campus network using the c.msuacad login. At the $ prompt, type in MENUS. At the MSU Main Menu, select "Internet Resource Menu," and then select "Gopher Menu." From the Gopher Menu, select "MSU Gopher Server." From the MSU Gopher Server Menu, select "Electronic Journals," which is number six on the menu. Library Bits and PCs will be listed as a choice on the next menu.

Anyone who wishes to receive Library Bits and PCs through e-mail may submit a request to c.keyes@msuacad.morehead-st.edu, or call 3-5122 and leave their e-mail address.

Broadcast

"Instructional Technology Review and Update," a live satellite broadcast sponsored by Information Technology, will be aired on Thursday, Oct. 27, from 1 to 3:30 p.m. in the Riggle Room, ADUC.

The broadcast will cover basic instructional hardware technology including multimedia, computer classroom equipment and networks; multimedia-enabled software for developing instructional applications and presentations, and new instructional technologies that enable or enhance group-based learning, distance learning and network distribution of multimedia. It will provide clear answers from the basics to recently announced products.

Tree project

The Office of Physical Plant has received a U.S. Small Business Administration grant for a tree planting project. The grant will fund the planting of more than 60 trees at two locations on campus. The Academic-Athletic Center and Laughlin/Wetherby areas were selected in order to enhance the appearance of these entrances to campus. Existing damaged or diseased trees will be removed and both areas will be landscaped with new trees. Work has begun on the removal process with installation of the new trees to begin in the near future. The project should be completed by the end of the semester.

Containers

April Haight, recycling/energy conservation coordinator, reports 12 desktop recycling containers are available. If you need one, call her at 3-5268. It will be first call, first served.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Head Football Coach, Office of Athletics; position is renewable; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 21.

Secretary Specialist, Office of Human Sciences, hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 28.

Director of Internal Audits, Office of Internal Audits; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 16.

Dean, College of Science and Technology (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 1.

Assistant Professor of Sociology (Two Positions) (Tenure Track), Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminology; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

'Haint' stories

For generations Eastern Kentuckians have shuddered and quaked when stories of the evil and revengeful "haints" that lurk in the forests were told by family storytellers.

Those "haint" tales will be revived on Friday, Oct. 28, when professional storyteller Beverly Carter Sexton of Broadhead presents "Boo Y'All" at the Kentucky Folk Art Center.

Sexton will spin her "haint" tales at 6 p.m. and again at 7 p.m. in a special program for Halloween. These stories aren't for sissies, but for brave youngsters of all ages, according to Jill Jayne-Read, center director.

The program is free and open to the public.

Play underway

MSU theatre students will present Claire Boothe's "The Women" as their first production of the 1994-95 season.

The show will be presented now through Saturday, Oct. 22, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 23, at 2 p.m. in Kibbey Theatre.

Reservations are required for the show and may be obtained by calling the Theatre Box Office at 3-2170. Tickets are $6 for adults and $2 for senior citizens, high school students and children. The play is free to MSU students with a valid I.D. card.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Oct. 20

MSU Board of Regents Audit Committee meeting, Riggle Room, Adron Doran University Center, 8:30 a.m.

Senior recital: Rebecca Castle, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Theatre: "The Women," Kibbey Theatre, through Oct. 22, 8 p.m.; also Oct. 23, 2 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 21

Volleyball: MSU vs. Murray State University, Wetherby Gymnasium, 7 p.m.

Visiting Composer: "The Music of Michael Angell," Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 22

Volleyball: MSU vs. Austin Peay State University, Wetherby Gymnasium, noon.

Sunday, Oct. 23

Faculty Recital: Jay Flippin, keyboards, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 24

CCED Leadership Development Program-Career Opportunities, Riggle Room.

ADUC, 5 p.m. Speakers are Roger Corn, Judy Krug and Frank Ballard.

Volleyball: MSU vs. Auburn, Academic-Athletic Center, 6 p.m.

Tuesday, Oct. 25

Meet Morehead State Night, Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg, 7 p.m.

EKSBD seminar: "Pre-Business Orientation," Exchange Bank in Mt. Sterling, 7 p.m.

Faculty Recital: Dr. Earle Louder, euphonium, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Thursday, Oct. 27

Credit union annual meeting, 209 Downing Hall, 3 p.m.

EKSBD seminar: "How to Apply for a Business Loan," Exchange Bank in Mt. Sterling, 7 p.m.

Octubafest Recitals, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 and 8 p.m.

Tutor-training

The MSU Adult Learning Center will offer a tutor-training workshop in four afternoon sessions.

The training will be held on Monday and Wednesday afternoons-Oct. 24, 26, 31 and Nov. 2- from 12:30-3:30 p.m., at the Center, 316 E. Main Street.

Trained volunteers are asked to help with the literacy program two hours a week. To register, call 3-2871 by Oct. 21.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Oct. 27, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 17

Area residents speak out at CHE forum

Keep in mind the uniqueness not only of Morehead State University's mission and its service region, but also the special differences of each university and college.

That was the primary message delivered repeatedly to the Council on Higher Education last Tuesday (Oct. 18) in a forum designed to provide public input on its strategic plan for 1996-2000 and performance funding. The CHE forum at MSU was one of 10 scheduled throughout the state on these topics.

More than 80 area residents were on hand either to listen or share their thoughts on how higher education's future should be shaped.

MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin, emphasizing the demographics of the University's region, told the CHE that he agreed that future planning and financing of higher education should center on the various missions of each institution.

Noting that MSU has one of the most challenging missions in the state, Dr. Eaglin said that the University was totally dedicated to the needs of the eastern-most counties of Kentucky.

"Your job, as ours, is to match these needs with what we specifically as a regional university must be and do to truly serve the region and the state," he said. Citing MSU's efforts with KERA, economic development and leadership development, he asked that in the funding model that such initiatives be rewarded and be recognized as important in the new strategic plan.

Dr. Ron Mitchelson, Department of Geography, Government and History chair, used slides to show historically how the 22-county region served by MSU had been neglected. He pointed to the outmigration of the region's "brightest and best" youth because of the lack of employment opportunity, but who, given the opportunity, preferred to stay.

He urged the CHE to remember that "the University's needs are tied proportionately to the need for educational and economic opportunities in the neediest service region in Kentucky's system of higher education."

Rowan County Judge-Executive Clyde Thomas also spoke to the importance of recognizing universities' efforts in community and economic development of their region in developing the new plan and funding model. Thomas also is chairman of the Morehead-Rowan County Economic Development Council.

"This may be hard to believe," he said, "But I have more money in my pocket here tonight than MSU received from the state this year to provide assistance in economic development to its 22-county service region in Eastern Kentucky."

He told the CHE that the cycle of poverty in the region could not be broken without more and better jobs. "Our universities have the brainpower to help us, but they don't have enough state funding to meet all of their missions," Thomas said.

Noting that teaching students is a university's first priority, he said he didn't expect Dr. Eaglin to shortchange students or faculty to help in economic development.

"Local agencies don't have the resources to pay for these services and we are frustrated by the fact that Kentucky is lagging behind other states in giving its universities the funding to make a difference in economic development," Thomas said.

(continued on back)

Survey

Camden-Carroll Library staff members are conducting a telephone survey of all faculty now through Nov. 4, to gather information on faculty use of the library and student assignments involving use of the library.

H.S. festival

The Department of Music will host the 35th annual Choral Festival for High School Singers on Oct. 31-Nov. 1 in Duncan Recital Hall.

On Monday, Oct. 31, at 8 p.m. the University's Concert Choir and Chamber Singers, both directed by James Ross Beane, MSU associate professor of music and festival director, will share the stage.

The Chamber Singers will perform madrigals and motets by Byrd, Bennett, Vautor and Hassler as well as contemporary choruses by Sjölund and Bardos.

The Concert Choir's program will include a performance of Leonard Bernstein's Chichester Psalms along with works by Mendelssohn, Goldman and Parker. Larry Keenan, MSU professor of music, will be the accompanist.

On Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 7 p.m., a 250-voice chorus composed of high school students from Kentucky and Ohio will be heard in concert.

Guest conductor will be Dr. Nathan Carter of Baltimore, Md., chair of the Department of Fine Arts and director of the Performing Arts Series at Morgan State University. Dr. Carter also directs the Morgan State University Choir which has performed frequently at Carnegie Hall and with several major orchestras, including New York, Cleveland, Detroit and Philadelphia.

He also has appeared as guest lecturer, conductor and clinician at several schools, including Harvard University, University of Connecticut and the University of Utah.

The chorus will present Mendelssohn's Heilig, Handel's Utrecht Jubilate and the final chorale from Copeland's Cantic of Freedom. Also on their program are choruses by Erb and Dawson. The accompanist will be Jay Flippin, MSU associate professor of music.

Both concerts are free and open to the public.

Russian music

Music lovers will have an opportunity to experience another culture when Russian folk musicians present three free concerts in Rowan County.

The "Blagovestie" (meaning Good News) vocal and instrumental ensemble, under the direction of Boris Berezchnoy, will perform in Duncan Recital Hall on the MSU campus on Thursday, Nov. 3, at 8 p.m.

The group will present a concert at Rowan County High School in the morning and an afternoon performance at Clearfield Elementary School on Friday, Nov. 4.

Musical selections for the concerts will include Russian folk and church pieces which the group has performed throughout their native land. Songs will be sung in Russian with the exception of the closing number which will be delivered in English.

People in the News

Michael Harford, Center for Community and Economic Development, has received several grants to fund projects: $4,000 from the Kentucky River Area Development District to fund the KRADD Empowerment Zone and Enterprise Community application for Wolfe County, $6,912 from the Mountaintop Agricultural Complex Partnership to identify potential contract operators to the partnership, $10,745 from Hypac, Inc., to conduct a market study and strategy assessment for the Flemingsburg-based company, and $5,000 from the Kentucky Forest Industries Association, Inc., to complete its Uses Activity Project Book.

Dr. Phyllis B. Oakes, associate professor of education, and Karen O. Hammons, assistant professor of education, have had a paper entitled "Helping Children Become More Self-Sufficient

Bus tour

Morehead and Rowan County residents interested in community revitalization have an opportunity to see what other communities are doing on Tuesday, Nov. 1.

A daylong bus tour of several new tourism developments in Eastern Kentucky will depart from MSU's Downing Hall at 7:30 a.m. Parking is available there.

Reservations for the tour, which costs $15 including lunch, may be made by calling MSU's Office of Continuing Education at 3-2077.

Among the stops will be the theater and archives at Southeast Community College's new Appalachian Center; an old WPA-built school in Benham which is now a bed and breakfast, and the Kentucky Coal Mine Museum, also located in Benham. While there the group will hear about the proposed Loretta Lynn Theme Park. A visit to Appalshop in Whitesburg will follow lunch.

"This trip is our opportunity to see what other rural communities are doing to promote economic development, while preserving important historical sites and artifacts," said Shirley Hamilton, Office of Continuing Education director.

Also co-sponsoring the tour is MSU's Center for Community and Economic Development and the Community Improvement Project of the Morehead Woman's Club.

Workshop

Diana Moses, head of the Public Records Division for the Kentucky Department of Libraries and Archives, will conduct a records management workshop Wednesday, Nov. 2, from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Eagle Dining Room, ADUC.

The Kentucky Archives and Records Commission has recently approved a records retention schedule for state universities, and MSU is preparing to implement a records management program as required by state law.

The workshop will be most useful for administrators and staff who are responsible for departmental records. Since space is limited, please call Clara Keyes at 3-5122 if you plan to attend.

'Report' erred

In the section on Private Giving/Major Gifts of the "Report from the President" from the Sept. 16, 1994 Board of Regents meeting, Regent Sonny Jones was quoted as saying "fund raising training workshops had been completed at all three extended campus centers and a new staff position, Planned Giving Officer, will be added." The sentence should have said that a Planned Giving Officer will be added to the Office of Development staff.

Learners by Becoming Responsive Teachers" accepted for publication in "Kaleidoscope: Journal of the Kentucky Early Childhood Association."

April Haight, recycling coordinator, attended the Kentucky Recycling Association's sixth annual conference on July 18.

Murray Greivous, custodial superintendent, attended the Affirmative Action Institute in Las Vegas, Nev., July 18-20.

During the annual Kentucky Communication Association's conference in Lexington, Sept. 16-17, Dr. John Modaff, assistant professor of speech, was elected president; Dr. Gary Lafleur, assistant professor of speech, was appointed editor of KCA's journal, and Harlen Hamm, professor of speech, was presented a presidential award for distinguished service to KCA.

Forum...

(continued from front)

Morehead businessman Larry Fannin told the CHE that while he might not understand funding formulas, as a businessman, he did know it costs more to serve more and that MSU is hard pressed financially because state dollars haven't kept pace with enrollment.

"If our universities are not fairly and adequately funded—put on that proverbial level playing field we hear so much about—then the ultimate bottom line will be that some students will be denied access," Fannin said. "I like the notion of performance funding and I encourage the council to continue that course; but only after the base appropriations for each university have been equalized," he added.

Adding his voice to others who shared concerns about the increasing number of nontraditional students (those over 25 years of age) on campuses, W. Stu Taylor, plant manager of Kentucky Electric Steel, told the council that the current funding model ignores their needs.

In considering performance funding criteria, he suggests CHE ask itself if it makes sense to judge institutions on retention rates for those older students whose job and family obligations force them frequently to stop in and stop out. "The 'graying' of America has already started on our campuses. The strategic plan and future funding plans should recognize that fact," Taylor said.

Statements were received from 18 people including higher education representatives, students, businessman and other area residents.

Maysville Community College President James Shires spoke to the issues of access and equity, while Ashland Community College Charles Dassance, urged consideration of institutional differences in developing performance funding criteria.

Team honored

The Eagle volleyball team is one of eight NCAA division I teams honored as American Volleyball Coaches Association Team Academic Awards Recipients.

The awards are given each year to teams which display excellence in the classroom by maintaining a cumulative 3.3 grade-point-average. The 1994 awards are given to those schools maintaining the average during the 1993-94 school year.

Morehead State tied the University of Nebraska with the highest team grade-point-average for all NCAA division I schools with a 3.44 mark. Other division I schools honored were Alabama, Binghamton University, Eastern Illinois, South Carolina, Tulane, Virginia Commonwealth and Wichita State.

Eagle Coach Tracy Beaty said, "It says a lot for these young ladies to do as well as they do on the court day in and day out and then do that much better in the classroom. We spend 20 hours a week in the gym, plus travel time for away games. It is amazing that individually they can all hold 3.0 averages as well as maintaining a team g.p.a. of 3.44. It says a lot for their dedication to academics as well as athletics."

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Continuing Education Assistant (Continuing 11-Month Position) Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; annual (11-months) salary: $13,078; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 2.

EXTERNAL

Secretary Specialist, Department of Human Sciences, hourly rate: $7.45; to ensure consideration, apply by Oct. 28.

Secretary (12-Month, 32-Hour Per Week Position), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; hourly rate: $6.56; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 4.

Director of Internal Audits, Office of Internal Audits; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 16.

Dean, College of Science and Technology (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 1.

Assistant Professor of Philosophy (Tenure Track), Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 7.

Assistant Professor of Sociology (Two Positions) (Tenure Track), Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminology; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Changes made

Significant changes have been made to the On-Line Requisition Program.

*When using the Inquire by Current Requisition option, the requestor, creator or approver is now able to view requisitions.

*When creating a requisition, the creator now has the option to submit immediately or put the requisition in a "HOLD" status.

*When changes are needed, the creator now has the ability to retrieve the requisition using the Inquire by Requisition Number option and making any changes prior to the first approval.

Deletion of lines can be performed by inserting an asterisk "" in the quantity "Qty" area.

Please call the Office of Purchasing at 3-2018 if you have any questions in using the program.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Oct. 27

Credit union annual meeting, 209 Downing Hall, 3 p.m.

Octubafest Recitals, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 and 8 p.m.

EKSDBC seminar: "How to Apply for a Business Loan," Exchange Bank in Mt. Sterling, 7 p.m.

Meet Morehead State Night, Carriage House in Paintsville, 7 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 28

"Haint" stories by Beverly Carter Sexton, Kentucky Folk Art Center, 6 and 7 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 29

KESDA State Drama Tournament, Breckinridge and Button, 8:30 a.m.

Football: MSU vs. University of Alabama at Birmingham, Jayne Stadium, 1:30 p.m.

Swimming and Diving: MSU vs. Xavier, AAC, 2 p.m.

Sunday, Oct. 30

Swimming and Diving: MSU vs. Evansville, AAC, noon.

Meet Morehead State Program, Ashland Plaza Hotel, 2 p.m.

Alumni Association's "Day at the Races."

Monday, Oct. 31

Center for Community and Economic Development—Career Opportunities, Riggle Room, 5 p.m.

35th Annual Choral Festival (see separate story).

Tuesday, Nov. 2

EKSDBC seminar: "Creating an Effective Business Plan," Combs, 5:30 p.m.

Bins funded

Thanks to the generosity of the Student Government Association, the MSU recycling program has purchased four outdoor bin systems. The bins will be located at Normal Hall, ADUC and two at family housing.

The ADUC container will be used to collect glass and aluminum while the family housing bins will be used to collect plastic, aluminum, steel and glass.

"We are grateful that SGA has funded these bins," said April Haight, recycling/energy conservation coordinator.

Seminar

Judy Carpenter, third degree black belt, will conduct a free self-defense seminar and demonstration on Monday, Oct. 31, at 8 p.m. in Nunn Hall.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Nov. 3, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 18

Women's symposium to be held

A psychologist/author, a quilt artist and a prize-winning writer will be the featured speakers for the 1994 Wilma E. Grote Symposium for the Advancement of Women scheduled for Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 10-12, in the Adron Doran University Center on the MSU campus.

Principal speakers for the symposium, whose theme is "Women's Ways of Knowing, Learning and Communicating," will include Dr. Mary Field Belenky, a psychologist and associate research professor at the University of Vermont, who is one of the four authors of the award-winning book, "Women's Ways of Knowing: The Development of Self, Voice and Mind."

Also featured will be the prize-winning author George Ella Lyon of Lexington and contemporary quilt artist Lorie Kleiner Eckert of Loveland, Ohio.

Dr. Belenky will be the speaker for the symposium banquet at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 11. Her remarks will be drawn from a forthcoming new book of which she is a co-author: "From Silence to Voice: The Development of Women, Families and Communities."

Her earlier book, "Women's Ways," earned the Distinguished Publication Award from the Association of Women in Psychology and the Critics Choice Award from the American Education Studies Association.

At the general workshop session at 9 a.m. on Friday, Nov. 11, Eckert will use quilts in her presentation, "One Woman's Journey Toward Self-Acceptance and Love." Rich in symbolism, her original quilt patterns will illustrate the points she makes on such topics as self-respect, the power of positive thinking and reaching one's potential.

Eckert began making and designing quilts in 1983. In 1989, she designed a "Signature Tile Wall," to raise funds for a new public school in her community. The wall is a medallion quilt made of tile rather than fabric.

Lyon, a novelist, poet, playwright and children's author, will be the speaker for the noon luncheon on Saturday, Nov. 12, which ends the three-day event. Her topic will be "The Weave of Womanthought."

A native of Harlan County, Lyon has received numerous awards for her work. Her latest volume of poetry, "Catalpa," earned the Best Book of the Year Award from the Appalachian Writers' Association in 1993. The recipient of several ABA Pick of the List awards, she also earned the Jesse Stuart Award from the Kentucky State Media Association in 1992.

A former faculty member at the University of Kentucky, Centre College and Transylvania, she currently is working with literacy groups, public schools and emerging writers. She holds the Ph.D. degree from Indiana University.

The symposium will open with workshop sessions at 2 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 10, with registration commencing at noon. Among the topics to be explored during the three days are creativity, learning, women in the media, women in politics, self-caring, parenting, friendships and communication styles.

For symposium-goers, registering after Nov. 4, the fee, including meal functions, will be $90 for all three days or $55 for a single day.

Students may attend all sessions except for meal functions at no charge, but must register in advance. Those wishing to attend meal functions will be charged $10 per day.

Additional information on special rates for faculty and staff members or registration forms may be obtained by calling 3-2004.

Preregister for classes

Advance registration for MSU's spring 1995 semester will be conducted on campus and at extended campus centers Monday through Thursday, Nov. 7-10.

Advance registration is open not only to students currently enrolled but also to those planning to attend MSU this spring, according to Gene Ranvier, MSU registrar.

Course schedules containing trial schedule blanks are now available from academic departments and extended campus centers.

Main campus students will advance register in their major department, beginning with graduate students, seniors and juniors on Monday, Nov. 7. On Tuesday, the registration process will open to all other students as well. Students without a declared major will register in the Office of General Studies, 233 Allie Young Hall. Main campus registration hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Advance registration at the Ashland Area, Big Sandy and Licking Valley Extended Campus Centers as well as for the Appalachian Graduate Consortium at Pikeville College and classes in Jackson taught at Lees College will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

While payment of tuition and fees is not required at this time, statements reflecting tuition and fees due will be mailed on or before Nov. 24. Students who pre-register must either pay in full or make a $50 nonrefundable payment by Dec. 13 to hold their schedule.

Off-campus students who have never enrolled at MSU should contact their nearest extended campus center. New students planning to study on the main campus should initiate the admissions process in 301 Howell-McDowell Administration Building for undergraduate admission or in 701 Ginger Hall for graduate admission.

Adrian Swain has new title

Adrian Swain has been named artistic director-curator for MSU's Kentucky Folk Art Center.

Swain, who joined the University's staff in 1987 as curator of the former Folk Art Collection, sits on the National Advisory Board of the Folk Art Society of America. He also is a member of the American Association of Museums and the Museum of American Folk Art.

Additionally, Swain has received a $4,323 grant from the National Institute of Museum Services for professional in-service training in art museum exhibition design. He will study at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. in March.

Organization newly-formed

A new organization, the African and African-American Professional Coalition Association, has been formed at Morehead State University.

Composed of African and African-American faculty, staff and graduate students, the coalition was established to support their professional development by opening additional academic and career opportunities and creating ethnic awareness.

Even its name is designed to draw attention to the fact that Africans and African-Americans are not the same, according to the Murray Grevious, chair of the coalition and MSU custodial superintendent.

"We believe the association will serve as a unifying body which will strengthen the University's retention of minority faculty, staff and students," said Grevious, who also chairs the University's affirmative action committee.

Other members of the executive board are: Meichelle Gaines, Cincinnati, Ohio, graduate student, vice chair; Jerry Gore, MSU director of minority student affairs, parliamentarian; Monique Levell, Lithonia, Ga., graduate student, secretary; Peggy Overly, MSU minority student recruiter, treasurer;

Dawn Royster, Morehead graduate student, vice treasurer; Ron Burton, MSU assistant football coach, sergeant-at-arms, and Dr. Hilary Iwu, MSU assistant professor of business education, faculty representative.

"We currently are meeting with the various academic and administrative department heads to offer our assistance in locating qualified students and student-athletes in addition to faculty and staff members," Grevious said.

Monthly meetings as well as a holiday social event and a special arts festival are being planned by the coalition.

Teleconference

MSU will host an interactive video teleconference, "Teaching and Learning in Nontraditional Settings," from 2 to 4 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 3, in the Eagle Dining Room, Adron Doran University Center.

The free teleconference will explore issues surrounding off-campus programming for the nontraditional student and offer suggestions on how to make such programs successful.

Participants will learn about delivering programs in a wide range of settings—corporate classrooms, military bases, community centers, shopping malls and others—and through a variety of new technologies. These will include satellite downlinks, interactive networks, computer-assisted instruction and audio/video courses.

CEUs will be awarded through MSU's Office of Continuing Education. Registration is encouraged so that sufficient support materials will be available to viewers. Telephone: 3-2077

People in the News

Dr. Hilary Iwu, assistant professor of business education, spent the month of June at Alvan Ikoku College of Education in Owerri, Nigeria. While there he taught courses in office systems including keyboarding, word processing and computer literacy and presented a paper entitled "The Role of Higher Education in the Economic Development of a Nation: With Implications to Nigeria." His visit was sponsored by the United Nations World Development Program.

Dr. Lee Tyner, Veterinary Technology Program coordinator, has been appointed to the Veterinary Technicians Testing Committee, the national committee that serves to consult with the AVMA staff and is responsible for development of the veterinary technicians national examination. His term will expire in 1997.

Ronald D. Spangler, assistant professor of industrial education and technology, has earned the Ed.D. degree from the University of Kentucky. His dissertation was entitled "The Effects of Computer-Based Animated and Static Graphics on Learning to Visualize Three-Dimensional Objects." (continued on back)

Memorial

The Eagle bust, on the lawn near Camden-Carroll Library, will be one of several locations for memorial services as part of a special program honoring Rowan County veterans on Saturday, Nov. 12.

Following a patriotic program and luncheon that morning at the Carl Perkins Community Center, services are scheduled at various points throughout the community.

At 2:45 p.m., Army Sgt. Maj. Richard A. Kidd will lay a wreath at the Eagle bust which is dedicated to MSU students who gave their lives in defense of freedom. Kidd, a Morehead native, is the Army's senior noncommissioned officer.

The day's events are sponsored by the Morehead Woman's Club, American Legion Post 126 and its Auxiliary Unit, Army Recruiting NCO, MSU's ROTC Battalion and Rowan County VFW Post 3131.

New challenge

The Department of HPER and MSU F/S Wellness Program will sponsor a Fall Fitness Challenge running from Nov. 9 until Dec. 9.

The contest, open to all faculty, staff and students, will offer a level of participation for everyone: beginner, intermediate or advanced. Challenge areas include miles walked, jogged or run; flights of stairs climbed; number of organized exercise classes attended, and miles biked or swam.

Registration information and a waiver must be completed before a person can start the contest. All participants who complete all challenge areas will receive a t-shirt and departments and residence halls will be recognized.

Bulletins will be posted on campus. Additional information is available by calling 3-5161.

More People...

(continued from front)

Dr. Scott Rundell, associate professor of veterinary technology, chaired the "Kentucky Regional Consortium for Curriculum Enhancement in Agriculture" conference at Lake Barkley State Resort Park, Sept. 9. This was the final event in a two-year USDA Challenge Grant that MSU received in 1992 in conjunction with Eastern Kentucky University, Western Kentucky University and Murray State University. At the conference, attended by faculty from all four institutions, faculty members who received stipends under the grant to develop curriculum modules on environmental concepts in agriculture presented their work. Vivian Barnes, assistant professor of veterinary technology, gave a presentation entitled "Veterinary Medical Waste Management." Others from the Department of Agricultural Sciences attending the conference were: Dr. R. Lane Cowser, chair; Dr. Judy Willard, Robert Wolfe, and Dr. Donald Applegate, associate professors.

Dr. Wanda L. Staley, assistant professor of education, spoke on "Discovering Your Career Identity," to Coach Kindred's Work Experience Class at Montgomery County High School in Mt. Sterling, Sept. 12.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Secretary (12-Month, 32-Hour Per Week Position), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 4.

Deaf Interpreter (Two Positions), Department of Psychology (to provide detached services for the Kentucky Department of Vocational Rehabilitation). Positions are renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 15.

Director of Internal Audits, Office of Internal Audits; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 16.

Construction Manager (Search Extended), Office of Physical Plant; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 18.

Independent Living Program Assistant, Department of Psychology; to provide detached services in Frankfort; position is renewable on an annual; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 18.

Dean, College of Science and Technology (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 1.

Assistant Professor of Philosophy (Tenure Track), Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 7.

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 3.

Assistant Professor of Science (Tenure Track), Department of Physical Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 3.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

More recycling

The Recycling Program is now recycling laser printer toner cartridges. To participate in this program, retain the box and wrapper of your new cartridge and place the used cartridge into the box and wrapper. Then place the box beside the recycling bins in the hallway. If you have questions concerning toner cartridge recycling or recycling in general, call April Haight at 3-5268.

HAPPENINGS

Saturday, Nov. 5

Admissions "Open House," Adron Doran University Center, 9 a.m.

Football: MSU vs. Murray State University, Jayne Stadium, 1:30 p.m.

Sunday, Nov. 6

Concert: MSU Jazz Fusion Ensemble, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Monday, Nov. 7

Preregistration for Spring 1995 semester, through Nov. 11.

Tuesday, Nov. 8

Leadership Development Program-Career Opportunities, Eagle Dining Room, ADUC, 5:30 p.m.

Volleyball: MSU vs. Xavier, WG, 7 p.m.

RAK campaign

While good deeds are done every day, some MSU employees are encouraging everyone to look for additional ways to perform acts of kindness and bring more smiles to the campus.

The "Random Act of Kindness (RAK) Campaign" originated in the Office of Physical Plant earlier this semester, according to Sue Wright, administrative secretary. "We began by testing it on our supervisors," she said.

Gaining favorable responses, the campaign extended across the campus, Wright noted. She had cards printed about the campaign and a message for the recipient to "perform a RAK for someone else."

In some cases, the RAK consisted of opening doors, helping others pick up items they dropped or any number of other things to put a smile on someone's face. "We are just asking everyone to be conscious of ways to help others," she said.

Betty Sue Hurley, custodian in Camden-Carroll Library, was pleased with the reactions she has received from the campaign. "One day I took a candle to someone along with a card discussing the RAK campaign. The next day, that person told me they had given blood for the first time," she said.

Hurley believes the kindness is being passed on because now the first person has brought a gift to someone else.

Wright said the idea came from watching the Oprah Winfrey show where discussion covered a RAK campaign in a town in Florida. "Among the 'kindnesses' Oprah noted were the paying of tolls for those behind her on the parkway, while others had offered to babysit allowing the parent time away from home," she added.

This campaign is something that is appropriate for the workplace or at home, Wright said. Telephone: 3-2066.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Nov. 17, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 20

Phone service interruption

Telephone service at MSU will be interrupted temporarily for an upgrade to the software while the University is closed in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.

MSU begins its Thanksgiving break at 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 22, with offices re-opening and classes resuming at 8 a.m. Monday, Nov. 28.

Tentative plans call for telephone service to be disrupted beginning at 9:30 p.m. for a minimum of two hours on Tuesday, Nov. 22, with other disruptions possible the following day, according to Salo Fajer, MSU manager of technical services.

Computer data connections dependent on ADI boxes also will be affected, Fajer said. The outage involves all campus phones, including residence halls and emergency phones.

"We chose the holiday period to perform this upgrade because it would impact fewer people with the University being closed," Fajer said.

The software upgrade is necessitated by changes in the North American Numbering Plan to increase the quantity of telephone numbers available nationwide.

"The national deadline for completion of this upgrade is Jan. 1, 1995, and Information Technology has delayed implementing it until it could ensure that the software was stable," Fajer said.

"As each installation is unique, there still could be small incidents of interruption or 'glitches' to phone or data service after the software is in place at MSU," he added. "If you should experience any problems, please report them to the IT Support Center at 3-5000."

BOR to meet

The MSU Board of Regents will meet on Friday, Nov. 18, at 11 a.m. in the Riggle Room, Adron Doran University Center.

The agenda for the meeting contains a variety of items for discussion and/or action, including final fall 1994 enrollment report, approval of 1994 December graduates, approval of program deletions, ratifying an amendment to the Faculty Senate Constitution and acceptance of the 1993-94 audit.

Other items include reports on personal service contracts and external agreements, acceptance of first quarter financial report, ratifying personnel items and adopting a resolution authorizing a bond sale for the Lappin Hall renovation project.

The MSU Spotlight will focus on the Student Government Association.

The board's committees will meet prior to the board meeting: Academic Affairs at 9:30 a.m. and Administration and Fiscal Services at 10 a.m.

Retiree dies

Ina Marie Lowe, 68, retired MSU assistant professor of English, died Tuesday, Nov. 14.

A veteran who served in the Air Force for nine years, she joined the faculty, teaching until her retirement in 1988. She had been a member of the Modern Languages Association of American and the Morehead Branch, American Association of University Women.

She is survived by four brothers, John E. Lowe of Washington Court House, Ohio; Homer Lowe of West Jefferson, Ohio; Atlee and Harlan Lowe of Morehead; and five sisters, Edna Mabry of New Carlisle, Ohio; Ruby Silver of Selma, Ohio; Ethel Boggs of South Vienna, Ohio; Ada Newell of Olive Hill and Dorothy Wright of Jamestown, Ohio.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society or St. Claire Hospice.

Insurance talk

The University's health insurance premiums are being reduced as a result of the commendable level of utilization experienced by faculty and staff members.

The premiums paid by MSU employees for calendar year 1995 are actually going down. Employees with Single Base Plan coverage, will continue to have their full premiums paid by MSU. The total cost for this coverage increased from $118 to $126 per month, but the University is going to absorb this additional cost.

Also, the University is increasing its base contribution for all other coverage from $118 to $126 per month.

Thus, the employee cost for Family Base Plan coverage is decreasing from $168 to $164 per month. The employee cost for Single Premium Plan coverage is decreasing from $32 to $24 per month. The employee cost for Family Premium Plan coverage is decreasing from $249 to $241 per month and the employee cost for Family Alternate Plan coverage is decreasing from $120 to $110 per month.

Regarding Delta Dental, there is a slight increase as the Single coverage, which is fully paid by the University, is increasing from $12 to $13 per month. The employee cost for Two Person coverage is increasing from $12 to $13 per month and the employee cost for Family coverage is increasing from $27 to $29 per month.

Now that the University is self-insured, it is up to the total faculty and staff to control health care and dental costs and thus continue to ensure having excellent coverage at reasonable rates.

Concert set

The Morehead State University Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Andrew Glendening, assistant professor of music, will perform in concert at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 29, in Duncan Recital Hall.

The program will include Stravinsky's "Concertino for 12 Instruments," Janacek's "Concertino for Piano and Orchestra," Vivaldi's "Concerto in A Minor for Bassoon and Strings," Ives' "The Unanswered Question," and Angell's "The Death of Disco."

Joining the orchestra as soloists will be the following music faculty members: H. Leo Blair, associate professor, on violin; Suanne Blair, assistant professor, on cello; R.J. Flippin, associate professor, on piano, and Dr. Jennifer Schuler, assistant professor, on bassoon.

The concert is free and open to the public.

'800' usage

MSU began using the new "800" number of 1-800-585-6781 on Aug. 1. This number is for use by both in-state and out-of-state callers and will reach the offices of undergraduate and graduate admissions and Alumni Relations and Development. Between August and November, the University had kept the previously used "800" numbers active with a message directing people to call the campus main number (783-2221), offices directly or the newly established "800" number.

As of Nov. 1, the old "800" lines of 354-2090, 262-7474 and 262-2044 have been discontinued because of declining usage.

New waivers

There are new tuition waiver forms in the Office of Human Resources. The new forms are necessary because the individual using the tuition form (whether it be the employee or the employee's spouse or IRS dependent) has to be in good standing at the University and have a GPA of 2.0 or higher.

In addition, revisions have been made to the tuition waiver instructions. An employee who has registered in advance for class for the spring semester, should bring the original and three additional copies to the Fee Assessment/Tuition Waiver table at the Registration Arena.

The employee's spouse, or IRS dependent child, who has registered in advance for classes, must bring a copy of the Tuition Waiver form to 202 Howell-McDowell prior to the deadline (by Dec. 13) for making the $50 deposit to hold their schedule. The remaining two copies and original should be taken to the Fee Assessment/Tuition Waiver table at the Registration Arena. At the time of registration, a representative from the Office of Human Resources will verify that the individual using the tuition waiver is in good standing and has a GPA of 2.0 or higher.

Nominations

The Professional Development Committee is requesting nominations for the 1994-95 Distinguished Teacher Award.

All faculty members who meet the eligibility requirements may be nominated. The name(s) and supporting documents must be delivered to 205 Howell-McDowell by 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 5.

Just 10 to go

As the year comes to an end, the MSU recycling program is striving to reach its goal of 50 tons of paper and 4 tons of aluminum cans.

Currently, the program has recycled more than 40 tons of paper, about 2 tons of aluminum cans and 94 pounds of various metals. While this figure is far from the goal the number is up from last year.

In addition, the program has increased the amount of cardboard recycled from about 1 ton/week to about 2.5 tons/week; has started recycling and reusing pallets, and is now recycling laser printer toner cartridges.

There are also recycling efforts that are not under the recycling program such as oil recycling and yard waste composting.

Installation

Physical Plant are installing student room door viewers in the residence halls. Installation of these viewers will permit the room occupants to see persons on the outside of the room doors prior to opening the doors and giving access.

Noise and disruption will only be a matter of minutes per door and the work should proceed rapidly thru each floor. Housing and staff will be notifying residents prior to the installations in each building. Physical Plant staff will have the appropriate name tag identification and will announce themselves at each door prior to installation.

The project should be completed by Dec. 21.

People in the News

Terry Elliott, assistant professor of accounting, has been named president-elect of the Kentucky Business Society. He will assume the role of president of the society in March 1995 for a one-year term.

Dr. Kent Freeland, professor of education, presented a session entitled "Integrating Methods Instruction K-4" at the fall conference of the Kentucky Council for the Social Studies in Louisville, Sept. 23.

Fellowships for teachers

College seniors and college graduates who intend to become secondary school teachers of American history, American government and social studies are eligible to apply for fellowships from the James Madison Memorial Fellowship Foundation.

Through nationwide competition, at least one resident from each state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and other U.S. territories, will be awarded a fellowship, according to Dr. Charles Holt, professor of history and campus representative to the foundation. "The awards carry a maximum stipend of $24,000," he said.

The fellowships, which pay for up to two years of full-time study for college graduates, may be used to cover tuition, fees, books, and room and board. Fellows may enroll in graduate programs leading to master's degrees in American history, political science or education at an accredited university.

"One requirement is that all fellows participate in a four-week summer institute that will cover the principles, framing, ratification and implementation of the Constitution and Bill of Rights," Dr. Holt noted.

The deadline for students to apply for a James Madison Memorial Fellowship is March 1. Additional information is available from Dr. Holt at 303 Rader Hall or telephone him at 3-2590.

Students help

The Omega Psi Phi fraternity is starting a new tradition at MSU, one it hopes will continue for years to come benefitting students in the future.

On Friday, Dec. 2, the group will host the first of what will be an annual "formal banquet." The gathering will take place in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center at 8 p.m. The charge is $10 per person.

Proceeds from the event will go toward providing MSU students with two scholarship awards to be presented each year, according to Lance Black, Greenup junior pre-law major and Omega Psi Phi treasurer.

"After talking with financial aid, we believe this is the best way we can help students and the community," Black said. "As the number of scholarships decrease, the number of students who can afford to get an education also drops," he said.

The Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. Psi Beta chapter hopes to award annually two scholarships not to exceed $600 each to help offset the cost of tuition for students attending MSU. One male and one female recipient will be chosen by random drawing. To be eligible applicants may be of any ethnic origin, must be a full-time MSU student, must return to the University the following semester and must be present at the drawing.

The fraternity currently contributes to the United Negro Scholarship Fund and Sickle Cell anemia research as well as hosting canned food drives.

Additional information on the banquet or how to contribute to the scholarship program is available from Black. Telephone: 3-3717.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Access Card Service Specialist, Office of ID Student Card Service; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 18.

Construction Manager (Search Extended), Office of Physical Plant; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 18.

Independent Living Program Assistant, Department of Psychology; to provide detached services in Frankfort; position is renewable on an annual; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 18.

Bookkeeper I, Big Sandy Extended Campus Center; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 24.

Instructor of Nursing (Two Four-Month, Non-Tenure Track Positions), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 24.

General Serviceman, Office of Physical Plant; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 25.

Continuing Education Assistant, Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 28.

Dean, College of Science and Technology (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 1.

Assistant Professor of Nursing (Tenure Track), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 7.

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 3.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Social Work (Tenure Track), Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminology; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 15.

Assistant Professor of Science (Tenure Track), Department of Physical Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 3.

Assistant Professor of Counselor Education (Tenure Track), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

Assistant Professor of Counselor Education/Educational Psychology (Tenure Track), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

Assistant Professor of Secondary Education (Tenure Track), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

Assistant Professor of Psychology (Tenure Track), Department of Psychology; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 15.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Nov. 17

Great American Smokeout.

Women's basketball (exhibition): MSU vs. Croatia, AAC, 7 p.m.

Senior recital: Thomas Money, trumpet, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Friday, Nov. 18

Board of Regents meeting, Riggle Room, ADUC, 11 a.m.; committees meet prior.

Women's basketball (exhibition): MSU vs. Kentucky Crusaders, AAC, 6 p.m.

Men's basketball (exhibition): MSU vs. Kentucky Crusaders, AAC, 8 p.m.

Sunday, Nov. 20

Concert: MSU Baird Winds, DRH, 8 p.m.

Monday, Nov. 21

Bloodmobile, Button Drill Room, 10 a.m.; also Nov. 22.

Rifle Team Turkey Shoot, Button, 6 p.m.

Concert: Symphonic Winds, DRH, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 23

Thanksgiving break, through Nov. 25.

Friday, Nov. 25

Men's basketball: MSU vs. Montreat Anderson, AAC, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, Nov. 29

Men's basketball: MSU vs. Centre College, AAC, 7:30 p.m.

Concert: MSU Orchestra, DRH, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 30

Ashland SBDC seminar: "Creating an Effective Business Plan," Ashland, 1 p.m.

Turkey shoot

The MSU Rifle Team will sponsor a turkey shoot, Monday, Nov. 21, at 6 p.m. in Button Drill Room.

The turkey shot will feature up to 20 matches with a .22-caliber rifle, according to Capt. Hank Patton, assistant professor of military science and adviser for the Rifle Team.

Prizes will be given to winners of each match with a grand prize going to the best overall shooter.

Women's and children's matches also will be offered. The event is free and open to the public.

Taking a break

Update will not be printed next week as the University will be closed for Thanksgiving break. The next issue is due out Thursday, Dec. 1, with the deadline Tuesday noon, Nov. 29, for items to be considered.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Nov. 17, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 19

Dinner party reservations

MSU President and Mrs. Ronald G. Eaglin will host a Victorian Holiday Dinner Party on Friday, Dec. 9, at the Adron Doran University Center.

Reservations are now being accepted for the event which begins with a social period at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m.

"Mrs. Eaglin and I look forward to greeting friends of MSU, not only from the campus but also from all over the region, as we launch the upcoming holiday season with this special event," Dr. Eaglin said.

Tickets for the $17.50 per plate dinner must be purchased and picked up by Friday, Dec. 2, according to Susette Redwine, dinner ticket chairman. Reservations may be made for table parties or for individuals by calling her at 3-2071.

Serving as master of ceremonies will be Charles Myers, director of admissions.

The dinner entree will be beef tenderloin-bourguignon accompanied with tiny red potatoes, orange-glazed carrots and spinach salad.

In addition to music performed by MSU faculty and students, a guest harpist will provide dinner music and the after dinner entertainment will include a reading by Dr. Travis Lockhart, theatre director.

The committee, chaired by Harlen Hamm, is planning decorations in keeping with the theme. Committee members include Michael Acord, Sandy Barker, Jean Besant, Dee Biebighauser, Jewell Carr, Dot Collis, Bonnie Eaglin, Barbara Fossett, Sharon Jackson, Dr. William J. Layne, Betty Philley, Jacquelyn H. Scott, Jean Serey and Connie Wientjes.

PDK to meet

MSU's Alpha Nu Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, professional fraternity in education, will meet on Monday, Nov. 14, in the Eagle Dining Room, Adron Doran University Center.

The dinner meeting will begin at 7 p.m., followed by a teleconference on PDK's Core Values Project. There is an $8 charge for dinner but there is no charge for attending the telecast only.

Discussion during the two-hour teleconference will include: Are there certain values on which most people agree? Do the schools teach those values? Should the schools teach those values?

The broadcast, which will begin at 8 p.m., will originate from the television studios at Indiana University in Bloomington.

Reservations for the dinner must be made by Thursday, Nov. 10, by contacting Helen Williams in the Camden-Carroll Library at 3-5102.

Holiday info

MSU night classes on the main campus and at regional sites will not meet on Tuesday, Nov. 22.

This is a change from the previously announced fall academic schedule which listed those classes as being in session.

MSU will begin its observance of the Thanksgiving holiday by closing at 4:30 p.m. on Nov. 22. There will be no classes and administrative offices will be closed.

Offices will reopen and classes resume at 8 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 28.

Guest lecture

The MSU Math Club will sponsor a talk by Dr. Joseph Kennedy from the Department of Mathematics at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, on Thursday, Nov. 17. His talk, entitled "Kaleidoscopes," will begin at 3 p.m. in 241 Lappin Hall.

Additional information is available by calling 3-2936.

Travel facts

Many conferences and workshops require a registration fee and most request them in advance. MSU's travel policy permits prepayment of such fees in advance if the amount is over $50. This also is true if several people are attending and the aggregate cost exceeds $50.

When requesting registration fee payment in advance, it is necessary to include a check request and supporting documentation (invoice, brochure, etc.). This also should be indicated on the travel request.

When filing a travel voucher that includes a registration fee, that item is listed on the voucher, but not claimed. It is also necessary to include a copy of the conference brochure that shows what meals, if any, were included in the registration fee. No reimbursement can be claimed for these meals.

MSU recently revised its travel policy booklet. Copies are available during business hours in the Office of Accounting and Budgetary Control, Howell-McDowell 202.

Folk art grant

MSU's Kentucky Folk Art Center has received $50,000 from the Steele-Reese Foundation.

The foundation, founded by Eleanor Steele Reese and her husband Emmet P. Reese, provides support to operating charities in Southern Appalachia and in the Northwest for education, health, welfare and humanities programs.

The Kentucky Folk Art Center will utilize the funds for general operating expenses in the development of the center during the next two years, according to Jill Jayne-Read, managing director of the center.

Created in 1985 by MSU's Department of Art as a collection of folk art from the Appalachian mountain area, the center now maintains a permanent collection while providing a unique economic development program to Kentucky's folk artists. It also is developing new educational programming that will serve to foster an appreciation of Kentucky's cultural heritage.

People in the News

Sheryl Jean Brown, assistant professor of business, has received the Ph.D. degree in business administration from the University of Kentucky. Her dissertation is entitled "Willingness to Mentor: Expectations and Values." Among her teaching specialties are organization behavior, women and management, and labor relations.

Dr. Mark Schack, professor of education, and his five-year-old son Brian conducted a computer software presentation, entitled "Developmentally Appropriate Computer Software for the Preschool Child," at the Army Child Development Services Annual Conference at Ft. Knox, Sept. 17.

Dr. Lawrence Albert, associate professor of speech, presented a paper entitled "The Facilitation of Public Meetings" at the annual conference of the Kentucky Communication Association in Lexington, Sept. 17.

Dr. Christopher Gallaher, Department of Music chair, attended the annual meeting of Kentucky Arts Administrators held at the University of Kentucky. Agenda items included "The University and Arts Education," "The Outreach Role of the Fine and Performing Arts," and "The Future Kentucky High School Graduate: Implications for College Teaching."

Dr. Mohammed Sabie, professor of HPER, conducted a workshop for men and women soccer teams at the Mason County High School on Sept. 9 at the invitation of MCHS soccer coach Carl Barker. The three-hour session covered the evaluation of play strategies and suggestions for basic and advanced drills.

WMKY staff win awards

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from MSU's campus, received several Associated Press awards at the Kentucky Broadcaster's Association fall convention.

Honored for their work were Tom Lewis, WMKY news and public affairs director; Chuck Mraz, WMKY sports and special events director, and Dusty Dershem, a spring 1994 graduate who worked at the station.

Lewis earned first place awards in newswriting and enterprise reporting as well as a second place in newswriting.

Mraz was named the state's best radio play-by-play announcer for his work during last year's MSU-UK basketball game.

Dershem earned the station an honorable mention for a segment of "Sidelines" which he produced.

"While informing our listeners, not winning awards, is the primary mission of the WMKY news team, there is a certain amount of pride from being honored by our peers," Lewis said.

"Such recognition indicates that we are succeeding in our efforts to be the most accurate, most professional radio news source in Northeastern Kentucky," he added.

Lewis, who has been in his current post since 1992, has earned numerous awards for his work, including honors from the Kentucky Education Association.

Noting the WMKY's sports department had won several awards in recent years, Mraz described his honor as special to him personally. "It's always been my desire to be the best play-by-play announcer I can be," Mraz said.

In addition to his work at WMKY, Mraz produces the "Ohio Valley Conference Report," an audio preview of OVC match-ups aired weekly at stations in Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri. He also served as sideline reporter for the telecast of the Eastern Kentucky University and Murray State University football game produced by SportsSouth.

Dr. Daniel Seth, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, presented a paper at the Second Invariant Imbedding/Inverse Scattering Conference in Washington, D.C., Sept. 8-11. The talk was entitled "Numerical Solution on a Parallel Computer of Transition Kernels from a Two-Dimensional Invariant Imbedding Model for Particle Transport."

Dr. John Secor, associate professor of romance languages, attended the Board of Directors meeting of the Kentucky Council on the Teaching of Foreign Language Conference in Louisville, Sept. 23-24. He is serving his fifth year as editor of "The Bluegrass Bulletin," KCTFL's quarterly publication and recently published his 12th issue. A copy of the publication may be viewed in the library.

Dr. Hilary O. Iwu, assistant professor of business education, published a paper entitled "Microcomputer Competencies Needed in Business Programs at Selected Four-Year Colleges and Universities in the United States" in the "Kentucky Business Education Association Journal" in the Spring 1994.

Dr. William Green, professor of government, chaired a panel on "The Regulation of Biomedicine and Biotechnology" at the 1994 annual meeting of the American Political Science Association (APSA) and presented a paper on "The FDA and Risk Management Issues in the Advertising, Labeling and Use of Contraceptive Drugs: The Case of Depo-Provera" which will be published in the proceedings from the meeting.

NEW FACES

Several new faces have joined the MSU staff during the period of July 1 through Sept. 30:

Velda Lynn Mabry, customer service representative, Publications and Printing Services; Melinda Clark, telemarketing coordinator, Alumni Relations and Development;

Donna J. Caudill, auditor I, Internal Audits; Elsie M. Washington, microcomputer consultant I, User Services; Doug Raymond Napier, communications technician I, Technical Services;

Rodney M. Perkins, plumbing maintenance III, Building Maintenance; Ruth Ann Scudieri, museum shop/volunteer coordinator, Kentucky Folk Art Center; Kathy E. Maddix, secretary, Football;

Ruth Gail Huffman, ADN campus coordinator, Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; Malinda B. McMurry, animal care technician, Biological and Environmental Sciences;

G. Alvin Madden-Grider, learning specialist, Academic Services Center, Yahne Nchami, provisional studies coordinator, Academic Services Center.

Trees planted

As part of the Small Business Administration Tree Grant received by Physical Plant, a contract for the purchase and installation of 62 new trees at the Academic-Athletic Center, Laughlin Health Building and Wetherby Gym has been awarded to Johnson's Nursery of Rush. The removal of damaged and diseased trees has been completed and installation of the new trees will commence as soon as weather and tree availability allows. The project is scheduled to be completed this fall.

Interview

As part of the interview process, a candidate for the position of Manager of Academic Computing will make a short presentation on information technology on Friday, Nov. 11, 1:30-2:30 p.m., in 241 Lappin Hall. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Additional candidates will make presentations on Monday, Nov. 14, and Wednesday, Nov. 16, at the same time and location.

Units removed

During the month of November, Pack's, Inc. will be removing four duplex housing units on the hillside above Ginger Hall. Included with this project will be the removal of the pine trees that have posed a hazard to street side parking during periods of snow and high winds. The entire site will be developed into a green area with the hillside steps remaining in place.

Faculty show

From traditional to unique, the annual MSU Faculty Art Show will offer a variety of art media for viewers no matter what their interests.

The exhibition is on display in the gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building, through Dec. 16. Gallery hours are 8 a.m.-4 p.m., weekdays. There is no charge for viewing.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Secretary (12-Month, 32-Hour Per Week Position), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 4.

Custodian, Ashland Area Extended Campus Center; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 14.

Deaf Interpreter (Two Positions), Department of Psychology (to provide detached services for the Kentucky Department of Vocational Rehabilitation). Positions are renewable on an annual basis contingent upon funding; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 15.

Director of Internal Audits, Office of Internal Audits; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 16.

Access Card Service Specialist, Office of ID Student Card Service; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 18.

Construction Manager (Search Extended), Office of Physical Plant; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 18.

Independent Living Program Assistant, Department of Psychology; to provide detached services in Frankfort; position is renewable on an annual basis; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 18.

Instructor of Nursing (Two Four-Month, Non-Tenure Track Positions), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Nov. 24.

Dean, College of Science and Technology (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 1.

Assistant Professor of Nursing (Tenure Track), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 7.

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 3.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Social Work (Tenure Track), Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminology; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 15.

Assistant Professor of Science (Tenure Track), Department of Physical Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 3.

Assistant Professor of Counselor Education (Tenure Track), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

Assistant Professor of Counselor Education/Educational Psychology (Tenure Track), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

Assistant Professor of Secondary Education (Tenure Track), Department of Leadership and Secondary Education; to ensure consideration, apply by Feb. 10.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Nov. 10

Wilma E. Grote Symposium for the Advancement of Women, ADUC; thru Nov. 12.
Meet Morehead State Night, Landmark Inn, Pikeville, 7 p.m.

Saturday, Nov. 12

Day of Marching Percussion, Wetherby, 9 a.m.
MSU Commonwealth Classic Volleyball Tournament, AAC, 2 p.m.; also Nov. 13.

Sunday, Nov. 13

Alumni Association's Bengals Weekend, Cincinnati.

Monday, Nov. 14

Phi Delta Kappa dinner meeting/telecast, Eagle Dining Room, 7 p.m.
Men's basketball (exhibition): MSU vs. Slovakian Club, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, Nov. 15

Concert: MSU Brass Choir, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 16

Presentation: "Political Transition of the Chinese Economic System," 215 Rader Hall, 2 p.m.
Leadership Development Program—Career Opportunities, Crager Room, 5:30 p.m.
EKSBDC seminar: "Applying for a Business Loan," Combs, 6 p.m.

Thursday, Nov. 17

Great American Smokeout.
Women's basketball (exhibition): MSU vs. Croatia, AAC, 7 p.m.
Senior recital: Thomas Money, trumpet, Duncan Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

'Saint Joan'

MSU theatre students will present George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan" Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 10-12, at 8 p.m. in Button Auditorium. Seating is general admission on a first come, first serve basis. Tickets are $6 for adults. $2 for senior citizens, high school students and children, and free to MSU students with a valid I.D. card.

Eat smart

Do you know how to de-fat the Thanksgiving feast? On Wednesday, Nov. 16, at noon, Dayna Brown will explain how this can be accomplished without losing any of the taste in the meal. Call 3-5161 for the room location.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Dec. 1, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 21

Tree lighting

Morehead State University's annual holiday tree lighting ceremony is moving to a new location.

Scheduled Wednesday, Dec. 7, at 4 p.m., the official opening of the campus holiday season will be staged on the lawn of Fields Hall near the President's Home.

President and Mrs. Ron Eaglin and Student Government Association President Mark Anderson will host the lighting ceremony which will feature holiday music by the MSU Chamber Singers and Concert Choir, under the direction of James Ross Beane, associate professor of music. Following the festivities, refreshments will be served in Fields Hall.

The tree used for the last six years has grown too tall to be decorated safely with MSU's aerial equipment, according to Joe Planck, director of physical plant. He added that the appearance of the tree also has deteriorated in the past two years as a result of harsh winters.

The lighting ceremony is open to the public.

BOR adopts resolution

At its Nov. 18 meeting, MSU's Board of Regents adopted a resolution authorizing the sale of up to $7.8 million in revenue bonds to fund the second phase of the Lappin Hall project.

Phase II of the project involves renovation of the University's science building which was originally built in 1937 with an addition in 1961. A tentative date of Jan. 12 has been set for the bond sale, pending awarding of the construction contract.

Design and engineering plans for the renovation have been submitted to the state Department of Facilities Management. Construction bids are expected to be received in December with a contract to be awarded shortly thereafter.

The renovation was authorized by the 1994 General Assembly with a project scope of nearly $6.9 million to be financed by agency bonds sold by the University. The legislature also appropriated $684,000 in state funds in MSU's 1996 fiscal year budget for debt service on the bond issue. The first phase, completed in 1993 at a cost of $5.3 million, included construction of a 33,000 square foot addition.

The Lappin Hall project has been MSU's highest priority in capital budget requests since the 1990-92 biennium.

In other business, the regents accepted the 1993-94 audit report and approved the deletion of eight stand-alone associate degree programs in industrial technology. Those programs now will be merged into four options under a basic Associate of Applied Science degree in Industrial Technology.

In a fall enrollment report, the board was told that the final enrollment figure was 8,697 students, a 2.3 decrease from fall 1993. Enrollment at the University's regional sites showed a modest gain with 1,959 students this fall as compared with 1,928 the previous fall.

The regents also set the following dates for quarterly meetings during 1995: Feb. 10, May 12, Sept. 22 and Nov. 17.

Prior to adjourning the meeting, the board went into executive session to discuss property acquisitions with no action being taken.

Change made

The last payroll checks for monthly, bi-weekly and college workstudy for calendar year 1994 will be released on Thursday, Dec. 22. This was previously published as Wednesday, Dec. 21. This change was a result in the Christmas holiday not beginning until 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 22.

OperaWorks

OperaWorks, a new ensemble in the Department of Music, will present an evening of scenes from the Viennese comic operetta on Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall.

The program, directed by Roma Prindle, assistant professor, will include operettas from "The Merry Widow" and "Die Fledermaus." Larry Keenan, professor, will accompany the ensemble on the HX Electone.

In the Viennese tradition, the performance will include waltzes, mischief and several mystery guests along with performers from six University departments. The activity is free and open to the public.

OperaWorks recently performed at several schools in MSU's service region. The group's performance included scenes from the upcoming program.

Service pins

The service awards ceremony for this quarter will be held Wednesday, Dec. 7, at 2 p.m. in the Gold Room, ADUC.

To be recognized for 25 years of service will be Charles Myers.

Completing 20 years are Carol Barker, William Huie and Wanda Terry.

Recognized for 15 years will be Jewell Boyd, Maxine DeHart, Della Johnson, Roger Kidd, Jennifer Riley and Richard Stamper.

Receiving a 10 year pin will be Madaline Butler, Terry Mays, Orville Waddell and David Wright.

Reminder

The Office of Purchasing has received a memorandum from the state pursuant to established policy for Christmas cards and decorations as follows:

State funds shall not be used to purchase or mail Christmas cards or purchase decorations for offices.

The University Post Office reminds faculty, staff and students that greeting cards may not be deposited at the post office or accepted by the staff unless it bears sufficient postage to be accepted by the USPS.

Poinsettias

The student grown poinsettia plants will be for sale at the campus greenhouse during the early part of December.

Plants may be picked up Dec. 1 and Dec. 5-9 between 2 and 5 p.m. Arrangements may be made for additional times for large orders.

Most of the plants are red in color but some multicolor ones are available. The price varies with the size and quantity purchased. Foil wrap and bow can be added for a small charge.

For more information or to order: 3-2649.

People in the News

Keith Kappes, vice president for University Advancement, has been appointed by President Ronald G. Eaglin to represent the University on the Jesse Stuart Foundation Board of Directors. In his role as MSU's chief advancement officer, Kappes has worked with the Foundation since its beginning.

Dr. Kenneth Siple, assistant professor of music, had an article entitled "Improving Vocal Self-Image and Tone Quality in Adolescent Girls: A Study" published in the October 1994 "Choral Journal."

Don Young, assistant professor emeritus of art, was selected by the Kentucky Art Education

Holiday fare

WMKY 90.3 F.M., public radio from MSU's campus, has a full line-up of holiday fare scheduled for the upcoming season.

The holiday programming begins at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 4, when National Public Radio host Vertamae Grosvenor takes a look at Chanukah, Christmas and Kwanzaa during "Seasonings."

Chanukah also is the focus of "Chanukah Lights" which airs that same evening at 8 o'clock. At 9 p.m., WMKY will offer "In My Own Lifetime: A Celebration of Sheldon Harnick's 70th Birthday."

Harnick was the lyricist for such Broadway hit shows as "Fiddler on the Roof," "She Loves Me," and "Fiorello." His work earned him two Tony awards and a Pulitzer Prize.

On Friday, Dec. 16, at 9 p.m., the Paul Winter Consort celebrates the winter solstice with "Solstice Live: The 15th Annual Winter Consort Winter Solstice Celebration."

During the period of Dec. 20-25, WMKY will offer programming that runs the gamut of holiday traditions, from the spoken word to choral, brass and classical American Christmas music.

In addition to specials, WMKY will mix in some holiday spirit during the month of December on "Morning Jazz," "Afternoon Classics," "Jazzline," "Bluegrass Diversion," "Acoustic Highway" and "Friends and Folk."

Deadline set

Tickets for MSU's "Victorian Holiday" dinner party must be purchased and picked up by Friday, Dec. 2, for those attending the Friday, Dec. 9, event. Telephone: 3-2071.

Leave process

The following deadlines for the Educational Leave Process have been established by the Professional Development Committee and approved by the executive vice president for academic affairs. The timetable will allow the process to be completed prior to the third quarterly meeting of the Board of Regents.

Jan. 19, The Department Chairs and Department Leave Committees will have reviewed all Educational Leave applications by this date and will have forwarded recommendations to the College Deans by 4:30 p.m.

Jan. 26, The College Deans will have reviewed all Educational Leave applications by this date and will have forwarded recommendations to the Office of the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs for dispersal to the Professional Development Committee by 4:30 p.m.

Feb. 6, The Professional Development Committee will have reviewed all Educational Leave applications and will have forwarded recommendations to the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs by 4:30 p.m.

Association as vice president for membership, newsletter editor and chair of the group's public relations committee at their meeting in Northern Kentucky in October. He also serves as the organization's chair of the Burley Coal region which is made up of 20 counties in Northeastern Kentucky.

Dr. Roger H. Jones, professor of art, was elected area coordinator for the 8-D area of Phi Delta Kappa at the organization's meeting in Lexington, Oct. 6-9. Also attending all or a portion of the meeting were: Randall Wells, David and Mary Collins, Patty Eldridge, Kathy Herzog and Mary Ann Pollock. (continued on back)

Travel facts

All travel by MSU employees must be approved in advance. Employees are to submit travel requests to their immediate supervisor before a scheduled trip. Blank travel requests can be used for a specific month and purpose when circumstances warrant.

Copies of travel requests are to be included with the travel voucher. These should be filed on a timely basis. If a trip was canceled, the travel request should be returned to the Office of Accounting and Budgetary Control for voiding immediately. This will free up these funds to be used by the department for other trips.

Many departments do not follow this practice however, and this necessitates that Accounting and Budgetary Control void 400-500 old travel requests per year. Good management dictates that departments and units initiate this action.

A copy of MSU's travel regulations may be picked up during business hours in 202 H-M.

More hours

Camden-Carroll Library will have extended hours until the end of the semester. Times are:

Friday, Dec. 2, 8 a.m.-6 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 3, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; Sunday, Dec. 4, 2 p.m.-11:30 p.m.;

Monday-Thursday, Dec. 5-8, 8 a.m.-11:30 p.m.; Friday, Dec. 9, 8 a.m.-6 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 10, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; Sunday, Dec. 11, 2-10 p.m.;

Monday-Thursday, Dec. 12-15, 8 a.m.-10 p.m.; Friday, Dec. 16, 8 a.m.-6 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 17, 9 a.m.-noon, and Sunday, Dec. 18, closed.

The late night study center will be open Sunday-Thursday, Dec. 4-8, 11:30 p.m.-2 a.m.; and Sunday-Thursday, Dec. 11-15, 9:30 p.m.-2:30 a.m.

People... (continued from front)

Jerry Gore, Minority Student Affairs director, has written the foreword and coordinated the reprinting of the "Life of the Rev. Elisha W. Green" that was originally published in 1888. The book chronicles the author's life in Mason and surrounding counties. Rev. Green was the founder of various churches in the area and a member of the first convention of Black Republicans in the state.

Dr. Jack Weir, professor of philosophy, had an article, "Biblical Inerrancy and Infallibility: A Philosophical Analysis," in the July issue of "Southwest Philosophy Review." The piece got the attention of Marvin Knox, editor of the Western Recorder, a publication of the Kentucky Baptist Convention. Knox interviewed Dr. Weir for an article which appeared in the Recorder on September 6. Dr. Weir's article is an analysis and refutation of the inerrancy doctrine of the fundamentalists who have recently taken control of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Dennis Karwatka, professor of industrial education, had an article entitled "Technology in Great Britain's Schools" published in Vol. 54, No. 3, October issue of "Tech Directions." It was based on data he collected under a 1993 grant from the University Research and Creative Productions Committee.

Dr. Hilary Iwu, assistant professor of business education, attended the annual Kentucky Business Education Association Conference in Louisville, Aug. 8-10.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Dean, College of Science and Technology (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 1.

Minority Retention Specialist, Academic Services Center; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 8.

Dispatcher, Office of Public Safety; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 9.

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Provisional Studies Coordinator, Academic Services Center; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 3.

Assistant Professor of Mathematics (Two Positions) (Tenure Track), Department of Mathematical Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 30.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Start account

Morehead State Federal Credit Union is now offering a Christmas club account.

While it may seem strange to begin thinking ahead to Christmas 1995 when the 1994 holiday is not here yet, but now is precisely the time to start planning.

Regular deposits through payroll deduction, and any additional deposits you make, will earn dividends and give you the money you need for next year. Christmas club checks will be mailed in October 1995 so you can start your holiday shopping with cash in hand.

For additional information, stop by the Credit Union or call 3-2231 for details.

Calendar error

Some of the Fiscal Year 1994-95 calendars, provided by the Office of Human Resources, contained an error regarding the December closing. The break will begin Friday, Dec. 23, instead of Thursday, Dec. 22. Please check your calendar and make the necessary changes.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Dec. 1

Ashland SBDC seminar, 207 15th Street, Ashland, 1 p.m.

CCED Leadership Development Program, Crager Room, ADUC, 5 p.m.

AIDS Awareness Candlelight, front of Camden-Carroll Library, 7 p.m.

Concert: University Chorus, DRH, 8 p.m.

Saturday, Dec. 3

Appalachian Christmas Arts and Crafts Market, Laughlin Health Building, 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

EKSBD Seminar: Crafts Marketing, Laughlin, 3 p.m.

Women's basketball: MSU vs. Ball State, AAC, 7:30 p.m.

Sunday, Dec. 4

Recital: Horn Class, DRH, 3 p.m.

Tuesday, Dec. 6

Concert: MSU Opera Works, DRH, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Dec. 7

Holiday Tree Lighting, front of Fields Hall, 4 p.m.

Concert: MSU Jazz Ensemble 2, DRH, 8 p.m.

Thursday, Dec. 8

Ashland SBDC Seminar, 207 15th Street, Ashland, 1 p.m.

Concert: Annual Christmas Sing-Along, DRH, 3 p.m.

Women's basketball: MSU vs. Northern Kentucky, AAC, 7:30 p.m.

Concert: MSU Jazz Ensemble 1, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, Dec. 9

Victorian Holiday Dinner Party, ADUC, hors d'oeuvres, 6:30 p.m.; dinner, 7:30 p.m.

Crafts market

MSU's annual Appalachian Christmas Arts and Crafts Market will be held on Saturday, Dec. 3, and feature a visit from Santa Claus.

The market will run from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. at the Laughlin Health Building. Youngsters may have their photos taken with Santa from 2 to 4 p.m.

Sponsored by MSU's Office of Continuing Education, the market will feature more than 100 exhibitors, including several Kentucky Guild Artists, according to Georgia Sammons, market coordinator.

Admission to the crafts market is $2 per person with children under 12 admitted free.

On the same day, a craft marketing seminar will be conducted by MSU's East Kentucky Small Business Development Center from 3 to 5 p.m. in Laughlin. There is no charge but registration is required. Telephone: 3-2895.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Dec. 8, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 22

PKP accepting applications

MSU's chapter of the Phi Kappa Phi honor society is inviting applications from outstanding students who wish to compete for fellowships worth up to $7,000.

The MSU chapter will nominate an individual to compete for one of the 50 fellowships being given nationwide for students entering full-time, first-year graduate or professional study. An additional 30 honorable mention awards, valued at $1,000 each, also will be given.

Graduating seniors with superior academic and leadership records should submit an application no later than Jan. 25.

To be eligible, applicants must have at least a 3.7 grade point average overall and be a member in good standing of PKP. The candidate should have applied to enroll for an advanced degree in a graduate or professional school.

The awards are intended to assist students who plan to enter graduate school within 12 months after receiving a baccalaureate degree.

Additional information and applications may be obtained from Carolyn Hensley, PKP secretary, 201 Ginger Hall. Telephone: 3-2004.

Watch a tape

The Office of Continuing Education has obtained videotapes of two recent teleconferences that will be available to the campus community and the public.

Copies of the 1994 World Food Day teleconference, "To Quench a Thirst: The California Water Crisis," and another dealing with off-campus academic programming, "Teaching and Learning in Nontraditional Settings," have been placed on reserve at the Office of Continuing Education at 204 Downing Hall.

"To Quench a Thirst" is a documentary examining the water problems in California and the solutions that were developed due to the long drought during 1987-1991.

An interactive teleconference which aired Nov. 3, "Teaching and Learning in Nontraditional Settings" offered information on various delivery systems for the location-bound nontraditional student. After a panel discussion of the issue, time was provided for questions from the viewers. Telephone: 3-2077.

Buy a book

"A Storybook Christmas," sponsored locally by the MSU/Rowan County Adult Basic Education and Literacy Advisory Board (ABEL) is collecting books to give to Rowan County children in need. This year's books will be distributed through the Rowan County Christmas Project on Dec. 17.

Those who wish to help may donate money to purchase new books or buy a new book and leave it in the drop box at these locations: MSU Bookstore, Camden-Carroll Library, or the MSU Adult Learning Center.

Checks should be made to "ABEL-Storybook Christmas" and mailed to MSU Adult Learning Center, UPO 1337. The MSU Bookstore and Book Haven will give a 20 percent discount for books purchased for this project. The deadline for donations is Dec. 14. Telephone: 3-2871.

Now at library

A complete set of 1994 Accountability Reports for all Kentucky public institutions of higher education is available at the Reserve Desk in the Camden-Carroll Library. Any questions on the Accountability Report should be directed to Al Baldwin at 3-2150.

Base increased

The 1995 Social Security (OASDI) taxable wage base will be $61,200, a modest $600 increase from 1994. The Social Security tax rate remains at 6.2 percent for 1995, resulting in a maximum Social Security tax of $3,794.40, which must be paid by both employees and employers. The Medicare tax rate, which applies to all taxable wages since the repeal of the Medicare wage base under OBRA '93, will continue to be 1.45 percent for 1995.

Get discount

Goody's is offering MSU employees a special 10 percent discount on all purchases made during the period of Dec. 11-17 in appreciation of their patronage. Levi products will be excluded. All employees need to do is show their faculty/staff ID cards.

NEW MOVES

Several MSU employees assumed new job titles during the first quarter of the fiscal year:

Patricia Ann Rigdon, from secretary to secretary specialist, Institutional Relations; Jeffrey Preston, from computer operator, Computing Services, to technical support specialist, User Services; Stephen Richmond, from program analyst I to senior program analyst, User Services;

Sherry Hopper, from telephone operator/receptionist, Network Services, to computer operator, Computer Center; Taunya Y. Jones, from telephone operator/receptionist to secretary/operator, Network Services;

April Haight, from recycling coordinator to recycling/energy conservation coordinator, Recycling Program; James Conn, from maintenance technician I to maintenance technician II, Building Maintenance; (continued on back)

People in the News

Dr. Robert Lorentz, associate professor of marketing, attended the International Academy for Case Studies annual meeting at Myrtle Beach, S.C., in October where he chaired a session on case study writing. He also presented a Case, "The Book Store," which will be published in "Proceedings of the International Academy for Case Studies," and was elected as director of the organization.

Dr. David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education, presented a "Hands on in Social Studies" program at the K.C.S.S. convention, Sept. 23-24. The session focused on free or inexpensive ways to get active student participation in the social studies. He also attended a presentation at Cumberland Gap National Historic Park, Sept. 30, and made a slide presentation for Social Studies Methods class based on the material covered.

Charles Patrick, associate professor of industrial education, presented a paper entitled "Alternative Coal Refuse Disposal" at the 16th annual conference of the Association of Abandoned Mine Land Programs in Park City, Utah.

Dr. Edna Schack, associate professor of education, and her son Brian, conducted a computer software presentation entitled "Mathematics Software for Early Childhood" at the Kentucky Council of Teachers of Mathematics fall conference at Ryle High School in Union, Oct. 8.

Michael D. Ballard, assistant professor of HPER, has completed requirements for the Ed.D. degree at the University of Tennessee-Knoxville. His dissertation was entitled "The Development of a Valid and Reliable First Aid and Emergency Care Test for College and University Students."

Dr. Mo Sabie, professor of HPER, conducted a workshop for men and women soccer teams at the Mason County High School, Sept. 9, at the request of MCHS men soccer coach Carl Barker. During the three hour session, he conducted an evaluation of play strategies and offered suggestions for basic and advanced drills.

Vivian F. Cyrus, assistant professor of mathematics, has earned the Ph.D. degree from the University of Kentucky. Her dissertation was entitled "The Category of Monoids."

Carolyn Taylor, associate professor of human sciences and president of the Kentucky Association of Family and Consumer Sciences, conducted the KAFCS Executive Board meeting in Elizabethtown, Sept. 9. She presented an overview of the Family and Consumer Sciences Public Affairs pre-conference workshop held in San Diego.

Dr. Vicente Cano, coordinator of foreign languages, has had an article entitled "Aspectos gastronomicos en los Articulos de Larra" published in "Studies in Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures" 5(1994):54-61.

Carol Ann Georges and Dr. Mary Ann Gladden, Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education, made two presentations at the Mid Atlantic Symposium on Best Practices for Dealing with Students with Learning and Emotional Disorders, held in Virginia Beach, Va. The presentations were entitled "Under Used and Underdeveloped—When Will We Learn to Use the Lesson Plan as Assessment" and "Teachers Report on Collaboration: Important Implications Identified."

Dr. Lee Tyner, coordinator of the Veterinary Technology Program, lectured at the 83rd Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association's 21st Annual Mid-America Veterinary Conference in Louisville, Sept. 30-Oct. 1. The three-hour presentation entitled "Patient Oriented Anesthesia" covered many aspects of small animal anesthesia. The conference was attended by more than 100 veterinarians and veterinary technicians, including Vivian Barnes and Barbara Lewis, assistant professors in vet. tech, and several MSU students.

Steve Swim, coordinator of MSUCorps, Betty Karrick, assistant coordinator, and two AmeriCorps members attended a meeting of the Kentucky Community Service Commission in Frankfort, Oct. 24, where Swim and the two AmeriCorps members gave a presentation of MSUCorps.

Shirley S. Blair, associate professor of education, presented a paper on "Education Reform in Kentucky-A New Era of Opportunity" at an international conference on education in Sunderland, England, in September. Issues addressed ranged from changing the context of education, use of technology, reviewing the teacher preparation process to factors contributing to the decline of schools in urban and rural areas. The presenters were from England, Russia, Finland, Slovakia, Czech Republic and MSU.

Dr. Robert Lindahl and Dr. Lloyd Jaisingh, professors of mathematics, presented a three-hour mini-course at the 7th Annual International Conference on Technology in Collegiate Mathematics (ICTCM) at Lake Buena Vista, Fla., Nov. 18-20. The course was entitled "Utilizing Minitab for Windows in a Statistics Course."

Dr. Dan Fasko, associate professor of education, presented a paper entitled "Critical Thinking and Moral Reasoning: Can You Have One Without the Other?" at the Mid-South Educational Research Association in Nashville, Nov. 10.

Eugene Norden, assistant professor of music, served as an adjudicator for the Finals of the Virginia State Marching Band Festival during the last two weekends in October. He judged the (continued on back)

People... (continued from front)

Northeastern and Southwestern areas. He also has served as an evaluator for Kentucky Marching Band Performance Assessment Events in Danville, Hazard, Corbin, Maysville and Morehead.

Several faculty members from the Department of Mathematical Sciences attended the Miami University Conference on Classical Analysis and General Topology in the Undergraduate Curriculum at Oxford, Ohio, Sept. 30-Oct. 1. Presentations were made by Dr. Andrew Martin, assistant professor, "The Usual Epsilon-Delta Limit Definition is Not Perfect", and Susan Martin, instructor, "The Kuratowski Closure-Complement Problem." Also attending were Gordon Nolen, and Randy K. Ross, associate professors, and Dr. John Boardman, assistant professor.

Joyce LeMaster, associate professor of English, presented a paper entitled "Revelation and Authenticity: James Still's 'River of Earth'" at the 5th annual Mid-Atlantic American Culture Association Meeting in Wheeling, W.Va., Oct. 30.

Mary Jo Netherton, professor of French, and John R. Secor, associate professor of romance languages, co-presented a multi-media paper entitled "Portrait of the Student as an Artist: Exploring the Creative Process in 'Correspondances', Caligrammes, and Camille Claudel," at the 18th annual conference on the Teaching of Foreign Languages and Literatures at Youngstown State University, Oct. 28-29.

Dr. Jack Sheltnire, Department of HPER chair, gave a program entitled "Athletic Trainers in Kentucky's High Schools: An Initial Assessment," at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance in Louisville, Oct. 28. Assisting in the presentation were Ryan Kling, head athletic trainer, and Chris Hennely, athletic trainer and HPER graduate assistant.

Moves... (continued from front)

Harold Dean Howard, from maintenance technician I to maintenance technician II, Building Maintenance; Sherry E. Mays, from secretary, football, to administrative secretary, Director of Athletics;

Lana Fraley, from custodial supervisor to assistant custodial superintendent, Custodial; Marcella C. Jolley, from data entry specialist to undergraduate degree certification coordinator, Registrar;

John David Mayse, from reference services paraprofessional, library, to research and analysis specialist, Center for Community and Economic Development;

Sue Vencill, from secretary to secretary specialist, Clearing House for School Services; Lester Breeding, from coordinator of clinical field experience to coordinator of field experience/teacher education admissions;

Judy Lynn Carpenter, from secretary to secretary specialist, Sociology, Social Work and Criminology; Kathy Eldridge, from technical support specialist, Info Tech, to automation specialist, Camden-Carroll Library;

William J. DeBord, from librarian I to librarian II, Camden-Carroll Library; Kristin Lynn Calvert, from Upward Bound Counselor, to Adult Learning Center coordinator.

Job vacancies

EXTERNAL

Minority Retention Specialist, Academic Services Center; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 8.

Dispatcher, Office of Public Safety; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 9.

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Provisional Studies Coordinator, Academic Services Center; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Clerk/Typist, Department of Music; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 16.

Secretary (12-Month, 32-Hour Per Week Position), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 16.

Custodian, Department of Agricultural Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 16.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 3.

Assistant Professor of Mathematics (Two Positions) (Tenure Track), Department of Mathematical Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 30.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Reception

A retirement reception will be held for Curt Lyons, lead painter with the Office of Physical Plant, on Friday, Dec. 16, at 3 p.m. in W.H. Rice Maintenance Building.

All his friends and associates are invited to attend.

Presentation

The Department of Geography, Government and History will conclude its series of programs for the semester with a presentation on Thursday, Nov. 8, at 3 p.m. in 105 Rader Hall.

Dr. Kay Schafer, associate professor of government, will talk on "The Federal Focus on Privacy." Telephone: 3-2720.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Dec. 8

Student Ceramic Sale, ADUC, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; also Dec. 9.

Ashland SBDC Seminar, 207 15th Street, Ashland, 1 p.m.

Concert: Annual Christmas Sing-Along, DRH, 3 p.m.

Women's basketball: MSU vs. Northern Kentucky, AAC, 7:30 p.m.

Concert: MSU Jazz Ensemble 1, DRH, 8 p.m.

Friday, Dec. 9

Victorian Holiday Dinner Party, ADUC, hors d'oeuvres, 6:30 p.m.; dinner, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, Dec. 10

Students Holiday Party, Crager Room, ADUC, 8 p.m.

Sunday, Dec. 11

Concert: Rowan County Senior High School Band and Choir, Duncan Recital Hall, 3 p.m.

Monday, Dec. 12

Finals Week, through Dec. 16, except for Wednesday, Dec. 14, Reading Day, no exams.

Tuesday, Dec. 13

EKSBC Seminar: "Small Business Recordkeeping," Combs, 6 p.m.

Saturday, Dec. 17

Winter Commencement, Academic-Athletic Center, 1:30 p.m.

Monday, Dec. 19

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Kent State, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, Dec. 22

Offices close for holiday break, 4:30 p.m.; offices reopen Jan. 3, at 8 a.m.

Thursday, Jan. 12

Registration for 1995 Spring Semester, in Departments and Wetherby Gymnasium, 8 a.m.; also Jan. 13; classes begin Jan. 17.

Saturday, Jan. 14

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, AAC, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, AAC, 7:45 p.m.

Envelopes

If you find an abundance of "Campus Only" envelopes as you start the year end cleaning process, you can assist others by returning them to Printing Operations in Allie Young Hall. Both the large and small sizes are needed.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

Update

Morehead State University

The Newsletter for MSU Faculty and Staff

Dec. 15, 1994

Vol. 15, No. 23

Baldwin has new position

Alan Baldwin has been named accountability and performance funding coordinator at MSU.

In this new position, he will be responsible for preparing the University's annual Accountability Report to the Council on Higher Education and monitoring MSU's progress on meeting its established goals for performance funding measures.

"We are very fortunate to have an experienced professional to oversee the University's efforts in this area," said Dr. Judy Rogers, associate vice president for academic affairs and dean of undergraduate programs. "Providing coordination between internal and external constituencies is of utmost importance," she said.

Baldwin, who most recently served as the University's provisional studies coordinator, is a former chair of MSU's Department of Military Science.

Before retiring from the Army with the rank of lieutenant colonel, Baldwin held various commands and staff positions during his 22 year career. A native of Danville, he earned a bachelor's degree from Eastern Kentucky University and an M.A. degree in adult and higher education from MSU.

Any questions on the University's accountability report should be addressed to Baldwin at 3-2150. His office is located in 901 Ginger Hall.

Retiree dies

Dr. Eugene Martin of Blanchester, Ohio, 73, a Morehead State University professor emeritus of management, died Dec. 6 in Florida.

A native of Rowan County, Dr. Martin retired from MSU in 1986. He joined the faculty in 1972 and served as head of the former Department of Business Administration in 1973. He taught at the University from 1964 to 1967.

Named an Outstanding Educator of America in 1973, he also had taught in Ohio public schools, the University of Cincinnati and Ferris State College.

Dr. Martin earned his A.B. and M.A. degrees from MSU and the Doctor of Education degree from the University of Kentucky. He was active in several professional organizations and was a former secretary-treasurer of Gideons International.

He is survived by his wife, Hazel Roe Martin; a son, William Eugene Martin of Blanchester, and a daughter, Sherron Yvonne Martin of Yuma, Ariz.

Forms due

It is time to complete staff performance appraisals for the 1994 calendar year. Supervisors should meet with each employee, discuss the appraisal and obtain the employee's signature. All staff appraisal forms are due in the Office of Human Resources by Tuesday, Jan. 31.

The Office of Information Technology has made available copies of the Performance Planning, Appraisal and Development form in WordPerfect 5.1 (DOS), WordPerfect 6.0 (DOS), and WordPerfect 6.0 for Windows format and can be printed using either the Hewlett-Packard LaserJet Series III or 4.

If the form was previously completed using version 5.1, users may encounter problems with sections two through five of the form when converting to version 6.0. It may be easier to use the file created specifically for version 6.0. To obtain a copy of the form, bring a formatted 3.5" or 5.25" diskette to the Office of Human Resources at 101 Howell-McDowell.

Any questions should be directed to Cindy Thompson or Suzanne Hogge at 3-2097.

Winter graduation is Saturday

Morehead State University will hold its 1994 Winter Commencement at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 17, in the Academic-Athletic Center.

The graduating class includes approximately 425 undergraduate and graduate students who are completing degree requirements this month.

Degrees will be conferred by MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin. The student speaker will be James Dustin Rose of Flatwoods, a graduate student who is a candidate for the Master of Business Administration degree.

After MSU's commencement ceremony, Rose will take part in another special ceremony, his marriage to Jama Gaye Osborne of Morehead.

A graduate of Raceland High School, Rose earned his Bachelor of Business Administration degree in accounting from MSU in 1993 after transferring from Ashland Community College. At ACC, he was president of Phi Beta Lambda business fraternity, 1991 Honor Student of the Year, 1992 Man of the Year and headed the Student Appeals Board.

A graduate assistant with MSU's M.B.A. program, Rose has been a member of the University's Accounting Club.

The son of James D. and Janet Rose, he has a full-time ministry with the Olive Hill Church of Christ and has been employed part-time by the Kentucky Bank and Trust in Russell. He will assume a full-time position there in the trust department in January.

Once the degrees are conferred, the new graduates will be welcomed into the MSU Alumni Association by its president, J.T. Holbrook of Lexington.

Dr. David Saxon, the 1993-94 Distinguished Teacher Award recipient, will serve as grand marshal, assisted by Dr. Francis Helphinstine, professor of English.

A reception for graduates and their families, sponsored by the MSU Alumni Association, will be hosted by President and Mrs. Eaglin immediately following the ceremony in the lobby of the AAC.

People in the News

Michelle B. Kunz, assistant professor of human sciences, presented a paper entitled "Using Multimedia Technology in the Historic Costume Classroom" at the 50th annual conference of ITAA, Oct. 21. In addition, she was one of 65 participants in the post-conference workshop "Development of Textiles and Apparel Core Competencies for 4-year Undergraduate Textiles and Clothing Programs," Oct. 22.

Dr. David Peterson, assistant professor of education, attended the "McCracken Workshop" in Nashville, Nov. 12. The one day workshop, attended by approximately 140 educators, covered teaching language arts in primary grades.

Dr. Mark Schack, professor of education, and his five-year-old son Brian, conducted a computer software presentation at the Kentucky Early Childhood Association Annual Conference in Lexington, Oct. 15. The title was "Appropriate Software for Early Childhood."

Dr. Jack Sheltmire, Department of HPER chair, made a presentation entitled "Standards for Outdoor Leaders" at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, Oct. 29, in Louisville. He also made a presentation entitled "Outdoor Leadership Structures: A National and International Summary" at the 44th annual Recreation Conference in Cortland, N.Y., Nov. 3.

Patti Capel Swartz, instructor of English, presented papers at two conferences in October: "Through My Eyes: Multiple Views of Lesbian Literature" at the American Women Writers of Color Conference in Ocean City, Md., and "Bees, Bats, Eagles, and Spiders: Engendering Environmental Harmony Through Native American Women's Writing" at the American Popular Culture Association of the South Conference in Charlotte where she also served on the program committee. She will present a paper that examines homophobia in Doris Lessing's "The Golden Notebook" and in Bessie Head's "A Question of Power" and "Maru" in December at the Modern Language Association Conference in San Diego.

Steve Swim, MSUCorps coordinator, presented a session entitled "Motivation, Stress, Positive Thinking and The Healing Power of Humor" at the fall conference of the central office and Bluegrass sub-chapters of the International Association of Personnel in Employment Security at Cumberland Falls State Resort Park, Nov. 18.

Dr. Lane Cowsert, Department of Agricultural Sciences chair, gave a presentation at the third annual Kentucky Agricultural Summit in Louisville, Nov. 16. Issues discussed were trends in higher education as it relates to agriculture, encouraging young people to pursue careers in this field, what is being done to reach the goals of Ag Project 2000, and what is needed to help the growing poultry industry in the state.

Deborah L. Plum, assistant professor of journalism, has earned the Ph.D. degree from Ohio University. Her dissertation was entitled "Judges' Relationships with the Media: The Case of Ohio."

Dr. Lee Tyner, Veterinary Technology Program coordinator, attended the Veterinary Technician Examination (VTNE) Review meeting at the American Veterinary Medical Association offices in Schaumburg, Ill., Oct. 21-23. The 10 member Veterinary Technician Testing Committee meet annually to review, revise and validate the Veterinary Technician National Exam.

Dennis Karwatka, professor of industrial education, had an article appear in the October-November issue of the "Journal of the American Technical Education Association." Titled "Trends in British Technical Education-Technical Programs at Former Polytechnics," it was based on data he collected under a 1993 grant from the University Research and Creative Productions Committee.

Dr. Hilary O. Iwu, assistant professor of business education, chaired a discussion on KERA: "The New Teacher Standards" at the annual fall conference of the Kentucky Business Teacher Education at Lake Cumberland State Park, Nov. 10-11.

Clement Liew, international students counselor, has been elected the Kentucky representative for Region 6 of the NAFSA: Association of International Education. He will serve a two-year term and attend the regional conference two times each year and the annual national conference. Region 6 is composed of Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky.

John P. Boardman, assistant professor of mathematics, has earned his Ph.D. degree from Northwestern Illinois University. His dissertation was entitled "Quasi-Measures on Completely Regular Spaces."

David R. Collins, assistant professor of communications and adviser for NewsCenter 12, attended the Associated Press workshop in Bowling Green, Nov. 11. Several students, including some NewsCenter staff members, also attended: Joe Christofield, Jerry Deaton, Wendy Epperson, Jennifer Peters, Glen Hale, Kim Jaeger, Laurie Silver and Melissa Stahl.

(continued on back)

Guitar class

Area residents interested in taking a beginning guitar class with an emphasis on folk music are encouraged to call the Office of Continuing Education at 3-2077.

To be offered once a week for eight weeks in the spring semester, the class will be taught by Dr. Steve Young, professor of education. Assisting him periodically will be members of "Folks and Friends" as well as other local musicians.

"Once we discover how much interest there is in the class, we will schedule it and determine the cost," said Shirley Hamilton, MSU's continuing education director.

People... (continued from front)

Dr. Kent Freeland, professor of education, was on the program for the annual conference of the National Council for the Social Studies in Phoenix, Ariz. Nov. 20-21. The session was entitled "Linking Literature to Social Studies Instruction by Employing a Variety of Thinking and Learning Strategies."

Dr. David B. Peterson, assistant professor of education, attended a one-day workshop entitled "Identification and Rapid Acceleration of At-Risk Leaders" at a Literacy Institute in Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 27. In the evening, he attended the Tennessee Education Convention.

Jerry Gore, Minority Student Affairs director, was the speaker for the Limestone Academic League High School Awards Reception at Maysville Community College, Nov. 28.

Carolyn Taylor, associate professor of human sciences and president of the Kentucky Association of Family and Consumer Services, attended the annual fall meeting of the group's Eastern District in Lexington, Oct. 28. The day's activities followed the "Diverse Families and Investment in Youth" theme. Others attending from MSU were: Jane C. Ellington, associate professor and KAFCS Eastern District vice president; Carolyn Flatt, assistant professor, and Norma J. Maguire, associate professor.

Dr. Phyllis B. Oakes, associate professor of education, was recently elected corresponding secretary of the Kentucky Early Childhood Association. Among the goals of the group are to promote the needs of Kentucky's young children, encourage improvement in local and state educational standards for the programs, offer in-service workshops, and provide opportunities to communicate and cooperate with groups with similar purposes.

Dr. David Rudy, Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminology, conducted a symposium entitled "Alcoholism: Realities, Constructions and Complexities," in Rader Hall, Nov. 17. His address was sponsored by the MSU chapter of Pi Gamma Mu as part of its campus and community related program series.

Dan Connell, Academic Services Center director, has received a $19,000 grant from the Council on Higher Education to extend the Destination Graduation program.

Beverly McCormick, College of Business interim dean, has received a $23,471 grant from the Kentucky Real Estate Commission to deliver educational services in real estate to MSU's 22-county service region.

Job vacancies

INTERNAL

Administrative/Marketing Assistant, Office of Continuing Education; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 21.

EXTERNAL

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences (Search Extended); to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Provisional Studies Coordinator, Academic Services Center; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 15.

Clerk/Typist, Department of Music; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 16.

Secretary (12-Month, 32-Hour Per Week Position), Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 16.

Custodian, Department of Agricultural Sciences; to ensure consideration, apply by Dec. 16.

Director of Human Resources, Office of Human Resources; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 3.

Financial Aid Counselor, Office of Financial Aid; to ensure consideration, apply by Jan. 9.

NOTE: Internal applicants should obtain a copy of the job opportunity posting from the Office of Human Resources which indicates the application materials required for each position.

NOTE: Due to the number of external faculty listings with lengthy deadlines, Update will delete these after they have appeared twice.

MSU is an AA/ADA/EO employer. The University has a strong commitment to the principles of diversity, and in that spirit, seeks a broad spectrum of candidates including women, minorities, and people with disabilities.

The Office of Human Resources also has available employment opportunity listings from other institutions of higher education which are posted regularly on the bulletin board outside the office located in 101 Howell-McDowell.

Year ends

Morehead State University will close for the holidays at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 22, with offices re-opening at 8 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 3.

This is the last issue of Update until the spring semester. Publication will resume with the Jan. 19 edition. The deadline for information to be considered is Tuesday, Jan. 17.

Registration for the spring semester will be conducted on Jan. 12-13, with classes beginning on Tuesday, Jan. 17.

Contribution

Thanks to the efforts of MSU's Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, more local families will be enjoying a bountiful table during the holidays.

The fraternity brothers collected 4,900 pounds of non-perishable food that has been donated to Christian Social Services for distribution during the holiday season.

The 14 members of the organization worked a total of 184 man hours collecting the food.

HAPPENINGS

Thursday, Dec. 15

Final exams, through Dec. 16.

Saturday, Dec. 17

Winter Commencement, Academic-Athletic Center, 1:30 p.m.

Monday, Dec. 19

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Kent State, Academic-Athletic Center, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, Dec. 22

Offices close for holiday break, 4:30 p.m.; offices reopen Jan. 3, at 8 a.m.

Thursday, Jan. 12

Registration for 1995 Spring Semester, in Departments and Laughlin Health Building, 8 a.m.; also Jan. 13; classes begin Jan. 17.

Friday, Jan. 13

General faculty meeting, Baird Music Hall, 1 p.m.

Saturday, Jan. 14

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, AAC, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Austin Peay, AAC, 7:45 p.m.

Monday, Jan. 16

Dr. Martin Luther King Birthday holiday; no classes or office hours.

Women's Basketball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, AAC, 5:30 p.m.

Men's Basketball: MSU vs. Tennessee State, AAC, 7:45 p.m.

More coverage

The Morehead State University automobile insurance policy now provides physical damage protection for rental vehicles. With this provision, University faculty and staff who rent vehicles while on University business, are covered for both liability and physical damages to the rental vehicle, for up to $50,000.

As a result of this new coverage, employees renting vehicles should decline the collision damage waiver, standard on most rental agreements. Payment for such insurance will no longer be a University reimbursable expense. It is imperative that you are on official business and must have an approved travel request on file with MSU. Any accidents should immediately be reported to the Office of Risk Management at 3-2007.

Alarms tested

Inspections and testing of all facility fire alarm systems have been scheduled for the week of Dec. 19. All questions, comments or concerns may be addressed by contacting Gary Messer, Occupational Safety and Health Coordinator, at 3-2179.

UPDATE is published weekly during each academic term by the Office of Institutional Relations for the benefit of MSU's faculty and staff members. Material for inclusion in each week's issue must be received by noon Tuesday in AY 317, (Ext. 3-2411).

Pauline Young, Editor

Institutional Relations
317 Allie Young Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689

MSU ARCHIVES
CCL, MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY
MOREHEAD, KY 40351